Letter From Paris.

(Correspondence of the S. J. Republican.) HOTEL de l' ATHENEE, PARIS, June 12, 1878. Were France even at war with Germany, sho would as strongly-denounce the in same attack on Emperor William, as she does now when peace reigns between the two nations. Tere is to secret in stating that the common sense relations existing between France and Germany. are largely due to the parsonal influences of the brave old soldier, who has been so fortunate in securing results for his realm than even Fredrick II had not obtained, and without the latter's genius as without his rude, fantastical and despotic character, exercised alike on his friends, as well as his subjects. No French party has ever been accused of possessing a superabundance of toleration on the excellent gift of charity, but these drawcacks have never been so shamelessly displayed, as since the attacks on the life of Emperor William. The reactionist journals roundly hold the Republic responsible for the crimes maintaining that Democracy implies the getting rid of all monarchaby book or crook. This might have been true in 1848, when the doctrinaire Republic, then inaugurated a la hate, intended to regenerate the world. To-day French republicans have learned by bitter experience, that all their energies are not excessive for their own-regeneration, and that outside people have no want of their Messiah aid. France desires that every nation be free to regulate its form of Covernment, after its own fushion, she living in peace with all, be it absolute or constitutional. It is a lamentable spectacle to winess defeat ed political parties defaming their native land, and denouncing it to foreign governments. Voltaire has already been held responsible for the late expulsion in the rue Beranger; the cabinet has not been reprouched, us yet, with causing the collision of the German iron cinds n the channel nor Elling the butchers' shops with large blue flies. Gerard, the assassin of the Prince of Orauge. Clemont, the murderer of Henri III., Revailing the claver of Benri IV. were neither republicans nor free-think it. Indeed Louis XIV. did not hesitate at one time to solicit the help of English republicans. Political association has no school, no disciples in France or elsewhere, and for the sake of human nature Nobiling is but the infamons imitatur of Hoedel, and week, seem urged by unimal instiinct, to kill an aged than and a most popular sovereign.

The social state of Germany is not the less a sad and serious subject for study : she, too, has her peculiar form or nibilism. Her great political and military success, since 1866, and 1970, have produced an excess of excitement, that only measures of pease can tranquilize. In the seething condition of Europe, France alone enjoys profound peace, works and saves. Not that she is a stranger to socialism; it has cost her much blood, treasure, and many ruins, and as theers has profoundly stated, forced it to emigrate; its professors discovered their solvtions were as impossible to realize, as to find the philosopher's stone, for they were combuted, not by reactionary measures, but by sound doctrines sided above all, by time.

At the Exhibition, the most marked feature is the series of subordinate openings. These when collectively accomplished, the entire work will be completed. The beautiful concert half has under gone an acoustic rehearsal, and when more tapestry is suspended and additional upholstery installed, the woosl, will be as hap py as the instrumental effects. The steal organ has not yet been piped. The stage is twice as ospacious as that of the 'nem' opera -becoming older, as Queen Elizabeth replied when charged with being too young, every day. It is not possible to imagine a more lanely salle the decorations are of autonishing rickness and purity of taste. It is just the frame where the works of the great composers marit to be placed. Russia is the only section-thanks to her proverbial plety and chronic leanings for christianizing-that was opened with a relig ious ceremony. A Pope in full canonicals ascended a platform, implored a blessing, and Prince Orloff, ordered the rod currain to be withdrawn and the public admitted to the Russian court, where they had full and free accuss since the first of May. A dejauver, composed of native dishes followed; we all know Russia's bluck caviar and her famous palate salad-the litter not at all heavy; the koulibak is delicious, being a combination of fish, fowl and farce. Borous seems to be head cook in Russia and to reside in all the puts; feed champagne is a French product, but (posen cabbage soup is to the manner born. By chipping off a morsal and melting it down, a capital place of potage is obtained. In the industrial arts Russia has many ouri osities. France may boast of her pot un fen England of her roast beef, and America of her pumpain pies, but the Muscovite has his samo ver, or gigantic tex pot that would do duty for a chinese parish, or an asylum of old women. There is a large display of silver plate, gold and embruideted cloth to remind the Prince of Water, that Russia too has a small Indian collection. Mainchite and from are exhibited by roal Princes-the first Dembiof was a blacksmith and chum of that royal tramp, Peter he Great. There is a fair display of wood; the Grand Ducheses Catherine is a flock "intetress," but she is out-rivalied, by a veritable "Lord shephord," who owns 250,000 sheep, enough to even asterish an Australian; his annual "clip" sells for millions; he never rends an animal for cutlet or leg of inution purposes; the old sheep are allowed to die off, and are nursed in old age as well as doctored in disease. The display of ture is unique, a Russian is as proud of these as vetern ducheses of old lace and the family dismonds, a small ermine fur letches easily over 1,200 frances, which explains why the visitor is not allowed to stroke it, eith er up, or against the grain, the bair being apparantly like those of a man's head when h has such, counted. Russia is also in advance in flue arts; a statue of a sleeping beauty is exhibited. The model is a young girl; virtuous as Diana, like all models; when nade, she is chloroformed and then moulded by a solution of plaster of Paris being surned on her ... It is suggested that a husband might prevail upon his wife to take a plaster bath, and leave her there. It is not the first time so wife was changed into a mineral product. "Remember Lot's wite." The opening of the annex devot ed to the purely workingman's work, was an official affair. It must not be confounded with the 'Independent Workingmen's Exhibition." sit. uated on the quai d' Orsui, and worthy of s visit. The annex in question has been sided by the state, and the exhibitions are the products of manual labor after the wortingman's ordina ry daily toil; the idea is the out-come of the London Exhibition of 1862, but which the Em pire of course suppressed. The popular mines ter of Agriculture made an excellent speech the bust of Raspail was placed in a conspicuous Dosition, as the pere des aupriere marital. The Marse llaise was played and sting to satisty .-Louis Blane made a speech, inviting the mon archists not to persist in their antagonism to the symbol of Peace and Work-the Exhibi-

The Galery of Skulls is naturally in a part of the wing of the Trucadero and over the Catacombs. Hair being closely related to skulls. explains why a student of nature exhibits appoimens of white hair, to mark the distinct between Dives and Lazarus. When the beks are of the Ben Butler type, they indicate easy circumstances, if they are of a roldish they reveal hard times, suggestive of Tom Anderson. It appears the Chinese ladies are the most proficient in hair dying; they surpass out side femule barbarians, as they have a process for making the hair as fine as silk. The skutls or heads and tails; as those of mummies, are mixed up with these guillotined criminals, and *uvages, with those of civilized men and casts of those literary, relabrities. Shakespear's "dome of thought and palace of soul," looks odd beside that of a King of the Cannibal Islands. But all is contrast here below. There is an apparatus for self-measurement of the head, not for a hat, but to test if the owner belongs to the idiotic, the hidro, the micro, or the acrocephalous classes. There are models of Indians, who carry their ancostor's skulle, slung, like the Minstrol Boy's harp, behind these; the cavities serve for the purposes of garses and tobacco

We have received a circular relating to-'Cape May as a Health Resort," giving statistics as to the relative humidity and nige of temperature. The figures given at the signal service station, shows that the temperature at the Cape lus never reached, in four years, so low a point as Atlantic City or Philadelphia, and does. not attain so high a point in summer, its range being uniformly very much less the entire year. In the last four years the ensire range at Cape May was but 880 against 1030 at Atlantic City, and 1050 at Philadelphia. There is certainly room and people enough for both these popular sea-side resorts, and both have their peculiar attractions, and 'tis useless to attempt to detract from the advantages of the Cape, with the hope of attracting visitors therefrom. Cape May will have its shousands in spite of it.

The last hours of Congress were disgraceful enough, if we may judge from the reports of eye witnesses. Then, what can be expected of members who go there for the money they get, not for any good they can do the country! Most of the Southern Democratic members, especially, are selected, not for decency, order and decorum, but for the greatest amount of whiskey they can drink, or pay for others to drink. This the highest qualification they can have for a seat in Congress.

Anderson has been shown, in the cross examination before the l'otter committee, a most consummate ruscal. Not only a Consecrated Alcohol.

Some time since we were called upon to admi. ister the sacrament of the Lord's supper in one of our Churches in — City. N. J. On tasting the wine, it seemed to bite and burn farther than we thought such a small quantity could possibly reach -indeed, we suspected we had swallowed some "Jersey lightning;" but our principal mertification was caused by having to pase round the abominable stuff revent ing over it the solomn.words, "The blood of our Lord Jesus Christ, which was shed for thee, preserve thy soul and body unte everlasting life," etc., Alcohol, the destroyer of soul and, body, unto everlasting death-what a precious embiga of the saving blood of Christ! L'felt so painful ly convicted for my, participation in the abuse that I solomnly resolved, with divine help, never again to receive or administer in the scored oidingnee, the wine that "is a. mosker,?" that "biteth like a surpout, and stingeth like an adder."

/ The above from a clergyman is full of meaning. Others have had the same thoughts, and wished that wine could be sbtained that contained no alcohol, fee communion service. Our friend, Henry welseiffer, of Egg Harbor City, has this unfermented wine, and will manufacture it every Fall, so there is no exouse for not having a wine without alsohol. Mr. Wokseiffer is a very reliable man, and be has nucceeded in his efforts to produce a nemalcoholis wine, a pure juice of the grape. that will keep, with a hudable purpose of promoting the principles of temperance. We trust those wanting wine for communion service, free from alcohol, will not forgot him.

A NAVEL POURTH OF JULY SALLOON ASCRESSES TO TAKE PLACE AT MANHORTON.

Miss Claries Wimbley, of this city, a nicce of Prof. Wise, the aeronaut, and a pupil of the late Prof. Donaldson, will make two novel accentums at themmoutun, N. J., on the Fourth of the cossing July. She will be assisted by Prof. Wise. The second ascension she will explode the balloon when 4000 or $300 feet high, causing it to form a parachute, by which she can asiely descend. The sir subp, which is diffect long, 45 feet wide, and which contains about 20,000 feet of gas, will be intheted at Caudem and carried down over the C. and A. raitronian novelty never before attempted. This feather, together with the various games and amuse-Ciariea Wimbley, of this city, a nioce together with the various games and anuse-ments, the literary exercises in the evening, and, last of all, the parade of the fantastic are and ritle brigades, which will end the day's spect with a shain figat, will make the celebration. Be of the most pleasing and attractive one ever gotton up in Bouth Jersey.—Phile. Inquiere.

The Republican Convention of Michigan set a good example to other Republican conventions in the West by squarely denouncing the National Greenback party and all its works. What Birds Accomplish.

The swallow, swift, and nighthawk are the guardians of the atmosphere They check the increase of insects that otherwise would overload it. Woodpeckers, creepers, and chicadees are the guardians of the trunks of trees. Warblers and flycatchers protect the foliage.
Blackbirds, crows, thrushes, and larks protect the surface of the soil. Saipe and woodcock protect the soil under the surface. Each tribe has its respective duties to perform in the economy of Nature, and it is an undoubted fact that if birds were all swept off the face of the carth man could not live in your in the control of the primer darner.

CUMBERLAND MUTUAL

Fire Insurance Company. BRIDGLTON, N. J.

Conducted on strictly mutual principles, of fering a perfectly safe insurance for just what it may cost to pay losses and expenses. The propertion of loss to the amount maured being very small, and expenses much less than usu ally had, nothing can be offered more favorables to the insured. The cost being about ten cents on the hundred dollurs per year to the insurers on ordinary risks, and from fiften to twenty-five cents per year on hazardous properties, which is less than one third of thelowestrates charged by stock companies, on such risks—the other two. stock companies, on such risks—the other two thirds taken by stock companies being a profit acruing to stockholders, or consumed in ex-penses of the companies.

The guarantee fund of premium notes being now Three Millions of Dollars.

If an assessment had to be made of five pe cent. only, twice within the ten years for which the policy is issued. It would yet he cheaper to the members than any other in wance and that large amount of money is saved to the members and kept at home. No assess ment having ever been made, being new more than thirty years, that saving would amount to more than more than

One Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollar

The Losses by Lightning. Where the property is not set on fire, being loss than one cent per year to each member, are paid without extra charge, and extended so as to cover all policies that are usued and out-
