

South Jersey Republican

Hoyt & Sons, Publishers.

Terms--$1.25 Per Year.

VOL. 32.

HAMMONTON, N. J., SEPTEMBER 15, 1894.

NO. 37

Elvins & Roberts

WOOD!

WOOD

WOOD

Let us have your Order for Stove Wood!

Remember, we deliver free to all parts of the town.

Our price is
$1.50 per Rank!
being a full quarter-cord.

Cut one foot long, is split to proper size for stoves.
Dry, solid, and lively burning.
Not a rotten stick in it.

Elvins & Roberts

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE People's Bank of Hammonton

At the close of business on Tuesday,
September 4th, 1894.

RESOURCES:

Loans and Discounts	$105371 68
Overdrafts	3 47
Stocks, Bonds, etc.	5543 75
Due from other Banks	8999 62
Real Estate	2000 00
Furniture, Fixtures, etc.	1000 00
Current Expenses paid	1058 49
Cash	8141 84

LIABILITIES:

Capital Stock paid in	$30000 00
Surplus	12000 00
Undivided Profits	4935 33
Due to other Banks	1231 90
Individual Deposits	70770 01
Demand Certificates of Deposit	601 78
Demand Cert's of Dep. bear'g Int.	12305 22
Certified Checks	9 25
Interest due Depositors	245 22
Dividends unpaid	20 16

STATE OF NEW JERSEY, ss.
County of Atlantic,
I, Wilber E. Tilton, Cashier of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge.
WILBER E. TILTON.

Subscribed and sworn before me,
this 4th day of September, 1894.
JOHN ATKINSON,
Justice of the Peace,
Correct. Attest:
G. F. SAXTON,
R. J. BYRNES,
GEO. ELVINS.

The Directors have this day declared a semi-annual dividend of three per cent, payable on and after Tuesday, Oct. 2nd next, and added $2000 to the surplus.
W. R. TILTON, Cashier.

Save half your Money

By Insuring in the
Cumberland Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

G. W. PRESSEY,
Agent,
Hammonton, N. J.

C. E. FOWLER,
PLAIN & DECORATIVE
Paper Hanging
At Hall's New Store.

COAL YARD

Having stocked my yard for the winter with the best grades of
LEHIGH COAL
I am prepared to furnish it in large or small quantities, at shortest notice, and as low as any.
Your patronages solicited.

W. H. Bernshouse.
Office in Wm. Bernshouse's office.
Yard opposite the Saw Mill.

O. W. PAYRAN, Attorney at Law.

Master in Chancery,
Notary Public.
Atlantic City, N. J.
Hammonton office over Atkinson's.

Mr. PETTIT, of my Hammonton office, is at my office in Atlantic City each day. Legal business placed in his hands will receive careful attention.
Office hours at Hammonton,--7:30 to 9:15 A.M.
6:30 to 9:00 P.M.

John Atkinson,
Justice of the Peace,
Commissioner of Deeds
Pension & Claim Agent.
Bellevue Ave. and Second St.,
HAMMONTON, : : : N. J.

All business placed in my hands will be promptly attended to.

Candidates for the Republican Assembly nominations are springing up from all sections of Atlantic County.
The names thus far mentioned are: S.
S. Hudson, May's Landing; John Anderson and M. L. Jackson, Hammonton;
I. G. Adams, Linwood; Mayor J. C.
Farr and L. H. Barrett, Pleasantville;
Jos. H. Borton, Dr. G. P. Gehring,
Sam'l B. Rose and Robert H. Ingersoll,
Atlantic City.--W. J. Press.

The "People's Party" held their County Convention in Hammonton last Friday evening, and made the following nominations:

For Assemblyman, George W. Pres-
sey, of Hammonton.

For Coroner, John Langham, of Elwood.

Delegates being present from other counties in the District, Wm. B. Ellis, of Trenton, was nominated for Congressman.

Chas. Leo's circus was well received in Hammonton. Of course, no one expected it to approach its flaming announcements, and fill its grand promises,--no circus ever does, and this was no exception; but its ring, trapeze and horizontal bar performances were very good. The street parade excited much amusement, especially to the juvenile population. The clown and his mules were funny indeed. But that "largest elephant that walks the earth" must have shrunk very much since the advertisement was written. The ma-nagerie, etc., admission to which was to be included in the twenty-five cents,
was placed in the side show, an additional ten cents demanded, and was a-- well, it wasn't a great show, by any means. The glass blowers excited disgust by their sale (?) of ornamental work by envelopes on a very transparent lottery system. But the show was liberally patronized, and was probably worth all its patrons paid.

The more people try to put down liquor the more it seems to go to the head.

The issue this fall is whether a Congress shall be elected which will legislate for English interests. The Republican policy stands for American markets,
American capital and American labor.
The threatened policy of the Democratic party is foreign clear through.

The G. A. R. National encampment closed at Pittsburg after electing these officers: Commander in Chief, Colonel Thomas G. Lawler, of Illinois; senior vice-commander, Maj. A. P. Burchfield, of Pittsburg; junior vice-commander,
Charles N. Shupe, of New Orleans;
surgeon-general, O. W. Weeks, Marion,
O.; chaplain-in-chief, Rev. T. H. Haggerty, St. Louis.

Window glass blowers have already been struck by the new Democratic tariff--this great reform agitation which was to relieve the wage-earners of a "robber tax." The blowers compromise of 22 1/2 per cent. was accepted. What a great benefit to the workmen even the first step of Democratic tariff reform is. The first cut is 22 1/2 per cent. and the leaders like President Cleveland and Prof. Wilson say the war on Protection is just begun.

President Cleveland did not have time to attend the funeral of that patriot soldier and incorruptible statesman, General Nathaniel P. Banks, though specially invited so to do. It is true there could be very little in common between General Banks and a man like Grover Cleveland, yet it would have had a better appearance if the President had sacrificed a few hours from his fishing to attend the distinguished General's funeral, especially as he was so conveniently located for the purpose. Grover never did have much use for Union soldiers.

A. M. Bailey, a well-known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial, and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. 25 and 50-cent bottles for sale by druggists.

Tin Roofing

Put on by experienced workmen.
Satisfaction guaranteed.

S. E. BROWN & CO.
The Hardware Store.

Kirk Spear, Jr.,

Plain and Ornamental
Plastering and Bricklaying.
Hammonton, N. J.

Jobbing promptly attended to Orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

Ladies' & Children's Fashionable Dressmaker.

Perfect Fit Guaranteed.
Mary A. Tillery,
Egg Harbor Road and Maple Street,
HAMMONTON.

The Reliable Process

Vapor Stove is all its name implies.
Neatest in appearance.
Easiest kept clean.
Absolutely safe.
Positively durable.

Dangler's New Delight

Is also a beauty.
You make a mistake if you buy before examining these stoves.

Have a few second-hand stoves
that can be bought cheap.
May be had on trial.

S. E. Brown & Co.
The Hardware Store.

GEO. W. PRESSEY,
Hammonton, N. J.,
Justice of the Peace.
Office, Second and Cherry Sts.

I invite those wishing some very nice Flower Pots to come and see my collection of fine
Japanese Ware.

These Flower Pots are made of a very fine grade of Porcelain richly decorated. Prices as the way from 10 cents to $5.
A set of five pots, decorated in "Siedzi," for 65 cents. Come and see them, at my residence,
Bellevue Ave., Hammonton.

Mrs. F. L. BASSETT.

NEW DRY GOODS

Lots of 'em
at

Elam Stockwell's

Call an' See.

The People's Bank Of Hammonton, N. J.

Authorized Capital, $50,000.
Paid in, $30,000.
Surplus, $12,000.

R. J. BYRNES, President.
M. L. JACKSON, Vice-Pres't
W. R. TILTON, Cashier.

DIRECTORS:
R. J. Byrnes,
M. L. Jackson,
George Elvins,
Elam Stockwell,
G. F. Saxton,
C. F. Osgood,
P. S. Tilton,
A. J. Smith,
J. C. Anderson.

Certificates of Deposit issued, bearing interest at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum if held six months, and 3 per cent. if held one year.

Discount days--Tuesday and Friday of each week.

HARNESS.

A full assortment of hand and machine made,--for work or driving.

L. W. COGLEY,
Hammonton, N. J.

Henry Kramer,

Manufacturer and Dealer in
FANCY SHINGLES

Posts, Pickets, etc.
BERRY CRATES.
Folsom, N. J.

Lumber sawed to order.
Orders received by mail promptly filled,
Prices Low.

BUT IT WAS MEAN.

How a drummer won at midnight by "Betting" the opponent.

One was a commercial traveler, the other was just a common, large, quiet, bushy man. They were playing billiards in a billiard room, which was deserted by all save them, and the quiet man had beaten the drummer every game and beaten him badly.

"I know what the matter," said the drummer, as they chalked the cues for another game, "I want an incentive. We ought to make a bet; say a couple of dollars on this game, and let it be the last one. Come, you've had all your own way. What do you say to that?"

"It's agreeable to me," answered the bushy man, taking the cue, and then he ran off six points.

The drummer made a little run of fifteen, playing the balls round in the corners softly and gently without apparent effort.

"I want to see the clerk about getting my baggage ready for the train," said the drummer, looking at his watch. "He won't be gone but a minute," he hastened out to the office, which was with commercial men and other guests of the house.

"Well, now we'll try again," he said cheerfully, when he returned a few minutes later, but he returned a few points and left a beautiful "set up" for the large man.

One or two other men had strolled in from the office and stood by while the bushy player made the shot, and by the time he had run the cue up to twenty-eight there were half a dozen onlookers standing about the table.

"Gentleman, that was a good shot!" said one, as the big man made a very good draw.

Then he made a difficult carom, and the spectators looked at each other with that mixture of approval and surprise.

"Where are you in this game, Billy?" asked one of them.

"I guess I ain't in it at all," said the drummer, leaning on his cue and watching his opponent who, seeming a little disconcerted by so much attention, missed the next shot and sat down.

While the drummer was running off seven points three or four men sauntered in and watched the game, meditatively puffing at their cigars.

The big man came up, missed and retired to a seat amid the most intense silence, and the drummer got another little run.

"That's a shot I can never make," remarked one of the spectators as the big man advanced and stood observing the balls.

"It's very difficult," said another.

"Well, I should say so," said a third. "The man that can make it is a dandy."

The heat of the room or something had made the large man a little red in the face, and he looked uncomfortable. He missed the shot. There was no comment, and the drummer had closely watched the game, and there were about a dozen of them now.

The drummer made a very good draw, the bushy man missed again, and finally, the drummer ran the game out, the other stood by with a $2 bill in his hand.

"I kind of lost my luck towards the last," he said with a sickly smile, as he laid down the bill and murmured something about having an engagement he went out.

"Well, boys," said Billy, as he put in his coat and picked up the $2 bill. "I'm much obliged to you for coming in. I ain't much of a billiard player, but I'm a very fair judge of human nature."—Free Press.

THE UNSEEN GOD.

Starting from the enlightened in Canada.

Dr. Jameson, who for many years was a missionary among the Canadian Indians, said lately of them:

"God is real to them in a way which is startling even to white men who profess Christianity. Old Lang, the chief, for instance, has known me on my last visit with an account of his life since I had seen him."

"In April," he said, "God froze my hands in the ground. But a white ranchman gave me some seed, and now we are friends. That is why I now my seed. That I should gain a friend. On the first day of June God sent a great flood. My pony was drowned. I do not know yet why he drowned my pony. In July God let it rain for five days. He thought, 'I will give the old man a happy day.' He sent my son to me. I had not seen him for five years."

"There is something almost irreverent to the mind of the white man," added the missionary, "in the Indian's calm confidence that the Almighty sends the freezing of his seed and the drowning of his son. But he is not, after all, nearer the truth than we, who would seek no cause for such events further back than the weather, or the working of some natural law."

Travellers through the rural portions of France are struck by the universal custom among the peasantry of returning thanks to God for every mercy shown to them, little as they are great.

The walls of the churches are covered with votive offerings and inscriptions, touching in their fervor and simplicity.

Here, for instance, the visitor will see a rudely carved ship, and beneath, "Louis and Jean V—humbly thank the Lord for rescue from shipwreck July 18—."

Here is hung up a baby's worn shoe, and beside it are the words, "Marie will be a cripple no longer. Her mother praises God who has done this thing for her."

White marble tablets with gilded lettering are common. The inscriptions upon them are sometimes intelligible only to the donor, and to God.

Here are one or two. "In gratitude for a signal mercy, August 6, 1891."

"Jesus saved me from beggary, May, 1876."

"Blind for three years. The Lord has given me sight."

One happy bride has enclosed a spray of orange blossoms, and hung it up in the old Breton cathedral at Yannes, with the words, "I have heard my prayer."

It is more natural for these domestic people to express gratitude than for us. But do we have the feeling itself?

We are sure when the catarrh is removed from the eye, or the fever is gone, whether we owe our thanks to the doctor or to some beneficent power beyond him, we hope, in a vague, indefinite way, watches over us for our good?

When the Lord sent Cornelius to find the man who should help his soul in his straits, he did not say, "Somebody in Joppa is a man who can speak of me." He knew just where Peter was. He knew the tanner, and his little flat-roofed house by the seashore, just as he knows the boy who reads the Bible, and understands the need of his daily life—YOUTH'S COMPANION.

A MICHIGAN man deserted his wife because she was deaf and dumb. Some men little know when they have a treasure in the house.

HISTORICAL NICKNAMES.

How some famous men were known to their contemporaries.

English public men of past days were not without nicknames, and what strikes one in connection with them is their peculiarity and designation. To-day these names are evidently on the decrease.

"Orange Peel," the great name, was popularly styled "The Agitator," "The Liberator," "The Big O," and "The Great O."

Sir Robert Peel was for many years familiarly called "Orange Peel," in consequence of his somewhat remarkable opposition to Roman Catholics while acting as chief secretary.

Of Lord Brougham it is related that while practicing at the bar he came in contact with Lord Eldon, who persisted in calling him "Mr. Brougham." Owing to a peculiar twitching of the face Brougham was called "Parliament as 'Harry Twitcher'."

The Duke of Marlborough is known to us best, perhaps, as the "Handsome Englishman," but in his time he was known as "British Bull," "Humphrey Hocus," and "The Big Duke," as his popularity waxed or waned.

Sir Richard Steele was commonly called "the detractor," a 2-penny author," in consequence of his publishing at 2 pence that famous weekly journal, the Tatler. In addition to this he was often referred to by Addison as "Little Dicky."

George Savile (Viscount Halifax) was popularly known as the "Trimmer"—so designated because of his leading a party which vacillated between the Whigs and Tories.

Sir Robert Walpole was known as the "Leviathan," and Horace Walpole, in his letters upon Sir Robert, applies to him the sobriquet of "High-Notion Harry," while Pulteney, the chief, for instance, was known to me on my last visit with an account of his life since I had seen him.

"In April," he said, "God froze my hands in the ground. But a white ranchman gave me some seed, and now we are friends. That is why I now my seed. That I should gain a friend. On the first day of June God sent a great flood. My pony was drowned. I do not know yet why he drowned my pony. In July God let it rain for five days. He thought, 'I will give the old man a happy day.' He sent my son to me. I had not seen him for five years."

"There is something almost irreverent to the mind of the white man," added the missionary, "in the Indian's calm confidence that the Almighty sends the freezing of his seed and the drowning of his son. But he is not, after all, nearer the truth than we, who would seek no cause for such events further back than the weather, or the working of some natural law."

Travellers through the rural portions of France are struck by the universal custom among the peasantry of returning thanks to God for every mercy shown to them, little as they are great.

The walls of the churches are covered with votive offerings and inscriptions, touching in their fervor and simplicity.

Here, for instance, the visitor will see a rudely carved ship, and beneath, "Louis and Jean V—humbly thank the Lord for rescue from shipwreck July 18—."

Here is hung up a baby's worn shoe, and beside it are the words, "Marie will be a cripple no longer. Her mother praises God who has done this thing for her."

White marble tablets with gilded lettering are common. The inscriptions upon them are sometimes intelligible only to the donor, and to God.

Here are one or two. "In gratitude for a signal mercy, August 6, 1891."

"Jesus saved me from beggary, May, 1876."

"Blind for three years. The Lord has given me sight."

One happy bride has enclosed a spray of orange blossoms, and hung it up in the old Breton cathedral at Yannes, with the words, "I have heard my prayer."

A PHANTOM MOUNTAIN.

How some famous men were known to their contemporaries.

English public men of past days were not without nicknames, and what strikes one in connection with them is their peculiarity and designation. To-day these names are evidently on the decrease.

"Orange Peel," the great name, was popularly styled "The Agitator," "The Liberator," "The Big O," and "The Great O."

Sir Robert Peel was for many years familiarly called "Orange Peel," in consequence of his somewhat remarkable opposition to Roman Catholics while acting as chief secretary.

Of Lord Brougham it is related that while practicing at the bar he came in contact with Lord Eldon, who persisted in calling him "Mr. Brougham." Owing to a peculiar twitching of the face Brougham was called "Parliament as 'Harry Twitcher'."

The Duke of Marlborough is known to us best, perhaps, as the "Handsome Englishman," but in his time he was known as "British Bull," "Humphrey Hocus," and "The Big Duke," as his popularity waxed or waned.

Sir Richard Steele was commonly called "the detractor," a 2-penny author," in consequence of his publishing at 2 pence that famous weekly journal, the Tatler. In addition to this he was often referred to by Addison as "Little Dicky."

George Savile (Viscount Halifax) was popularly known as the "Trimmer"—so designated because of his leading a party which vacillated between the Whigs and Tories.

Sir Robert Walpole was known as the "Leviathan," and Horace Walpole, in his letters upon Sir Robert, applies to him the sobriquet of "High-Notion Harry," while Pulteney, the chief, for instance, was known to me on my last visit with an account of his life since I had seen him.

"In April," he said, "God froze my hands in the ground. But a white ranchman gave me some seed, and now we are friends. That is why I now my seed. That I should gain a friend. On the first day of June God sent a great flood. My pony was drowned. I do not know yet why he drowned my pony. In July God let it rain for five days. He thought, 'I will give the old man a happy day.' He sent my son to me. I had not seen him for five years."

"There is something almost irreverent to the mind of the white man," added the missionary, "in the Indian's calm confidence that the Almighty sends the freezing of his seed and the drowning of his son. But he is not, after all, nearer the truth than we, who would seek no cause for such events further back than the weather, or the working of some natural law."

Travellers through the rural portions of France are struck by the universal custom among the peasantry of returning thanks to God for every mercy shown to them, little as they are great.

The walls of the churches are covered with votive offerings and inscriptions, touching in their fervor and simplicity.

Here, for instance, the visitor will see a rudely carved ship, and beneath, "Louis and Jean V—humbly thank the Lord for rescue from shipwreck July 18—."

Here is hung up a baby's worn shoe, and beside it are the words, "Marie will be a cripple no longer. Her mother praises God who has done this thing for her."

White marble tablets with gilded lettering are common. The inscriptions upon them are sometimes intelligible only to the donor, and to God.

Here are one or two. "In gratitude for a signal mercy, August 6, 1891."

"Jesus saved me from beggary, May, 1876."

"Blind for three years. The Lord has given me sight."

One happy bride has enclosed a spray of orange blossoms, and hung it up in the old Breton cathedral at Yannes, with the words, "I have heard my prayer."

POPULAR SCIENCE.

How some famous men were known to their contemporaries.

English public men of past days were not without nicknames, and what strikes one in connection with them is their peculiarity and designation. To-day these names are evidently on the decrease.

"Orange Peel," the great name, was popularly styled "The Agitator," "The Liberator," "The Big O," and "The Great O."

Sir Robert Peel was for many years familiarly called "Orange Peel," in consequence of his somewhat remarkable opposition to Roman Catholics while acting as chief secretary.

Of Lord Brougham it is related that while practicing at the bar he came in contact with Lord Eldon, who persisted in calling him "Mr. Brougham." Owing to a peculiar twitching of the face Brougham was called "Parliament as 'Harry Twitcher'."

The Duke of Marlborough is known to us best, perhaps, as the "Handsome Englishman," but in his time he was known as "British Bull," "Humphrey Hocus," and "The Big Duke," as his popularity waxed or waned.

Sir Richard Steele was commonly called "the detractor," a 2-penny author," in consequence of his publishing at 2 pence that famous weekly journal, the Tatler. In addition to this he was often referred to by Addison as "Little Dicky."

George Savile (Viscount Halifax) was popularly known as the "Trimmer"—so designated because of his leading a party which vacillated between the Whigs and Tories.

Sir Robert Walpole was known as the "Leviathan," and Horace Walpole, in his letters upon Sir Robert, applies to him the sobriquet of "High-Notion Harry," while Pulteney, the chief, for instance, was known to me on my last visit with an account of his life since I had seen him.

"In April," he said, "God froze my hands in the ground. But a white ranchman gave me some seed, and now we are friends. That is why I now my seed. That I should gain a friend. On the first day of June God sent a great flood. My pony was drowned. I do not know yet why he drowned my pony. In July God let it rain for five days. He thought, 'I will give the old man a happy day.' He sent my son to me. I had not seen him for five years."

"There is something almost irreverent to the mind of the white man," added the missionary, "in the Indian's calm confidence that the Almighty sends the freezing of his seed and the drowning of his son. But he is not, after all, nearer the truth than we, who would seek no cause for such events further back than the weather, or the working of some natural law."

Travellers through the rural portions of France are struck by the universal custom among the peasantry of returning thanks to God for every mercy shown to them, little as they are great.

The walls of the churches are covered with votive offerings and inscriptions, touching in their fervor and simplicity.

Here, for instance, the visitor will see a rudely carved ship, and beneath, "Louis and Jean V—humbly thank the Lord for rescue from shipwreck July 18—."

Here is hung up a baby's worn shoe, and beside it are the words, "Marie will be a cripple no longer. Her mother praises God who has done this thing for her."

White marble tablets with gilded lettering are common. The inscriptions upon them are sometimes intelligible only to the donor, and to God.

Here are one or two. "In gratitude for a signal mercy, August 6, 1891."

"Jesus saved me from beggary, May, 1876."

"Blind for three years. The Lord has given me sight."

One happy bride has enclosed a spray of orange blossoms, and hung it up in the old Breton cathedral at Yannes, with the words, "I have heard my prayer."

REV. DR. PALMAGE.

How some famous men were known to their contemporaries.

English public men of past days were not without nicknames, and what strikes one in connection with them is their peculiarity and designation. To-day these names are evidently on the decrease.

"Orange Peel," the great name, was popularly styled "The Agitator," "The Liberator," "The Big O," and "The Great O."

Sir Robert Peel was for many years familiarly called "Orange Peel," in consequence of his somewhat remarkable opposition to Roman Catholics while acting as chief secretary.

Of Lord Brougham it is related that while practicing at the bar he came in contact with Lord Eldon, who persisted in calling him "Mr. Brougham." Owing to a peculiar twitching of the face Brougham was called "Parliament as 'Harry Twitcher'."

The Duke of Marlborough is known to us best, perhaps, as the "Handsome Englishman," but in his time he was known as "British Bull," "Humphrey Hocus," and "The Big Duke," as his popularity waxed or waned.

Sir Richard Steele was commonly called "the detractor," a 2-penny author," in consequence of his publishing at 2 pence that famous weekly journal, the Tatler. In addition to this he was often referred to by Addison as "Little Dicky."

George Savile (Viscount Halifax) was popularly known as the "Trimmer"—so designated because of his leading a party which vacillated between the Whigs and Tories.

Sir Robert Walpole was known as the "Leviathan," and Horace Walpole, in his letters upon Sir Robert, applies to him the sobriquet of "High-Notion Harry," while Pulteney, the chief, for instance, was known to me on my last visit with an account of his life since I had seen him.

"In April," he said, "God froze my hands in the ground. But a white ranchman gave me some seed, and now we are friends. That is why I now my seed. That I should gain a friend. On the first day of June God sent a great flood. My pony was drowned. I do not know yet why he drowned my pony. In July God let it rain for five days. He thought, 'I will give the old man a happy day.' He sent my son to me. I had not seen him for five years."

"There is something almost irreverent to the mind of the white man," added the missionary, "in the Indian's calm confidence that the Almighty sends the freezing of his seed and the drowning of his son. But he is not, after all, nearer the truth than we, who would seek no cause for such events further back than the weather, or the working of some natural law."

Travellers through the rural portions of France are struck by the universal custom among the peasantry of returning thanks to God for every mercy shown to them, little as they are great.

The walls of the churches are covered with votive offerings and inscriptions, touching in their fervor and simplicity.

Here, for instance, the visitor will see a rudely carved ship, and beneath, "Louis and Jean V—humbly thank the Lord for rescue from shipwreck July 18—."

Here is hung up a baby's worn shoe, and beside it are the words, "Marie will be a cripple no longer. Her mother praises God who has done this thing for her."

White marble tablets with gilded lettering are common. The inscriptions upon them are sometimes intelligible only to the donor, and to God.

Here are one or two. "In gratitude for a signal mercy, August 6, 1891."

"Jesus saved me from beggary, May, 1876."

"Blind for three years. The Lord has given me sight."

One happy bride has enclosed a spray of orange blossoms, and hung it up in the old Breton cathedral at Yannes, with the words, "I have heard my prayer."

A JAPANESE EXECUTION.

How some famous men were known to their contemporaries.

English public men of past days were not without nicknames, and what strikes one in connection with them is their peculiarity and designation. To-day these names are evidently on the decrease.

"Orange Peel," the great name, was popularly styled "The Agitator," "The Liberator," "The Big O," and "The Great O."

Sir Robert Peel was for many years familiarly called "Orange Peel," in consequence of his somewhat remarkable opposition to Roman Catholics while acting as chief secretary.

Of Lord Brougham it is related that while practicing at the bar he came in contact with Lord Eldon, who persisted in calling him "Mr. Brougham." Owing to a peculiar twitching of the face Brougham was called "Parliament as 'Harry Twitcher'."

The Duke of Marlborough is known to us best, perhaps, as the "Handsome Englishman," but in his time he was known as "British Bull," "Humphrey Hocus," and "The Big Duke," as his popularity waxed or waned.

Sir Richard Steele was commonly called "the detractor," a 2-penny author," in consequence of his publishing at 2 pence that famous weekly journal, the Tatler. In addition to this he was often referred to by Addison as "Little Dicky."

George Savile (Viscount Halifax) was popularly known as the "Trimmer"—so designated because of his leading a party which vacillated between the Whigs and Tories.

Sir Robert Walpole was known as the "Leviathan," and Horace Walpole, in his letters upon Sir Robert, applies to him the sobriquet of "High-Notion Harry," while Pulteney, the chief, for instance, was known to me on my last visit with an account of his life since I had seen him.

"In April," he said, "God froze my hands in the ground. But a white ranchman gave me some seed, and now we are friends. That is why I now my seed. That I should gain a friend. On the first day of June God sent a great flood. My pony was drowned. I do not know yet why he drowned my pony. In July God let it rain for five days. He thought, 'I will give the old man a happy day.' He sent my son to me. I had not seen him for five years."

"There is something almost irreverent to the mind of the white man," added the missionary, "in the Indian's calm confidence that the Almighty sends the freezing of his seed and the drowning of his son. But he is not, after all, nearer the truth than we, who would seek no cause for such events further back than the weather, or the working of some natural law."

Travellers through the rural portions of France are struck by the universal custom among the peasantry of returning thanks to God for every mercy shown to them, little as they are great.

The walls of the churches are covered with votive offerings and inscriptions, touching in their fervor and simplicity.

Here, for instance, the visitor will see a rudely carved ship, and beneath, "Louis and Jean V—humbly thank the Lord for rescue from shipwreck July 18—."

Here is hung up a baby's worn shoe, and beside it are the words, "Marie will be a cripple no longer. Her mother praises God who has done this thing for her."

White marble tablets with gilded lettering are common. The inscriptions upon them are sometimes intelligible only to the donor, and to God.

Here are one or two. "In gratitude for a signal mercy, August 6, 1891."

"Jesus saved me from beggary, May, 1876."

"Blind for three years. The Lord has given me sight."

One happy bride has enclosed a spray of orange blossoms, and hung it up in the old Breton cathedral at Yannes, with the words, "I have heard my prayer."

FRENCH FEMALE CONVICTS.

How some famous men were known to their contemporaries.

English public men of past days were not without nicknames, and what strikes one in connection with them is their peculiarity and designation. To-day these names are evidently on the decrease.

"Orange Peel," the great name, was popularly styled "The Agitator," "The Liberator," "The Big O," and "The Great O."

Sir Robert Peel was for many years familiarly called "Orange Peel," in consequence of his somewhat remarkable opposition to Roman Catholics while acting as chief secretary.

Of Lord Brougham it is related that while practicing at the bar he came in contact with Lord Eldon, who persisted in calling him "Mr. Brougham." Owing to a peculiar twitching of the face Brougham was called "Parliament as 'Harry Twitcher'."

The Duke of Marlborough is known to us best, perhaps, as the "Handsome Englishman," but in his time he was known as "British Bull," "Humphrey Hocus," and "The Big Duke," as his popularity waxed or waned.

Sir Richard Steele was commonly called "the detractor," a 2-penny author," in consequence of his publishing at 2 pence that famous weekly journal, the Tatler. In addition to this he was often referred to by Addison as "Little Dicky."

George Savile (Viscount Halifax) was popularly known as the "Trimmer"—so designated because of his leading a party which vacillated between the Whigs and Tories.

Sir Robert Walpole was known as the "Leviathan," and Horace Walpole, in his letters upon Sir Robert, applies to him the sobriquet of "High-Notion Harry," while Pulteney, the chief, for instance, was known to me on my last visit with an account of his life since I had seen him.

"In April," he said, "God froze my hands in the ground. But a white ranchman gave me some seed, and now we are friends. That is why I now my seed. That I should gain a friend. On the first day of June God sent a great flood. My pony was drowned. I do not know yet why he drowned my pony. In July God let it rain for five days. He thought, 'I will give the old man a happy day.' He sent my son to me. I had not seen him for five years."

"There is something almost irreverent to the mind of the white man," added the missionary, "in the Indian's calm confidence that the Almighty sends the freezing of his seed and the drowning of his son. But he is not, after all, nearer the truth than we, who would seek no cause for such events further back than the weather, or the working of some natural law."

Travellers through the rural portions of France are struck by the universal custom among the peasantry of returning thanks to God for every mercy shown to them, little as they are great.

The walls of the churches are covered with votive offerings and inscriptions, touching in their fervor and simplicity.

Here, for instance, the visitor will see a rudely carved ship, and beneath, "Louis and Jean V—humbly thank the Lord for rescue from shipwreck July 18—."

Here is hung up a baby's worn shoe, and beside it are the words, "Marie will be a cripple no longer. Her mother praises God who has done this thing for her."

White marble tablets with gilded lettering are common. The inscriptions upon them are sometimes intelligible only to the donor, and to God.

Here are one or two. "In gratitude for a signal mercy, August 6, 1891."

"Jesus saved me from beggary, May, 1876."</

5 DOLLARS TO 20 PER DAY Easily Made.

We want many men, women, boys, and girls to work for us a few hours daily, right in and around their own homes. The business is easy, pleasant, strictly honorable, and pays better than any other offered agents. You have a clear field and no competition. Experience and special ability unnecessary. No capital required. We equip you with everything that you need, treat you well, and help you to earn ten times ordinary wages. Women do as well as men, and boys and girls make good pay. Any one, anywhere, can do the work. All succeed who follow our plain and simple directions. Earnest work will surely bring you a great deal of money. Everything is new and in great demand. Write for our pamphlet circular, and receive full information. No harm done if you conclude not to go on with the business.

GEORGE STINSON & CO.,
Box 488,
PORTLAND, MAINE

Your BOY or GIRL should Learn Short-hand and Type-writing.

Charles Reade on "The Coming Man," says: "The boy or girl who can write short-hand and operate the type-writer is safer from poverty than a Greek Scholar."

PALMER'S Short-hand College.

PHILADELPHIA.
Is the place, if you want a thorough course in a short time. The instructors are specialists. Individual attention is given.
Stenographers furnished to Business Men. Catalogue with list of Graduates sent free.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE

IS THE BEST. NO SQUEAKING. $5. CORDOVAN, FRENCH & ENAMELED CALF. $4.50 FINE CALF & KANGAROO. $3.50 POLICE SHOES. $2.50 WORKINGMEN'S EXTRA FINE. $2.15 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES. LADIES. $3.25 BEST GUNSLA. SEND FOR CATALOGUE. W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS.

You can save money by purchasing W. L. Douglas Shoes.

Because we are the largest manufacturers of advertised shoes in the world, and guarantee the value by stamping the name and price on the bottom, which protects you against high prices and the middleman's profit. Our shoes equal custom work in style, easy fitting and wearing qualities. We have them sold everywhere at lower prices for the value given than any other make. Take no substitute. If your dealer cannot supply you, we can. Sold by

Fruit Growers' Union.

GO TO
Wm. Bernhouse's
Lumber Yard

For all kinds of Lumber, Mill-work,
Window-glass,
Brick, Lime, Cement,
Plaster, Hair, Lath, etc.

Light Fire Woods
For Summer use.

We manufacture

Berry Crates & Chests

Of all kinds. Also,
Cedar Shingles.

We have just received our Spring stock of goods.

Can furnish very nice
Pennsylvania Hemlock

At Bottom Prices. Manufacture our own Flooring. Satisfaction Guaranteed.

Our specialty, this Spring, will be full frame orders.

Your patronages solicited.

J. S. THAYER,
Contractor & Builder

Hammonton, N. J.

Plans, Specifications, and Estimates furnished. Jobbing promptly attended to.

Frank C. Hartshorn,
PRACTICAL

HOUSE PAINTER,

Hammonton, N. J.

Satisfaction guaranteed on all work. Orders by mail attended to.

John G. Mauger, Editor of the Sunbeam, Seligman, Mo., who named Grover Cleveland for the Presidency in Nov. 1882, while he was Mayor of Buffalo, N. Y., is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says, "I have used it for the past five years and consider it the best preparation of the kind in the market. It is as staple as sugar and coffee and should be used in every household. For sale by druggists."

Decision of character is the eloquence of life.

MEN WANTED To take Orders. No delivering or collecting. Experience not necessary. Steady employment. Best terms. Write at once and secure choice of territory. ALLEN NURSERY CO., Rochester, N. Y.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of a writ of fieri facias, to me directed, issued out of the Atlantic County Court of Common Pleas, will be sold at public vendue, on

Friday, Sept. 28th, 1894,

at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, at the Court House in May's Landing, Atlantic County, New Jersey, all that tract of land, situate in the town of Hammonton, and particularly described as:

Beginning at the intersection of Middle and Old Columbia Roads; thence (1) south westerly along the middle of Middle Road one and eleven hundredths of a chain to easterly line of Israel Pemberton's tract; thence (2) thirty six degrees and forty minutes east nine and fifty hundredths of a chain to G. Bowers' line; thence (3) north sixty one and one half degrees east four and eighty eight hundredths of a chain to the middle of Old Columbia Road; thence (4) along the middle of said road northwesterly two and seven hundredths of a chain to its angle; thence (5) along middle of same road nine and one half chains to place of beginning, containing two and three fourths acres, be the same more or less.

Seized as the property of Emma Anderson, and taken in execution at the suit of Angelo Foglietta, and to be sold by SMITH E. JOHNSON, Sheriff.

Dated August 25th, 1894.

J. E. P. Abbott, Attorney.

Pr. fee, $8.95

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of a writ of fieri facias, to me directed, issued out of the New Jersey Court of Chancery, will be sold at public vendue, on

Wednesday, Sept. 26th, 1894,

At two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, at the Court House in May's Landing, Atlantic County, New Jersey,

All that tract of land, hereinafter particularly described, situate in the township of Buena Vista and County of Atlantic and State of New Jersey:

Beginning at a stone set in the Society line between the townships of Buena Vista and Hamilton in said county a corner to lot six of the division of estate of John P. Walker deceased; thence binding on said lot west one hundred chains and fifty eight links to a stone in the Tuckahoe Road; thence along said road north thirty degrees forty seven minutes west twenty chains and sixty six links to a stake in said road; thence still by same north thirty six degrees for y minutes west nine chains and forty three links to a corner in said road; thence still by the same north thirty and three quarter degrees west forty seven links to a stone in the Tuckahoe Road; thence along lot number eight set off to Amelia Hanthorn; thence along the same east one hundred and twenty eight chains and thirty two links to a corner in the said Society line; thence along the same south eight degrees and fifty minutes east sixty one chains to the place of beginning, excepting out of the same one hundred and fourteen acres formerly quit claimed to Edward R. Wood and others, and two and six tenths acres recently sold to the Tuckahoe Improvement Company, and containing within these exceptions five hundred and seventy four and twenty seven one hundredths of an acre of land, being lot number seven of the said John P. Walker's lands, divided by proceedings in partition, and excepting also the land described as follows:

Beginning at the intersection of the center line of the Philadelphia and Seashore Railway with the north line of land formerly divided and belonging to John Hanthorn; thence east along the line of said Hanthorn ninety feet; thence south eight degrees twenty minutes east parallel with the center line of said railway four thousand and twenty nine feet to the south line of said John Hanthorn's land; thence along said line west crossing said railway one hundred and eighty feet; thence north eight degrees twenty minutes west four thousand and twenty nine feet parallel with center line of the railway as aforesaid to the aforesaid north Hanthorn line; thence along the same east ninety feet to the place of beginning, containing sixteen and one half acres, more or less, including the right way of the said Philadelphia and Seashore Railway.

Also the following tract of land:

Beginning at corner of lands of John D. Williams in the center of Tuckahoe Road; thence north thirty one degrees west along center of said road twenty four feet to a stone set in the Tuckahoe Road; thence north fifty two degrees ten minutes east six hundred and sixty five feet; thence south thirty seven degrees and fifty minutes east four hundred and ninety eight feet to line of said J. W. Williams' land; thence along same south eighty eight degrees west eight hundred and fourteen feet to place of beginning, containing four acres, more or less.

And also the following tract of land:

Beginning at a point in said north Hanthorn line being northwest corner of said first above described lot, and extending thence along said line west four thousand five hundred feet to Main Avenue; thence by same south five degrees and fifty six feet; thence east four thousand and thirty feet, more or less, to line of first above described; thence by same to place of beginning, containing fifty one acres, more or less.

Seized as the property of the Richmond Improvement Company, and taken in execution at suit of William Moland, and to be sold by

SMITH E. JOHNSON, Sheriff.

Dated August 18, 1894.

ROBERT H. INGERSOLL, Solicitor.

Pr. fee, $12.25

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS

Cleanse the Bowels and Purify the Blood! Cure Diarrhoea, Dysentery and Dyspepsia, and give healthy action to the entire system.

GIVE THE YOUNG

people a practical education by sending them to the SPENCERIAN COLLEGE OF BUSINESS AND SHORTHAND, 1207 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia. One term will do more good than three in any other kind of school. Catalogues and Commencement proceedings on application.

PATENTS

CAVEATS, TRADE MARKS, COPYRIGHTS.

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT? For a prompt answer and an honest opinion, write to BURN & CO. who have had nearly fifty years' experience in the patent business. Communications strictly confidential. A Handbook of information concerning Patents and how to obtain them sent free. Also a catalogue of mechanical and scientific books sent free.

Patents taken through BURN & CO. receive special notice in the American Inventor, and thus are brought widely before the public without cost to the inventor. This splendid paper, issued weekly, elegantly illustrated, has by far the largest circulation of any scientific work in the world. $3 a year. Sample copies sent free.

Building Edition, monthly, $1.50 a year. Single copies, 25 cents. Every number contains beautiful plates, in colors, and photographs of houses, with plans, enabling builders to show the latest designs and secure contracts. Address BURN & CO., NEW YORK, 361 BROADWAY.

The St. Louis Republic has collected the opinions of a number of scientists concerning the probable fate of the last man.

1. The surface of the earth is slowly but surely diminishing; and all the landed portion will be submerged and the last man will be drowned.

2. The ice is gradually accumulating at the North Pole and slowly melting away at the South; eventually the earth's center of gravity will suddenly change and the last man will be crushed by the rush of movables that will quickly glide over its surface.

3. There is a retarding medium in her revolutions which will finally cease, causing a gradual velocity in all of the planets. The earth will then draw nearer and nearer to the sun until the last man will be literally roasted off the face of the earth.

4. The amount of water on the earth's surface is slowly drying up; the last man will die begging for a drop of moisture with which to wet his parched tongue.

5. A gigantic planet or comet is likely to tumble into the great sea of gas which surrounds the sun. In that event our great luminary would blaze up and burn the earth and all other planets to cinders.

6. Beginning with the year 3000 A.D., humanity will commence to retrograde, and by the end of the year 1,000,000 man will be no larger and have no more intelligence than a plant louse. In that event there will be no "last man."

7. The sun's fires will gradually burn out and the temperature cool; in consequence the earth's glacial zones will enlarge, driving all shivering humanity toward the equator. At last the habitable space will lessen to nothing, and overcrowded humanity will be frozen in a heap.

The sugar planters of Louisiana have come to the conclusion that this country cannot afford to do without production. They were rather slow in finding this out but they seem to have learned the lesson thoroughly.

Prior to the election the Republican leaders in Maine, after a careful canvass of the situation, felt warranted in predicting a plurality of 18,000. The fact that this estimated plurality was more than doubled shows that the Maine Republicans are very conservative calculators.

The Philadelphia Press asks: "If the present tariff was not good enough for the leader of the Democratic party to sign, is it good enough for any member of the party to defend?" Very neatly put and suggests the query, if the bill is so bad what shall be said of the party that afflicts the country with it?

Among the definitions in a new English dictionary are these: Bicycle—Pleasure's treadmill. Ink—A black fluid often used to make black seem white.

There is as little mercy in stabbing with a word as there is in doing it with a knife.

The worst thing about an astigmatism—physical or moral—is that one doesn't know one has it.

Palmer's Shorthand College, Betz Building, Philadelphia, assists its graduates in securing remunerative employment. Many of the private secretaries and amanuenses of prominent business men in Philadelphia, obtained their knowledge at this institution.

Aunt Samantha is visiting at a house in the country. She is an old maid and very devout, always concluding her prayers with the Gloria. "Why does she say such funny things in her prayers?" asked the little one of the house. "What does she say?" replied the fond mamma. "I don't remember all she says, but she always ends with 'World without men, ah me!'"

Wm. Rutherford,

Commissioner of Deeds,
Notary Public,
Conveyancer,

Real Estate & Insurance Agt
HAMMONTON, N. J.

Insurance placed only in the most reliable companies.

Deeds, Leases, Mortgages, Etc.

Carefully drawn.

OCEAN TICKETS

and from all ports of Europe. Correspondence solicited.

Send a postal card order for a true sketch of Hammonton.

A. J. KING,

Resident Lawyer,
Master in Chancery, Notary Public, Real Estate and Insurance Agent.

Insures in No. 1 companies, and at the lowest rates. Personal attention given to all business.

HOYT & SONS

Solicit your orders for

Any Kind of Printing.

Prices always fair.

Satisfaction guaranteed

Atlantic City R. R.

June 28th, 1894.

DOWN TRAINS.

UP TRAINS.

STATIONS.

Acco. p.m. Exp. p.m. Acco. p.m. Exp. p.m. Acco. a.m. Exp. a.m. Acco. a.m. Exp. a.m. Acco. p.m. Exp. p.m.

Philadelphia 6:30 5:00 4:45 3:00 10:45 8:00 6:25 7:55 10:10 10:25 6:55 6:40

Camden 6:43 5:12 4:58 3:12 10:57 8:15 6:38 7:48 10:18 10:33 6:49 6:48

Haddonfield 6:50 5:19 5:05 3:19 11:04 8:22 6:45 7:55 10:25 10:40 6:56 6:55

Berlin 7:00 5:29 5:15 3:29 11:14 8:32 6:55 8:05 10:35 10:50 7:06 7:05

Atco 7:10 5:39 5:25 3:39 11:24 8:42 7:05 8:15 10:45 11:00 7:16 7:15

Waterford 7:20 5:49 5:35 3:49 11:34 8:52 7:15 8:25 10:55 11:10 7:26 7:25

Winslow 7:30 5:59 5:45 3:59 11:44 9:02 7:25 8:35 11:05 11:20 7:36 7:35

Hammonton 7:40 6:09 5:55 4:09 11:54 9:12 7:35 8:45 11:15 11:30 7:46 7:45

Da Costa 7:50 6:19 6:05 4:19 12:04 9:22 7:45 8:55 11:25 11:40 7:56 7:55

Elwood 8:00 6:29 6:15 4:29 12:14 9:32 7:55 9:05 11:35 11:50 8:06 8:05

Egg Harbor City 8:10 6:39 6:25 4:39 12:24 9:42 8:05 9:15 11:45 12:00 8:16 8:15

Brigantine 8:20 6:49 6:35 4:49 12:34 9:52 8:15 9:25 11:55 12:10 8:26 8:25

Pleasantville 8:30 6:59 6:45 4:59 12:44 10:02 8:25 9:35 12:05 12:20 8:36 8:35

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38

Atlantic City 8:33 7:02 6:48 5:02 12:47 10:05 8:28 9:38 12:08 12:23 8:39 8:38