No Cigarettes on Warships.

Cigarette smoking by the enlisted men of the United States Navy should be discouraged as much as possible, in the opinion of Rear-Admiral Seaton Schroeder, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic battleship fleet.

The Admiral desires to see a ban placed on the habit, and has recommended to the Secretary of the Navy that no cigarettes be sold at the ship's store on any of the vessels under his command. It is probable that Secretary Meyer will take action in accordance with Admiral Schroeder's recommendation.

Slayer Blames Liquor.

Adolf N. Nordstrom, convicted of the murder of John Peterson, foreman of a railroad construction gang, was hanged June 18th, in Salem, Oregon. On the gallows, Nordstrom said:

"Keep liquor down, people, if you can. I am not the first man to be hanged on account of it. I am sorry for what I have done, and wish God would save my soul. God bless all of you. Good-bye."

New Factory Building.

Doubtless all have looked with admiration upon the new building erected for the Hammonton Shoe Company; and we believe few know the size and fine equipment of this handsome plant, put up with the company's own money. Their old building had long been inadequate, and to keep up with orders they had to make the change.

The firm consists of C. F. Osgood, Wm. J. Smith, Walter F. Scott, and John G. Galigue. They manufacture misses' and children's shoes, turning out 600 pairs per day, and employ 80 hands. When well started in the new building, their force will be 175, with a daily output of twelve hundred to fifteen hundred pairs.

The new structure is of brick, 43x100 feet, three stories high, a kind of slag roof (rain and fire proof), with concrete floor and window sills and caps. The floors are double, covering 12000 square feet of working space. Walls of first story are 17 inches thick, and 13 inches above. 126 windows light the building by day, and electric lights at night.

The latest sanitary closets are installed on each floor, also wash basins. Steam heat will be sent throughout the building, from a low pressure boiler. Ten electric motors will operate all the machinery, including elevator. A huge fan will force all scraps, sandpaper dust, etc., to an assembler on the roof, whence it will be dropped through a chute into a bag on first floor.

Mr. Galigue, the manager, has grown up with the business, and the business with him, and has long made this improvement a study. The most up-to-date machinery and conveniences will be installed.

A splendid fire protection consists of the following, which we believe will never be needed: Regulation plug at corner of building; double door exits and stairways in front, at each floor; steel escape on rear; large water mains from basement to roof, connected with two inch hose on each story, to reach any point in the building. Exit doors open outward, and interior doors are metal covered. Oils and other combustibles are kept in a damp-air-and-fire-proof brick and cement structure, two rods away.

Mr. Wm. Bernshouse was architect and superintendent of construction.

The new building will be occupied July 12th, the moving to be begun on the 6th.

We congratulate the gentlemen on this improvement, which is also a good advertisement for the town. We venture the prediction, and sincerely hope, that another similar building will be needed within the next few years.

The Murder Case.

Last Sunday morning, as Edw. Hall and wife, of Atison, were on their way to Hammononton to attend church, they discovered the body of a man not far from the roadside, in a swampy place away out Middle Road, near the stone bridge.

Coroner Cunningham and Justice Pfl were notified, County Physician Sanders and Detective Batzel were sent for, and an investigation begun. The murdered man was recognized as Frank Vastorio, an Italian employed as foreman on the Wharton farm.

It was learned that Daniel DeCou, a farmer from near Tabernacle, had been in town on Saturday with a load of hay, and that he and the Italian had taken a drink together early in the evening, at the Middle Road "hotel," on their way home.

DeCou was arrested at his home, and confessed that he killed Frank, stating that the Italian had attacked him with a knife, and that he struck him with a short iron bar used in binding the load of hay. He was brought here and locked up until Monday, near noon, when Prosecutor Goldenberg and the detective came up in an automobile, and DeCou given a hearing before Justice Pfl on a charge of murder. On advice of the Prosecutor he pled not guilty, and was sent to May's Landing to await trial.

The body was given in charge of Undertaker Praseh, and was taken to Atison on Tuesday for burial.

Coroner Cunningham had empaneled a jury, composed of Messrs. E. W. Stockland, J. L. O'Donnell, G. F. Lenz, W. H. Burgess, P. T. Ranore, and M. C. Capuccio, who viewed the body, and then adjourned until Friday. After hearing all the evidence obtainable, they rendered a verdict of death caused by blows on the head with an iron bar in the hands of Daniel DeCou.

People here who have known DeCou many years speak well of him, saying that he was not quarrelsome nor vindictive, and believe that his act in this case was purely for self-protection, his fearing the Italian would do him serious harm.

The Italian had a wife and six children, and DeCou a wife and two children.

The huge steel locomotive, No. 303, which has been on exhibition at Atlantic City, passed through town on Thursday, at noon, on the Reading, stopping five minutes. George Bornhouse and John Hutzinger served three years in Co. I, Tenth New Jersey Volunteers. They were discharged on the same day, then separated. For years, each thought the other had been finally mustered out, until last week when Mr. H. saw an item in a newspaper, giving an account of the presentation, by the comrades, of pieces of the old regimental flag to interested parties in Doverly. This state flag was made by ladies in Doverly, presented to the regiment Mr. H. was color sergeant, and brought home the tattered remnants. Learning that one of the ladies still lived, also a daughter of another, he went to Doverly and gave to each a scrap, as a memento. Mr. H. at once wrote to Comrade John, and on Wednesday last he came to Hammononton. Perhaps it wasn't an enjoyable day for the two. Mr. H. was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Hertz, who is head nurse at the "Chauncy Nurses' Club," Philadelphia.

The object of the meeting being to authorize Council to use money from surplus to purchase the Button farm, which was to be used as a Town Almshouse, it was moved that $4200 be appropriated for said purpose.

This was discussed at length, by friends and opponents. Finally a vote was taken by ballot, with W. L. Black and D. C. Herbert as tellers. The result was—17 votes in favor of the resolution; 29 against. Declared lost.

Councilman Skinner then asked the opinion of meeting as to the purchase of six acres of gravel for $1500, as agreed upon by Council. This aroused considerable discussion; but a resolution was adopted, unanimously, approving said purchase.

This state flag was made by ladies in Doverly, presented to the regiment Mr. H. was color sergeant, and brought home the tattered remnants. Learning that one of the ladies still lived, also a daughter of another, he went to Doverly and gave to each a scrap, as a memento. Mr. H. at once wrote to Comrade John, and on Wednesday last he came to Hammononton. Perhaps it wasn't an enjoyable day for the two. Mr. H. was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Hertz, who is head nurse at the "Chauncy Nurses' Club," Philadelphia.

The object of the meeting being to authorize Council to use money from surplus to purchase the Button farm, which was to be used as a Town Almshouse, it was moved that $4200 be appropriated for said purpose.

This was discussed at length, by friends and opponents. Finally a vote was taken by ballot, with W. L. Black and D. C. Herbert as tellers. The result was—17 votes in favor of the resolution; 29 against. Declared lost.

Councilman Skinner then asked the opinion of meeting as to the purchase of six acres of gravel for $1500, as agreed upon by Council. This aroused considerable discussion; but a resolution was adopted, unanimously, approving said purchase.

George Bornhouse and John Hutzinger served three years in Co. I, Tenth New Jersey Volunteers. They were discharged on the same day, then separated. For years, each thought the other had been finally mustered out, until last week when Mr. H. saw an item in a newspaper, giving an account of the presentation, by the comrades, of pieces of the old regimental flag to interested parties in Doverly. This state flag was made by ladies in Doverly, presented to the regiment Mr. H. was color sergeant, and brought home the tattered remnants.
