HAMMONTON, N. J., SATURDAY, JULY 17, 1915

No. 26

Volunteer Fire Company meets on Monday evening.

Tom Gray is being greeted by many friends, this week.

The local telephone directory will be out next Monday.

Mrs. A. J. Rider is visiting her daughter, in North Carolina.

Mrs. H. O. Packard is spending a few weeks at Upper Montclair.

M. L. Jackson is taking a two weeks vacation at Alpena, Mich.

Miss Hilda Sorden has been visiting her grandparents, at Weeks-town.

Elias Cossaboon's house, below the Lake, is enclosed, and nearing completion.

The old pavement in front of Cordery's has been replaced by a new concrete one.

Miss Messer, of Washington, D.
C., is spending the month with Mrs. D. B. Berry.

District Clerk Johnson will offer the Nesco school building at public sale to-day, at three o'clock.

Contractor Nicolai has started work on a very fine bungalow for Peter Tell, on Valley Avenue.

Miss Myrtle Sooy, nurse at the Children's Hospital, Philadelphia, was home for a couple of days.

Howard Albertson rode down on his wheel from Lawnside, yesterday, to visit his aunt, Mrs. R. H. Goff.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor, and Miss Josephine Rogers, of Vineland, were recognized among the Field Day visitors.

A Civic Club thimble bee will be held on Friday next, three o'clock, at the home of Miss Jessie Kind, on Basin Road.

Mr. John B. Kearney and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel S. Johnson, of Englishtown, were recent guests of Rev. and Mrs. vanDrigh.

The G. P. of A. wish to thank all the friends who so kindly helped to make possible their very enjoyable camping trip to Lower Bank.

A letter was received from Mr.
Parry, of the old established nursery at Cinnaminson, in which he speaks in glowing terms of what he saw in Hammonton on Wednesday, and closes with a declaration that he proposes to buy raspberry plants here next Fall.

Tuesday night, during the severe thunder storm, Otis C. Small and James White were asleep in their tent, at Weymouth. In an adjoining tent, Small's horse was housed.

A lightning bolt flashed down a near-by pine tree, dividing, one part killing the horse, and burning White's arm and in some way affecting Small's head so that he was in a dazed condition for some time. A close call for both.

Miss Alice G. Burham is visiting her parents for a few weeks.
She has been for four years preparing for missionary work, at the Moody Bible Institute, at Chicago, and Wheaton College, Wheaton, Ill., and will in September start for Punjab, India, as missionary under United Presbyterian Board.
The many who knew her here will be glad to meet her again, and wish for her a safe journey, health, and a life of usefulness, when she takes upon herself her new labors.

A Close Call.

Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Henley (the latter being formerly Miss Belle Wood, of Hammonton), were spending the hot months on board their yacht, as is their custom, and on Wednesday, two weeks ago, were anchored in the Ohio River, opposite Cincinnati. Toward evening, clouds gathered heavily, and in a few minutes a cyclone struck that section. Mr. H. and his man cut anchor cables and prepared to weather the storm; but it was too quick for them, capsizing the yacht, and all were in the raging waters. The twelve-year-old son, an expert swimmer, found his sister, four years younger, and supported her until all were rescued.

It was a perilous half-hour for all, but happily no bad results followed. The yacht sank to the bottom, with perhaps a hundred other wrecks.

The Board of Trade desire to thank those who allowed the use of their automobiles, and thus added much to the success of the Horticultural Field Day.

A score or more members of Audubon Camp, P. O. S. of A., were guests of the local Camp last Monday evening. They had a good time, and so did the hosts.

Mrs. Stuart Whiffen is visiting her parents at Farm School, N. C., where Mr. W. will join her early next month. They have planned a trip to Jacksonville, Florida, to return north on a steamer.

Mrs. Louis Bowers, of Camden, has been spending a few days as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Simons, and meeting many old-time friends.
She returns accompanied by little Miss Virginia Simons, for a short visit.

Volunteer Fire Company tested their five hundred feet of new hose, Monday evening, and found it all perfect. A lot of small boys added to the fun by coming within range of the stream, which didn't do a thing but soak 'em.

A berry shanty, made of boughs and leaves, on the farm formerly owned by the late C. A. Leonard, was struck by lightning, Tuesday night, and burned to the ground.
The occupants were frightened out of the enclosure just before the stroke.

On arriving home from fire drill, last Monday evening, Ward Simons found a score or more friends there awaiting him, and he was informed that they were there to assist in the celebration of his birthday. They all had such a fine time the host almost regretted that birthdays did not come oftener.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening, in the home which the happy couple will occupy, on the corner of Bellevue and Valley Avenues.
On this occasion the Rev. Everett vanDrigh united in marriage Se-lia Lamplugh and Harry M.
Carrell. Mrs. Louisa E. Gerhart and Mrs. Annie B. Kelly were the principal witnesses. Other friends were present to offer their congratulations.

The Girl Pioneers' Encampment.

The Girl Pioneers returned from their camping trip at Lower Bank last Saturday evening, tired and happy, declaring they had never had a more enjoyable time; and thanks to the careful supervision of the Director and her aides, no untoward accident marred their whole stay, and they suffered nothing worse than a few mosquito bites and sun-burn that turned them into a tribe of Indians or gypsies.
The Pioneer days were taken up with bathing on the fine shelving beach of the river at high tide, fishing from the bridge, (Oh, the fish that got away!), tramping over the country-side, picking huckleberries and wild blackberries, and boating. A motor boat trip down the river was enjoyed the first evening, and a fitting climax to their sojourn was the day's outing down the river, past the great wireless tower below Tuckerton, to the bay, under the efficient care of Capt.
Reuben Cavileer. The twilight hours were devoted to games, over-ball, and potato, impediment, three-legged and relay races, etc.

When the darkness drew on the Pioneers indulged in enjoyable games in the well-screened bungal-ow. The building of camp-fires and the cooking of meals outdoors were features of camp life, and many found it hard to satisfy their prodigious appetites. The people yearly were kindness itself, especially when the girls attended Sunday services in a body, and also at the Church festival on Friday night.

"Good-night, campers!
Good-night, campers!
Good-night, campers!
We're going to leave you now.
Merrily we go to bed,
Go to bed, go to bed,
Merrily we go to bed,
Up the rustic stairs."

SATURDAY, JULY 17, 1915

Horticultural Field Day.

We doubt whether Hammonton has ever had a larger gathering of intelligent, progressive visitors in its history, than at the meeting of the State Horticultural Society, in Rider's Grove, on Wednesday. There were nearly a thousand of them, as fine a lot of farmers, wives, sons and daughters as we ever saw, coming by train, carriage, and a hundred automobiles, from nearly every county in New Jersey, as well as from Delaware, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and New York State. That there were not more visitors present was partially due to the threatened storm of the morning and the severe one of the night previous. As it was, the day could not have been finer nor the meeting place pleasanter to which all agree.

The welcoming address was delivered by Mr. A. J. Rider, President of the Board of Trade. He is an enthusiastic Hammontonian, having come here because he saw great possibilities for this Peach Belt of South Jersey. He showed why we are entitled to the claim of our Town slogan—"The Hub of South Jersey."

Among the other speakers were, Horace Roberts, of Moorestown, who made many suggestions as to fruit growing; Mr. Woertz, of Waynesboro, Penna., one of the largest peach growers in the country, who shared with his hearers experiences both as to raising, packing and marketing. Prof. M. A. Blake, State Horticulturist, demonstrated and explained the harvesting, packing and marketing, dwelling largely on co-operative shipping and marketing, a method which must eventually be adopted by our large growers.— shipping cartons and lots of same grade and variety. Prof. H. M. Cressman, County Superintendent of Schools, was never more at home than on the topic, "County Vocational Schools and Farm Demonstration," telling why it was started, and giving many illustrations of what is being accomplished, giving much credit to our far-sighted Board of Freeholders.

Mayor Bert arrived late for the welcome speech, but made good, speaking especially on the bright which is affecting trees badly in New Jersey.

The musical treat by the Board of Trade Sextette; also the French horn solos by Mr. Grassi, were enjoyed, and enjoyed.

The display of flowers, peaches, apples, berries, potatoes, turnips, cabbages, plums, carrots, grain, etc., showed that Jersey soil can produce the best in those lines. Those that attracted the most attention were peaches, raspberries and black caps, though all were admired.

Luncheon, served by the ladies, was well patronized, and prepared the visitors for a long ride over the country roads. Twenty-one miles were covered, taking in many of the best farms, occasional stops being made for more careful inspection. They returned very enthusiastic, not having imagined that "fruit" could produce such crops of peaches and berries, and not wondering that the "Jersey Peach" label is becoming the most popular the country over.

Both as an educational and an advertising proposition, this was the most profitable meeting ever held in this vicinity; and we would gladly welcome the State Society here again next year.

A neat booklet was distributed, issued by the Board of Trade, with illustrations of peach, berry and alfalfa fields in this locality. These were taken home by the visitors, as souvenirs.

There is considerable criticism, and we believe deserved, at Town Council's reflecting the Italian Society of the job of clearing up along Third Street, in front of the many stands, at yesterday's celebration.

For many who will be found waste paper, melon rinds, and much other rubbish; this the Society believes should be looked after by owners of the land rented for the stands. This might be true if they would do it; but they won't. To-day you will probably smell the stuff, souring and decaying, unless some one gets busy. All there is left to do is for next year's Council to insist upon their going to the Park to celebrate, unless they comply with the original agreement. Permission to parade was given by Council on condition that they keep and leave things sanitary on and about the grounds.

One of the most severe thunder and lightning storms remembered took place about midnight, Tuesday,—there being scarcely a pause between electric flashes, and between sharp crashes of thunder. There appeared to be two storm clouds, early in the evening, which passed over, and then returned, coming together with a crash. Several places were struck, but, fortunately, no dwellings.

OUR LADY'S DAY.

The crowd was just as large as ever, yesterday, at the annual celebration in Hammonton. About seven o'clock the "curtain" was fired, awakening all the late sleepers.

A half-hour later, one of the bands started to parade the streets in preparation for the day of the society. At intervals during the morning, people were treated to concerts by one or the other of the bands.

Religious services were held in St. Joseph's Church during the forenoon, and well attended. The afternoon was given over to pleasure, the bands contributing thereto by excellent music.

Fairs of all kinds were on hand with every conceivable catch-penny device, and found money easy. Space was at a premium on North Third Street.

The electric lights on Third Street were pretty even by daylight, a great improvement upon the old gas lighting, and all lamps in colored glasses.

The parade and fireworks display took place during the printing of the Republican but judging from the reports, also by the thousands waiting to participate or see, they were fully up to the standard.

OUR LADY'S DAY.
The crowd was just as large as ever, yesterday, at the annual celebration in Hammonton. About seven o'clock the "curtain" was fired, awakening all the late sleepers. A half-hour later, one of the bands started to parade the streets in preparation for the day of the society. At intervals during the morning, people were treated to concerts by one or the other of the bands. Religious services were held in St. Joseph's Church during the forenoon, and well attended. The afternoon was given over to pleasure, the bands contributing thereto by excellent music. Fairs of all kinds were on hand with every conceivable catch-penny device, and found money easy. Space was at a premium on North Third Street. The electric lights on Third Street were pretty even by daylight, a great improvement upon the old gas lighting, and all lamps in colored glasses. The parade and fireworks display took place during the printing of the Republican but judging from the reports, also by the thousands waiting to participate or see, they were fully up to the standard.
