Wm. Stapler, one of Hammonton's suburban poultrymen, was held up and robbed, Wednesday afternoon, at his house on Tenth Street. Four men had called at his house for eggs, and pounced onto him as he stooped over for them, taking his watch and fourteen dollars. Hastening to his neighbor, Mr. Mayberry's, he told his story, who immediately telephoned the Republican office. Chief Adams was quickly notified, and with Constable Pinto, were soon on the scene. The officers found no trace of the robbers, though they covered that section of town.

In substance, our efficient map will be retained, but certain changes in it will have to be made. This will save the Town several hundred dollars.

The following appeared in the "North American," yesterday, of a former popular Hammonton pastor: "The Rev. F. L. Jewett, pastor of the First M. E. Church, at Bridgeton, took a nap in a canoe the other afternoon and woke up a Baptist. At least, he was fully immersed, as a sudden awakening caused him to tip over the canoe, and he took a plunge into Sunset Lake in water that was over his head. He managed to clamber out safely."

Members of the Easter Star had a delightful excursion and picnic last Wednesday, at Brandywine Springs Park, a half-mile below Wilmington, Del. They went to Philadelphia by rail, thence by boat and trolley. Friends from Atlantic, Camden and Philadelphia met them, and made the occasion the more enjoyable.

The Girl Pioneers had a delightful picnic, on Wednesday, at the Park. With swimming lessons and various games, the day passed pleasantly. One of the enjoyable features was a camp-fire over at "the cove" (by permission), over which the girls broiled bacon and sausages, which with fresh rolls made delicious sandwiches for the hungry company.

Messrs. F. A. Lehman, G. F. Leuz, and Rev. Wm. J. Cusworth went to Pleasantville on Monday, and there joined a friend on his launch. They spent several hours on the bay, securing more than a hundred fish, then cruised around for the pleasure of it. They all enjoyed the trip, and so did many of their friends, who shared the catch.

All About "Old Home Week."

On Monday evening of this week, the Executive Committee of the Hammonton Board of Trade met in Firemen's Hall, to discuss plans for the big meeting. In spite of the very threatening weather, actual rain most of the time, a goodly number of the representative members of the Board were present, and all seemed very much interested. Mr. S. C. Viesley, editor of the "Clubman," of Philadelphia, who is to print the official programme and the Souvenir Book, for Hammonton, was also present and made many valuable suggestions.

Mr. A. L. Jackson, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, made an extended report of the work. With the assistance of the Chairman of the Publicity and Advertising Committee, he has been able to make real progress in the work. He recommended that the meeting be held during the first week in September, beginning on Tuesday, the first day of the month and winding up on Monday the seventh, Labor Day.

Mr. Jackson reported that plans were forming for an exhibit of the products of Hammonton farms and factories, in the Hall, at the Park, during the meeting. These are to be installed early in the week, and remain on exhibition till the close of the meeting. This was no part of the original plan as suggested by the writer, but it is a most excellent idea. It will enable Hammonton people to show to the world just what they can do, and just what they actually are doing in the way of growing and making things that are of real value to the world. We hope to see it become the big feature of the whole meeting.

Mr. Jackson said the "idea" of this meeting had grown so big that he felt that the Executive Committee ought to assume all further responsibility for it, and this the Committee seemed very willing to do, and agreed to do so by unanimous vote.

The tug of war came when the Committee undertook to prevail on Mr. Jackson to remain as general manager, and superintend the working up of the meeting; but he insisted that it would be a physical impossibility for him to do this, in view of the demands his own business were making upon him. After further discussion, the writer was instructed to continue to assist Mr. J. until such time as some competent man can be found to take the chairman's place.

Very commendable progress is being made in working up a programme. The Board of Trade will occupy one full day. Within a few days, a meeting will be held at some point up the line, to be attended by representatives from all the Boards of Trade and civic improvement organizations of every kind in that section. At this meeting it is hoped to arrange for a monster turn-out to the Hammonton meeting. Whether we are seeking improved accommodations on the roads we now have, or aiming to get a trolley line, we must all pull together. Mr. Breary has this matter in charge, and we are sure he will succeed grandly.

The women will occupy at least one full day. The Civic Club, the Woman's Political Union, the W. C. T. U., and other organizations of women will divide the time to suit themselves. The P. U. has already suggested a programme, and it is a good one.

The Grange will occupy a full day. Master W. Wallace Mayberry will be in command, and hopes to bring some able lecturer who can tell the people what the Grange is doing for them. It is quite possible also that some competent man may come to discuss other kindred themes on that day.

The Red Men, one of our best known fraternal organizations, will be on hand in force. They expect to furnish speakers from abroad, bring along their own music, and come in every way prepared for a good time.

Hammonton Band, Girl Pioneers of America, led by our own Miss Hoyt, assisted by Miss Tilton, Miss Little, and Mrs. J. C. Bitler, have a unique program, which will occupy a half-day, and both amuse and instruct. It will make one of the best half-days of the week.

The Rod and Gun Club and the Canoe Club will forge to the front as entertainers on Labor Day, of which more definite announcement later.

As we are late in getting started, we must work the harder to make up for lost time.

J. A. VANFLICK.
