SATURDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1913

Every day or so we read, or hear, of fatal automobile or motorcycle accidents,—one of the most serious being the past week in Philadelphia,—and investigation developed the fact that in this case (as in most of them) the driver and his five companions were intoxicated, and all were killed. Authorities are waking up to the danger of giving licenses to habitual drinkers. They not only endanger the lives of their passengers, but other cars, teams, and pedestrians along the road. We were pleased to read the following, from a city daily:

"No mercy is to be shown by the State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Lippincott, to persons found guilty of driving automobiles while intoxicated. Mr. Lippincott to-day revoked the license of one person on this ground, declaring this was a serious offence and in every case the license will be revoked."

Rain was needed very badly, until Thursday night's down-pour. Not that vegetation was suffering, but roads were all grinding up to dust—almost ankle deep in spots, on some of our best streets.

Election Day is only three weeks off,—Nov. 5th. Columbus Day—to-day—is a legal holiday in twenty-four States; and for that reason State Institutions—Banks and Schools—will be closed.

Reliable authorities claim that the glutrine used on Bellevue Ave. has been a good thing,—cementing the gravel together into a hard, rock-like mass, and shedding the water off into the gutters. We are inclined to agree with this, having observed the difficulty with which excavations have recently been made. Another application is to be made, after a good scraping.

Through the efforts of Miss Hershey, and the local Committee, the Chautauqua of 1913 has been made a sure thing. Over four hundred tickets had been engaged; and during the past week, forty citizens became responsible for five tickets each,—completing the six hundred. It's not likely that any of them will be called on for even a dollar,—for the movement has grown to be a popular one. A. L. Jackson, Sec'y., will receive subscriptions for tickets, and see that they are delivered.

Bellevue traffic is badly handicapped by the cross-walk installation. But it won't last long.

The Lecture Course is an uplift, and has done much for the town. Have you purchased your tickets?

Wasn't Thursday a warm one, for this time of the year?

If you are not dead-stuck on Taft or Wilson, attend the Progressive Party's meetings. Come anyhow.

Main Road is fine, clear out to Walker. Glutrine may be spread, to hold it down. But oh those sidewalks! They are way, way down, and almost out of sight under rubbish and over-hanging hedges.

Town Council Proceedings.

There were no absentees at Wednesday night's meeting, although several were tardy.

Fire, Water and Light Committee reported contract for lights about ready; also, that Co. No. 1 need new electric hose.

Special Committee on Cappuccino claim for damaged wagon and hay rake, were not in favor of paying the claim.

A. C. S. Newcomb, agent for the estate, gave permission for removal of tree in the sidewalk at Vine St. and Egg Harbor Road.

What it means to Save.
Saving means Strength—Self-discipline.

The man who saves carries the stamp of thrift, purpose, and stability. More than this, saving develops these qualities in one who does not possess them.

And it is the regular, persistent method of laying money aside that really counts. The start is to open an account here, then add to it as the pay envelope comes in every week.

We invite small accounts, as well as large ones.

Three per cent interest paid on every dollar deposited in our Time Department.

Searching parties found his body on Wednesday, in the woods about two miles from Elwood.

Campaign Notes.

HAMMONTON, N. J., Oct. 8, 1912.

Governor Wilson has taken a new departure in his speeches.
His assistant, Mr. Brandies, stated that the Progressive platform contained nothing favoring the right of organization of union labor, and Wilson, parrot-like, repeated it in exact words. Brandies' attention was called to the fact that John Mitchell wrote an article on this subject for this platform, and that it was inserted exactly as Mitchell wrote it. Brandies was requested to correct his error, but did not do so. If he and Wilson were fair-minded, honest men, they would have withdrawn that statement.
In the first place, there was no excuse for it. They should have read that platform carefully before saying what it did not contain; and later should not have allowed a disinclination to own up to a false statement to hold them back.
Their whole course in this matter is inexcusable.

Another point Wilson has recently made, is that if Roosevelt were to be elected, he would find Congress so much against his policies that he would be powerless.
This being a matter of opinion only, is not an unfair weapon to use; but there are several points of view from which to look. Those who believe in the Progressive party would regard the election of Roosevelt as so much gained as a starter; and some shrewd men, who have made a study of the situation, think Wilson, if elected, would have same handicap.

A third move Wilson has made, is to represent that Roosevelt is the best friend the Trusts have. It is a well known fact that New Jersey may be considered the hot-bed of Trusts, and that she has doctored her laws in a way to invite them to come here for their charters. Practically, in the form of license, she has issued Letters-of-Marque to them, to make piratical incursion into neighboring states. A number of the worst Trusts we have operate under New Jersey charters.

The fact that Gov. Wilson gave a large space in his inaugural address to this subject, and urged that the state stop the licensuring of trusts,—going so far as to say that the right to regulate those which had already been licensed was susceptible of easy justification, indicates that he had studied the subject, and was disposed to have it righted; but for some reason not given, he did not refer to it in any subsequent message; nor was any bill introduced on the subject. Did he see obstacles in his path, or was his time so fully occupied in campaigning—for a higher position as to leave no time to attend to it?

However this may be, Roosevelt was the first to undertake regulation of Trusts, and has consistently tried to carry it through; but the Trust had great influence in Congress, and it is evident that they also had enough influence in the Courts to block effective work. I can see no hope for any satisfactory solution except through Roosevelt and the Progressive party.

President Elliott, of Harvard, has come out for Woodrow Wilson, and gives his reasons for opposing Roosevelt in a rather lengthy article in the "New York Times." Prof.
Albert Bushnell, Hart Prof. of Government Science in the same College, has written a reply, to the "Times," which is so well written, and so conclusive, that I regret the lack of space to republish it in the "Republican." Every sentence is so good, and so necessary to give its whole meaning, that extracts would not be profitable.

Prof. Hart's conclusion is that there are certain reforms in government demanded by the people, and that there is a very strong Socialistic element behind it; that unless a reasonable portion of these demands are met by something like the Progressive party, it will result in the election of a Socialist President in sixteen years; that such election would mean that a Socialist Committee will be President, and if the candidate ventures to doubt it he will very promptly be shown his error.

Where 2=3

Here are some definite statements and facts to show that you either delude yourself or are unknowingly humbugged when you buy inferior paint.

A gallon of low priced paint won't cover more than 200 to 250 square feet, two coats. The label on the can and the printed matter concerning the paint often even tells you that.

A gallon of

Lucas
TINTED GLOSS
PAINT

ONCE USED-ALWAYS PREFERRED covers at least 300 square feet, two coats.

When you use inferior paint you must buy three gallons to do the work that could be done with two gallons of Tinted Gloss and besides you've got to pay for the additional time and labor required to apply the greater amount of an inferior paint.

Remember these things when you buy paint and then you won't fool yourself or be fooled.
