D. C. HERBERT

To Young Men.

"The man who deceives me once is a knave: if he deceives me twice, I am a fool."

Four years ago, in the midst of prosperity and plenty, the Democracy said, "Give us an opportunity, and we will add to your prosperity. Try us, and under our policy the poor man will get rich, and all good things will be divided." In an evil hour the change was made. When it was announced that a Democratic President and Congress were elected, a panic seized the people and paralyzed every industry. Mills, and furnaces, and factories shut down, merchants were bankrupt, and workmen thrown out of employment. For three years, thousands of honest and industrious men have walked the streets seeking employment to earn bread for hungry families. In every home, from ocean to ocean, are witnesses of the distress brought upon the country by this change.

In 1896 they come again, reinforced by agrarians, anarchists, socialists, Coxeyites and all that "godless crew." They have deceived the people once; will they deceive the people twice? Read the maxim at the head of this letter.

They have destroyed all confidence, and are now tampering with the honor and integrity of the nation. Thousands of Democrats, all over the country, honest in their convictions, are turning away in utter disgust from this unholy alliance, which threatens not only the prosperity of the country and the integrity of the nation, but the very foundations of the social structure. It is the "sweltered venom sleeping got," and if not utterly destroyed and cast out, now, may carry the country into a howling wilderness of misery and distress.

In 1893, in the midst of this panic and paralysis, there was more than $2,400,000,000 of money in the United States,--more than $24 per capita.

There was never so much money in this country before, or so much per capita, and the claim that business has languished for the want of money is without a shadow of foundation. In fact, the free coinage of silver at sixteen to one would not relieve the difficulty. Every intelligent man knows that the coinage of silver and its circulation would drive out of the country the more than $600,000,000 of gold, and would reduce the circulating medium to that extent.

But if the gold should remain, and all the silver offered should be coined, how will the laborer without work, or the farmer without customers, be benefitted? How will he get it? Money is abundant now, but he can not obtain it. The silver advocate who is feigning sympathy for the laborer while seeking his vote, will not put his money into business and give the laborer work, or buy the farmer's crop. He will tell you that if he puts a dollar into business now he has no assurance that he will get it back. He will urge you to aid in continuing a policy which has brought about the conditions and paralysis which is frightening even the silver man. It is within the recollection of all men, that the warring factions who meet at Washington under this administration, without principle, without cohesion, without knowledge or information, wasted months of time and millions of money in passing the patched up Wilson bill, while the country "wandered lonely as a cloud." And what a law it was! What misery and distress it has produced!

Mr. Editor, save the young man, have him from such dangerous alliances and associations. Enter him as a member of that "grand old party" with so much to be proud of and nothing to regret. Elect McKinley and Hobart, restore confidence, and start the country forward on another era of prosperity.

The Democratic party tied itself to the silver mine owners, trampled upon all its own traditions, and then has the hardihood to denounce those of its lifelong members who refuse to join in the act of its betrayal.

AN OPEN LETTER.

TO WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN:

I have read thy New York speech carefully. I agree with thee,--money should neither increase nor decrease in value. Value comes from labor; things like air and water, which cost little or no labor, have little or no value. Christian civilization, with its inventions, machinery, and competition, produces most things with less and less labor, consequently prices justly come down when paid for in either labor or "honest money."

Money which, as time goes on, will buy less and less labor, is not "honest money." A pound of silver will buy only about half the labor it would twenty years ago. I cannot see how the free coinage of silver, 16 to 1, can give us "honest money." An ounce of gold will buy about the same amount of labor it would at any time for the last twenty years. Surely gold is the better standard for "honest money."

Please consider these facts in thy search for "honest money."

Thy friend, UNCLE TRUE.

The first tennis tournament ever held in Hammonton will be given by the Hammonton Athletic Association, commencing this afternoon. The contest will take place on the grounds of D. Cottrell, and every effort is being made to make it pleasant for spectators as well as players. This afternoon single handed sets will be played, and on Wednesday following doubles will be played. All local players have entered, and an exciting contest is expected. Game begins at 2 p. m. Beautiful prizes have been selected for the winners. Admission 10 cents. Chairs provided.

George Bowers died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Bakely, on Grape Street, early Thursday morning, aged 75 years. Mr. B. and family were among the very earliest settlers in Hammonton, and as a stone mason he laid foundations for some of the first buildings. He was a member of Co. A, 34th N. J. Vols., and a good soldier. The G. A. R. Post, of which he was a comrade for fourteen years, will take charge of the funeral, with the Sons of Veterans as an escort, on Monday next. Services at St. Joseph's Church at 10:30 a. m.

A Threat and a Warning.

We have the statement from two reliable men, that they heard one of the most prominent Populists of Hammonton say:

"If McKinley is elected, he will be the last President of the United States; the people will not stand it any longer."

We supposed that we had heard the last of such talk about thirty-five years ago, when Southerners used similar language; and an attempt to carry out their threats resulted in the sacrifice of hundreds of thousands of lives, and the traitors were defeated at a cost of billions of dollars.

This is a republic; a majority still rules; and those who are not satisfied had better at once colonize Mexico, where silver is plenty. If William McKinley is elected (which may God grant), he will take his seat and serve his country well. There is still enough of the old time patriotism left in this grand nation to put down another rebellion, if necessary. And we will do it.

But what think you of a party which teaches such a treasonable doctrine,--rule or ruin? Can any man with a spark of patriotism support such a party? We regret that Hammonton contains one such man, and cannot believe that there are many. Yet this one is a recognized leader. We believe in free speech, but it makes our blood boil to hear a man threaten rebellion in case he and his sympathizers are defeated in their attempt to carry out a policy which a majority of citizens decline to approve.

The long-felt want for something better than a tottering small bottomed basket for shipping Peaches in, has been found at last, in the shape of a crate that holds two baskets. NATIONAL REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President,
Wm. McKinley.
For Vice-President,
Garret A. Hobart.

Mr. McKinley's letter of acceptance was made public on Wednesday. It is a masterly production, surprising even his friends by its powerful presentation of truths. It is so clearly worded that a child can understand it. We shall try to give our readers the entire letter next week. If we find it impossible to do this, we shall from time to time quote many of its pointed paragraphs, in the production of which our candidate is peculiarly gifted.

The Republicans of New Jersey met in convention on Thursday last, in Trenton. Gov. Griggs presided, and delivered a eloquent and earnest address. The proceedings were harmonious, the nominees for Presidential Electors being—

At Large.—J. F. Dryden, of Essex County; Samuel H. Gray, Camden. Districts.—Thomas W. Trenohard, Washington A. Roebing, Adolph Mack, A. R. Whitney, J. Hull Browning, James T. Ball, Geo. F. Perkins, Ernest Ackerman.

Dun's Commercial Report is consulted by business men everywhere, and relied upon in giving or refusing credit to those whose financial standing is there quoted. Equally reliable is "Dun's Review," a weekly publication of the same house, which gives a full review of the business and monetary situation, based upon reports from their representatives all over the world, with quotations and accounts of sales of stocks, grain, and merchandise of all kinds. In the issue of Aug. 22nd, we find an exhaustive article, over six columns long, headed "Facts about Silver," in which the editor claims to give "facts with accuracy and impartiality, and all argument intentionally avoided." We wish that every voter who honestly desires to know more of the subject now agitating this country, would send five cents to R. G. Dun & Co., 314 Broadway, N. Y., and procure a copy of this issue.

In closing, the editor says: "This review of facts appears to establish certain conclusions beyond reasonable dispute:

1. That it is never has been possible, even with free coinage in most countries as before 1873, to maintain silver and gold at any definite and steady ratio of price.
2. That a slight variation in the market ratio from the legal ratio, meaning a slightly higher price paid for silver or for gold in other countries than it is worth in the form of coin, has invariably swept all the silver or all the gold out of use, and thus brought monetary metalism where the law was designed to establish and maintain bi-metalism.
3. That bi-metalism, the actual current use of both metals at a recognized valuation, has never been established or maintained in this country, having been defeated from 1793 to 1834 by undervaluation of gold, and from 1834 to 1893 by undervaluation of silver, and from 1893 to 1895 by universal use of legal tender paper instead of any coin, and from 79 to this date by depreciation of silver coins which have passed only as representatives of gold.
4. That the Act of 1873 had no effect upon the use or the price of silver, because business was transacted and prices were fixed in a legal tender currency then much cheaper than gold, as gold was relatively cheaper than silver.
5. That the coming since 1877 of over fifty times the amount of silver coined in 50 years prior to that date has not helped the price of silver.
6. That every attempt in this country to bring about free coinage or larger use of silver has actually caused so great an increase in the production of silver as to depress the price.

Prof. L. E. Fuller had a good sized audience, Monday evening, to hear him discourse on "Free Silver." That a ready speaker, he seemed to many hours that he was deficient in history, hence weak in argument.

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Farnell, of Chicago, says: "I have been a sufferer from the ideal panacea for coughs, colds, and lung complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physicians' prescriptions or other preparations."

Rev. John Burgess, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a sufferer from the ideal panacea for coughs, colds, and lung complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physicians' prescriptions or other preparations."

Mr. John Quinn has been entertaining his daughter Mrs. Dennis, and granddaughter, Miss Bertha Dennis, of Cambridge, Md. They started on Thursday for Philadelphia, where they will reside.

Universalist Sunday School picnic next Wednesday, Sept. 2nd, at Weymouth. Free to all members of the school; others, 25 cents each. If the day proves stormy, they will go on Friday, the 4th.

M. E. Church services to-morrow 10:30 A. M., preaching by Rev. Mr. James. Sunday School at 12 M. Evening, Epworth League and regular services combined; topic, "Christ's rebukes to the Scribes, Pharisees, and Lawyers."

We heard of a local Democratic voter who said: "I am praying for the election of McKinley." When asked whether he would help to elect him, he replied, "Well, I don't know; I am not sure." Well, we will have to adopt the advice of our Prohibition friends, "Vote as you pray."

A regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders will be held in the Court House, May's Landing, on Wednesday next, September 2nd. All bills to be presented should be in the hands of the Clerk of the Board not later than Monday, August 31st.

JOHN C. ANDERSON, Clerk.
Headquarters Camp 14, R. of V., Hammonton, N. J., Aug. 28, 1896.

Members of the Camp are hereby ordered to meet at the G. A. R. Post rooms on Monday, Aug. 31st, at 9 a.m. to attend the funeral of Mr. George Powers, a comrade of Post 68. Full uniform, white gloves, without arms or equipments. W. CUNNINGHAM, Captain.

A. V. W. SHELLEY, First Sergeant.

The Methodist and Presbyterian congregations united last Sunday evening. The topic, "An Authoritative Revelation from God," was divided into two parts,—"The need of a revelation from God," being ably presented by Rev. Mr. James, and "The Bible, the authoritative revelation," was forcibly discussed by Rev. Mr. Randall. It was an interesting and profitable service. Misses May Bishop and Georgia Swift sang solos.

BOGUS LARD,--

A great deal of the stuff is now sold in the city. None of the lard ever manufactured under the name of "Choice Family Lard," "Lard Compound," or "Silver Leaf," etc., is pure. For instance, Choice Family Lard contains 40 per cent of lard, with the remaining 60 per cent equally divided between tallow, cotton oil, and "off" lard, which is a quality not fit to enter a human stomach. * * * These animals, even after they are putrid and exhale a fetid stench, are made into a "pure" lard, after being deodorized by the use of permanganate of potash, bichromate of potash, and washing soda. * * * Lard manufacturers are required to use great care in handling these decomposed hogs, as they will produce blood poisoning if allowed to touch a scratched hand. . . . yet they are perfectly fit to produce lard which enters into the human system.

WHY TAKE THE CHANCES of using such stuff, when you can get HOME MADE LARD of
