SAVE AND WIN

Our Lady's Day.

Next Tuesday, the sixteenth, will be another big one in Hammonton, as usual. The program as follows will be found entertaining:

8.00 a.m., grand parade.
Masses at 7, 8, and 9 o'clock.
Solemn mass at 10 o'clock.
2.00 p.m., Band concert.
5.00, Street parade.
9.00, spectacular motion picture production, in six parts, costing one hundred thousand dollars, of Joseph and his brethren, given on the Walther lot.

Another film picture, Charles Chaplin, in one of his best comedies, will entertain the thousands of visitors.

Concessions along the Third St. "fairland," and the Endy Carnival will add to the attractions.

Special police, assisted by the Militia Reserve, will patrol the streets all day and night.

Town Council Meeting.

The City Fathers met as usual on Wednesday evening, all present but Mr. Pizzi.

The meeting was conspicuous for its absence of committee reports. Bills ordered paid totalled as follows:

Town Purposes	114.58
Highways	36.10
Fire	18.25
Poor	62.31
Street Lights	614.50
Sewerage	175.00

Chief of Police reported eighteen arrests for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, eight of which were sent to May's Landing. Fines turned over to the Town Treasurer amounted to $130.

Collector Davis reported receipts for taxes, etc., $3134.79.

Clerk's receipts amounted to $26.85 for the month.

Chief of Police Adams asked for more pay, in view of the fact that he had the responsibility, greatly increased work, but received less than his subordinates.

Voted that complaints in regard to sidewalks be turned over to the Contractor, who will repair them soon as he can secure help.

The traffic ordinance was not advanced, as Council wished to more carefully consider it.

Fire, Water and Light Committee were requested to investigate the efficiency of the fire alarm system. The necessity for a change of lamp in front of fire house was left with the same committee.

Clerk was instructed to write the Adjutant General in regard to rifles for Reserve Militia.

Riot sticks for Reserve were ordered through Law and Order Committee—that organization having volunteered to patrol, or assist on the 16th. Whistles for police were also ordered.

As special policing is needed at the corner of Bellevue and Egg Harbor Road between five and seven o'clock in the evening, the hours of one night man will be changed.

Clerk was instructed to write Reading Railroad, asking for a flagman at 15th Street crossing; in view of the heavy traffic, the other road having been closed for repairs.

Attention was called to the absence of blowing of auto horns by trucks at County Road corner. Officers will instruct drivers to sound them on approaching the corner.

Complaint was made that heavy men pile crates on highway near Reading depot, on West End Avenue and Twelfth Street. They will be instructed to abate the nuisance.

Surgical dressings for July require a great deal of help. Monday and Saturday afternoons, all day Wednesday, and every evening. Please help us.

Mrs. C. Cunningham.

Some of the young people of Hammonton are working on a musical comedy, "Miss Cherryblossom," to be given in the near future, for the benefit of the Red Cross. Among those taking principle parts are several who will be remembered as having contributed much toward making the High School plays of the past few years such great successes.

A Fire at Amatol.

Two of the huge horse barns at Amatol, property of the Atlantic Loading Company, the largest shell loading plant in the country, just below Hammonton, took fire about half past ten last Friday night, and burned to the ground with about forty head of fine big horses. Hammonton was notified, and sent its chemical apparatuses and men; Egg Harbor quickly got on the job.

As soon as the fire was discovered, the horses were released, thus saving many of them. The poor frightened animals took refuge in the woods, and several came tearing through town, as far up the road as Berlin and Medford.
Searching parties rounded them up,
and they were returned next day.
Two of the animals were injured in collision, and had to be shot.

While the buildings can be replaced, the sufferings of the poor animals will remain long in the minds of witnesses and those who love dumb animals.

The cause was first laid to an empty, but later developments showed that a mixture of kerosene and tobacco were the angels sang of God; he numbered and numbered and numbered the stars and named them with names; and with manna; that He might thus know that man does not try to breed only, but by everything that proceeds, out of the mouth of God doth man live." And Jesus of this utterance whom, 'In His hunger after a forty days' fast, as tempted by the Devil to turn into bread, that His hunger he appeased. (Deut. 8:3 and 4:4.)

Jesus seemed to feed upon the will of God, and to depend upon the shield from temptation, we cannot turn to thrive spiritually or to overcome temptation without its help, we cannot get help from it, and of temptation unless we lay it out, our hearts are done up. MARK 4:1-20: 25-34

THE PARABLE OF THE SOWER

Teaching the masses of parables for two reasons. One was that He wished to test His hearers' thinking. Spiritual truth is of no value to a man until he has learned to think. The other reason was that truth taught by a story is more easily grasped and takes a firmer hold upon the mind. When it is expressed in a concrete form.

The so-called parable of the sower is the earliest and most carefully explained of Jesus' parables. It is in rather the parable of the soil, in cause, it does not treat of different kinds of sowers, but different kinds of soil. The question that is designed to present to every one who hears or reads it, is, What kind of soil am I? To which of the four classes of hearers do I belong? And it would force us to face that question if we were not all so much in-the-dark as to be able to understand in some which God tries to teach us for our own benefit. A sub-conclusion because of the dual consciousness of our own own consciousness be awakened.

The other two parables in our lesson teach us something of the nature of the seed.

The sower cannot make the seed grow and is not responsible for its growth, but he does sow more diligently, carefully, and prayerfully. He does all that is in his power. The seed grows by the power of the life that is in it. But it can only grow by absorbing the forces that are latent in the soil. So in a sense it is the soil that produces fruit. "The earth beareth fruit of herself." Jesus said.

The soil is the heart, and it is only when the seed of the kingdom falls into an honest heart that it can grow and produce fruit. An honest heart is a heart that recognizes its own inherent sinfulness and its need of a savior, and that is willing to be saved from sin.

But when the good seed does get a lodgment in good ground it will spring up and bear fruit, thirty, sixty, a hundred fold. It is seemingly a very small and powerless thing in itself, but is capable of becoming a multiplication and of infinite self-interest.

"Great branches," reaching out to distant lands and down to future generations.

Who was a dear old soul, and for a long time she stood in posing rain reaching his hands up on every duty. At last she approached him sitting, and in no voice full of sympathy, said:

"My poor man, how do you manage to keep dry in this awful wet weather? Don't they give you an umbrella? Don't they keep the rain off?"

"I've tried, but it's no use," he said, and down for a moment, then replied: "No, um, they don't." Bhuro, Of course, I've been 'errin' in the mornin' before Oh dear, um, and that keeps me dry all day."

SATURDAY, JULY 13, 1918

We observed an act of one of our Italian citizens that showed a love for dumb beasts. As everybody knows the fountain horse trough is a mud puddle. This man with his hands dipped all the water out, cleaned it and refilled it, saying what was unfit for him was unfit for his horse. We have long advocated placing an outlet in the bottom, with a screw-cap, so that it can be flushed out occasionally.

Even if you have but a quart or two of fruit or vegetables to spare, can them. You will appreciate it next winter.

If you did not attend last Sunday evening's open-air service at the School Park you missed something worth while. The grand stand and many more of chairs were filled, and we anticipate a still larger attendance to-morrow night. The singing was excellent, a cornet assisting greatly; the sermon especially pleasing, and the solo by Mrs. Chapman all that could be desired. Be out to-morrow night.

This office will probably be closed most of Tuesday next, the editor being on duty with the Militia Reserve. Leave all orders on Monday, if possible, or hand them to him on the street.

With water so cheap, we see no reason why people should not use it freely for bathing purposes. But we had a visitor Thursday, whom we are certain had not been guilty of using it since the first well was sunk.

How many people saluted the huge flag when it passed by in the 4th of July parade? Very few, we are told. Where is our patriotism?

There are two stories told about the Anasol fire, last Friday night, and either one is enough to convince sober-minded men that saloons are a menace to a community. Both stories agree on one fact, that a drunken man laid down to rest in or near the barns, with a lighted pipe or cigarette. The only complicating feature is the present location of the man in question. One story is that he was apprehended, and sentenced to ninety days in jail; the other, that he was burned to a crisp, and is now preparing a good warm abode for the like of those who sold him the rum.

To-morrow will be France's holiday, as sacred to them as July Fourth is to us. Let us remember them by displaying their national emblem with ours; and at the same time, pray for the success of the Allies.

The State Medical Reserve, under Captain Chas. Cunningham, was one of the pleasing features of the July Fourth parade. Another was the huge flag, carried between young ladies, into which forty dollars was dropped in by passers-by. By the way, the owner of the flag, E. P. Jones, has presented it to the Red Cross. They appreciate the gift and will display it in a conspicuous place.

Some list of uncalled-for letter this week. Is your name there?

There are enemy aliens and there are native aliens. The American who does not do his part toward winning the war, who neither fights nor works nor lends for victory, is as much an alien to America's purposes and America's cause as the rank and file Prussian interned in this country. This is a war of peoples as well as of nations, and each individual has a place and a duty.

Help Is Wanted.

There are about a hundred good homes in Hammonton, with one or more rooms to spare, and an extra chair or two at the table. On the other hand, there are several hundred desirable men, women, girls and couples who desire suitable accommodations. Some require but rooms, others both room and board, while many wish for light house-keeping.

Why cannot we get together? The Republican office force is spending hours without any remuneration other than knowing that they are doing their "bit" for the town and country. Why not "squeeze" a little and make room for some of these people? It will be helping them, and paying your Loan Association and coal bill all at the same time.

Hammonton cannot be best for health, churches, schools, stores, and people, and those who have lived elsewhere readily see this. That is why they wish to locate here.

The Republican merely charges a cent per word for your announcement, but we stand ready to spend hours to locate desirable tenants in your home. Act now if you wish the most desirable class of tenants.

U. S. Orders Newspaper Economies.

The United States government thru the war industries board has issued the following:

It is necessary that all newspapers which publish a daily and weekly edition put the following preliminary economies into effect July 15, 1918:

Discontinue the acceptance of the return of unsold copies.

Discontinue the use of all samples or free promotion copies.

Discontinue giving copies to anybody except for office working copies or where required by statute law in the case of official advertising.

Discontinue giving free copies to advertisers, except not more than one copy each for checking purposes.

Discontinue the arbitrary forcing of copies on newsdealers (i. e., compelling them to buy more copies than they can legitimately sell in order to hold certain territory).

Discontinue the buying back of papers at either wholesale or retail selling price from dealers or agents in order to secure preferential representation.

Discontinue the payment of salaries or commissions to agents, dealers or newshypers for the purpose of securing the equivalent of return privileges.

Discontinue all free exchanges.

The public is requested to co-operate with the newsdealer by giving him before that date a definite advance order for the paper or papers desired.

The Soldier's Chances.

Great as the danger and large as the losses in the aggregate, the individual soldier has plenty of chances of coming out of the war unscathed, or at least not badly injured.

Based on the mortality statistics of the allied armies, a soldier's chances are as follows:

Twenty-nine chances of coming home to one chance of being killed.

Forty-nine chances of recovering from wounds to one chance of dying from them.

One chance in 500 of losing a limb.

Will live five years longer because of physical training, is free from disease in the Army than in civil life, and has better medical care at the front than at home.

In other wars from 10 to 15 men died from disease to 1 from bullets; in this war 1 man dies from disease to every 10 from bullets.

For those of our fighting men who do not escape scatheless, the Government under the soldier and sailor insurance law gives protection to the wounded and their dependents and to the families and dependents of those who make the supreme sacrifice for their country.

Soldier Insurance.

Secretary McAdoo has called upon all local draft boards to acquaint drafted men with the provisions of the soldier-insurance law and to urge every drafted man to take out this insurance. The boards have been furnished with literature to aid them in this educational work.

The law affording insurance to our fighting forces has well been called the most just and humane provision ever made by a nation for its soldiers and sailors. The Government and the American people recognize the justice of affording this protection to the men who risk their lives for their country and to their families and dependents at home. It is only just to themselves and to their families and dependents that our fighting men avail themselves of this opportunity.

Every American citizen should take out this insurance and carry with him into danger the heartening knowledge that whatever happens, himself and his dependents are protected by his Government.

Summer Weather.

The days are growing hotter, although they're hot enough, and as I ply my swatter I'm feeling pretty tough. The solar rays are pelting, from heat there's no surcease, and I am slowly melting and swimming in my grease. I overhauled the verses I wrote four months ago, and marvel at the curses I handed sleet and snow. Oh, I was surely nutty, when I such language tossed;
his head is stuffed with putty who rails at snow and frost. For winter's wholesome rigors are good for man and beast; there are no flies and chiggers on human limbs to feast. Men sit before their heaters, while loud the blizzard rants, and there are no mosquitoes, no worms, or bugs or ants. From germproof Athabasca the wholesome breezes blow; from ocean washed Alaska comes down the healthful snow.
And yet when winter's flinging its blessings all around, when we should all be singing, we raise a doleful sound. Because some ears are frosted, because a nose is peeled, the language is exhausted, so bitterly we've spied. The days are growing hotter, and hotter still, my friends; as to my tasks I totter, the mercury ascends. The flies, in countless legions, are roosting on my dome and in the arctic regions
I fain would build my home.—Walt Mason.

War Garden Sess.

To-day I ate some freedom peas,
in my war garden grown; I often gather greens like these, and boil them with a bone; and though the peas were small in size, in taste like cavort oil, I viewed them with admiring eyes, the product of my toil.
With pride the loyal voter eats his home grown garden sass, his huscious Patrick Henry beets, and Sweet Boon sparrowgrass; his taters may be small as beads, his lettuce coarse and tough, but joyously he on them feeds and cannot get enough.
I plant my beans of Bunker Hill, and till them with my sword, and say, "I'll help em Kaiser Bill, the frugal way I board. I've plowed up the begonia bed, the lily and the rose, and that I may be cheaply fed, I ply my rakes and hoe." How good it makes a fellow feel, to do his little trick, when he's too old to take his steel and carve a Teuton hick. He feels his jaded spirits rise, he knows he's safe and sane;
he views his garden plot and cries,
"I have not lived in vain!" There are so many ways to aid, that go one need despair; the coin I've saved with hoe and spade, will buy another bond. I help to balk the submarine, some Teuton scheme I smash, by raising Nation's bulwark beans and Eagle succotash.—Walt Mason.

Not Overlooking Anything.

Battery repair may be a necessity.

But there's not an excuse for letting your car lie idle.

Because as soon as the battery comes out of your car a Willard

Rental Battery can go in, to continue the starting, lighting, and ignition service that your car battery provided.

So Willard Rental Battery Service means more than just a much wood and he's and she. It means ability to go the city, or out to the country. It means ability to tour—to make the fullest possible

use of your car.

Come in and talk batteries with us. We'll tell you how to take care of your battery, and why your next one should be a Willard Rental Battery. The only battery that the big life more than balances the slight increase in cost over the ordinary battery. It's the only battery with the "Long Run" principle that is your absolute assurance of getting a battery as new as the day it left the factory.
