

Watch next issue for
List of School Pupils.
Also something else
Of interest to all.

South Jersey Republican

Three cents per copy.

HOYT & SON, Publishers and Printers.

One twenty-five per cent.

You'll find it here,—
Bd. of Health notice,
Tax Sale, and Bids for Transporting Pupils.

Vol. 54

HAMMONTON, N. J., SATURDAY, AUGUST 26, 1916

No. 35

HEALTH NOTICE.

Friday morning. On Monday morning last, an inspector liberated the last of the diphtheria cases from quarantine.

The same afternoon, Dr. Cunningham, after consultation with Doctors Burt and Bitler, reported a case of Infantile Paralysis on North Second Street. The patient is Charles Lyons, four years old. Second Street, from Pratt Street to Fairview, was at once put under strict quarantine. We are pleased to report the boy improving, and no new cases have developed, up to date.

The Board has discontinued the issuing health certificates to any one, unless they are leaving town for good; so please do not ask our inspector for one.

We wish to emphasize the necessity for absolute cleanliness, the omission of all excesses in eating, drinking or pleasure-seeking. Joy riding should be stopped; avoid eating sweet pastries, candies, and like articles. Keep tranquil mind, and don't spread alarming tales that you cannot verify. We will have a man on duty Saturday and Sunday, to keep all New York cars moving, and no children will be allowed to leave an outside car. Typhoid cases are all well.

We are fortunate in having such a clean bill of health.

By order of
BOARD OF HEALTH.

Miss Anna M. Walther is at her post in the post-office, after two weeks spent at East Orange and elsewhere.

Auto fines collected by Justice Strouse amounted to $140 in June; in July, $50; in August, up to the 24th, $100.

The fire-bell rang at five o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The trouble was at John Ordile's, at Thirteenth Street and First Road; but it was not serious, as the firemen were turned back before they reached the scene.

The following were present at a jolly watermelon party, Thursday evening, 17th inst., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Parker: Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lamar, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parsells, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ott, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kline, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Mason, Miss Lulu Mason, Mrs. Carrie Key, Mrs. Annie Friedlich, Mr. Gideon Collins, Mr. Fred. Penton, Miss M. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Littlefield, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Doughty, Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Jackson, Mrs. W. F. Krimmel.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Children of sixteen years and under will not be allowed to attend public worship,—by order of the Board of Health.

Sunday Schools will be omitted.

Sunday and week-night services.

Hammonton Baptist Church.
10.15 a.m., Prayer circle.
10.30, Morning worship.
Preaching by W. H. Swallow.
Theme, "Is Yours the Fast-Clad Door?"

6.45 p.m., Y. P. S. C. E. prayer and testimony service. Theme, "Carelessness vs Thoughtfulness." Led by N. C. Holdridge.

7.45, favorite songs of the great revivals, conducted by E. A. Standstreet, and Choir.

Thursday evening, 7.45, prayer and praise service.

Christian Science services will be held on Sunday evening, at 7.30, at the Civic Club Hall.

The public is cordially invited.

St. Mark's Church.
Tenth Sunday after Trinity.
Morning Prayer and Holy Communion, 7.00; Morning Prayer and Litany, 10.30; Evening Prayer at 7.30.

Presbyterian Church.
10.30, Morning worship.
Mr. Farrar will preach.
Theme, "The discipline of the unexpected."

Christian Endeavor service from 7.00 to 8.00 p.m.

Prayer Meeting, Thursday, at 2.45 p.m.

Miss Ida Jenison is away for a fortnight's vacation.

G. F. Lenz is limping around with a sprained ankle.

Miss May F. Hoyt has returned from a two weeks visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith were in town part of this week.

Ernest Piez has come on from Indianapolis, Ind., for a visit.

Miss Amy Elizabeth Hoyt is a welcome visitor at her grandpop's.

Thimble Bee will be held at the Civic Club house next Thursday afternoon, three o'clock.

Miss Bertha McCrea has returned—having had a profitable "vacation" at Chautauqua, N. Y.

The Misses Sophie and Marie Rufenacht have gone to Niagara Falls for a week's vacation.

Co-operating with the health authorities, there will be no free band concert to-day, at the Park.

The Royal Electric Company is wiring the Universalist and Methodist churches for improved lights.

Town Council Meeting.

An important meeting of Council was held on Wednesday eve; and all were present except Mr. Pizzi.

Highway Committee had interviewed Mr. Baulig in regard to his request that Town lay a gutter on Washington Street. Clerk was instructed to notify him that Town cannot comply at this time.

Finance Committee recommended that the Canoe Club be leased ground and granted permission to erect house at left of Park, for a term of fifteen years, at one dollar per year in advance. A resolution to that effect was adopted.

A lengthy resolution was adopted approving plans and specifications for the permanent paving of Bellevue Ave. from Third Street to Main Road, outlining procedure, advertising for bids, etc. This was signed, the Town's seal affixed, and Engineer Remington took a copy to Trenton on Thursday, for the sanction of State Road Commissioner Stevens. From there it will go to County Freeholders, and advertisement for bids published in the Republican, Star, Atlantic City Daily Press, and the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Three committees—Sewer, Fire Water and Light, and Highways,—will endeavor to have all excavations for sewerage, gas, water, and telephone tubes, completed before new paving is begun.

Highway Committee will repair dangerous portions of Grape Street and Valley Avenue.

Bills ordered paid totalled as follows:

Town Purposes	$170.07
Highways	310.55
Sewerage	7.50
Board of Health	212.37
Park	7.04
Drainage	10.50

Voted, that an adjourned meeting be held next Wednesday eve.

Collector's receipts for taxes, for the month, were $3801.57.

Board of Health recommended the flushing of Bellevue at least once each week during balance of Summer.

Civic Club suggested that street signs be erected or repaired,—now that free mail delivery is assured.

A petition from residents on and near Woodman Avenue asked that the street be gravelled.

Mr. Osterman, through attorney, asked damages for his automobile, which was broken by running into a gutter on Fairview Avenue near Fourth St. Referred.

Frank Jacobs asked for transfer of his license, at Fairview Inn, to August Stravel. Referred to the License Committee.

Damages to the amount of $200 were assessed by Messrs. Hirst and White, for fifty fowls belonging to H. O. Packard, which were killed by dogs Aug. 5th. Referred to Finance Committee.

The petition of the Delaware & Atlantic Telephone Company was read, and questions asked were ably explained by their representative, Mr. Avla. There being no objection to the proposed "burying of wires," an ordinance passed first reading, granting the use of streets as specified in petition.

BANK BROS.

Those Reduced Suits for Men and Young Men are selling faster than we expected. If they continue to sell as fast, this sale will end shortly. Make sure that you get your garment while they last, as most of the suits can be worn next Fall.

If you cannot be fitted with the reduced garments, we are sure to fit you from our regular stock. The prices are from three to seven dollars less than the present market offers for similar quality.

Men's and young men's $10 Suits reduced to $7.50

Men's and young men's $16.50 and $15 Suits reduced to $12.50

Men's and young men's $20 Suits reduced to $15

Men's and young men's $22.50 and $20 Suits reduced to $18

Men's and young men's $15 and $12.50 Suits at $10; Dixie weave and silk mohair

Young men's $15 Suits at $10, pinch-back

Men's $6.50 and $7 Palm Beach Suits are reduced to $5

Furnishings

Men's Sport Shirts reduced to 39 cents

$1 Sport Shirts reduced to 75 cents

$1, $1.25 and $1.50 Dress Shirts reduced to 75 cents; sizes 14, 15½ and 16

$3 Silk Shirts reduced to $2

Fine Balbriggan Underwear reduced to three for $1; long or short sleeve shirts and ankle length drawers

Pajamas and Night Shirts

A complete line for men and boys

Men's Night Shirts at 50¢, 75¢ and $1; with or without collar, well made, roomy

Men's Pajamas at $1 and $1.50; plain white and striped

Boys' Pajamas at 50 cents and $1; white and striped material

Boys' Night Shirts at 50 cents; well made of good material, and roomy

BANK BROTHERS' STORE

Bellevue Avenue

Hammonton, N. J.

The Peoples Bank

OF
Hammonton, N. J.

Capital, . . . $50,000
Surplus and Undivided Profits, $69,000

Three per cent interest paid on time deposits

Two per cent interest allowed on demand accounts having daily balance of $1000 or more.

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent

M. L. Jackson, President.
W. J. Smith, Vice Pres't
W. R. Tilton, Cashier
Wm. Doerfel, Asst. Cashier

M. L. Jackson, J. A. Wynn,
C. E. Osgood, George Elvins
Wm. J. Smith, J. C. Anderson
Sam'l Anderson, W. R. Tilton
Wm. L. Black.

D. N. HURLEY

Express, Hauling and Moving

Local Phone 867

Second and Vine Sts.

Hammonton, N. J.

D. J. SAXTON & CO.

(Formerly of Hammonton)

Paperhanging, Painting, and Graining

Estimates furnished.

Lock Box 63, Hammonton, N. J.

Charles Davenport Contractor & Builder

Estimates furnished on all kinds of work.
All work given prompt and careful attention.
Local phone. Peach St. Hammonton

Seasonable Items

at Elvins' Store

Arsenate of Lead

Hose for Spraying

Nozzle and Sprayer Fixtures

Sulphur

Blue Stone

Paris Green

Field Spray Pumps

Plows, Harrows, Cultivators

Small Garden Tools

Bills Receipted While You Wait.

HOYT & SON,
Printers and Publishers

PULPIT TOPICS

APOSTOLIC POWER.

"Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John... they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus." Acts 1:13.

It was a dramatic scene that morning in Jerusalem when two rude fishermen of Galilee, fronted, fearless men, the assembled power and culture of the Jewish capital. In appearance, manner and vocabulary they seemed utterances and ignorant men, but in attitude, expression and argument they were masters of the situation. It took some courage and confidence for two poor peasants to overawe the chief priests, foremost scholars and religious rulers of the Jews. This unexpected boldness and ability made all the hearers marvel until they learned the explanation, satisfactory to them as it was to the Apostles. "They had been with Jesus." It was no longer strange that they did not fear the biased crowd that they destroyed there, these were no mere Galilean peasants, but men, great men. Their words and deeds and names are honored and cherished by millions to this day. While the judges are either forgotten or exalted. They performed a miracle, preached a sermon and made a defense that stunned Jerusalem from end to end. They rose above the rulers of their race and religion as giants. They voiced immortal truth in less phrase and power than the mighty power of God to transform the lives and souls of men. They were so dominant and brave that no other reason but that "they had been with Jesus."

They were among the very first of the Apostles chosen. They belonged to the mystic circle of the inner Three. They saw Him raise the daughter of Jairus from the couch of death. They knew the words of the mount as He with radiant form and transfigured face counseled in spirit with Moses and Elias. They saw the side of Him as He revealed the solemn mysteries of the sacred sacrifice that symbolized the sacrifice divine. They followed Him through the garden, and they witnessed most intimately the sufferings of His soul which were the soul of His sufferings. They alone of the Apostles followed Him to the high priest's house and beheld His humiliation by the rulers of Israel. They saw the shame and agony at Golgotha and beheld His entombment. They were the first of the Apostles to see the empty sepulchre and to realize the wonder and the glory of the resurrection. It was Peter, the spokesman of the Apostles, who first of all the Apostles saw his risen Lord and received the last command, just before His ascension.

So these two men had indeed "been with Jesus." Their boldness, confidence and power were accounted for. A great moral, moral and spiritual transformation had been wrought in them. These men were no longer the simple, uneducated fishermen of Galilee, but men of power, men of vision, men of faith.

There is no better proof of the divine origin of Christianity than the change in the lives and characters of the Apostles. Emerson has said that every great institution is the least shadow of some great man. The personal influence of Christ wrought the amazing metamorphosis that turned these untaught fellows of the sea into eloquent and fearless orators who stirred the minds of men. He lived in them, spoke through them and worked by them. Simon the variable had become Peter the rock, steadfast and strong. John, the disciple of love and gentleness, had become the "Son of Thunder," mighty in his eloquence. For they knew no longer, for they were now Christ-men.

Peter and John were great, brave, also men, not in their own strength, but in the spirit of Christ, their Lord. Their Master and their God. Without Him they would have remained obscure, unknown, unimportant. But given with the heedless multitude of their indifferent generation, their names would have passed into eternal oblivion, faded and forgotten. But they were not forgotten. They were remembered, and their influence for good and evil is still being felt.

"Let us therefore fear that we may have come short of it." (1 Cor. 15:10). The faculty of reflection, of careful thought and consideration, seems to be almost absent in the present generation. It is a great lack of many ways, but more especially in the way of the church. The greatest church in Christendom is named for one, and the cathedral dedicated to the greatest in the Western world is named for the other. Peter and John, of inspiration their lives have been the greatest in the Western world. Peter and John, of inspiration their lives have been the greatest in the Western world.

"The finest garment a woman can wear is her mind." In the modern world, the mind is the most important thing. It is the mind that makes a man a man, and it is the mind that makes a woman a woman. It is the mind that makes a man a man, and it is the mind that makes a woman a woman.

Young Lady: You are the first to tell me so. Me: Then allow me to claim my power as an astronomer. Young Lady: What do you mean? Me: That to give my name to the world with Christ in God, and His Holy Spirit.

EPWORTH LEAGUE TOPIC

For August 27, 1916.

EVIL COMPANY DOTY'S CORRUPT GOOD MANNERS.

1 Cor. 15: 33.

"Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful." (Psalm 1: 1).

"He that walketh with wise men shall be wise; but a companion of fools shall be destroyed." (Prov. 13: 20).

"Be not unequally yoked with unbelievers: for what fellowship have righteousness and iniquity? or what communion hath light with darkness? and what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what portion hath a believer with an unbeliever? And what agreement hath a temple of God with idols? for we are a temple of the living God; as God saith, I will dwell in them, and walk in them, and will be their God, and they shall be my people." (2 Cor. 6: 14-16).

"Can a man touch pitch, and not be defiled? Man is very like the chameleon. He takes his color from his surroundings to a very large extent. If he makes companions of coarse or vile or mean characters his own character will deteriorate in spite of any efforts he may make to hold himself up to a higher standard. He wants to become more refined or more noble or more Christlike he must seek the company of those who excel him in these qualities.

There is one way, only one, in which a man can associate with all sorts of people freely, not only without danger to his own character, but even with positive advantage to it. And that is Christ's way. He is not afraid of defilement in any company, because wherever He goes He goes as the representative of God, and instead of adopting in any degree the morals or manners of the company in which He found Himself, He acted always and everywhere as the judge and censor of morals.

Of course, it would not do for us to assume such authority over others, but every man has a right to maintain the integrity of his own character at all times, and no man should ever where his right to do so would not be recognized, except in the discharge of duty or under pressure of necessity, and in such cases he should stand by his guns and take the consequences. The theory that "when at Rome one must do as the Romans do" is no rule for the conduct of a Christian, and if followed, it will be likely to lead the Christian very far from the path marked out by the footsteps of His Master.

"Ye are the light of the world," Jesus said. "Let your light shine." The man who adopts the tone of his surroundings is not letting his light shine. He is rather, increasing the darkness by making himself a part of it. "If the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness." (See Matt. 6: 18; 23: 13).

Therefore, seek the company of the good and wise for thine own profit, and when mingling with those who are not wise or not good strive to help them by setting them a good example.

INKS ANCIENT AND MODERN.

The invention of ink must have preceded the use of letters, but as to the origin of both we are completely ignorant. According to the Chinese, naturalist, Pliny, and other authors, the basis of the ink used by ancient writers was formed of lamp-black, and the black ink used by modern writers is made of lamp-black and soot from the furnaces and baths.

Sumo have also supposed that the black liquid which is used by the Chinese was frequently employed. One thing is certain that whatever were the component ingredients, from the black ink used by the Chinese, and the black ink used by modern writers, the black ink used by modern writers is made of lamp-black and soot from the furnaces and baths.

The writer of this article writes to give "earnest heed" to the message from the black ink used by modern writers, and the black ink used by modern writers is made of lamp-black and soot from the furnaces and baths.

"The ink of the pen is mightier than the sword." This is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb. It is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb.

"The ink of the pen is mightier than the sword." This is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb. It is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb.

"The ink of the pen is mightier than the sword." This is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb. It is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb.

"The ink of the pen is mightier than the sword." This is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb. It is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb.

"The ink of the pen is mightier than the sword." This is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb. It is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb.

"The ink of the pen is mightier than the sword." This is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb. It is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb.

"The ink of the pen is mightier than the sword." This is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb. It is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb.

"The ink of the pen is mightier than the sword." This is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb. It is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb.

"The ink of the pen is mightier than the sword." This is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb. It is a very old proverb, and it is a very old proverb.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

For August 27, 1916.

JOURNEYING TO JERUSALEM.

Acts 20: 16-38.

Golden Text: I commend you to God, and to the word of His grace, Acts 20: 32.

Two parties are brought before us in this lesson—Paul and the church at Ephesus.

It seems probable that Paul had spent more time in Ephesus than in any other city, for it was here that he was kept at Caesarea for a long time, and then at Rome for a long time. Partly because of his long and arduous efforts to build up the church at Ephesus, and partly because of the efforts he had been so successful and had a very special love for it.

The proof of his spiritual growth appears in Paul's letter to the Ephesian church. "It is a trait which can be traced back as far as history extends. The Greeks called the outside world barbarians; the Romans scoffed at the Greeks, and the Egyptians regarded the Jews as a people less than slaves. In our days, the contempt we exhibit for Oriental nations is mild compared with their contempt for us. The Turks are but little behind the Chinese in this respect, their ordinary designations of a Christian being a dog."

When the first Dutch ambassador was sent to the Porte, he visited the sultan.

"What does the dog want?" asked the sultan.

This was translated in a speech full of Oriental compliments, and the ambassador replied in the same strain.

"Let the dog feed," answered the sultan, "and when the dog is fed, kick the dog out."

The ambassador was delighted with the sultan's compliments. The sultan said that he had never seen a dog so well fed as the ambassador.

"What does the dog want?" asked the sultan.

"I have this against thee, that thou dost leave thy first love." Leaving the first love, is probably the universal experience of those who are very enthusiastic in their first consecration to the service of Christ. It is a human nature to cool down after an experience of fervor.

The most ardent lover loses after a time the intensity of feeling which causes him to feel as if his love was the whole of his life. This change to a calmer condition is in most cases inevitable, and is not necessarily harmful, but it is a dangerous thing if it is a test of character. It tests the quality of the love.

In a shallow nature the most passionate love is the coldest, and the most ardent lover loses after a time the intensity of feeling which causes him to feel as if his love was the whole of his life.

He sat in the millionaire's study, and twined his mustache and his walking stick alternately. Obviously he was a man of leisure, and the ambassador looked in his eyes one could guess that his suffering was located around the heart.

"I love your daughter!" he said. "I have nothing to offer her—neither money nor position. I know that my debts are heavy, and that my chances of success in life are small. Yet, so deep is my love, so ardent my affection, that I would disregard those worldly trifles, and dare to aspire to win her little hand."

"So? But to which of my daughters do you refer?" "Oh, sir," cried the astonished sultan, "that matter entirely in your hands!"

He had worked for the farmer nine years, and was apparently contented with his employer's odd-pottery. He had to write on each egg, with an indelible pencil, the date and the name of the hen that laid the egg. One day he was sent up to his employer and announced:

"I'm going to leave." "Why are you going to leave?" he was asked. "After working for me all these years?"

"This place, now, I'll starve before I'll go on being secretary to your old hen!"

"Why, those apples are dirty," complained the young householder. "Well, yes, they are," admitted the farmer. "For you see they are windfalls, and that in you I can sell them for cheap."

"You mean they've fallen from the trees on to the ground, but they are otherwise all right?" the customer inquired. Then, proud of his ready understanding, he bought them.

Several days later she called the farmer to her kitchen door. "I ordered the best cucumbers for pickling," she said sharply, "and you've sent me windfalls!"

"Windfall what?" "You mean, 'What do you think I can't?'" "Then, I don't want them!" Youthful Companion.

John (to his grayer) You seem nervous, Mr. Brown.

The inspector of weights and measures has just been in. John: Ha, ha. He caught you giving fifteen ounces to the pound, did he?

Brown: Worth nothing. He said I'd been giving fourteen.

The optimist enjoys the fruit and the pessimist alights on the peel.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

For August 27, 1916.

JOURNEYING TO JERUSALEM.

Acts 20: 16-38.

Golden Text: I commend you to God, and to the word of His grace, Acts 20: 32.

Two parties are brought before us in this lesson—Paul and the church at Ephesus.

It seems probable that Paul had spent more time in Ephesus than in any other city, for it was here that he was kept at Caesarea for a long time, and then at Rome for a long time. Partly because of his long and arduous efforts to build up the church at Ephesus, and partly because of the efforts he had been so successful and had a very special love for it.

The proof of his spiritual growth appears in Paul's letter to the Ephesian church. "It is a trait which can be traced back as far as history extends. The Greeks called the outside world barbarians; the Romans scoffed at the Greeks, and the Egyptians regarded the Jews as a people less than slaves. In our days, the contempt we exhibit for Oriental nations is mild compared with their contempt for us. The Turks are but little behind the Chinese in this respect, their ordinary designations of a Christian being a dog."

When the first Dutch ambassador was sent to the Porte, he visited the sultan.

"What does the dog want?" asked the sultan.

This was translated in a speech full of Oriental compliments, and the ambassador replied in the same strain.

"Let the dog feed," answered the sultan, "and when the dog is fed, kick the dog out."

The ambassador was delighted with the sultan's compliments. The sultan said that he had never seen a dog so well fed as the ambassador.

"What does the dog want?" asked the sultan.

"I have this against thee, that thou dost leave thy first love." Leaving the first love, is probably the universal experience of those who are very enthusiastic in their first consecration to the service of Christ. It is a human nature to cool down after an experience of fervor.

The most ardent lover loses after a time the intensity of feeling which causes him to feel as if his love was the whole of his life. This change to a calmer condition is in most cases inevitable, and is not necessarily harmful, but it is a dangerous thing if it is a test of character. It tests the quality of the love.

In a shallow nature the most passionate love is the coldest, and the most ardent lover loses after a time the intensity of feeling which causes him to feel as if his love was the whole of his life.

He sat in the millionaire's study, and twined his mustache and his walking stick alternately. Obviously he was a man of leisure, and the ambassador looked in his eyes one could guess that his suffering was located around the heart.

"I love your daughter!" he said. "I have nothing to offer her—neither money nor position. I know that my debts are heavy, and that my chances of success in life are small. Yet, so deep is my love, so ardent my affection, that I would disregard those worldly trifles, and dare to aspire to win her little hand."

"So? But to which of my daughters do you refer?" "Oh, sir," cried the astonished sultan, "that matter entirely in your hands!"

He had worked for the farmer nine years, and was apparently contented with his employer's odd-pottery. He had to write on each egg, with an indelible pencil, the date and the name of the hen that laid the egg. One day he was sent up to his employer and announced:

"I'm going to leave." "Why are you going to leave?" he was asked. "After working for me all these years?"

"This place, now, I'll starve before I'll go on being secretary to your old hen!"

"Why, those apples are dirty," complained the young householder. "Well, yes, they are," admitted the farmer. "For you see they are windfalls, and that in you I can sell them for cheap."

"You mean they've fallen from the trees on to the ground, but they are otherwise all right?" the customer inquired. Then, proud of his ready understanding, he bought them.

Several days later she called the farmer to her kitchen door. "I ordered the best cucumbers for pickling," she said sharply, "and you've sent me windfalls!"

"Windfall what?" "You mean, 'What do you think I can't?'" "Then, I don't want them!" Youthful Companion.

John (to his grayer) You seem nervous, Mr. Brown.

The inspector of weights and measures has just been in. John: Ha, ha. He caught you giving fifteen ounces to the pound, did he?

Brown: Worth nothing. He said I'd been giving fourteen.

The optimist enjoys the fruit and the pessimist alights on the peel.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

For August 27, 1916.

JOURNEYING TO JERUSALEM.

Acts 20: 16-38.

Golden Text: I commend you to God, and to the word of His grace, Acts 20: 32.

Two parties are brought before us in this lesson—Paul and the church at Ephesus.

It seems probable that Paul had spent more time in Ephesus than in any other city, for it was here that he was kept at Caesarea for a long time, and then at Rome for a long time. Partly because of his long and arduous efforts to build up the church at Ephesus, and partly because of the efforts he had been so successful and had a very special love for it.

The proof of his spiritual growth appears in Paul's letter to the Ephesian church. "It is a trait which can be traced back as far as history extends. The Greeks called the outside world barbarians; the Romans scoffed at the Greeks, and the Egyptians regarded the Jews as a people less than slaves. In our days, the contempt we exhibit for Oriental nations is mild compared with their contempt for us. The Turks are but little behind the Chinese in this respect, their ordinary designations of a Christian being a dog."

When the first Dutch ambassador was sent to the Porte, he visited the sultan.

"What does the dog want?" asked the sultan.

This was translated in a speech full of Oriental compliments, and the ambassador replied in the same strain.

"Let the dog feed," answered the sultan, "and when the dog is fed, kick the dog out."

The ambassador was delighted with the sultan's compliments. The sultan said that he had never seen a dog so well fed as the ambassador.

"What does the dog want?" asked the sultan.

"I have this against thee, that thou dost leave thy first love." Leaving the first love, is probably the universal experience of those who are very enthusiastic in their first consecration to the service of Christ. It is a human nature to cool down after an experience of fervor.

The most ardent lover loses after a time the intensity of feeling which causes him to feel as if his love was the whole of his life. This change to a calmer condition is in most cases inevitable, and is not necessarily harmful, but it is a dangerous thing if it is a test of character. It tests the quality of the love.

In a shallow nature the most passionate love is the coldest, and the most ardent lover loses after a time the intensity of feeling which causes him to feel as if his love was the whole of his life.

He sat in the millionaire's study, and twined his mustache and his walking stick alternately. Obviously he was a man of leisure, and the ambassador looked in his eyes one could guess that his suffering was located around the heart.

"I love your daughter!" he said. "I have nothing to offer her—neither money nor position. I know that my debts are heavy, and that my chances of success in life are small. Yet, so deep is my love, so ardent my affection, that I would disregard those worldly trifles, and dare to aspire to win her little hand."

"So? But to which of my daughters do you refer?" "Oh, sir," cried the astonished sultan, "that matter entirely in your hands!"

He had worked for the farmer nine years, and was apparently contented with his employer's odd-pottery. He had to write on each egg, with an indelible pencil, the date and the name of the hen that laid the egg. One day he was sent up to his employer and announced:

"I'm going to leave." "Why are you going to leave?" he was asked. "After working for me all these years?"

"This place, now, I'll starve before I'll go on being secretary to your old hen!"

"Why, those apples are dirty," complained the young householder. "Well, yes, they are," admitted the farmer. "For you see they are windfalls, and that in you I can sell them for cheap."

"You mean they've fallen from the trees on to the ground, but they are otherwise all right?" the customer inquired. Then, proud of his ready understanding, he bought them.

Several days later she called the farmer to her kitchen door. "I ordered the best cucumbers for pickling," she said sharply, "and you've sent me windfalls!"

"Windfall what?" "You mean, 'What do you think I can't?'" "Then, I don't want them!" Youthful Companion.

John (to his grayer) You seem nervous, Mr. Brown.

The inspector of weights and measures has just been in. John: Ha, ha. He caught you giving fifteen ounces to the pound, did he?

Brown: Worth nothing. He said I'd been giving fourteen.

The optimist enjoys the fruit and the pessimist alights on the peel.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

For August 27, 1916.

JOURNEYING TO JERUSALEM.

Acts 20: 16-38.

Golden Text: I commend you to God, and to the word of His grace, Acts 20: 32.

Two parties are brought before us in this lesson—Paul and the church at Ephesus.

It seems probable that Paul had spent more time in Ephesus than in any other city, for it was here that he was kept at Caesarea for a long time, and then at Rome for a long time. Partly because of his long and arduous efforts to build up the church at Ephesus, and partly because of the efforts he had been so successful and had a very special love for it.

The proof of his spiritual growth appears in Paul's letter to the Ephesian church. "It is a trait which can be traced back as far as history extends. The Greeks called the outside world barbarians; the Romans scoffed at the Greeks, and the Egyptians regarded the Jews as a people less than slaves. In our days, the contempt we exhibit for Oriental nations is mild compared with their contempt for us. The Turks are but little behind the Chinese in this respect, their ordinary designations of a Christian being a dog."

When the first Dutch ambassador was sent to the Porte, he visited the sultan.

"What does the dog want?" asked the sultan.

This was translated in a speech full of Oriental compliments, and the ambassador replied in the same strain.

"Let the dog feed," answered the sultan, "and when the dog is fed, kick the dog out."

The ambassador was delighted with the sultan's compliments. The sultan said that he had never seen a dog so well fed as the ambassador.

"What does the dog want?" asked the sultan.

"I have this against thee, that thou dost leave thy first love." Leaving the first love, is probably the universal experience of those who are very enthusiastic in their first consecration to the service of Christ. It is a human nature to cool down after an experience of fervor.

The most ardent lover loses after a time the intensity of feeling which causes him to feel as if his love was the whole of his life. This change to a calmer condition is in most cases inevitable, and is not necessarily harmful, but it is a dangerous thing if it is a test of character. It tests the quality of the love.

In a shallow nature the most passionate love is the coldest, and the most ardent lover loses after a time the intensity of feeling which causes him to feel as if his love was the whole of his life.

He sat in the millionaire's study, and twined his mustache and his walking stick alternately. Obviously he was a man of leisure, and the ambassador looked in his eyes one could guess that his suffering was located around the heart.

"I love your daughter!" he said. "I have nothing to offer her—neither money nor position. I know that my debts are heavy, and that my chances of success in life are small. Yet, so deep is my love, so ardent my affection, that I would disregard those worldly trifles, and dare to aspire to win her little hand."

"So? But to which of my daughters do you refer?" "Oh, sir," cried the astonished sultan, "that matter entirely in your hands!"

He had worked for the farmer nine years, and was apparently contented with his employer's odd-pottery. He had to write on each egg, with an indelible pencil, the date and the name of the hen that laid the egg. One day he was sent up to his employer and announced:

"I'm going to leave." "Why are you going to leave?" he was asked. "After working for me all these years?"

"This place, now, I'll starve before I'll go on being secretary to your old hen!"

"Why, those apples are dirty," complained the young householder. "Well, yes, they are," admitted the farmer. "For you see they are windfalls, and that in you I can sell them for cheap."

"You mean they've fallen from the trees on to the ground, but they are otherwise all right?" the customer inquired. Then, proud of his ready understanding, he bought them.

Several days later she called the farmer to her kitchen door. "I ordered the best cucumbers for pickling," she said sharply, "and you've sent me windfalls!"

"Windfall what?" "You mean, 'What do you think I can't?'" "Then, I don't want them!" Youthful Companion.

John (to his grayer) You seem nervous, Mr. Brown.

The inspector of weights and measures has just been in. John: Ha, ha. He caught you giving fifteen ounces to the pound, did he?

Brown: Worth nothing. He said I'd been giving fourteen.

The optimist enjoys the fruit and the pessimist alights on the peel.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

For August 27, 1916.

JOURNEYING TO JERUSALEM.</

Hammonton Trust Co.

Capital, $100,000

Surplus, $14,000

Three per cent on Time Accts.

Safe Deposit Boxes

Insurance

Money to Loan on Mortgage

Lakeview Greenhouses

Central Ave., Hammonton.

Large assortment of Palms, House Plants,
Cut Flowers,
Funeral Designs
In fresh flowers, wax or metal

WATKIS & NICHOLSON
Florists and Landscape Gardeners.
Central Ave., Hammonton, N. J.

Gardiner Brothers

Winslow & Hammonton

AUTO EXPRESS

Use 1000 on 37-J-4, or leave orders at Turner's Garage.
Residence, Winslow, N. J.

All Kinds of Hauling.

Fire Insurance at Cost.

The Cumberland Mutual Fire Insurance Company

Will insure your property at less cost than others. Reason: operating expenses light; no loading of premium for profits; sixty-seven years of satisfactory service. Cash surplus over $100,000.

For particulars, see

Wayland DePuy, Agt., Hammonton, N. J.
Cor. Second and Cherry Streets

A. H. Phillips Co. Fire Insurance

MONEY

FOR

MORTGAGE LOANS

Bartlett Building, - Atlantic City

Waiter J. Vernier

PLUMBING & HEATING Contractor

Registered

Hammonton, N. J.

Local Phone 904

The Hammonton Paint

Is the very best paint ever used in Hammonton.

There are scores of buildings in town covered with this paint, which look well after eight or ten years of wear.

The Hammonton Paint is sold for less than other first class paint.
It has no equal, as it works well,
covers well, and wears well.

Sold by JOSEPH I. TAYLOR

House, Sign, and Carriage Painter,
Second and Pleasant Sts.,
Hammonton, N. J.

We have sold over 11,000 Farms to Date

No. 1000 fee and no withdrawal charges. You pay us our commission only after sale to suit customer. Write us today.

E. A. Strout Farm Agency

D. M. CHAPMAN, Agent,

R. M., NEW JERSEY

Among the bills passed by Town Council were $130.65 for quarantine guards; $25 for visit of Philadelphia specialist; $51.72 for disinfectant candles.

There will be a meeting of War
Relief Workers, Wednesday next, from 2.30 to 5.00 o'clock, at St.
Mark's Parish House. Donations thankfully received. All are welcome.

PROPOSALS

FOR TRANSPORTATION OF PUPILS.

Sealed Proposals endorsed "Bids for Transportation" and the name of the bidder will be received by the Board of Education of the Town of Hammonton,
N. J., until 7.30 p.m.,

Wednesday, September 6, 1916,
for transporting pupils by AUTOMOBILE,
or horse drawn vehicle, as follows:

Route 1— Group I
8 pupils from corner of Cemetery
Avenue and Main Road to the Central
School and return.

Route 1— Group II
12 pupils from corner of Pine Road and Main Road to Central School and return.

Route 2— Group III
10 pupils from Laurel— Middle Road
School House, to Central School and return.

Route 2— Group IV
8 pupils from Laurel— Middle Road
School House, to Main Road School
House and return.

Route 3— Group V
10 pupils from corner of Old Columbia
Road and Pleasant Mills Road to Central
School and return.

Route 3— Group VI
9 pupils from Bertino's, about 1/2 of a mile below Eighth Street, on Pleasant Mills Road, to Central School and return.

Route 4— Group VII
8 pupils from corner of Ninth Street and Second Road to Central School and return.

Route 5— Group VIII
4 pupils from corner of Thirteenth
Street and Second Road to Central
School and return.

Bids on Route 1— Groups I and II, will also be considered separately or combined.

Bids on Route 3— Groups V and VI, will also be considered separately or combined.

Pupils living between the starting points and the school to which they are to be transported will be taken on or let off at their respective homes; other pupils will congregate and disperse at the starting points.

The transporting vehicle must be of sufficient capacity to carry the pupils without crowding, and must be driven or operated in strict accordance with the law; must also have a proper top to protect pupils in stormy or cold weather, and must also be provided with robes and blankets necessary to keep the children warm while being transported.

The person driving the vehicle must be above 21 years of age, and shall be approved by the Board of Education.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a bond for the full amount of his contract, signed by two responsible sureties.

Bids should be made at net price for daily round trip, and should be made on sheet furnished by the District Clerk.
The right is reserved by the Board of Education to reject any or all bids.

W. R. SEELY, District Clerk,
Hammonton, N. J., Aug. 24, 1916.

Elmer DePuy showed the Editors an egg that measured eight by nine inches in circumference, weighing six ounces. It was laid by White Plymouth Rock hen.

SALE OF LAND FOR UNPAID TAXES OF 1915

Collector's Office,
Hammonton, N. J., August 28, 1916.
Notice is hereby given that T. A. B. Davis,
Collector of the taxing district of Hammonton, County of Atlantic, New Jersey, pursuant to the authority of the statutes in such case made and provided, will on Saturday, the twenty-third day of September, nineteen hundred and sixteen,

at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, in the Town Hall, in said taxing district, expose for sale and sell the several tracts and parcels of land hereinafter specified, or any part or parts of said land sufficient for the purpose, on which the taxes for the year 1915 remain unpaid and in arrears, to such person or persons as will purchase the same for the shortest term, and pay the tax lien thereon, including interest and costs of sale, or in fee,
where no one will bid for a shorter term.

This sale is made under the provisions of an act of the Legislature entitled "An act for the assessment and collection of taxes," approved
April 8, 1903, and the acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto.

The said land, and the names of the persons against whom said taxes have been assessed,
and amount of the same, are as follows:

Name	Block	Lot	Acres	Tax
Archer, John	1	54	5.00	$2.28
Ballard, Mrs. T. H.	5K	4	1.00	168.72
Bassett, Geo. W.	3	3	3.02	168.72
Bernhouse, Wm. H.	2	2	1.00	207.54
"	50	22 & 23	2.00	"
"	51	21	.33	"
"	52	5	.47	"
"	6	65	.4	"
"	6	94	35	26.14
Carr, Margaret H.	1	101	2.31	134
Chodur, A. H.	1	101	2.31	134
Callino, Don	1	36	2.38	7.88
Costa, Stefano	8	171	2.25	bal. 6.51
Cortell, Mrs. Mary	3	3	2.73	bal. 125.40
Dodd, Mrs. John A.	3	48	48	42.18
Feld, W. S.	53	5	.60	23
Gatto, Frank	16	18	23.21	bal. 5.44
Gardner, Abraham L.	116	1	1.31	.57
Gardner, J. J.	3	3	3.02	73.24
"	50	22 & 23	2.00	97
Hess, J. A.	7	13	.10	4.57
Holt, George	46	21	1.00	4.66
Imhoff, Joe H.	5K	121	1.08	232.42
Mague, J. D.	5K	183	.17	19.24
Mague, Flora	5K	202	.13	19.24
Millock, H. J.	65	35	.47	23.79
Naylor, A. H.	1	101	2.31	3.30
Nicholson, Homer	1	101	2.31	2.63
Normington, Wash.	1	100	10	2.63
Parise, Antonio	5L	115	33	bal. 10.57
Sarato, M.	6	6 to 100	38	72.5
Sacco, Giuseppe	5K	224	.17	4.56
Spanella, Morriston	3	3	3.02	23.64

The above taxes may be paid at any time before the sale, with costs and 1 interest added.
The cost in each case will be $1.81.
I have this twenty-sixth day of August, 1916.

A. B. DAVIS, Collector.

John L. Campbell

PLUMBING, HEATING

and TINNING

Tin Roofing,
Heater and Range Work
Gasoline Engines, Tanks,
Pumps, Wind Mills, etc.

Pneumatic Water Supply
Systems for all purposes

Well Work, Pipe, and Fittings

Local Phone
Hammonton, N. J.

THE - ONE - STORE

Quality Satisfaction Price

Not "How low priced?" but "How good a brand of Paint?"
shall I buy for the painting? The only answer can be Atlas Paint, manufactured by Geo. T. Wetherill.
Paint is the only insurance to be had on lumber; why use a cheap brand of Paint? It will cost you as much for labor.

Varnish

Oils

Turpentine

Alcohol

Dryers

Colors in Oil

Brushes

Glass

Scrapers

Dry Colors

Emery Paper

Sand Paper

Putty

Unparalleled Prices on Lawn Mowers.

My prices are the lowest in Hammonton for the same quality of Mowers.

Jar Rubbers, Sealing Wax,
Screens, Oil Stoves, Hose

Wear-Ever

Aluminum

Peach Crate Staples, 10 cents a pound

IRVIN I. HEARING

Hardware, Paints, Oils

Phone 843

Bellevue Ave., Hammonton

MONFORT'S

GREAT AUGUST

CLEARANCE SALE!

All former selling prices, values, and lost profits are totally disregarded in our positive, absolute and determined policy to

Sweep out all Summer Goods

At once. Nothing will be carried over. Now for the great Bargain Carnival! Be prepared for the greatest saving ever known in the history of local retailing!

A Partial List of the Wonderful Values:

WOMEN'S

$3.50 pat welt two-strap, now 2.60

$3.50 pat welt cross-strap now 2.60

$3.50 dull kid, 4-strap now 2.60

$3.50 pat Colonial pump now 2.60

$4 patent Pump now 2.60

$3.50 pat twin bow Pump, 2.60

$3.50 gun-metal Pump now 2.60

$3.50 gun metal strap now 2.60

$3.50 patent Oxfords now 2.50

$3.50 gun metal Oxfords now 2.50

$3.50 patent Pumps at 1.90

$3 gun metal Pumps now 1.90

$2.50 pat, Leo Hogt & Son, 1.60

$2.50 gunmetal, same make, 1.60

$2.50 bronze kid Pump now 1.50

$2.50 gun colt Mary Jane, 1.75

$2.00 gun metal Mary Jane, 1.75

Ladies' $2.75 Sweet Sally Linn

Pumps, 2-but, one strap, 2.00

Ladies' $2 high heel, 4-strap

Pump at 1.50

All women's patent high and low heel Pumps at 1.50

All women's gun metal high and low heel Pumps now 1.50

Ladies' $3.50 patent gray cloth top

Pumps now 1.50

Dr. Woodbury's vici kid Comfort cushion innersole and rubber heel, regular $2, now 1.50

Ye old-style plain-Comfort

Oxford, regular $1.75, at 1-25

Misses' 1 1/2 to 2 patent Baby

Dolls, regular $1.75, now 1-50

Children's 8 1/2 to 11 patent Baby

Dolls, regular $1.50, now 1-25

Children's patent 5 to 8 pat Baby

Dolls, regular $1.25, now 1-00

Ladies' and Misses' call sport

Oxford, rubber sole and heel,

regular $3.50, now 2.50

Ladies' black sport, rubber sole and heel, regular $3, now 2-00

Ladies' high white canvas sport shoes, white ivory sole and

heel, regular $2, now 1-25

Ladies' canvas Oxfords,

regular $1.50, now 1-25

Ladies' white duck Pumps,

regular $1.50, now 1-00

Ladies' white Colonial Pumps,

white ivory soles and heels,

regular $2.50, now 2-00

Ladies' high fancy canvas Shoes,

regular $3.50, now 1.50

Ladies' white Buck, low heel, button Shoes, regular

$3.50, now 2-25

Men's $4.50 Crossett, black and tan Oxfords, reduced to 3-00

Men's gun-metal Oxfords, high-toe and English,

were $3.50, now 2-75

Men's $4 black and tan Oxfords,

rubber sole and heel, at 3-25

Men's black and tan Beacon

Oxfords, $3, now 2-50

Men's $3.50 and $3 black and tan

Oxfords, rubber sole and heel,

reduced to 2-75

Little gents' black shoes, special

lot of thirty-six pair, $1.35, reduced to $1. These are of special value.

Men's Farmers' Dress Canvas

Shoes, regular $2, now $1.50

Men's $1.50 white canvas Shoes reduced to 95 cents.

SHIRTS—

We have a special lot of men's large size Shirts, value $1.75 to $1.50, reduced to 85 cts.

STRAW HATS—

All Men's Straw Hats reduced to half price

At Monfort's Shoe and Furishing Store

Bellevue Avenue, Hammonton

THE OVERLAND

—We would like to call your attention to five of the popular models—

Five Passenger Touring Car, New Series Model 75-B $635

31.5 h.p. long stroke motor; left-hand drive, center control; electric starting and lighting, with headlight dimmers; 31x4-in. tires, non-skid rear, demountable rims; 104 in. wheelbase, cantilever rear springs; streamline body, gracefully rounded; deep, soft upholstery.

Five Passenger Touring Car, Model 85-Four $795

35 h.p. motor; two unit electric starting and lighting system, with headlight dimmers; vacuum gasolene system; 112-in. wheelbase; rims and springs as above.

Model 85-Six Five Passenger Touring Car, $925

Description similar to above, with 35-40 h.p. motor, 116 in. wheelbase, —the beauty of the car being apparent from any angle.

Five Passenger Touring Sedan, Model 85-Four $1195

Description as above, with 33x4 1/2 in. tires; permanent top; rear windows have lace curtains;
can be completely enclosed; electric dome light in ceiling.

Five Passenger Touring Sedan, Model 85-Six $1325

Description similar to above, with 35-40 h.p. motor, 116 in. wheelbase; windows can be raised or lowered; floor thickly carpeted.

P. T. RANERE, Hammonton, Sole Distributor

Hammonton Auto Station

Bellevue Avenue

Both Phones