One F. F. Tibbetts came here a few weeks ago, a stranger, rented a good stand, and opened a shop for repairing and reupholstering furniture, selling also at auction or privately. He was apparently doing well, but on Wednesday he started on foot for Winslow, ostensibly on business, and neglected to return. Persons who had goods in his place, for sale, or sold, want their money; so does his landlord, and his employees and others would also like to see him.

The monthly meeting of the Poultry Raisers Association will be held next Wednesday evening, Oct. 23rd, in the Trust Company's parlor. These meetings have been of great interest to members and others. As the association keeps in close touch with the State Experiment Station, the Bulletin for September, to association members, was of great value, and can be used as a text-book on successful poultry culture. There will be a lecture on poultry during the week of Nov. 6th, details of which will be given later. The third annual poultry show will be held in Union Hall, December 3rd, 4th, and 5th. Judging by the inquiries and the entries, this year's show will far surpass any former one held here, both as to number and quality of exhibits. If you are not a member of this association, yet interested in poultry, why not unite with us? Remember our aim: "Better poultry; more of it; and better markets for our product."

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1912

For President, —THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

For Vice-President, —HIRAM W. JOHNSON.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt Shot!

Dastardly attempt on the life of our favorite candidate for the Presidency, by a fanatic.

Monday evening, as Col. Roosevelt and party were leaving their hotel in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for the auditorium, Mr. R. stood up in his automobile, answering the cheers of the crowd. With him were his secretaries and others. Suddenly, a stranger forced his way through, and pointing a revolver at Mr. R., fired a shot at short range, the ball entering his right side, after passing through his heavy overcoat and other clothing, and a package of manuscript in his pocket.

Instantly there was intense excitement; but Stenographer Martin, a stalwart ex-foot-ball player, leaped from the auto, bore the would-be assassin to the ground and disarmed him. It required the Colonel's strenuous entreaties, and quick police action, to prevent speedy lynching.

The Colonel protested that he had not been struck, and insisted on proceeding at once to the auditorium; but on a way a hole was discovered in his overcoat, and he himself found blood issuing from his breast. In a dressing room, physicians examined him, and finding no apparent danger from the wound, the Colonel insisted on keeping his engagement, and spoke for an hour.

Later, taken to a hospital, it was found that the bullet (a .38) had entered his right side, just below and to the right of the nipple, going upward and lodging near the breast-bone, breaking a rib enroute. He was taken on a night train to Chicago, where a room was ready in the Mercy Hospital. Everything is being done for him, and at latest accounts there was every prospect of his speedy recovery.

The assassin is John Schrank, a native of Bavaria, where he is recorded as a deserter from the army. He has lived for years in New York, a quiet, strange-looking man, who made few friends. Evidently his mind is disordered, as he claims that Col. Roosevelt has proven himself a traitor to his country by seeking "a third term" as President. He claims that it was his own plan, that he had conferred with no one, was alone responsible; but he considered his duty to remove the traitor for his country's good. The wretch will be shown no mercy.

From everywhere, every State and Nation, come words of horror at the crime, and sympathy for the sufferer and his family.

Telegrams such as these were received by the ex-President: "The bullet has not yet been maddled that can kill a man of your strength of body and character." "If your hearing in this assault upon your person you have completely repelled the more malicious assaults upon your reputation."

Despite the fact that Theodore Roosevelt was cheated out of his rightful nomination at Chicago, ridiculed, slandered, and called the "third term" by his enemies, and finally shot down by an unfortunate whose mind had been (even more so than their's) unbalanced by yellow journalism and platform falsehoods, we expect, and shall work to that end, to see this splendid specimen of red blooded American manhood in Washington, in a few months, doing business for the "common people."

We have always admired T. R., and his picture (framed) has hung in our sanctum for several years.

If Col. Roosevelt fully recovers from his injuries, it will be largely due to his clean, temperate, and stout life.

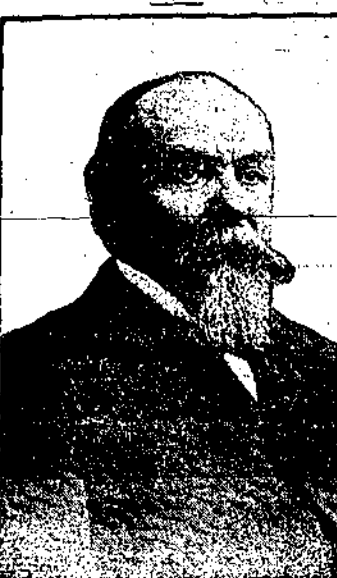

We invite our readers, especially our Italian friends, to study the cartoon on page seven of this issue.

A reader wishes to know why our "Bull Moose" correspondent Wm. F. Bassett, devotes his attention almost exclusively to Woodrow Wilson. Here's why: he considers Wm. H. Taft out of the race, his election impossible, and believes the choice to be between Roosevelt and Wilson. And we agree with him, hence publish his articles with our approval.

Register next Tuesday, or not at all. Don't trust strangers, with your pocket book or furniture. You'll get stung, sure as gum.

What it means to Save.

Saving means Strength—Self-discipline.

The man who saves carries the stamp of thrift, purpose, and stability. More than this, saving develops these qualities in one who does not possess them.

And it is the regular, persistent method of laying money aside that really counts. The start is to open an account here, then add to it as the pay envelope comes in every week.

We invite small accounts, as well as large ones. Three per cent interest paid on every dollar deposited in our Time Department.

AN ORDINANCE to provide for the appointment of three Commissioners to assess upon the Town of Hammonton and upon the parcels of ground abutting upon certain streets in the Town of Hammonton, their respective shares of the costs and expenses of improving the said streets with sidewalks and curbing, in accordance with the provisions of an ordinance of the Town of Hammonton, dated on the twenty-first day of July, A. D.
1912, nineteen hundred and eleven, and enacted as follows:
"An Ordinance to provide for the improvement of portions of certain streets in the Town of Hammonton, New Jersey, with sidewalks and curbing, in accordance with the provisions of the Charter of the Town of Hammonton and an Act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, approved on the sixteenth day of April, nineteen hundred and nine, entitled, "An Act to authorize the governing body of any municipality in this State to provide for the improvement of any street, highway or other public highway therein, with suitable curbing, gutters, and sidewalks, and for providing for the payment thereof." WHEREAS, the Town Council of the Town of Hammonton duly passed an ordinance on the twenty-first day of July, A. D. 1912, nineteen hundred and eleven, in accordance with the provisions of the Charter of the Town of Ham-monton and an Act of the Legislature of the Campaign Notes.

Hammonton, N. J., Oct. 17, 1912.
Governor Wilson has repeatedly stated that the United States Steel Corporation is supporting Roosevelt and the Progressive party.
The day after Wilson made this statement, Dow Jones & Co., the publishers of the "Wall Street Journal," sent the following telegram to various brokers:
"According to a director of the U. S. Steel Corporation, if Roosevelt gets three votes from directors of this corporation, he will be lucky. There are twenty-three members in this directorate; Wilson will get more votes than Taft, and Col. Roosevelt will be a bad third."
Roosevelt, of course, demanded proof or a retraction. As you see, the proofs were all on the other side; but instead of retracting and apologizing for the error, which was the only fair and manly course, Wilson dodged the issue, and stated that he only intended his words to mean that the U. S. Steel Corporation were backing up Roosevelt in their thoughts.
Now, I submit to the readers of the "Republican" whether this sounds more like the broad-minded view which would reasonably be expected from an ex-President of a great university, a Governor of an important state like New Jersey, and a candidate for Presidency of the United States, or like a six-year-old schoolboy caught in a bad corner?

One of our foremost agricultural papers makes the statement that in pursuance of the recent law of New Jersey, requiring that sample ballots be sent to all voters before primary election, there were in one county 11,000 such sample ballots returned from the post-office, having been addressed to names of voters who could not be found.
There would naturally be a few deaths, and some removals, but nearly all of these can be accounted for only as being repeaters, introduced to vote fraudulently at the previous election.

Governor Wilson and the Democratic officials of the state have prosecuted several men for similar frauds in Atlantic County; but if they ever attempted to punish those in Hudson County, who perpetrated these frauds, the fact has never come to my notice. Is this because Atlantic County is Republican, and the other Democratic? and that the imported votes contributed largely to the election of Governor Wilson?

Artisans' Open Meeting.

Hammonton Assembly, No. 19, held a special meeting on Tuesday evening. The initiation work was done by officers of the Most Eminent Assembly, and was very impressive. At the close, the doors were thrown open, and invited guests were cordially welcomed by the members. The objects and principles of the Order were fully explained by the visiting officers, —which, by the way, the citizens of Hammonton seem to be amazingly ignorant of.

The committee of entertainment had a unique program. When Dr.
Waas is on the committee, there is sure to be something doing.
A lunch was enjoyed by the company, served in the hall. The invited friends who were not present missed something that does not often cross their paths. N.

Rally of the Wilson and Marshall Club, in Bellevue Hall, Hammonton,

Oct. 23rd, to meet and hear some of the candidates. X

Lucas Tinted Gloss Paint
Where 2=3
Here are some definite statements and facts to show that you either delude yourself or are unknowingly humbugged when you buy inferior paint.
A gallon of low priced paint won't cover more than 200 to 250 square feet, two coats. The label on the can and the printed matter concerning the paint often even tells you that.
A gallon of
ONCE USED ALWAYS PREFERRED covers at least 300 square feet, two coats.
When you use inferior paint you must buy three gallons to do the work that could be done with two gallons of Tinted Gloss and besides you've got to pay for the additional time and labor required to apply the greater amount of an inferior paint.
Remember these things when you buy paint and then you won't fool yourself or be fooled.
