The Hammonton Paint

Is the very best paint that was ever used in Hammonton.

There are scores of buildings that you see every day, painted with the Hammonton Paint eight to twelve years ago, and looking well at the present time.

The Hammonton Paint is sold for less than any other first-class paint. It has no equal, as it works well, covers well, and wears well. Sold by

Our Lady's Day.

Monday last saw Hammonton's streets filled as never before with visitors from everywhere,—participants and spectators of the Feast of Our Lady of Mount Carmel. The crowds began to gather quite early,—coming in by train and all sorts of vehicles, until the "oldest inhabitant" was amazed at the multitude. It was an orderly crowd, too, for though plenty of policemen had been appointed, not one was arrested for improper conduct, and but very few were seen overstimulated. One fellow was taken in as a pickpocket, but the evidence was not clear, and Chief Adam shipped him away on the next train.

The fakers were here, sure, in all sorts of trade, with pin-wheels, balloons, medals, badges, fans, etc., etc. A Hindoo (?) fortune teller was a novelty, and took in many nickels from the curious and superstitious. Stands and booths in plenty supplied food, drink, and all sorts of things. The Ocean Wave and Merry-go-round were here, of course. Among the fakes was a "child-eating crocodile," to see which many paid a nickel. There was a crocodile, perhaps five feet long, and several little fellows; but no one saw him eat a child. The roars which attracted outsiders were made by drawing the hand along a waxed string attached to sheepskin stretched over a section of terracotta pipe, resting in a box. There were two or more gambling dens, which were run so carefully that the police missed 'em until late in the afternoon.

It was a lively day. Three bands paraded the street,—one from Egg Harbor, one from Cologne, and the Pizzi Marine Band from Philadelphia. The latter sustained its high reputation. For a time seated opposite this office, it discoursed operatic and classical music that delighted cultured ears. Of course the bag-pipes and miscellaneous instruments were in the crowd, including the hurdy-gurdy and monkey.

The programme was carried out, notwithstanding one of the heaviest rainstorms we ever witnessed. But this lasted only about an hour, from twelve o'clock,—a record-breaking fall of water while it lasted, soaking everything. That was the only interruption, and people continued to pour into town.

The parade started promptly at four o'clock,—the usual formation,—bands, society, images, long lines of white-robed girls, and the miscellaneous crowd. The dust had been laid, the temperature moderated, and all went well with the marchers and the multitude.

The fireworks were quite up to expectation, and delighted the witnesses,—lasting over an hour.

Altogether, the celebration was an unqualified success, and all Hammonton enjoyed it.

Bellevue Avenue improvements are progressing. An additional coating of gravel was placed in the centre this week, from the lower end, and the big scraper keeps the road-bed smooth and level.

A bomb which failed to explode on Monday night was found and fired on Tuesday morning. It is rumored that a party of boys were the discoverers, and that one of them was seriously injured by the explosion.

State Forester, Alfred Gaskill, is to be in Hammonton on Monday next, 24th, arriving about ten o'clock, to look into the dying shade trees matter. Interested parties may meet him with possible profit to themselves.

If you have friends visiting you, or you are going away, just phone your Editor.

Plenty of rain just now,—Monday's downpour, a lively shower on Wednesday forenoon (thirty-three one-hundredths), another with electric accompaniment, very early Friday morning,—nineteen one-hundredths; and, as we go to press, at 2.30 yesterday afternoon, the downpour, thunder and lightning, indicated several inches more in prospect.

Monday's rain storm was quite wildly extended, and did much damage in many places. In Philadelphia, the sewers were inadequate to carry away the sudden flood; consequently, streets were flooded, cellars filled with water, which in some cases rose to the first floor. We have no report of damage hereabout.

Consider the Fly.

Consider the house-fly; give the fly a rest. It falls not, neither does it spin, and it's always around to see that you and your wife are not permitted either to toil or to spin with any degree of comfort or safety.

The fly is a shameless vagabond,
with the dust of death on his feet.
Fancy the amusement of the fly as he winks an argus eye at the tangle-foot on the window ledge, and flits lightly from the back-yard drain to the cradle in the nursery.

Scorning parental responsibilities himself (and herself), the fly has made a specialty of administering poison to human babies. The fly appears immune to all calamities short of a hammer blow, which is quite likely to break the mirror before or after killing the fly, or missing it; yet on the hair of its legs and under its translucent wings are stored all the germs of disease with which it has come in contact during a day of constant and detailed investigation.

The pretty little fly will saunter throughout the aisles of loathsomness and come forth to shake himself on your lower lip. He is cosmopolitan, hobnobbing with the garbage can and the custard pie, the cess-pool and the cherry pudding. The best circles admit or do not repel him. He is intimate, not casual, reveling now in the ear of a diphtheria patient and but ten minutes later on the bald head of a banker; he knows the gutter without and the lull-chops within the meat market, and is the parcel post which unites them. From the middle of the street to the fruit stand is a favorite flit for the fly, and his love of filth makes him like to wash his feet in the milk — a paradox whereby he spreads the filth, — before he goes back for more.

We have considered the fly; let us henceforth abjure him. Unquestionably, the fly had once a useful mission, just as the old spinning wheel and loom, but the world has outgrown flies; they must go.

Down in Panama, vultures used to share the streets with the naked babies, until the Americans came with modern sanitation and mosquito netting, — incidents which starved the vultures and clothed some of the children.

We can banish the fly, and will do so when we realize the pest it constitutes. We can put up screens at once, and apply the final exterminator as soon as science, in response to our insistent demands, discovers it.

Town Council Meeting.

An adjourned meeting was held on Tuesday evening, 18th inst., all members being present.

The Clerk read the curbing and sidewalk ordinance which had passed first reading at last meeting. Mr. White offered an amendment defining the concrete to be used, and it was adopted; also another, allowing the use of gravel "or other suitable material" between concrete walk and property line. The ordinance then passed second reading by a unanimous vote.

Mr. Wood moved that the ordinance pass third and final reading.

Clerk then read a protest, signed by twenty-two property owners on Bellevue Avenue between Fourth Street and Main Road; stating that most of the places within those boundaries were farms, not residence lots; that as their street lines were very long, it would be a hardship for them to be compelled to put in the required curbing and walks; asked that so much of Bellevue be excepted this year. A similar protest came from Mrs. T. B. Brown, on Egg Harbor Road. Miss Anna Cogley entered a verbal protest in the name of the estate.

A prolonged debate followed, participated in very vigorously by Messrs. H. M. Phillips, Loami Monfort, Wm. J. Smith, A. J. Rider, Orville Bassett, T. R. Evans, Dr. J. A. Waas, R. G. Scudder, E. W. Batchelor, J. B. Seely, G. W. Bassett, H. Kirk Spear, and a number of members of Council.

It was remembered that an ordinance cannot be amended after passing second reading. On motion the vote was reconsidered.

Another debate followed, on the amendment to omit the upper end of Bellevue, for a year.

While considering a motion to pass second reading, Mr. White gave notice that he desired to offer several amendments and moved that an adjourned meeting be held on Friday evening, 21st inst. So voted.

Athletic Association.

Last Saturday, our team defeated the Atcos in a ten-inning game. Score, 3 to 2. Atco brought a strong team, and fought out the game to a finish. There were a number of brilliant plays on both sides. In the second, Slack caught a difficult fly, and Lobley made a fine assist on a grounder; but in the third Lobley and Lockhart each made overthrows.

In the third, Hammononton scored two runs. Tell made three bags on a hit, and scored on Hayfield's single. Lobley drew a pass, stole second, and scored on Conly's hit. Atco scored in first and third, one each, and the game went on in league style until the tenth.

Monday, July 17th. Morning game.—Hammononton scored 3 runs, Vineland 2. A very interesting game, finished in a downpour of rain. At the end of the eighth, the score was 1 to 1; then Vineland scored one, and our team, in one of their famous ninth inning rallies, brought in the two winning runs.—Conly, Persico and Reeves making the necessary hits.

The grounds were flooded at one o'clock, but a dyke was constructed and drainage water shut off, and because of the dryness of the soil, it was possible to play the afternoon game at four o'clock. A bridge was constructed over Schoolhouse Lane, giving entrance to the field.

The afternoon game was quite different from that in the morning. The ball was wet and slippery, making perfect playing impossible. Vineland had a total of four errors; Hammononton six.

Vineland scored twelve hits, while we only got five; and Vineland's came at the right time to count.

To-day we play a return game with Oakwood A. C., of Philadelphia. In their first game, July 1, we won,—3 to 2.

This will be the line-up to-day:
Slack, c. b. Hayfield, 2 b.
Lockhart, 3 b. Persico, c.
Tell or Fitzpatrick, p.
Lobley, a. a. Birdsall, r. f.
Conley, c. f. Keyser, l. f.

Next week, third of series with May's Landing.
