The Fourth of July parade is always an event that interests everybody; but it's a passing interest;

In a few days we think about something else. The thing that Fourth of July stands for, however, doesn't pass; it is a perpetual interest, and it knows no section or place; it's the same North, South, East and [West; and it ought to be.

You may think that patriotism and good clothes have nothing to do with each other; but the element of loyalty to one's country may be applied to the selling of good clothes; and we're trying to apply it to our business. The right sort of patriot makes the country's interest his interest; the right sort of a business man makes his customer's interest his interest.

By offering you clothes that were made for us by

Hart Schaffner & Marx

Is evidence that our efforts are constantly on selling the best goods at the lowest prices. Every time we sell a suit of these clothes we serve the best interests of the man who buys them.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Summer Suit,-thin, cool, perfectly tailored, of honest all wool fabric, $16.50 and up.

Other Suits for Men and Young Men, $7.50, $10, $12.50 and $15.

Shirts, Summer Underwear, Fine Hosiery, Neckwear, everything to wear,-all bought and sold to protect your interest.

Reuben Pinkham, a native of Nantucket, made his first trip as thir lieutenant on the ship Potomac, which crossed the north Pacific, a region little known to naval vessels in the early thirties. Pinkham had been on several whaling voyages and was familiar with those waters. The author of The Island of Nantucket" says that one day, near sunset, he had the watch, while the commodore was pac-

The crew dropped the ropes. "Keep hold of the braces, every man of you!" called out Pinkham, and the men resumed their grasp. The commodore flushed with anger and exclaimed in peremptory tones:

"Let the men leave the braces! and again the braces were dropped. "Don't any of you dare to drop the ropes!" shouted Pinkham, shaking his trumpet at the crew, who once more took hold. Just then the wind dropped entirely; not a breath stirred.

MICKEY'S BIG FIRECRACKER

Two mammoth firecrackers stood in the window of Casey's grocery. .They were twelve inches long and proportionately thick.

For a month before the Fourth of July these gigantle indicators of enthuslasm had stood in the window like British soldiers on dress parade, while a predatory spider hung a filmy hammock between them and calmly killed his buzzing victims over two

What a glorious nation this would be if we all lived up to the letter and spirit of this exhortation. The sentiment which leads a man to seek unjust advantages for his country is not true patriotism. "Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people," (Prov. 14:34.) It is not by gaining victories over others that a man becomes truly great—great in God's sight—but by conquering himself, and so is of greater value than any possible material advantage and moral character is destroyed by acting unjustly. But just as some mothers think they show love to their children by giving them whatever they cry for, so some men imagine that they prove themselves good patriots by adopting the motto, "My country-right or wrong,"

Mordecai's message to Esther is a challenge to every one of us to be on the watch for the opportunities which grow out of our advantages. The poorest and most helpless of us have advantages of some sort. Indeed, when one recognizes real values there is no disparity among us; for we all have the knowledge of the saving love of God in Christ and of the power and willingness of God to do for us more and better than we can ask if we approach Him in faith and obedient love. And as no other possible advantage can be in any way brought into comparison with the friendship of God, the litthe differences which exist among is in regard to health and ability and possession of the good things of this life cannot create any real disparity of advantage.

Our team won its sixth consecutive victory, last Saturday, May's Landing being the victim. Score, 4 to o. The game was interesting throughout, except when the visit-ors disputed a decision by Sutton. Although the man at bat was the first one up in the inning, they retired from the field, refusing to play until the Association officials, after a conference, yielded the point. Great was the glee of point. Hammonton rooters when Fitzpatrick fauned the batter; and they were not slow in expressing their disapproval of the whole controversy. ## The New Astronomy

Laws of Nature.

By A. J. KING, Counsellor at Law, Hammonton, N. J., Publisher.

This book presents a new theory of Cosmogony. It accounts for the origin of Worlds—all Stellar Forms—by natural development from primeval matter and Spirit. It gives the Origin of Life, Species, Sex. Man; his development in the planets of the Solar System; the Law by which the outer planets receive the proper amount of light and heat of Sun: explains much that has heretofore been inexplicable in soience.

It is Revolutionary, but Reasonable, and accords with Known Laws of Nature. Old scientific theories are given, with which to compare this. It explains the Spiritual forces of Nature: its application in healing the sick; the Law of formation, structure & location of man's home after departure from his physical body; how he goes to that world and returns to this, etc., etc. This is Inspirational.
