A Word to Our Boys.

Boys, be careful. Many a boy has made a good impression when he did not not even know he was being watched. Business men are continually watching the boys. If they see one boy coming out of a saloon, with a cigarette between his lips, and the other with a clean collar on, coming out of Sunday School, it doesn't take long for them to decide which one of the boys they want to employ.

In a conspicuous place in the Temple at Ocean Grove are these impressive words, in large letters: Sow a thought, reap an act; Sow an act, reap a habit; Sow a habit, reap a character; Sow a character, reap a destiny.

Don't forget, boys, that "Whatever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

Board of Trade.

There was a right lively session on Monday evening. The fun began when Secretary Cunningham read from the minutes that a certain committee "reported progress, as usual," and another made no report because they had done nothing. Members of both committees were on their feet and protesting; but they got things mixed up, and only succeeded in expunging the words "as usual."

The attendance of members and others was unusually large. Committees all reported "progress," with some explanations of a proposed system of advertising in widely circulating periodicals.

A member of the firm of Stott Bros., manufacturers of fine cut glassware in Mayavank, Philadelphia, was present, having a mind to establish here or elsewhere an annex to their already large factory. He wished to know what inducements would be offered for their location in Hammonton. A free for all discussion brought out that Mr. Stott proposed to start the annex with forty or fifty employees, among them quite a number of our own boys who are now working for this firm; that all hands work on salary,—apprentices earning from three to seven dollars per week; the journeymen from fourteen to twenty dollars, with steady work all the year. The gentleman made a decidedly favorable impression upon the Board and a large number of visitors. He was given to understand that no money consideration would be offered, but two buildings would be shown him, either to be rent free for a stated term. Of course he was informed as to the excellent facilities, good character of people, healthfulness, etc. Messrs. Jackson, Colwell, and Cogge were appointed a committee to meet Mr. Stott on Tuesday morning and show him every attention.

It was also stated that Messrs. Lewis & Co., the Burlington shoe manufacturers, appeared to be very favorably impressed with Hammonton, and the prospect of their moving hither seemed bright.

On Tuesday morning the committee met Mr. Stott, showed him the old glass factory building, at which he shook his head, as was expected. The hosiery building was more satisfactory, and while the visitor was not prepared to make a decision, his words and manner, before leaving, left the impression that he favored locating here. He left with a promise to write more definitely, very soon.

COAL!

It is a matter of local interest that the great coal strike is virtually ended. At midnight of Wednesday, President Roosevelt's proposition for arbitration was accepted by both sides, and the arbitrators appointed, John Mitchell, the miners' leader, has issued a call for convention to be held next Monday, and the prospect is that work will be resumed on Wednesday. If so, we may look for coal in Hammoncton in from two to three weeks.

Special Town Meeting.

The special meeting was held on Thursday afternoon. Mr. L. Jackson, Chairman, T. L. O'Donnell, Secy.

By request, Mr. Hutton, engineer, made a detailed statement of work done on the water plant, and money spent or contracted for, which footed up $29,175.12. But we must yet have boilers, pumps, compressor, a power house, the cost of all, being estimated at over $100,000.

Statement was made that the bonds we offer for sale are illegal because we placed on the ballot, voted a specified sum, contrary to law.

A long discussion followed, after which a resolution was adopted, instructing Council to take the necessary steps to hold a special election, to be conducted strictly according to law, to provide for a public water supply.

It is intended to ignore all proceedings in connection with the previously ordered issue of bonds, and to issue a sufficient amount to cover the whole expense of a completed water plant.

A resolution was adopted, to the effect that "It is the sense of this meeting that the entire cost of our water plant should not exceed forty-five thousand dollars."

Adjourned.

Sunday visited David S. Cunningham's barn, last Sunday night, and in the morning the entire flock was gone, except one lonely hen who had been by herself and must have been overlooked. The mystery deepened, two days later, when the father of the flock came wearily homeward, minus his tail feathers, with his head like that of an old hen who has spent the night "with the boys." Now David wonders where the balance of the birds (two hens) are detained.

The crowd of young people who have been holding corn-roasts, chicken-roasts, sweet-potato-roasts and the like, during the summer, ended the season with a chestnut-roast, one evening last week at the home of the Misses Saxton. As usual, they built a large bonfire, and when it burned down to a good bed of coals, the roast commenced. Eight or ten quarts of chestnuts were made away with; and they grew within a few feet of where they were roasted. Next year they propose to have one roast, at least, down the bay, with chains as the chief victim.

Town Council Meeting.

There was a special meeting on Wednesday evening, in regard to the water bond issue.

President Boyer stated that the Bank had informed him that their lawyers, Messrs. Thompson & Cole, had agreed with Mr. Colwell, Dick Brothers' counsel, and they could not purchase the bonds. Mr. Boyer consulted Solicitor Chandler, who made this statement: "I know your bonds are legal, and if the Bank will not take them I will prove my decision by furnishing a customer for them within twenty-four hours."

He claimed, as did the Board, that last week, that we can vote any amount up to the law's limit, $80,000.

After discussion, the Chairman was instructed to get a written statement from the Bank, and then authorize Mr. Chandler to open negotiations with the party he referred to.

On Thursday evening, another meeting was held. It was decided to hold a joint meeting, to-night, of the Council, the Water Commissioners, and the two Chairmen of Election Boards, to make arrangements for special election.

A bus-load, including Mrs. Kate Aitken, Mrs. Taylor and little son, Misses Nellie and Lella DeFay, Martha and Mary Saxton, Nora Monfort, and Fred Whitmore and wife, took a trip to New Greta on Saturday last. They arrived at Capt. Crowley's at 10.30, and were warmly welcomed by the genial Captain and his wife. Preparations were at once made for dinner, and a game feed it was—baked beans, roasted chicken,—but we will go no further. After dinner they boarded a naphtha launch, manned by Captain Allen L. Booy, and took a thirty mile ride down the river and bay, getting back in time for supper, which was a repetition of dinner, with oysters and a few other such dishes added. Rain fell all day, and they arrived home in a blinding thunder storm, at half-past twelve. As the bus neared the Bank, the wheels slid into a miserably filled ditch left by the water contractor, and turned over, dumping its occupants into the mud. Fortunately, no-one hurt. All agreed that it was one of the most enjoyable days they ever spent.

Bias Peto and Antonio Ponz are in a peck of trouble, all because of a few bottles of beer. When Flori was charged with selling without a license last August, these two, with another, swore that they bought beer of the accused, and paid him for it. When the case came to trial at Mays Landing, they swore that they did not buy the beer,—it was given to them by Flori, and they, knowing he was too poor to give it away, threw the money onto the table, "for the children." On Monday night the two men named were brought before Justice Garton, charged by E. W. Batchelor with perjury. Three witnesses swore to the evidence they gave in August, three to their statement in Court; and the two stories being contradictory, Peto and Ponz were held in three hundred dollars each to appear for trial at the December term of Court.

Albert VanWinkle Setley, of New York, late of Hammoncton, and Miss Carolyn Newbold Gibbs, of Lambertville, N. J., were married on Wednesday, Oct. 16th, 1902, in the First Presbyterian Church, Lambertville. Rev. H. A. Mackintosh officiating. Dr. Wm. James Jefferson was best man; Miss Madeline Belle Carlschaff, maid of honor. Among the ushers were Dr. A. Krout, Rev. S. Paul Jefferson, and Dr. H. H. Tomlin. Both happy young people are well known in Hammoncton, and have the cordial good wishes of a host of friends, including the Editors.

Mr. P. J. Monroe, of Anglosa, who spent much of last year in Hammoncton, is again at Hotel Royal, for the winter.

Mr. Benj. Tomlin is beginning to get about again.

The Board of Managers of the New Jersey Children's Home Society have decided to appropriate the McKinley Memorial Fund to the erection of a Receiving Home for the Society's children while awaiting placement in family homes. For the past year the society has rented a building for this purpose, in which they have had an average of nineteen children a month, each child remaining in the home an average of two weeks. Subscriptions to the fund have reached upward of $6000, and the officers are confident that with the beginning of building operations this sum will be substantially increased.

During the eight years in which the society has been in operation, 753 homeless children have been received, and 688 have been placed. This does not take into account replacements. In each instance these children have been placed in selected family homes, where they are sent to school and given the very best advantages.

The Superintendent, at his office in Trenton, is constantly in receipt of inquiries from all parts of the state regarding homeless children, and also from families wishing to secure children. He and his agents are kept busy all the while investigating these inquiries and making arrangements for the reception and sending out of children.
