

South Jersey Republican

Hoyt & Son, Publishers.

Terms--$1.25 Per Year.

VOL. 42

HAMMONTON, N. J., AUGUST 13, 1904.

NO. 33

FRESH and PURE.

You can well depend on the quality of our drugs. You can always depend on the way we put them together.

Our Compounding insures Perfect Medicines.

We have some standard remedies which we prepare for the market, and the best of Proprietary Medicines at all times.

Try our Alaska Soda.

Red Cross Pharmacy.

UNDERTAKER

EMBALMER

ELWOOD P. JONES,

Successor to

W. A. HOOD & CO.

Office and Residence, 216 Bellevue Ave. Phone 3-Y

Wax Flowers, Figures, etc., for funerals and memorial services, furnished on short notice.

Young People's Societies.

This space is devoted to the interest of the Young People's Societies of the various Churches. Special items of interest, and announcements are solicited.

Y. P. S. C. E.,—Presbyterian Church:
Meets Sunday evening at 7:00.
Topic, "Obeying when obedience is hard." Gen. 22: 1-8. Leader, Harry Zietz.

Y. P. S. C. E.,—Baptist Church:
Meets Sunday evening at 8:45.
Topic, "Obeying when obedience is hard." Gen. 22: 1-8. Leader, Mrs. C. E. Small.

Jr. U. E., Sunday afternoon at 3:00.
Topic, "How Jesus forgave his own brother." Gen. 33: 1-16; Luke 17: 3-4. Leader, Nellie Laver.

Epworth League,—M. E. Church:
Meets Sunday evening at 7:00.
Junior League on Sunday afternoon, at 3:00 o'clock. Topic, "Light in darkest Africa." Isa. 107: 10-12.

Church Announcements.

Notices of Church meetings are of public interest, and no charge is made for their insertion. Weekly changes are urged.

Baptist Church. Rev. Wiltshire W. Williams, Pastor. 10:30 a.m., "The hardest text in the Bible to believe." 7:45 p.m., "The tenth man."

Union Services,—Presbyterian and Methodist congregations. 10:30 a.m., (in M. E. Ch.), sermon by Rev. Geo. L. Dobbins. 7:45 p.m., in the Presbyterian Church, preaching by Rev. G. R. Middleton, "A Deserter" (last of the series.)

St. Mark's Church,—Rev. Paul F. Hoffman, Rector. Sunday services as usual.

Oil Stoves

Repaired

by

WILLIAM BAKER,

No. 25 Third Street,
Hammonton.

Anyone sending a sketch and description will quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Write to MUNN & Co., Patent Attorneys, 312 Broadway, New York.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $5 a year in advance. $1.50 a copy. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co., 312 Broadway, New York.

From a Hammonton Boy.

U. S. Steamer "Illinois,"
THIRTEEN, Austria, July 13, 1904.

Messrs. Hoyt & Son:—Thinking that some of my friends in Hammonton might like to hear from me again, and do not like to take the trouble of writing, I decided to write to you again.

The last letter I wrote, concerning my trip to the Azores, met with a good reception, so I hope you will not condemn this to your waste-basket without letting some one know where I am.

We arrived in the States, from the Azores, July 23rd, 1903, and ran into Bar Harbor, Maine. Here we had our winter manoeuvres, and left for Gardner's Bay, Mass., August 12th, where we cleaned ship. On the 14th we proceeded to Oyster Bay, and were inspected by President Roosevelt on the 17th. Then we left for Portland, Maine, where we made a sham attack on the forts. In all, we made three attacks, but at no time could we catch them asleep.

From there we went to Menemsha Light, Mass., had our target practice, making a very good score. From there we went to New York, arriving Sept. 13th. On the 18th we went into dry-dock for repairs, and did not get out until the 25th.

We left for Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, where there is a southern naval station, and while there took possession of the tract of land given the United States by Cuba at the close of the Spanish-American war. Dec. 12th, we left for Guibarra for winter drill.

At neither of these places is there a large town. A few native huts can be seen scattered around, and their people make fortunes in the winter by selling fruit to the different ships. We remained here until Jan. 29th, when we returned to Guantanamo. Here we had several boat races. The principal one was our race-boat with the "Alabama's," in which we won the championship of the North Atlantic fleet.

We left there March 1st, for Pensacola. At noon that day we had a collision with the "Missouri," and her ram pierced our armor, making a hole nearly three by four feet just abaft the cabin. We had to put back to New York for repairs. From there we went to Massachusetts for target practice, and after running into Newport, R. I., came across to Gibraltar. We remained three days, and came direct to Trieste, passing the volcanoes of Stromboli and Mt. Etna, also several large cities, among them Messina and Venice.

After leaving here we expect to visit several Italian ports, and return to the States in September.

Yours, respectfully,

ROSCOE COOHAN.

My permanent address is U. S. S. "Illinois," care Postmaster, N. Y.

Conceding that Judge Parker is now sound on the money question, he is handicapped by a party one-half the membership of which is still loyal to silver and would try to re-establish it in the currency system in case of Democratic success.

The American voter can read the Republican tariff plank without the aid of an interpreter.

JOHN H. MARSHALL

DEALER IN

Choice Teas, Coffees,

Extracts,

Baking Powders, etc.

All Goods strictly First-Class

Also handle G. U. Tea Co. goods, which are strictly high-grade.

Also, Sir Thomas Lipton's Coffees and Teas, known the world over.

See the Wagon, on Wednesday and Saturday. Orders left at Simon's Candy Kitchen promptly filled.

323 Washington St., Hammonton.

Dr. J. A. Waas,

RESIDENT

DENTIST,

HAMMONTON, N. J.

"How fine your house looks!"
"Yes, it's been painted with

Lucas
Paints

(Tinted Gloss)

That's what gives it the bright, rich, glossy appearance. Lucas Paints give a higher gloss, look better and look better longer than any other paint made. Ask your dealer.

John Lucas & Co.
Philadelphia

Ice Cream

To-day

at

SMALL'S

Cor. Second and Bellevue,

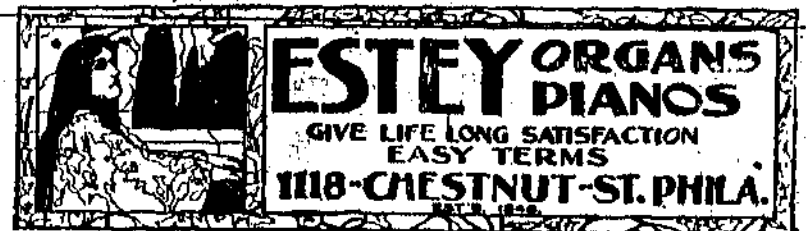

Hammonton.

Republican : : Sets

COMMERCIAL PRINTING

Done neatly and promptly at the

REPUBLICAN OFFICE

THIS PAPER

is for sale every Saturday morning at

Henson's News Room

Back numbers can be had at the REPUBLICAN Office.

The Peoples Bank

OF

Hammonton, N. J.

Capital, $30,000
Surplus and Profits, . $31,000

Three per cent interest paid on time Deposits.

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent

R. J. BYRNES, President.

M. L. JACKSON, Vice-Pres't.

W. B. TILTON, Cashier.

DIRECTORS

R. J. Byrnes M. L. Jackson

C. F. Osgood George Elvins

Elam Stockwell Wm. L. Black

Wm. J. Smith J. C. Anderson

L. H. Parkhurst W. R. Tilton

Herbert G. Henson

ALL THE

DAILY PAPERS

AND

PERIODICALS.

Stationery & Confectionery.

217 Bellevue Avenue,

Hammonton, N. J.

J. A. HOYLE. J. L. O'DONNELL.

HOYLE & O'DONNELL,

Auctioneers.

Special Attention given to House Furnishing Goods

Office, Real Estate Building.

Hammonton, N. J.

JOS. H. GARTON,

JUSTICE of the PEACE.

Notary Public, Commissioner of Deeds,

Hammonton, N. J.

Office at Residence, Middle Road.

New Crimson
Clover
SEED

We have some very nice

1904 Crop

Crimson Clover Seed now in stock.

It is quite a little lower in price
than it was earlier.

GEORGE ELVINS.

J. A. OFFICER,

CHIMNEY

HOUSE PAINTER.

Estimates given.

Central and Park Aves., Hammonton.

UMBRELLAS
REPAIRED

and Recovered,—

From 40 cents up.

Geo. W. Dodd.

OLD AND NEW.

From an old garden Lucia sends some early roses to her friends. They are lovely fresh in hue. As though just plucked in crystal dew. No name they bear, but rich their bloom. As those that from Damascus come. Or those that from Persia vale. The delicate perfume shall. How vividly they bring to view. The roses that my childhood knew! The wedding brought from distant west. The cinnamon that near it stood. The Provence, deemed so regal, and. The pure white rose and Magdalen.

Nor let me Burgundy forget. Vase buds in their leaflet set. Just fit for fairy folk to wear. Titania and her maiden fair. Nor dainty blush which few excel. So dainty like an ocean shell. I love them, one and all, and though. Their many charms the now may show. La France, Colomb or Jacqueminot. To the old kind of heart-warmth. Such precious memories they bring. Of home and friends in that dear time. While we live in the joyous prime. —Bos-ton.

Her Word of Cheer

MARION SCHUELLER bent slightly forward in her father's pew as the door from the pastor's study into the auditorium of St. Margaret's Church opened and closed. Then she leaned back with a little sigh.

This made the sixteenth candidate for the pulpit since the resignation of Rev. Edmund Boyce. They had ranged all the way from the young collegian, with his sleek, dark head, clean-shaven jaws and palpitant belt out shoulders to this—

Her eyes went to the nervous hands arranging the papers on the reading desk—hands which, in some unaccountable way, spoke of failure and disappointment to the well-brushed, threadbare coat, with its carefully darned triangular tear on the sleeve. She felt suddenly sorry for Rev. John Tinsdale.

Possibly she was the only one who even tried to follow him as he ploved the near-sighted, nervous way through page after page of manuscript.

And possibly, also, three months before he might not have done so, but the song of the springtime was singing itself in Marion Schueller's heart, and the abundance of her happiness overflowed in pity for those less blessed than herself.

When the service was over John Tinsdale left the platform and stood with clasped hands in front of it. He had no need of incense then. Not one person out of thirty thousand came forward to speak to him. And no one suspected that the young man was slowly but surely drinking the drugs of a very bitter cup.

For a rest and the thought that his ministry was a failure had haunted him night and day. And he had made of this service a test. He would preach in a strange church to a strange people.

So he would be blessed for or against him. If anyone, even a child, said afterward that he had believed his eyes would keep on, if not—

His eyes grew hard and bright with courage, and the people moved slowly out. Then he became suddenly aware that someone stood beside him.

It might have gone hard with John Tinsdale just then if 10 years of love and allegiance to another woman had not run like a bright thread through his life, for the girl who had come forward to speak to him was the very embodiment of beauty and happiness.

"Mr. Tinsdale," she said eagerly, "I want to thank you so much for what you said this morning. I really think you were sent here to save me from becoming selfishly absorbed in my own joy."

John Tinsdale took the hand she held out, though he hardly saw her face for the mist which had suddenly risen to his eyes. The quick revelation of feeling left him dizzy for a moment. He was to keep on.

When she ran down the steps of the church to speak to the janitor upon the following Sunday, a figure stood at the foot which looked sadly out of place within the fashionable precincts of St. Margaret's.

At another hour Marion might have wondered why women with colored hair and eyes always affected neutral tints in dress. But nothing beautiful in the pale face, something which certainly told the story of years of cheerful self-sacrifice, held her mind from other thoughts.

"Miss Schueller," The girl in drab advanced slightly, with her eyes fixed intently on Marion's face.

"John—John Tinsdale. O, I don't wonder—now that I've seen you!" Marion opened the door of the ladies' parlor hastily and drew the other woman aside. Gently she forced her into a chair and, drawing another before it, took the cold, lifeless hands in her own.

"Now," she said, steadily, "tell me who you are. Not his wife?"

"No, but—we have been engaged for eight years."

The tears rose quickly in Marion Schueller's eyes.

"O, my dear! That is a long time to wait for happiness," she said breathlessly.

Her own engagement might have been counted by as many weeks. Her hold upon the small, work-worn hands tightened.

"Indeed, indeed, it is not as you think," she said earnestly. "I knew at the time that my husband, John Tinsdale as I did last Sunday meant more to him than I could understand. But it was what I said, not me, that counted. Why, he looked beyond, not at me."

The wet eyes of the girl from Carson Centre were fixed hungrily on her face as she drank in every word.

"Go home and ask him to tell you all about it," she said soothingly. "Three years which he behind you demand that you shall not misunderstand each other now."

"It isn't that I mind waiting, but—but it hurts me to stand by another man had been to him the inspiration I have failed to be," she said wistfully. "He is preaching on trial to-day. If he succeeds it will be because of having met you."

With sudden resolve Marion detailed her.

"After all, I see that I shall have to tell what will hurt you—for you do not yet believe me," she said quietly. "And, anyway, nothing can hurt you more than what you now think. When Mr. Tinsdale preached here last Sunday not one person—not one—came to speak to him at the close of the service."

It seemed to her so cruel—and what he said did help me—that I tried as best I could to atone for the lack on the part of our people. Don't you think Mr. Tinsdale would be likely to remember, and talk about the one person who had spoken kindly to him in a strange place?"

A new light and hope had come into the pale eyes raised to Marion Schueller's.

"I will try to believe you," she said eagerly. "It would mean death to me to think otherwise. Goodbye."

"Goodbye," she said huskily, and God bless you both.

For a week waiting for Miss Schueller at the door of St. Margaret's on the following Sunday.

Rev. John Tinsdale she knew at a glance, but a second look was necessary as she recognized the little woman at his side—so pretty was the face in its soft, new happiness, so dainty the slight figure in its garb of dark blue.

"Miss Schueller," Tinsdale held out his hand smiling radiantly. "My wife tells me that you and she are already acquainted."

"John has received a unanimous call to the church where he preached last Sunday," the little bride began in an eager undertone. "We were married yesterday—and, O, my dear, it is all due to your word of good cheer!"—Boston Globe.

Pitiation in Russia. Russia is not the place to which we should look for any movement against the particular kind of frivolity on the part of young people known as the "flirt."

At another hour Marion might have wondered why women with colored hair and eyes always affected neutral tints in dress. But nothing beautiful in the pale face, something which certainly told the story of years of cheerful self-sacrifice, held her mind from other thoughts.

"Miss Schueller," The girl in drab advanced slightly, with her eyes fixed intently on Marion's face.

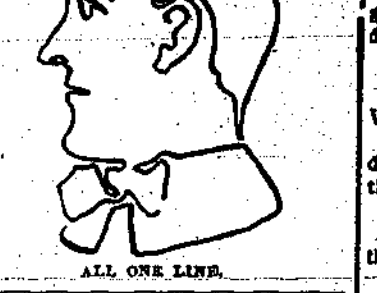

At another hour Marion might have wondered why women with colored hair and eyes always affected neutral tints in dress. But nothing beautiful in the pale face, something which certainly told the story of years of cheerful self-sacrifice, held her mind from other thoughts.

Boys and Girls

A Novelty in Drawing.

Have our clever readers ever tried what they can draw by means of one continuous line? If not, now is the time for me to try to practice their skill in this direction. Make the clearest picture you can, using only one continuous line; that is to say, the pen must not be raised from the paper until the whole drawing is made.

The Power of Love. Ted, you must look out for that new maid I bought yesterday," said Mr. Millard one summer's morning. "She's the ugliest brute that ever wore a harness. So don't get near her head or heels. Ted, or that's the last of you."

Any way, nothing can hurt you more than what you now think. When Mr. Tinsdale preached here last Sunday not one person—not one—came to speak to him at the close of the service."

It seemed to her so cruel—and what he said did help me—that I tried as best I could to atone for the lack on the part of our people. Don't you think Mr. Tinsdale would be likely to remember, and talk about the one person who had spoken kindly to him in a strange place?"

A new light and hope had come into the pale eyes raised to Marion Schueller's.

"I will try to believe you," she said eagerly. "It would mean death to me to think otherwise. Goodbye."

"Goodbye," she said huskily, and God bless you both.

For a week waiting for Miss Schueller at the door of St. Margaret's on the following Sunday.

Rev. John Tinsdale she knew at a glance, but a second look was necessary as she recognized the little woman at his side—so pretty was the face in its soft, new happiness, so dainty the slight figure in its garb of dark blue.

"Miss Schueller," Tinsdale held out his hand smiling radiantly. "My wife tells me that you and she are already acquainted."

"John has received a unanimous call to the church where he preached last Sunday," the little bride began in an eager undertone. "We were married yesterday—and, O, my dear, it is all due to your word of good cheer!"—Boston Globe.

Pitiation in Russia. Russia is not the place to which we should look for any movement against the particular kind of frivolity on the part of young people known as the "flirt."

At another hour Marion might have wondered why women with colored hair and eyes always affected neutral tints in dress. But nothing beautiful in the pale face, something which certainly told the story of years of cheerful self-sacrifice, held her mind from other thoughts.

"Miss Schueller," The girl in drab advanced slightly, with her eyes fixed intently on Marion's face.

At another hour Marion might have wondered why women with colored hair and eyes always affected neutral tints in dress. But nothing beautiful in the pale face, something which certainly told the story of years of cheerful self-sacrifice, held her mind from other thoughts.

"Miss Schueller," The girl in drab advanced slightly, with her eyes fixed intently on Marion's face.

At another hour Marion might have wondered why women with colored hair and eyes always affected neutral tints in dress. But nothing beautiful in the pale face, something which certainly told the story of years of cheerful self-sacrifice, held her mind from other thoughts.

"Miss Schueller," The girl in drab advanced slightly, with her eyes fixed intently on Marion's face.

At another hour Marion might have wondered why women with colored hair and eyes always affected neutral tints in dress. But nothing beautiful in the pale face, something which certainly told the story of years of cheerful self-sacrifice, held her mind from other thoughts.

LITTLE STORIES AND INCIDENTS

That Will Interest and Entertain Young Readers.

Troicked cheek against Mule's rough coat. "I know what it is to be beaten myself, and not have enough to eat. But we'll be friends, won't we? And you're going to be a good mule."

Mr. Millard felt a big lump in his throat and a mist gathered in his eyes. So he slipped out as quietly as he came in.

After this Ted spent all his spare time with Mule; and, wonderful as it may seem, he became one of the gentlest creatures on the farm.—Sunday School Times.

More Blessed to Give. Teacher—Johnny, what did you best Willie Brown for?

Teacher—Well, I either had to give that kid a kick or receive one.

Baby Did Not Bounce. "Why, Freddie," exclaimed the excited mother. "What did you drop the baby for?"

"Because," answered Freddie, grandma said he was a bouncing baby and I wanted to see him bounce."

Definition of a Smile. "Can you tell me what a smile is, Blaise?" asked the father of his little daughter.

A smile is a laugh that cracks one's face without breaking it open," replied the small observer.

Tommy in New Trowsers. Small Tommy's mother made him a new pair of trousers that proved to be much too large for him and the first time he put them on he exclaimed: "Gee, but I feel lonesome in these!"

What Washington Did. "What did George Washington do for his country?" asked a teacher of certain ways of conducting international affairs.

"He was an offender," but the account, as a whole, rather suggested that Washington was to be remembered for his faults as much as for his virtues.

Why He Couldn't Lead It. Little Florese—Harry, please lend me your knife a minute.

"I don't want to lend it to you," answered Florese. "It's too big for you."

Hotel Bills in Germany. Conditions Under Which a Dead Man

American travelers in Germany have for some time hesitated about dying at any of the hotels because of the unsettled condition of the German law governing the extent of their liability in such an event, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A recent report from Consul General Gunther at Frankfurt gives an important decision of the Supreme Court at Berlin, in which it is decided, presumably to the great dissatisfaction of the German innkeepers, that a man's liability ceases at his death, and that damages cannot be collected from his heirs for the time during which the room is being renovated and disinfected.

This court held that the death of a guest was a risk which the business of the hotel keeper required him to take, and he was not to be held responsible for the death of a guest who died in the hotel.

A distinction, however, was drawn between the case of an unexpected death and one maliciously contrived by the guest. In the latter case the hotel was held responsible for damages.

In the suit in question the bill presented by the landlord to the dead man was for ten days' lodging, and as the hotel was a first-class one the amount was by no means small.

The decision of the court by the Supreme Court of Berlin will relieve a great deal of anxiety in the tourist mind and he will be much more freely at German hotels than before.

The prospect of a hotel bill living and moving and having its being for weeks after one has passed away is enough to make the guest shudder and resolve to flee. And this is especially true in view of the fact that a European hotel is supposed to be the model of a lightning calculator when it comes to settling a bill for a stranger within its gates.

Then He Took the Hint. "If you dare to kiss me again I will call papa."

Sunday School Lesson

OBADIAH AND ABIAH. 1 Kings 18:1-16. (Sunday, May 1-19.) Memory verses: 12-14.

Golden Text: I, thy servant, fear the Lord from my youth—1 Kings 18:12.

DIFFICULT POINTS EXPLAINED. HOW TO LOCATE THIS LESSON.

The lack of rain has continued year after year, to distress the land of Israel. Abiah in vain tried to get into communication with Elijah (1 Kings 18:10), seeking him in all the neighborhood.

Elijah has lived in concealment, at first in the Cherith, in Abiah's country, and then in Garmath, in Jezreel's country. He has doubtless had means of information, and has kept in touch with his party in Israel.

Concerning him only one fact—namely, his restoring the son of the hostler after the boy was either actually dead or hopelessly near death (17:17).

Conjecturally, 909 B. C. Micah, or 885 Assyria, the famine having lasted three years (17:1), and a half year (James 5:17).

Light on PUZZLING PASSAGES. Verse 1—Show thyself. The Hebrew word is more significant. "Thyself," referring to that which Elijah had been seeking for.

Verse 2—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 3—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 4—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 5—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 6—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 7—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 8—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 9—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 10—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 11—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 12—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 13—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 14—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 15—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 16—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 17—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

Verse 18—The famine was sore. The famine spoken of in the preceding chapter, not the severe one which was the Old Testament—Famine of the year 909 B. C.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

Headache Powder.—A standard prescription is composed of camphor, menthol, and other ingredients.

The Art of Shaving.—In China many of the people shave dry—that is, without moistening the beard. It can hardly be a pleasant performance, but it is seen more in its effects than in the use of soap, inferior soap. Shaving is a delicate operation and demands a soap made for the especial purpose.

Diarrhoea Mixture.—Tincture of opium one-half fluid ounce, tincture of rhubarb one-half fluid ounce, compound tincture of lavender enough to make four fluid ounces. It is a powerful astringent and should be taken with care. More than one teaspoonful at a time should not be used. Wait for its effects and repeat the dose only after a passage until the bowels are checked.

Chronic Constipation.—Clean some good rice in fresh water, dry it, grind coarsely in a coffee mill, mix in a moderate quantity of oil and roll out into a thin sheet, cut up into thin cakes and bake hard in a hot oven. One or two of these cakes broken into a teaspoon of boiling water and taken before breakfast is an almost infallible remedy for constipation. These dry cakes will keep a long time in a cool, dry place.

Sore Mouth.—Get 10 cents' worth of kino at the drug store. Put a heaping teaspoonful into a teaspoon; pour over it two-thirds of a cup of boiling water and stir occasionally till cold. Then take a teaspoonful of the mixture and wash or gargle the mouth once in three or four hours, not after meals. Kino is a gum from a South American tree. It is astringent, not poisonous and will not irritate the worst kind of sore mouth even in infants.

The Effect of Altitude on the System.—Most overworked, debilitated, anemic individuals sleep better on coming to a high altitude than in their native lowlands. The reason is that the blood, high-strung, nervous person sleeps better at sea-level. In high, dry climates like Colorado there is increased elimination of water and waste solid products by the skin and the lungs. The body is more active at warm, dry temperatures, while the lungs do more work when it is cold. It is probable that if there are influences in high altitudes which tend to diminish elimination, this can be easily overcome by drinking more water and bathing more frequently. Convalescence after illness in general is apt to be more prompt at high altitudes because of the greater possibility of being in the open air and sunshine. People who rarely go from a low to a higher altitude are more easily fatigued.

The Size and Movement of Glaciers.—Think of sections bigger than Rhode Island being torn from a glacier and swept off into the ocean, to be ferried 3000 miles on the bottom of the Labrador current until the heated waters of the Gulf Stream cause them to vanish from human ken. Then can one form some idea of the immensity of the ice area discharged from the Greenland seas each year. Thousands of miles of valley are constantly emptying their contents into the bays and fjords of the north-western whence the tide hurries the detachments southward to cumber the wide Atlantic.

The disposition of icebergs to turn turtle is one of their most dangerous propensities. It arises from several causes. When they start out from Greenland their bottoms are heavy with the detritus gathered in their glacial period, and this drops off at intervals as they move south, causing the bow to assume new positions. The scientific theory of the formation of the vast submarine plateaus which extend from Labrador to Fanny and are commonly known as the Grand Banks of Newfoundland, is that they are the products of the deposits of bergs during countless ages.—Ladies' Monthly.

Did Not Know Him. Mrs. Goodfellow—We dine en famille this evening. Won't you join us?

Mrs. North—Well—really, I don't know Mr. Goodfellow and I don't like to meet strangers.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Prove Positive. Blithy—Mayne is evidently beginning to feel her age.

Edith—Why do you think so?

Blithy—She says hereafter she is going to write her name "Mary."

Did Not Know Him. Mrs. Goodfellow—We dine en famille this evening. Won't you join us?

Mrs. North—Well—really, I don't know Mr. Goodfellow and I don't like to meet strangers.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Prove Positive. Blithy—Mayne is evidently beginning to feel her age.

Edith—Why do you think so?

Blithy—She says hereafter she is going to write her name "Mary."

Did Not Know Him. Mrs. Goodfellow—We dine en famille this evening. Won't you join us?

Mrs. North—Well—really, I don't know Mr. Goodfellow and I don't like to meet strangers.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Prove Positive. Blithy—Mayne is evidently beginning to feel her age.

Edith—Why do you think so?

ROMANTIC THE STORY

Of This Mountain Girl, Now a Millionaire's Wife.

To become the wife of a man whom the world recognizes as one of its Croesuses would give distinction to any woman. When that union is accompanied by romantic circumstances such as those attending the marriage of Senator Williams A. Clark, of Montana, fiction is outdone, and every pretty girl in this broad land who combines grace and talent with physical charm may be pardoned for wishing to be like a princess.

It is an era of new women, of independent femininity, and it is none the less an era of alluring matrimonial possibilities.

Something of a sensation was created by the announcement that Senator Clark and Anna E. La Chapelle were married in Maudslayi May 25, 1901, and that they have a child now 2 years old. The information that up to this time had been withheld both from the world and from the Senator's immediate family. The events leading up to the marriage are unusually interesting. About nine years ago Senator Clark was in a Montana mining town when the miners, with their wives and families, were celebrating the Fourth of July. The young men and women were all in the best of good looks and gaily dressed, and among them was one who attracted the attention of the multi-millionaire. She represented the goddess of Liberty, and she was a French-Canadian medical practitioner who had gotten into trouble because he had not been licensed to practice. The Senator took an interest in the fact, and he helped the father and when he died extended financial assistance to the widowed mother and the children.

The girl was endowed with unusual intelligence and the very Senator sent her to seminaries in this country and colleges abroad. She has lived at Paris for some time and the little mountain girl from Butte is now said to be as polished and graceful as any girl who will shine in any circle of society.

Cabin Boy Solves Poem. "When I was a cabin boy," said an elderly sailor. "I often used to wonder, seeing birds thousands of miles away, what they were doing for fresh water when they got thirsty."

"One day a squall answered that question for me. It was a hot and glittery day in the tropics, and in the far sky overhead a black rain cloud appeared all of a sudden. Then, out of the empty space, over a hundred sea-serpents came darting from every direction. They got under the rain cloud and they waited there for about ten minutes, drinking and then they moved the rain began to fall they moved their heads back and they drank their fill."

"In the tropics where the great sea-serpents are thousands of miles away from shore, they get their water in that way. They swallow up raindrops to keep them going."—Portland Oregonian.

Lesson in Boston Anatomy. The following anecdote is being told of a youthful Bostonian who was asked by his school teacher, during a lesson in physiology, to describe the divisions and constitution of the human body.

"The body," he answered confidently, "is divided into three sections; the head, the thorax and the abdomen. The head contains the eyes, ears, nose, mouth and brain;—if any; the thorax contains the lungs and the heart; the abdomen contains the stomach and the bowels, which are five, six, seven and eight."—Harpers Weekly.

He who serves his friends is a busy man.

Lesson in Boston Anatomy. The following anecdote is being told of a youthful Bostonian who was asked by his school teacher, during a lesson in physiology, to describe the divisions and constitution of the human body.

"The body," he answered confidently, "is divided into three sections; the head, the thorax and the abdomen. The head contains the eyes, ears, nose, mouth and brain;—if any; the thorax contains the lungs and the heart; the abdomen contains the stomach and the bowels, which are five, six, seven and eight."—Harpers Weekly.

He who serves his friends is a busy man.

Lesson in Boston Anatomy. The following anecdote is being told of a youthful Bostonian who was asked by his school teacher, during a lesson in physiology, to describe the divisions and constitution of the human body.

"The body," he answered confidently, "is divided into three sections; the head, the thorax and the abdomen. The head contains the eyes, ears, nose, mouth and brain;—if any; the thorax contains the lungs and the heart; the abdomen contains the stomach and the bowels, which are five, six, seven and eight."—Harpers Weekly.

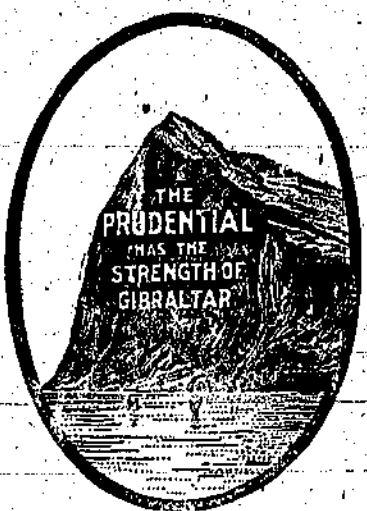

He who serves his friends is a busy man.

Lesson in Boston Anatomy. The following anecdote is being told of a youthful Bostonian who was asked by his school teacher, during a lesson in physiology, to describe the divisions and constitution of the human body.

"

Strike Now!

The success of the blacksmith lies in his skill in striking while the iron is hot. You are earning money now. Through an Endowment Policy you may strike the key-note of success.

Visit the Prudential Exhibit, Palace of Education, St. Louis.

The Prudential

Insurance Co. of America. Home Office, Newark, N. J.

JOHN F. DRYDEN, Pres't. EDGAR B. WARD, 2nd V. P.
LESLIE D. WARD, Vice-Pres't EDWARD GRAY, Sec'y.
FORREST F. DRYDEN, 3rd Vice-Pres't.

GEO. S. TRUNOER, Asst. Supt., Williamstown, N. J.

Carfare to Philadelphia

We bring Philadelphia and its best Clothing Store to your very door. This is how:

You pay excursion railroad or trolley fare. Come to our store; buy your clothes, your boy's, your girl's, your wife's. Same price to everybody. Show your railroad ticket for fare paid. We pay you exactly its cost if you buy a certain amount. How much? Can't tell—depends upon your carfare.

Wanamaker & Brown

Outfitters to Men, Women, Boys and Girls. Oak Hall, Sixth and Market Sts., Philadelphia.

Camden Safe Deposit & Trust Co.

224 Federal Street, Camden, N. J.
Statement July 1, 1904.
Assets $6,339,479.55 Capital, $100,000.00 Surplus, $460,000.00
Not including Trust Funds, which Undivided Profits $17,719.25 are kept entirely separate. Deposits $5,641,319.88

Pays Interest

3 per cent on deposits, 14 days' notice to withdraw.
2 per cent subject to check without notice, on average balances of $500 and over.

Banking by mail

can be done safely and satisfactorily. Correspondence invited.
Safe-deposit Boxes in fire and Trust Department. Acts as Exchange for valuables and bonds. Administrator, Trustee, Guarantor, Importer, Exporter, etc. Will keep without charge.

ALEXANDER C. WOOD, President.
BENJAMIN C. RICHES, Vice-President and Trust Officer.
JOSEPH LIPPINCOTT, Treasurer. PETER V. VOORHEES, Solicitor.
GEORGE S. DRING, Assistant Solicitor.

DIRECTORS: WILLIAM B. SMITH, ALEXANDER C. WOOD, JOSEPH H. CARROLL,
WILLIAM C. RAYSON, GEORGE S. DRING, EDWARD B. READ, JR.,
PETER V. VOORHEES, BENJAMIN C. RICHES, WILLIAM J. BRADLEY.

The New Jersey State Model School.

A thorough academic training school preparatory to college, business, or the drawing room.

Total Cost, including Board and Tuition, $200 per year.

For further information, address

J. M. GREEN, Principal, Trenton, New Jersey.

Philadelphia Weekly Press

and the

South Jersey Republican

(two papers each week), for $1.50 a year to any address in this county, or $1.75 outside.

Send subscriptions to this office.

The Republican.

[Entered as second class matter.]

SATURDAY, AUG. 18, 1904

Republican Nominations.

For President,
Theodore Roosevelt
of New York.

For Vice-President,
Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana.

THE STATE SENATORSHIP.

Walter E. Edge, of Atlantic City, frankly acknowledges an ambition to serve the county as State Senator for three years. In fact, he is now making a vigorous canvass among the voters with that avowed object in view.

It is conceded, everywhere, that Mr. Edge is a young man of exceptional ability, is by reputation a "clean" man, a thorough Republican, active and out-spoken, has been for several years Secretary of the Senate. We know of no sufficient reason why he should not be nominated and elected to the position he covets.

No man has an inherent right to office, in America, that is greater than that of his worthy neighbor; and we do not know that our present State Senator has so endeared himself to Atlantic County voters that no other man should aspire to the office, or be scored by any because he makes a fair and open effort to secure a nomination.

To be sure, Hammonton has a young man, in every way worthy, in the person of Hon. T. C. Elvins, our present Assemblyman, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the Senatorship, whom we should be pleased to support for the office. We know him so well, and esteem him so highly, that he would naturally be our first choice; but he has not signified to any one, so far as we know, his desire for the promotion, or a willingness to accept a nomination if tendered; and no effort is being made in his behalf.

Philadelphia papers have been devoting much space to the alleged shooting at automobiles by a resident of Elm, he stating as a grievance that his horses had been frightened by them. The Automobile Club of America has taken up the matter, sent a man here to investigate, and promises a warm time for the shooter. While all admit that the Italian (and many others) had provoked, he should have resorted to law instead of a shot-gun. What the outcome will be remains to be seen. However, Hammonton authorities do not propose to permit reckless driving.

A CARD—We wish to thank our many friends for their kindness during the election and death of our little one. Their kind expressions of sympathy are greatly appreciated.

ALBERT L. JACKSON.
LILLIAN J. JACKSON.

Lakeview GREEN-HOUSE

Central Ave., Hammonton, N. J.

Large assortment of Palms, Ferns, House Plants, Cut Flowers. Funeral Designs in Fresh Flowers, Wax, or Metal.

WATKINS & NICHOLSON, Florists and Landscape Gardeners. Phone 1-W

Adjourned Tax Sale.

All advertised properties not sold by the Tax Collector on Saturday last, will positively be sold on Saturday, August 20th, 1904, at one o'clock p. m., at the Town Council Room, Hammonton.

A. B. DAVIS, Collector.

Just the Season of the year to take pictures. Be sure to take your CAMERA with you. If you haven't one, come see our selection—$1 up. We keep complete line of Plates, Films and all Photo supplies.

We are trying to make our Optical Department better in every way,—have added an Ophthalmometer, and feel that you will appreciate it in giving us your patronage when in need of glasses.

Eye Strain causes headache, nervousness, and other ills of body and mind. This can be prevented by the use of glasses, properly fitted. Come and see if your case requires glasses. Not prescribed if not needed.

ROBT. STEEL, Watchmaker & Optician.

215 Bellevue Avenue, Hammonton

O, my Back! Ouch!

Such sharp and lasting pains!
Is there no relief?

Yes, our KIDNEY PLASTER will help you.
25 cents.

LEIB, the Chemist,

Second St. and Bellevue Ave., Hammonton.

At Eckhardt's Market will be found a full line of

Beef, Pork, Veal, and Mutton of the best quality. Our Hams, Bacon, and Smoked Sausages are surpassed by none.

PRICES RIGHT

Haverford Tires---

Regularly $6 a pair,—

While they last,
the price will be

Only $4 per pair.

Cordery of course.

City Dressed Meats

My own make of Sausage and Scrapple.

VEGETABLES - CANNED GOODS.

H. L. MCINTYRE.

ATLANTIC COUNTY ELECTRIC CO.

Meter rate, 15 cents per 1000 watts, in effect until October 1st.
5 per ct. discount on bills above $5 | 15 per ct. discount on bills above $15.
10 per ct. discount on bills above $10 | 20 per ct. discount on bills above $20.
Flat rate, 50 cents per month per 10 candle power light, provided the same is not burned on an average later than ten o'clock. All night lights, $1.25 per 10 candle power light. A minimum rate of 50 cents per month will be charged all customers. To secure cash discount, bills must be paid when presented. Collection day in Hammonton is third business day of each month.

T. T. MATHER, Superintendent.

C. E. FUGH, Sec'y and Treasurer.

The Republican.

SATURDAY, AUG. 18, 1904

Mail Time.

Mails will close at the Hammonton Post Office as follows:

DOWN	UP
7:40 A.M.	6:55 A.M.
12:20 P.M.	12:20 P.M. (through Reading 4:30)
4:00 P.M.	7:05 A.M.
6:30 A.M.	7:05 A.M.
9:40	7:05 A.M.
3:40 P.M.	7:05 A.M.
8:10	7:05 A.M.

Miss Mamie Rexford is visiting local friends.

George H. Whiffen is in town for a week or so.

Miss Etta Steelman spent most of this week here.

Wm. Doerfel is off from Bank duty, on a vacation.

GOOD ROSES for sale, about 100, in the garden of J. H. MARRILL, 23 Washington.

C. F. Osgood is enjoying himself in the State of Maine.

Miss Evelyn Gilbert is visiting friends in Hammonton.

The Shackley farm sale, on Saturday last, was declared off.

Carpenters are complaining of the scarcity of stone masons.

COW for sale. A. L. JACKSON.

L. L. Hanson has, among other contracts, seven houses to build.

Several members of A. T. Lott's family are in Atlantic City.

J. C. Johnson entertained his niece, Mrs. Conover, of Absecon.

Mrs. C. Garcelon and daughter, Mrs. Carlin, are away for two weeks.

FOR SALE—a lady's Remy car, almost new, located in the city.

The framework around Pennay's large water-tank has been torn away.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Irving are spending a week or so in Hammonton.

Dr. Cunningham officiated at five Italian birthday parties last week.

Miss Josephine Small has returned from a two weeks visit in Absecon.

LAST Sunday a young lady's gold chased ring bracelet, valued at $10, was found on the street.

Mrs. D. M. Chapman is entertaining her aunt, Miss Velt, from Philadelphia.

Miss Ernie Bourillon, of Philadelphia, is visiting her sister, Miss Elizabeth.

Jacob Wescott, of Baltimore, is visiting his brother Daniel, at Walnut Nook Farm.

FOR SALE—a seven roomed house, and stable, near the Union. Apply to M. RUBIN.

Misses Leona and Pearl Adams are in Central Pennsylvania for a three weeks' visit.

Mrs. C. F. Osgood and daughters are expected to spend next week in Atlantic City.

Mr. Matlack entertained his father, also Mrs. Matlack's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glusky.

WE HEAR WORDS of highest praise about the ice cream made at the Candy Kitchen. Special mention was made of the coffee.

Rev. H. M. Thurlow started yesterday morning for a vacation visit, to cover two Sundays.

Wilbur J. Leih, the druggist, has been quite ill but was reported improving on Wednesday.

The Borgess house, on Second Street, next to the drug store, is having a neat front porch added.

FOR SALE—the home I am living in—cor. 1st and Ocean sts. Excellent condition, with bath, gas, hot and cold water. A bargain. A. L. JACKSON, Hammonton.

M. Campanella has a flat-top on his place, laden with fruit, which is attracting much attention.

Oscar Brook people appreciate Hammonton Park's attractions. They picked them last Saturday.

Our school district has exactly ten cents remaining of last year's appropriations. Pretty close, but safe.

HOME-MADE bread—better and cheaper than you can make it. It's not like Baker's bread. It's the genuine home-made, like mother makes. Jackson's or Leonard's.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith and son will spend their vacation among the mountains near Scranton, Pa.

Some of our organizations should have a baby show in Hammonton. So large a number of good-looking youngsters would be hard to find.

Insure with the A. H. Phillips Co. Bartlett Building, Atlantic City.

Additional Mail Service.

Attention is called to the additional mail service now being given Hammonton on the Reading road, which began this week. Mail closes at the post-office as follows:

At 7:05 a. m.—For Oologee, Pleasantville, and Atlantic City.
At 4:15 p. m.—For Rosedale, Blue Anchor, Cedar Brook, Audubon, Clementon, Erial, Haddon Heights, Laurel Springs, Magnolia, Oaklyn, Sicklerville, Snow Hill, Taneboro, and West Collingswood.

Mr. Lawrence May and wife and little daughter, from Baltimore, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wescott.

If you heard any whistling, last Saturday, it was probably occasioned by the moving away of the merry-go-round.

Mrs. Chas. Kramer and child from Philadelphia, spent a fortnight at H. C. Leonard's. Mr. K. was here over Sunday.

BUILDING Lots for sale. Inquire of GEO. MERRITT, 23 Washington.

Volunteer Fire Company meets next Monday evening, at eight o'clock. Following will be a special meeting of the Relief Association.

Owing to railroad delays, the circus people did not parade yesterday morning. They pitched their tents near Stinson's glass factory.

John E. Hoyt is at home for a rest between the summer and regular sessions of Ursinus College, where he is enrolled a member of the faculty.

FOR SALE—the old Dr. North homestead on Central Ave. Inquire of Mrs. C. F. OSGOOD.

Mrs. K. Miller, Mrs. Camp's mother, and Master Wm. Mobt, her nephew, both of Union Hill, N. J., are rusticated at Camp's Empire Farm.

The power of imagination was well illustrated, the other night, by a lady who saw the words "Black Beauty" in a newspaper and immediately smelled fish.

The Board of Trade found the Council Room presented by Assessors and Council, on Tuesday evening, and graciously refused, to meet at the call of the Secretary.

FOR SALE—the new, unoccupied building site in town, at a bargain. Apply to COLWELL.

The funeral service of little Adelaide Jackson was very largely attended Sunday afternoon. Pastor Middleton's remarks were appropriate and comforting.

There is to be a camp meeting at Ateo, from Aug. 18th to 28th, with services every evening and all-day on Sundays. Good speakers and special music promised.

Fishermen and dabberboys—not to say fisherwomen,—should remember that it will cost twenty dollars to be found in possession of pits less than twelve inches long.

FOR SALE—five building lots on Maple Street, 100 feet. Inquire of H. NICOLAI.

Although little has been said in regard to the picnic to be held on Labor Day, the Red Men's committee are hustling to make it a success. Watch these columns each week.

Many improvements are being made at Central School building. The main rooms are being kalamandered in neat tints, and two rooms are being fitted up for the new courses.

Members of Council were seen measuring the new gutters, Thursday, and at a special meeting of Council, that evening, reported the contractors' measurement substantially correct.

CORNET—a fine silver plated, band or solo horn, for sale. Particulars at this office.

Postmaster Jackson proposes that Hammonton shall have every possible facility that he can secure by diligent work in that direction. Witness the new mail secured recently.

The Universalists had a good crowd at their lawn social, on Thursday night. They had a pleasing program, including the Illingworth trio, and apparently raked in quite a neat sum.

You missed it, if you did not see the youngsters when the circus arrived in town, yesterday. Some were rather large to be called "youngsters," and some most too young to appreciate the show.

FOR SALE—a fine new lot on Oak Road, cleared, and adapted for all kinds of fruit, especially peaches, apples, etc. Inquire of JACOB MERRILL, Union Road.

By special arrangement, the Baptist Sunday School picnic was favored with pleasant weather,—not quite cloudless, nor hot, but just delightful. Their ride to and from Weymouth was not too long to be enjoyable, and the participants had a happy time all day long, reaching home at a reasonable hour.

St. Mark's Sunday School set their picnic date one day too late. Wednesday—and it rained nearly all day. They arranged for Thursday in case of storm, but the elements were against them.

Dr. Fisher, from the Wills Eye Hospital, came here on Monday last, and performed a delicate operation upon one of Mrs. Henry Foye's eyes. The probabilities are that her sight will be partially restored.

Dr. Waas is at it again (or has the carpenter at it), making additions and improvements to his fine home. Fortunately, he has a very large lot, with room enough for several more annual attachments.

HOUSE and Lot for sale, on Third Street, near Fairview. Mrs. M. C. SWIFT.

As required by State law, the Board of Assessors and Town Council met in joint session, Tuesday evening, to revise and correct the assessment. Two to four nights are usually required to complete the work.

Desiring to be with his sister, who is seriously ill at his parents' home in Maryland, Rev. H. F. Loomis and wife will not be able to get to Hammonton this summer. This will be a disappointment to many here.

Two young ladies arrived in town within the past fortnight. The first of the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dilger, on Aug. 14th; the other at Mr. Dilger and Mrs. Frank Lobdell's, Aug. 18th. They are both expected to remain.

ICE CREAM at the Candy Kitchen today is—vanilla, peach, chocolate and coffee, and cherry. And here are a few of the candies—Fruit, gelatin, ice cream, vanilla, chocolate, nut, and maple caramels, fudge, and old-fashioned cream candy.

Messrs. Watkins & Nicholson are building a large addition to their greenhouse—40x50 feet in size. They have made good use of their present facilities, and will no doubt find the improvements profitable. Their new saw is fine.

Automobiles are now numbered among the most decorous vehicles that travel our streets. Drivers seemed so tired, willing to accommodate their speed to legal limitations when they were convinced that the authorities were not joking.

Postmaster Jackson has secured leave of absence, and with Mrs. J. and their sons, Ernest and Leroy, expects to start for St. Louis next Tuesday. They will go by the way of Niagara Falls, spending one day viewing that ever wonderful phenomenon.

A Presbyterian woman desires to rent for the winter of 1904-1905, two or three unfurnished second-floor rooms with a bathroom, in the interior of the town, with a perfect location, must be good. Address with name and particulars "Rooms," care Republican office.

Miss Beale Stewart, from Boston, who is to have charge of the new Commercial Course in the Hammonton High School, is a graduate of Chicago High School, Salem (Mass.) Normal School, Boston and Springfield Commercial Colleges, and studied two years at Oberlin.

The services at laying the corner stone of the Alon M. E. Church were decidedly successful, last Sunday—the day, the Red Men's committee are hustling to make it a success. Watch these columns each week.

Many improvements are being made at Central School building. The main rooms are being kalamandered in neat tints, and two rooms are being fitted up for the new courses.

Members of Council were seen measuring the new gutters, Thursday, and at a special meeting of Council, that evening, reported the contractors' measurement substantially correct.

CORNET—a fine silver plated, band or solo horn, for sale. Particulars at this office.

Postmaster Jackson proposes that Hammonton shall have every possible facility that he can secure by diligent work in that direction. Witness the new mail secured recently.

The Universalists had a good crowd at their lawn social, on Thursday night. They had a pleasing program, including the Illingworth trio, and apparently raked in quite a neat sum.

You missed it, if you did not see the youngsters when the circus arrived in town, yesterday. Some were rather large to be called "youngsters," and some most too young to appreciate the show.

FOR SALE—a fine new lot on Oak Road, cleared, and adapted for all kinds of fruit, especially peaches, apples, etc. Inquire of JACOB MERRILL, Union Road.

By special arrangement, the Baptist Sunday School picnic was favored with pleasant weather,—not quite cloudless, nor hot, but just delightful. Their ride to and from Weymouth was not too long to be enjoyable, and the participants had a happy time all day long, reaching home at a reasonable hour.

You can purchase a 10-cent bottle of .Oil, at PATTEN'S, for 5 cents.

Don't fail to call and see our

$25 BICYCLE

They are good value for the money.

A. L. PATTEN

We feel justly proud of our

Infants' Ready-made Clothing

Department. We have given a great deal of attention to this particular line of goods, and have our reward in the finest goods at the lowest prices.

Here are a few of the prices:

Infants' Long and Short Dresses, neatly trimmed, 30 cents each, up to $4.00—all prices between, and all qualities, some neatly trimmed and some very elaborately trimmed with lace and fine Swiss embroidery.

Long and Short Petticoats at same low prices. Long and Short Coats from $1 to $4, all styles. Many dainty little articles for baby's comfort, in the way of Bibs, Socks, Shoes, Saques, etc. Give us a call when you are shopping for the baby.

W. L. BLACK.

GAS STOVES At Little's Store.

call at the store and see these up-to-date stove in actual operation. Gas is to be the popular and most convenient fuel for cooking.

Ranges, with two ovens, and several other varieties. Prices to correspond with style.

H. McD. LITTLE

Cor. Bellevue and

