SATURDAY, AUGUST 10, 1918

Bathers at the Dam would like to catch the fellow who throws broken glass into the water.

Everyone believes in fair play. You are not asked to sign the petition to-day to make Hammoncton a dry town. Sign, that it may come to a vote at the November election, and let the people decide.

Can you suggest anything more fair?

Young men between the ages of 18 to 21, and 31 to 45, are awaiting the result of the new draft age, now being decided upon by Congress.

It carries, many of our business men will be leaving for the front.

There is great need of Y. M. C. A. workers and secretaries at our army camps.

The open-air service to-morrow evening—a laymen's meeting—will be devoted largely to this subject; and we trust that it will be productive of good results.

If you consider it a snap to occupy the position, all at one time, of Editor, printer, and devil, compositor, bookkeeper, cashier, telephone and errand boy, reporter, active man in town affairs, and the head of a family,—if you long for lots to do, you are welcome to it, and the gate receipts to him.

Tuesday and Wednesday were the hottest days on record, some thermometers registering as high as 110 in Hammoncton, and much higher in the cities. Those who could, the young especially, dressed as scantily as decency would allow, and sought cool spots: Factories closed in the afternoons, and many laborers at Annotol were treated at their hospital.

That Town Meeting was a farce. Wednesday evening. Only eight citizens took enough interest in the gas situation to stand the heat. Most people are satisfied with the product and its price as furnished by the company.

Did you ever see so many lawn parties as were held these hot evenings,—all a-squating on the cool grass. They looked quite sociable.

Oh for a public bathhouse at the Dam. Every afternoon and evening, well out ten o'clock, from two hundred to five hundred people enjoyed the cooling waters, coming on foot or in jitneys, clad in bathing suits. Haven't we enough public-spirited capitalists here to erect such a building? It would be appreciated.

A large hall is badly needed in Hammoncton, for such assemblages as Town Meetings, etc.

Doubtless many of our citizens will attend Town Council meeting next Wednesday evening, to hear what is to be said on various subjects. Among the matters will be the jitney (or parking) and appropriation ordinances, and committee's report on the gas situation. Another important matter may be brought up.

There were one hundred and twenty-five benches at Hammoncton Park. Last Saturday we saw the five, but not the hundred and twenty. Where are they?

We expect to publish a portion of a letter, next week, from First Lieut. W. J. Cusworth, at Camp Lee, Va.

Increased Egg Production.
A new circular, No. 107, recently issued by the Department of Agriculture, gives suggestions for increasing the average egg production of the country. There should be a hundred hens on every farm, declares this publication, and at least a hundred eggs per year should be gotten from every hen. Almost every farm in the country could support this number of hens practically on waste material. The average back yard flock should number at least ten. With this as a basis let us estimate the money return. Each hen in her pullet year should produce ten dozen eggs. This means a hundred dozen eggs per year. Taking 25 cents per dozen as a low average price, this amounts to $25.

SUGAR RULING ON INDIVIDUAL SUPPLIES

Consumption of sugar has been limited to three pounds a month for each person in a household, but this does not mean that a month's supply may be bought from the retailer, the Miscellaneous Department of the Food Administration has announced.

Dealers are warned that the new regulations limiting the consumption of the individual consumer in no way alters the amount that may be sold by the retail grocer. Not more than two pounds at a time may be sold to city customers, regardless of the size of the household, nor more than five pounds to rural customers.

Total purchases by the consumer each month must not amount to more than three pounds for each member of a household. If a household consists of five persons, not more than fifteen pounds of sugar may be used in one month. This fifteen pounds must be bought in two-pound quantities if the purchaser lives in town and in five-pound quantities if he lives in the country.

For canning and preserving purposes as much as twenty-five pounds may be bought on certificate.

Retailers are not allowed to sell sugar to other than household consumers without the presentation by the purchaser of a certificate issued by the United States Food Administration.

French Sugar Stringent.

One and one-third pounds of sugar a person a month is still to remain the French ration. In order that this amount may be saved for making jam, a certain amount of saccharin will be distributed for the use of civilians.

VEGETABLE HINTS.

Try standing green vegetables in a bowl of boiling water.

Soak wilted vegetables in cold water until they are crisp and fresh.

Soak celery and cabbage for 15 or 20 minutes before using so that any insects or worms will come out.

The French like peas cooked in lettuce leaves in the top of a double boiler or laid in lettuce leaves in the top of a strainer. Sometimes, too, they add a parsley leaf or a mint leaf to peas in the cooking to give them flavor, but the plain flavor of well cooked green peas is very pleasant without any additions.

Cook beets, carrots and parsnips before peeling. The skin comes off after cooking in a very economical and easy way.

Potatoes, too, may well be cooked in their jackets.

To remove the skins of tomatoes, dip them into a pan of boiling water then chill. The skins can then be easily removed.

If you boil your vegetables, never throw away the water in which they were cooked. It contains valuable material. Use it as the basis of a soup.

HOUSEWIVES SHOULD NOT BE SUGAR "REPEATERS"

Retail grocers are reporting to the New Jersey State Food Administration that some housewives, becoming careless under the present sugar ration, are traveling from store to store and buying sugar that they may not find themselves without a supply if an actual famine should come.

These "repeaters" are helping to create a possible famine and will speed the entire rationing plan of the Food Administration unless they buy sugar only as it is needed and limit their consumption to three pounds a month for each person in the household. W. S. Tyler, Federal Food Administrator for New Jersey, said today.

Grain stalks, your home from the farm and garden, the wilderness must carry food and munitions for soldiers.

Fruit tree branches in blossom must not be picked in Germany. Even owners of fruit trees who disregard the order will be liable to arrest and a fine up to $375.

When Was Your Battery Tested?

How long has it been since you had a line on the inside condition of your battery?

A month? Six weeks?

If it's any more, you're taking chances.

Don't you want to know if you're starving your battery—or mistreating it?

There's only one way to tell—by test. You can make it yourself or we'll do it free.

We'll be glad to show you the
"How" of this simple test, and to tell you about Threaded Rubber Insulation—the most important battery improvement in years.
