Some time ago, by request, addressed your Town Council o the subject of a trolley ; but you people did not respond. We must keep up the agitation. If people all along the line would hold public meetings they would be doing something. I have travelled some this year, and find that they have trolleys tunning all over the New Hampsbire hills. We can build eight or ten miles of road in South Jersey for what one mile cost in New Hampshire.

If the trolley was extended from Best lot of Peach trees in Jersey Haddoufield to Hammouton, we could guarantee them 25,000 passengers; farmers would send their truck by trolley, and be able to stay at home more, and keep their would also bring down railroad fares, and your town would boom, for people could live there while working in the city.
