A Disgrace to Hammonton's Fair Name.

MR. EDITOR:

I have only been a resident in this fair borough three weeks, and have already suffered from the miserable mania or dastardly wickedness of the dog poisoner. I had hardly entered into possession of my home on Central Avenue ere some immediate neighbors warned me in a kind spirit of the early certain destruction of our dogs, no matter whether they were offensive or quite inoffensive. I scouted the warning, deeming it impossible that there could be a human being capable of systematic and indiscriminate destruction of man's faithful friend, but alas! I have to recognize that there is a community wherein such diabolical conduct is permitted to exist. Last week, a valuable coach dog, after an absence of only a few minutes, returned to the house to die within a brief half-hour. As I am determined to bring the wicked perpetrator of this description of terrorism to account, I invite all persons who have lost dogs by poisoning, in the neighborhood of Central Avenue, during the last three years, to communicate with me. I will leave no stone unturned to put an end to this diabolical and defaming outrage. I may say that in the several cases I have heard of, the circumstances all point unmistakably to the same hand. J. A. BURGAN, P. O. Box 21.

The ladies have taken this space by the year, and are responsible for all that it may contain.

The New Voice says: "It is not out of order to suggest to the reading public that hereafter all that the daily papers may have to say upon the saloon's side of the liquor question, as well as the material appearing in the weeklies and magazines, may be justly open to suspicion. The newly reorganized Protective Association seems to be already in operation, and one of the leading features of its work in other years was the preparation of misleading matter and its publication in the columns of the general press. It might be a good thing for the temperance people to teach the newspapers that they can't sell their columns to the liquor interests and sell their paper to the temperance people at the same time." PRESS SUIT.

THEY DON'T LIKE RAN-O-LIN

Editor Stackhouse, of the "Burlington County Democrat," says:

"I have used Ran-o-Lin, and for the first summer in many years I get a good night's rest every night, without being disturbed. It is a good thing."

Captain John Emery, of Philadelphia, driving through to Atlantic City, said:

"I wouldn't have been without that bottle of Ran-o-Lin for $100. The mosquitoes swarmed about us, but would not touch us after using Ran-o-Lin."

SATURDAY, AUG. 16, 1902.

For Congressmen,
Hon. John J. Gardner.

Town Council Meeting.

Special meeting on Saturday evening, Aug. 9th. All present. The Water Commissioners tendered their bonds.—Messrs. Wm. Bernhouse and J. L. O'Donnell signed by the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company, of Baltimore, (W. R. Tilton, agent), and Mr. J. E. Wadsworth, by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Passmore and George Nicholson, for $3,000 in each case. On motion, bonds accepted. A communication read from Engineer Hutton, which tabulated contracts awarded and necessary expenditures to complete water plant, stating that the $30,000 appropriated, with the $1,104 premium on bond, would leave a deficiency of $2,597.60. The Commissioners favor completing the work as planned; are not in favor of shortening the distribution system, unless so instructed by the voters. Council were in doubt as to their authority to provide the money required, and referred the matter to Solicitor Chandler.

M. D'Astasio's liquor license was transferred to James W. Edwards.

Bills ordered paid:

Repairs to Park Hall..... $13.07

The following were ordered paid, the Water Commissioners to refund the amounts when their money becomes available:

Another Fatality.

Benjamin Meserole, a well-known resident at Rosedale, was instantly killed on Saturday last, at the Winslow brick works. As near as can be ascertained from eye-witnesses, Ben and a colored man were unloading a car of coal, when another car was shifted onto the same siding. For some unknown reason, Ben got down from the car where he was working, onto the track, directly in front of the moving car; and though several men by shouting warning, he seemed dazed, and in a moment was struck and mangled in an indescribable manner. Undertaker Franch was summoned from Hammoncton and took charge of the body, and funeral services were held on Monday. Mr. Meserole was a steady, reliable Christian man. His wife (a daughter of Mrs. John Lawrence) died about five years ago, and two children are thus left orphans,—a daughter fourteen years old, and a son about eleven.

Perhaps it would be as well if women and children dived themselves the pleasure of a bath in the Lake, unless a few good swimmers are within reach. On Tuesday, two of our popular young ladies, Misses Cora and Beale Heard, found themselves unexpectedly in deep water, and were rescued with difficulty by Edward Scull and Charles Rice, who happened near.

A merry party of twenty Hammonctonians took a yachting trip on the ocean, off Atlantic City, on Thursday, in honor of the birthday of Miss Nettie Monfort. They were Capt. Charles A. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Cunningham, Wm. Cunningham and wife, Albert L. Jackson and wife, Kirk Spear and wife, Howard Monfort and wife, Mrs. L. B. Jonlin, Misses Nina, Nora, and Nettie Monfort, Misses Mary and Mina Conkey, Miss Katharine Garton, Messrs. Will. O. Jones and George A. Elvine. A finer day could not have been chosen for the trip. After their dinner, eight miles off the city, they took to fishing, many big fellows being caught. The last haul was never landed, for (they declare) it was a devil-fish, and he not only devoured their bait, but joyously tangled up the lines. All came home happy, late in the evening, laden with samples of their skill.

If a Man Lie to You, And say some other name, ohment, fiction, all or alleged leader in as good as Huddell's Amos & Sons, tell him thirty yards of marvelous ocean of pills, buns, bolls, corns, felons, ulcers, cuts, scuffs, blisters and skin eruptions, prove it's the best and cheapest. 25 cents at Rogers' drug store.

It has been rumored that a party had bought the Fay property, intending to build a fine hotel, and apply for license. The Chairman of the License Committee states that he was consulted by a party on the subject, but told him that Council does not wish to grant any more licenses near the centre of town; and the man did not even bid on the property.

Prentiss Myrick, aged about fourteen years, and his sister Elizabeth, two years younger, returned last week from Massachusetts. It was no small thing to accomplish that trip, unaided, with transfers through two large cities.

Base-Ball News.

The South Philadelphians ought to have been easy meat for our boys, last Saturday; but Hammononton certainly gave a fine exhibition of how not to play base-ball. As a consequence, the visitors went home with a victory; score, 3 to 6.

The official score scarcely gives a comprehensive account of the game. The eleven hits credited to the Philas, 5 in the eighth inning, and 4 in the third, would give an idea of a terrific slugging match, but such was not the case. To be sure, the visitors did connect pretty easily and often, and the ball had such a funny habit of landing in the most unexpected and unprotected places; but if our boys had occasionally stirred themselves a little more, the score should have been kept down. Indeed, some of the "hits" scored, we think, should have been credited to "errors." Then the errors made by our home team were costly ones, and made just at the opportune moment—for the other fellows.

McGarigle, the new man at short, failed to show up in good form, and disappointed his would-be admirers.

Scull, in left field, appeared a pretty sure man on flies, and accepted four chances, but dropped P. Curran's lift in the eighth.

Didden, of the visiting nine, made some pretty assists, and Parlett accepted nine out of eleven chances.

The S. P. started the run-getting in the third. B. Curran hit to centre, reached second on an error, moved up on Didden's drive to right, and tallied on Parlett's push to short. Diddle moved up on McGarigle's fumble and Sheppard's hit to centre, and counted on resulting errors. Graham came in on Fetter's drop to centre.

In the next inning matters looked hopeful for the locals when Jefferson hit to centre the first ball pitched, Herbert hit his second to left, and Angelow sacrificed; but Scull struck out and McGarigle died on first.

In the sixth we made our first runs. Harrar reached first on Graham's miff, and moved up on Jefferson's pretty bunt to third. McChinsky attempted a double play on Herbert's push, but Parlett fumbled, and all moved up. Harrar scored on Angelow's sacrifice, and Jefferson on Graham's error. Herbert was caught at home, and Naylor fouled out. Setley tied the score in the seventh, sending thro' Didden, reaching second on an overthrow, moving up on Harrar's push, and counting on an error by Parlett.

It was in the eighth, though, that the nightmare came, and when we awoke from the combination of misplays and slugging, it was to find that three more runs had been scored by the visitors. The only wonder is that the four hits and three or four errors in that inning didn't result in a larger score. In next inning, however, we put them out in one, two three order.

Get together, boys! That was only an off-day for some of you. Let us show May's Landing, to-day, what we can do.

Misses Edna Grant, Amy Joslyn, Blanche Wetherbee, Clara Walther, Lillian French, Bessie Beard, Bessie Colwell, Cora Burgess, Florence French, Lina Burgess, Edith Hoffman, Lizzie Harley, Reba Harley.
Messrs. Ernest and Leroy Jackson, Charles and William Phillips, Clarence Whitmore, Milton Waas, Chas. Wilson, Edw. Scott, Norris Hurley, Llewellyn Jones, Frank Wetherbee, John Walther, Goldborough, Alcorn, and Halvor Harley.

Still we have plenty of rain,—with almost daily showers, with electrical accompaniments. Sunday's storm was exceedingly violent to the north and west of us, amounting to "cloud-bursts" in some places. The dam at Kirkwood (Lakeside Park) burst, and flooded everything below it, washing out quite a section of the W. J. & S. Railroad bed. There were washouts at other points on this and the Reading Road, delaying trains that night. Passengers who took the five o'clock train at Hammononton reached Philadelphia about one o'clock Monday morning.

J. Harry Lockerby was brought before a special session of Court, on Tuesday, and plead guilty to charges of assault and battery. Owing to evidence produced as to his previous good character, Judge Endicott was lenient and sentenced him to six months in the county jail.
