A tramp found a woman alone in a Vermont farm-house, and threatened to kill her if she did not give him five cents. "Well, here it is," she said, showing the coin; "but I guess I'll shoot it to you;" and she dropped it into the barrel of a shot-gun. The fellow did not wait to take it.

A newspaper agent being told by an old lady that it was no use to subscribe for the papers, as mother Shipton said the world was coming to an end this year, said, "but won't you want to read an account of the whole affair as soon as it is over?" "That I will," said the old lady; and she at once subscribed.

A pelican was caught recently at Cape May.

It rains alike on the just and the unjust—on the just mainly because the unjust have borrowed their umbrellas.

It is claimed that a man's residence is where he gets his washing done. This will explain why tramps never have a home.

It was a funny little boy who, when he saw a dairyman feeding his cows salt, said he thought they didn't salt the butter till it was churned.

A prominent lawyer confidentially informs us that during his experience he has never met with a divorce case but what there was a woman in it.

A Connecticut pastor declined an addition of a hundred dollars to his salary for the reason, among others, that the hardest part of his labors heretofore had been the collection of his salary, and it would kill him to try and collect a hundred dollars more.

General John C. Fremont, the first Republican candidate for President of the United States, died on Sunday last, at his residence, in New York City, aged 77 years.

All signs indicate a splendid crop of wheat and corn in this country. There are many grains of comfort in this little item of news.

Rev. Dr. Talmage receives $15,000 a year from his Brooklyn congregation, $12,500 from a firm for the advance publication of his sermons, and $6500 for his contributions to a religious journal, besides what he earns on the lecture platform and for miscellaneous literary work. Wonder if he is able to lay up anything for a rainy day.

The remains of John Ericsson, the inventor, originator of the "Monitor," (which the rebels called "a Yankee cheese-box on a raft,") will be taken back to Sweden, his native land, on one of Uncle Sam's new war-ships.

The total number of pensioners in the United States was 532,479 on May 30th.

The Grand Army of the Republic of Illinois propose to have a grand memorial hall erected in Decatur, where the first Post was organized.

There is some hope that the "original package" amendment will pass the House before this week closes, though whisky-sympathizing members are doing their best to defeat it. The President will sign it without delay.

Lycoming County, Pennsylvania, is overrun with millions of small toads.

The American people, if for no other reason, will love the McKinley bill for the enemies it has made. It seems to have set English statesmen on "teeter boards."

Played out—base-ball. It is one of the games that can't well be played in-doors.

"The federal elections bill, if it becomes a law, shall be tried in the North as well as in the South," growls Roger Q. Mills, of Texas. Of course it will, Brother Mills—that's the calculation—but you don't find the North kicking, do you?

Johnstown, Pa., contains more inhabitants than she did before the flood, a year ago.

A fire in Constantinople destroyed nearly one thousand houses and 125 business establishments.

The black rot is again destroying the grape crop in the Southern part of this State.

These and many others, which were recited, contain much of exquisite beauty and wisdom. The words of Max Muller, the simplest, most childlike prayers on record.

For the Housewife.

Flour CAKE.—White part: Two cups of flour, one cup of starch, one cup of milk, one cup of butter, one cup of sugar, the whites of six eggs, three teaspoonsful of baking powder. Black part: Two cups of flour, one cup of corn starch, one cup of cold water, two cups of sugar, one cup of molasses, one cup of chopped raisins, the yolks of four eggs, one dozen and a half of chopped figs, half a teaspoonful of cloves, and one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda. Use large jelly pan. Put into each pan a layer of white and dark batter, alternately, with a layer of the chopped (or sliced) figs. Make the layers thick, and when done put them in a cold place.

DELICIOUS SPONGE CAKE.—Heat a teaspoonful of water till milk warm. Add to it three-quarters of a pound of sugar. Beat in the yolks of five eggs and half a cup of cold flour till light and weighty. Then add the whites of the eggs, beaten stiff.

CUP CAKE.—Butter, one emp; milk, one emp; sugar, two cups; flour, four cups; eggs, four; two dessert spoonfuls of Royal baking powder.

How to WASH SUMMER DRESSES.—Summer washing dresses rank among those that take a first place for pretentiousness and grace, and, rightly enough, are much favored, seeing that besides their attractive qualities, their moderate price may be added. There is just one point to be alleged against them, and that is, that they soil very quickly, and if not carefully washed, lose all their beauty coloring. The safest way is to wash them frequently with sweet and especially with floured sponges and patterned zephyrs, is to have them cleaned by the dry cleaning process. But as that is rather costly, when we consider that these materials require frequent frequent cleansing, and that, when we give here a few recipes, which can be best carried out at home by a careful washer. For either of these fabrics prepare a tub of water as follows:—Stirrape yellow soap, and add a quart of Royal baking powder to a pound of soap, and two gallons of water, and when it has quite melted put it into a large tub and fill it with lukewarm water. Wash the dress (or dresses) in this, by rubbing the soiled parts with the soap and water, and rubbing are applied to all parts. Squeeze it as tightly as possible, and plunge it into a tub of lukewarm water with which a quart of bran has been mixed, rub and turn about in it, and then rinse thoroughly in cold water. Dry quickly in the open air, if convenient, then starch the dress, and dry again, pass it through clear water and dry it. Before ironing it should be starched with white water rolled tightly in a cloth. The most delicate colors may be treated successfully in this way.

Black washing dresses require care in washing in order to retain their color. They should be washed in bran water mixed with a little ox gall. Starching will be unnecessary, and they should be ironed on the wrong side with cool irons. A little ox gall mixed with water in which any article made of black cotton or thread is to be washed will set the color, and sugar of lead answers the same purpose with black or colors. With black washing dresses having patterns of white, starching will be unnecessary, and they should be washed in bran or potato water, as this stiffens them sufficiently. To make potato water, grate six raw potatoes, after having peeled them, into a gallon of water. Let this water is good to set the color of blue or green goods, and water with a small quantity of Epsom salts is also a good rinse. Some shades of plain blue or gray are apt to look spotty after washing. This can be prevented by washing the black spots about an ounce to a tub of water, in the water they are washed in.

Flannel trousers or hoating gowns are also better washed at home in water with either bran or ammonia in it, made into a lather with yellow soap.

The Resurrection Plant.
(A Natural Curiosity.)

This singular plant is really one of the wonders of creation. Imagine a bunch of under-looking, curled-up, brown, shriveled, and withered, resembling a bird's nest. Place it in water. In half an hour what a transformation! The withered-looking bunch has now opened, and is transformed into "a number of cups of moss." In its native habitat, when the sun is shining, the plant curls up into a round ball, and is wafted away by the winds from place to place, sometimes for hundreds of miles, when at last it reaches a moist spot, it gradually unfolds itself, makes new roots, and thrives in its new-found home. This sensitiveness to moisture is so great that when after the plant is dead it will open and close as if it were responding to the rays of the sun, and alive. It should not be allowed to remain in water more than three or four hours, then taken out again, and allowed to dry, to be resurrected again at will.

MAN is made in God's own image; and, naturally, the more intellectual a man is the higher his estimate of his Maker.—Boston Transcript.

The Republican.

It pays to have your name and address printed on your envelopes. A letter thus fortified seldom miscarries, and never goes to the dead-letter office. If you write on few letters that it will not pay to have them printed, write your address on the upper left hand corner; then, for any reason, the letter is not delivered, it will be returned to you, and you'll not be awake nights wondering why she doesn't reply.

Mr. Edward Gifford died at his residence on Sunday night, 13th inst., after a painful illness. He was for a long time employed as tinsmith, by S. E. Brown & Co., was a faithful workman, a good neighbor. Rev. Mr. Cline conducted the funeral services on Wednesday, after which Russell Post, G. A. R. (of which deceased was a member) escorted the remains to the depot, and four accompanied them to Camden, as bearers.

Lightning struck the residence of Mr. Horton, Eleventh Street, Thursday night, about ten o'clock. There is no outside indication, but the paper on the sitting-room walls was badly damaged. Two places were found where the bolt passed out. Mr. Horton was up stairs, and there was a ball of fire pass around the room. Lath were torn from the walls, and splinters scattered. Miss H. would have been in the sitting-room, but had just gone to the kitchen to feed the cat. Poor puss was too much frightened by the storm, and could not eat, but cried pitiously, and thus detained her mistress long enough to escape the danger.

The residence of Mr. Luttgens, Fairview Avenue, was also struck, the bolt entering by an upper window, making its way by an eccentric course to the cellar, scattering splinters as it flew. The family had a narrow escape.

Thursday evening brought the dust, grandest, and most terrible display of celestial pyrotechnics we were ever privileged to witness. Beginning about 7:30, for three hours or more the whole firmament was lighted by electricity, flash following flash so closely that it seemed like a continuous light; and after a time the thousand lights were fairly frightful, shaking the earth with their intensity. Rain fell in torrents. It was a storm to be remembered, but not described.

Last Sunday a mail steamer, the "Sea Wing," took an excursion party of one hundred and fifty or more from Lake Pepin, a widening of the Mississippi, Minnesota, to Lake City. Starting to return about 6 o'clock in the evening, the steamer was struck by a cyclone and overturned, throwing all the passengers into the Lake, which was lashed to fury by the wind. For several days bodies have been washed ashore, numbering over one hundred.

Professor Campbell, a Brooklyn aeronaut, is credited with having demonstrated, at Buffalo, N. Y., that he could successfully navigate the air with his air ship. The story that a Newfoundland cruiser fired on a French vessel has been confirmed and it is said in Montreal that the British war vessels will make a naval demonstration in Newfoundland and at Miquelon waters.

T. Farrar Backham, of East Orange, will have charge of the poultry department at the Mount Holly fair this year.

Gov. Abbott, for the first time in history, is appointing Commissioners of Deeds for the State, the legislature having failed to do so. They will all be Democrats.

No more street car lines can be constructed at Atlantic City for the present. The Electric Railroad has also been refused the grant.

The First Step.

Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't think, can't do anything to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning; you are taking the first step towards nervous prostration. You need a nerve tonic. Electric Bitters will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal, healthy condition. Surprising results follow the use of this nerve tonic and alternative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored, and the liver and kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. Price 50c. at George Elvins store.

Mrs. William Mannice, formerly of Hammonton, died on Thursday evening last, the 10th inst., at her home in Bridgeton. Mrs. M. was a daughter of Mr. Jos. McIlvaine, and was highly esteemed as a neighbor and a Christian. Her remains were brought here last Monday, for burial at Pleasant Mills.

The sympathy of many friends is with the afflicted parents, husband, and little children.

Insure with A. H. Phillips, 1838 Atlantic Ave., Atlantic City.

In connection with the above, we give the following from the Washington Sentinel, the national organ of the brewers' association, which we copy from the Independent of March 7th, 1889:

Keep it before the people—1. That High License laws do not give rest to the friends of personal liberty nor quiet the prohibitionists per se.

2. That they are simply the forerunners of Prohibition, as can be seen now

Temperance Week.

Rev. A. A. Phelps, A. M., of Asbury Park, spent most of this week in Hammonton, and proved himself worthy of the title, "Temperance Evangelist."

On Sunday evening he addressed a large audience in the Presbyterian church, giving an entertaining and instructive lecture.

Monday evening, in Temperance Hall, his lecture was illustrated by a series of charts, showing first the varieties and properties of alcohol, then its effects upon the human brain, stomach, kidney, liver and nose. Declared that God never made a drop of alcohol, "was man's invention—the product of death and decay, and produced death and decay where used. No alcohol in Eden; no gushing springs of alcohol ever found; no use for alcohol in the human system; answers no natural demand; satisfies no want. Showed us how and why a tippler's nose blossomed; why drinking made a man drunk, and why his intellect became clouded, his moral sensibilities blunted.

On Tuesday, Atlantic Division celebrated its twenty-eighth anniversary at the Park, with a picnic. There were appropriate addresses, music, refreshments, and a general good time. We regretted our inability to be present, as we united with this Division in the winter of 1885-6, and have very pleasant recollections of the evenings spent at its meetings. Then, as since, not all were true to their solemn pledge; but God only knows how many have been saved from destruction by the lessons there taught and the good influence thus thrown around them.

Tuesday evening, in the Presbyterian church, Mr. Phelps spoke upon the "Crime of Crime"—the selling. He arranged the business upon the following charges:

1st, not needed.—Supplied no legitimate want of man.

2nd, A commercial fraud,—takes a man's hard-earned cash, and gives nothing of value therefor; does not advertise or exhibit its finished productions—as do all branches of industry.

3rd, A seducer,—draws into its toils the brightest and best; makes idiots of the intellectual, fools of the naturally wise; loaders of the formerly industrious.

4th, A Monster of Cruelty.—Robs the wife and children of support, home, husband, father, and needs not the sorrow it causes nor the pleadings of those who suffer.

5th, A prolific breeder of crime.—increasing the number of criminals, directly, at least four-fold, and indirectly leading many more in the same sad course.

6th, A deadly foe to the church of God—by its paralyzing effects rendering men unable to receive the Gospel message; making them unable to comprehend the grace of God.

7th, An intolerable burden to the State—by the increase of crime which it causes, adds the burden of taxation for the support of paupers, courts and criminals.

8th, A damning obligation—with brazen effrontery violating the laws of the land, defying courts, demanding privileges neither granted to nor desired by any other class; brow-beating and threatening officers of the law and even Legislatures and the national Congress.

What shall we do with this rum business? How long shall we permit it to exist?

Wednesday evening, in the Baptist church, Mr. Phelps gave a ringing logical talk upon "Liquor License Laws," showing them all to be productive of evil, illogical, unconstitutional; constituting the State a controlling partner in the "crime of crime"; in no wise lessening the consumption of rum, with its deplorable consequences. There were many excellent points made, and we wish that the attendance might have been larger.

Thursday evening, the subject announced was, "Twelve reasons why you should work and vote for Prohibition." The storm came on just in time to prevent a meeting, but a very few gathered at the Baptist church, where it was to be held.

Arrangements were then made for an open air meeting on Friday evening, but we go to press too early to report it.
