Away back in the sixties, Mr. George Smith and family lived on Main Road. Mr. Smith died, and the family moved away. This week, one of the daughters, Mrs. Emma Adams, now of Meadville, Penna., with her husband, visited Hammonton for the first time in nearly a half century, noted radical changes, but found very few who can recall incidents of those early days.—Hon. Geo. Elvins among them, and the Senior Editor, who was then a personal friend of the deceased father.

Last Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Smith, of Hotel Columbia, with her daughter, went for a ride in their automobile. When near Egg Harbor they noted a car approaching at a rapid rate, and rather eccentric in its movement. Miss S., who was at the wheel, ran her auto clear to the right, close to the bushes, but the other seemed to come straight for them, and only by a sudden veer avoided direct collision. It struck them a side blow, however, putting the Smith car out of commission, but happily injuring neither lady. The up-bound car was occupied by a party of "happy" colored people, who stopped to see what damage had been done, promised to pay all bills, and were allowed to proceed. Mrs. Smith had sent word home by a passing autoist. Mr. Smith jumped into Joe S. Mart's machine and made good time to the scene of trouble, found his damaged car, but his wife and daughter had taken the train for home.

Captain Charles D. Loveland died on Sunday last, August 23rd, at his summer residence at Sea Isle City, N. J., aged 72 years, after a few days illness with bronchial pneumonia.

Capt. Loveland and family have long been residents of Hammonton, universally respected, and there is wide-spread regret at his unexpected death. He was a skilled navigator until recent years, when advancing age caused his retirement, though he was still far from feeble. His remains were brought here, and funeral services held at his home on Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. W. L. Shaw. M. B. Taylor, Lodge of Masons, of which deceased was a member, attended in a body, and held their impressive burial service in Greenmount Cemetery. The attendance was very large, and the floral offerings beyond precedent in quantity and beauty. His wife, six daughters and three sons survive him.

Camp Jackson.
It was certainly a jolly bunch of girls who returned with Mrs. M. L. Jackson, Tuesday, after a two weeks' vacation at High Point. There were from twelve to twenty three of them—visitors coming and going. Among the campers were: Misses Lola, Annie and Fannie Cunningham; Annie and Miriam Crowell; Reba Mart, Reba Harley, Miriam Elvins, Jessie Blake, Lena Jackson, Margie Peoples, Mildred Wood, Mildred Tilton, Mrs. A. L. Jackson, Mrs. M. T. Jackson, and, but not least, the boss himself, M. L. Jackson.

It would take a book to tell all the experiences—of the escapades, crabbing parties, roasting dogs, serenading, a quick method of getting down stairs, a midnight raid on apple sauce, Warren Tilton's root beer treat, etc. The chaperone reports that they were splendid housekeepers, and excelled even that art by eating everything but the menu cards. Mr. J. has some amusing mosquito stories.

Though they were on the go all the time—out on the bay, etc., they benefited by the change. During the two weeks, Miss Lola gained nine and a half pounds; Miss Margie, seven and a half; Miss Jessie, six and a half; Miss Fannie, three and a half; and the others looked just as well fed.

Mrs. Jackson has the reputation of being a good provider, and understands how to make things pleasant for young people. And the total cost—fare, food, rent, and yachting, did not exceed eight dollars per head—money well spent.

Universalist Church Notes.

Regular services will begin on Sunday, Sept. 6th. At 11 o'clock, sermon on "The making of the Bible; the Book itself." This is the first of a morning series on "The making of the Bible." The Sunday School will meet after morning service. In the evening, at 7:30, the subject will be "A hundred years of Peace," with reference to the centennial of writing of our national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner."

On September 13th, a Church and Sunday School rally. The Communion will be administered.

September 16th, parish meeting. Pastor W. H. Gardner has also planned a series of sermons for the evenings, on "The principles of faith of the Universalist Church." The Sunday School picnic will be held on Saturday, Sept. 12th, at the Park, for which arrangements are being made.

Another Good Thing Coming.

The County Vocational Board of Education met Thursday, Aug. 20, in the office of Mr. George A. Bourgeois. In addition to all the members, there were present the various Supervising Principals and Principals of the County. The meeting was an epoch making one, not only for the County but for the State as well.

Mr. Alfred Chalmers, of Minotola, was elected treasurer. Expressions of opinion were elicited from the various principals, as to the probability of the enrollment in the schools proposed. A resolution was passed, authorizing the establishment of four schools—one in Buena Vista Township, one in Hammonton, a third at Bargaintown. The location of the fourth was left to be determined later. It is probable that it will be located either in Absecon or Galloway Township, depending upon the interest shown and the selection of a favorable location as a school center.

It was a very enthusiastic meeting, and the teachers' committee was authorized to find the best man available to serve as director of these schools. It was determined to pay, if necessary, a salary ranging from $2500 to $5000. The Board is of the conviction that the best and most experienced man will be the cheapest in the introduction and advancement of this, the most progressive step in the educational and agricultural advancement of Atlantic County.

It was reported by the Secretary of the Board of Estimates, that the Atlantic County Board of Freeholders had appointed Mr. Ernest W. Shackelford, of Atlantic City, and Mr. Wm. L. Black, of Hammonton, as members of the Board of Estimates, and that the Board of Freeholders had made an appropriation of $5000 in the interest of these schools.

The Board also passed a resolution, asking the co-operation of the principals and teachers of the County, in forming a farmers' directory for the whole County.

These school centers are to be so located that they may be accessible for all the boys and young men who are interested in advancing their education in agriculture and such academic studies as their needs may require.
