

South Jersey Republican

Hoyt & Son, Publishers.

Terms--$1.25 Per Year.

VOL. 42

Ten
Pages

HAMMONTON, N. J., OCTOBER 22, 1904.

NO. 43

That Ugly Hack!

It's come back again, has it? Evidently there was a little inflammation in bronchial tubes, that didn't annoy you in the warm months, but now you cough a little on frosty mornings.

Kenyon's White Pine Balsam is what you need, and you should take it right away. It warms the spot. 25 cents per bottle.

RED CROSS PHARMACY—
Matlack & Pierson.

UNDERTAKER

EMBALMER

ELWOOD P. JONES,

Successor to

W. A. HOOD & CO.

Office and Residence, 216 Bellevue Ave. Phone 3-Y

Wax Flowers, Figures, etc., for funerals and memorial services, furnished on short notice.

The - Old - Reliable - and - Popular - Favorite - Circus

Sig. SAUTELLE'S

Nine Consolidated

RAILROAD SHOWS

Will exhibit in

Hammonton

Rain or shine—afternoon and evening of

Saturday, October 29th

2 Circuses. 2 Museums. 2 Menageries. 2 Hippodromes
One Historical Wild West.

Most Complete Menagerie Under Canvas

Herd of Elephants, drove of Camels, baby Elephant, largest Elephant in captivity, litter of Lion Cubs, baby Kangaroo, Lions, Tigers, Zebras, etc. Radiant in new dress, the Sautelle Circus is now larger, grander, and better than ever before. 2 huge circus rings, 2 elevated Olympian stages, mammoth double hippodrome and race course, big double Zoological display, stupendous museum of human freaks.

A Grand Series of Chariot Jockey and Hurdle Races

A - Big - Free - Street - Parade

At ten o'clock a m.

A Monstrous Melange of Majestic Moving Marvels

Admission, - - Adults, 50 Cents

Children under 12 years, 25 cents
Cheap Railroad Excursions.

W. O. T. U.

This space belongs to the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and its members are responsible for what they publish.

Cause of Prosperity in Kansas.

Notwithstanding crops in Kansas are not up to former years, the people have over $1,000,000 in the banks in 1904. Forty counties have sent no convict to prison this year, forty-five counties had no one in the jails, and Hodgeman County has had no one for three years. In the consumption of beer and whiskey, we are very much below that of the adjoining states, as Nebraska consumed twenty-two times as much beer as Kansas. There are only a few cities in Kansas where the traffic is fined, yet the taxes are lower than in licensed states. While the great strike of the A. T. & S. F. R.R., was settled in less than a week, with no open saloon in the city, in Colorado they had their strike for over a year, with all the picnics the saloon could provide, having them open on every corner and block to sell the stuff that made the men unruly. While prohibition is the best home builder, it is also the best friend of labor and capital, and when both help to establish prohibition they help their own cause and that of humanity.

PRESS SUPT.

Young People's Societies.

This space is devoted to the interests of the Young People's Societies of the various Churches. Special items of interest, and announcements are solicited.

Y. P. S. C. E.,—Presbyterian Church:
Meets Sunday evening, at 6:45.

Topic, "How can we enlarge and improve our work?" Matt. 21: 17-22; Isa. 54: 2. Leader, Mrs. H. Zielz.

Y. P. S. C. E.,—Baptist Church:
Meets Sunday evening, at 6:30.

Topic, "How can we enlarge and improve our work?" Matt. 21: 17-22; Isa. 54: 2. Leader, Miss Etta Steelman.

Jr. C. E., Sunday afternoon at 3:00:
Topic, "Why Chinese boys and girls need our help." Acts 1: 8.

Epworth League,—M. E. Church:
Meets Sunday evening, at 6:45.
Led by J. H. Myroos.

Junior League on Sunday afternoon, at 3:00 o'clock. Topic, "Tattlers and Fritz." Prov. 18: 24. Led by Erna Tilton.

Y. P. C. U.,—Universalist Church:
Meets Sunday evening, at 7:30.

Topic, "The two ways: In which are we going?" Matt. 7: 13, 14; Matt. 12: 28-30. Leader, Miss Adelaide Bagwater.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these meetings.

Church Announcements.

Notices of church meetings are of public interest, and no charge is made for their insertion. Weekly changes are urged.

Baptist Church.—Rev. Wilshire W. Williams, Pastor. 10:30 a.m., "A wonderful story of love." 7:30 p.m., fourth of series, "A marvelous man." Thursday evening, "The benefit to others of a well balanced life." Philippians 4.

M. E. Church.—Rev. G. R. Middleton Pastor. Special revival meetings. 10:30 a.m., fourth of series, "Putting out the fire." 7:30 p.m., fourth of series on "The soul and its future." Subject, "The eternity of the lost soul."

Presbyterian Church.—Rev. H. Marshall Thurlow, Pastor. 10:30 a.m., Sacramental service and reception of members. Regular evening service.

Universalist Church.—The Rev. J. Harner Wilson, Pastor. 11:00 a.m., "Tributes to Jesus Christ."

St. Mark's Church.—Rev. Paul F. Hoffman, Rector. Sunday services as usual, except Sunday School, which is now at 12:00 m. Sunday evening topics: Oct. 23, "The obligation of belonging to a church."

Quality—not quantity

Baked Beans

and Brown Bread

every Saturday night

at

SMALL'S

Cor. Second and Bellevue,
Hammonton.

J. A. HOYLE.

J. L. O'DONNELL

HOYLE & O'DONNELL,

Auctioneers.

Special Attention given to House Furnishing Goods

Office, Real Estate Building
Hammonton, N. J.

A good painter knows a good thing when he sees it. He knows that

Lucas Paints

(Tinted Gloss)

spread easier and go farther than other paints. He knows they are made of pure materials by a reliable house of sixty years' experience. He knows they cost less all around. He knows they turn out better in the end. So does his dealer. Ask him.

John Lucas & Co.
Philadelphia

20 words (or less) 10c in the Republican

The Peoples Bank
OF
Hammonton, N. J.

Capital, $30,000
Surplus and Profits, . $31,000

Three per cent interest paid on time deposits.

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent

R. J. BYRNES, President
M. L. JACKSON, Vice-President
W. R. TILTON, Cashier.

DIRECTORS

R. J. Byrnes M. L. Jackson
O. P. Osgood George Elvins
Elam Brookwell Wm. L. Black
Wm. J. Smith J. O. Anderson
L. H. Parkhurst W. R. Tilton

New

Crimson

Clover

SEED!

We have some very nice

1904 Crop

Crimson Clover Seed now in stock.

It is quite a little lower in price than it was earlier.

GEORGE ELVINS.

Dr. C. E. DARE,
DENTIST

Office Hours: 8:30 a.m. to 12, 1:30 to 6 p.m.
Dressing by engagements.
106 Bellevue Ave., Hammonton.

Lakeview
GREEN-HOUSE

Central Ave., Hammonton, N. J.

Large assortment of Palms, Ferns, House Plants,
Cut Flowers. Funeral Designs in Fresh Flowers, Wax, or Metal.

WATKIS & NICHOLSON,
Florists and Landscape Gardeners.
Phone 1-W

JOHN H. MARSHALL

DEALER IN

Choice Teas, Coffees,
Extracts,
Baking Powders, etc.

All Goods strictly First-Class

Also handle G. U. Tea Co. goods, which are strictly high-grade.

Also, Sir Thomas Lipton's Coffees and
Teas, known the world over.

See the Wagon, on Wednesday and Saturday. Orders left at Elvins's
Candy Kitchen promptly filled.

226 Washington St., Hammonton

HOW BOB PAID HIS FARE

THE stout ship Falcon leaning gallantly to the wind, was making her way down the English channel, bound for America. The sails had been reefed, the cables coiled, and everything made snug for the night. Capt. Parker stood on the quarterdeck, gruffly humming a little song. Capt. Parker's song was interrupted by a sudden commotion in the forward part of the vessel. There was a sound of angry voices, a hasty scuffling of feet, followed by the frightened sobbing of a child.

"Hello!" exclaimed Capt. Parker. "What is the meaning of that row?"

"A stowaway, sir," answered one of the men from below.

"A stowaway on my ship?" growled the captain. "Bring the rascal here. We will give him a taste of the rope's end first, and then—what is that?"

"The stowaway, sir," was the response, as two of the crew approached, leading between them a very small and ragged boy.

The anger in the captain's face gave place to a look of pity as he gazed at the shivering form of the intruder, but his voice was stern as he asked:

"What are you doing here?"

"Nothing, sir," was the trembling reply.

"Who are you, and where did you come from? Speak up, no nonsense!" growled the captain.

"I'm Bob—Bob Winter, sir," said himself—the captain was lifted from

BOB'S RESCUE OF THE CAPTAIN.

The boy between his sobs. "I live in London, by the docks, sir."

"Well, what are you doing here, then?" said the captain, eyeing the boy with a somewhat scornful look.

The boy made a brave effort and looked at Capt. Parker through his streaming tears.

"I haven't any father or mother, your honor," answered the boy, "and I can't get clothes, and everybody don't want me, an'—a fresh storm of sobs shook the small frame."

"But you have told me that you are doing on board this ship," said the captain.

"They said the ship was going to America," answered the boy, "and everybody is rich in America. Every body wants a boy there, and me—your honor, I want to go, and I'll stay so long as I can without paying a penny."

"That's all very well," responded the captain, "but people who don't pay for their passage, and to hold away so long without paying a penny, don't come aboard my ship."

Bob looked up at the captain's stern face with a frightened and started expression.

"I—didn't think," he stammered, and began a hurried glance at the pockets of his ragged jacket. From one he drew forth two coppers, from another a silver shilling, and from a third a shilling, much battered, clipped and defaced. These he held out to the captain.

"This is all I've got now," he said. "It's not enough I think, and I will earn the rest soon when I get to America."

"And what am I to do with these?" asked the captain gravely.

"It is to pay my fare," replied the boy.

A smile lighted up Capt. Parker's rugged features, as he said kindly: "There, Bob, keep your money, my boy. You shall stay with me on the Falcon and we will make a man of you. How will that suit you?"

Bob Winter was delighted, of course. The sailors who are wonderfully handy at such things made him a great favor at such times, and he was a great favorite with the crew of the Falcon, proving himself to be active and intelligent, and truthful. The captain had grown to like the boy, and for Bob, well, it was not long before everybody on board knew what Bob thought of Capt. Parker.

QUEER STORIES

A DELIGHTFUL CATASTROPHE.

The last Federal census noted thirty million workers.

The wife of a shoemaker at Morris, Bohemia, has given birth to four children at the same time. She was already the mother of sixteen.

The barbers in India are said, by those who have visited that country, to be skillful that they can shave a sleeping man without waking him.

A Western firm is now manufacturing a new liquid fuel for gasoline machines nearly as far again as a like quantity of gasoline.

It is easy to pray in Japan. Painted prayers are attached to posts, and small wheels are fastened to them. The passerby gives the wheel a whirl, and that counts as a prayer.

A dentist comes forward with the suggestion that casts should be taken of prisoners of war as a means of identification. He claims that the mouths of no two people are alike.

A lake has been discovered on Kilin Island, Lapland, which contains fresh water on the top and salt water on the bottom. The lake rises and falls with the tide and is evidently connected with the sea by an underground channel.

SCIENCE NOTES.

Australia has no orphan asylum. Every child who is not supported by parents is placed in a ward of the State and is paid a pension for support and placed in a private family, where board and clothes are provided until the fourteenth birthday.

Chinese stables come up from the South, because the Paris that the people of the East have seen of the last of the month. Just now the World and Ducot of Shanghai have trimmed the baggy, loose-sleeved Chinese coat down to the ankles. The Chinese coat is a kind of a good deal like a Chinese coat. It is made by mixing water and benzene and allowing this to turn sour. It is said to be wholesome, but it is used only by women and children.

An electric rail system that has been invented by a Chicago man by means of his device, in which the wheels are inverted and practically clear it impossible for the car or animal to come in contact with the charged rail.

A Minneapolis genius has invented a twenty-six inch umbrella, which is made of a frame and all, into a little case to be carried in the pocket. The handle and all the ribs consist of a very strong steel tubes in sections, which telescope one inside of the other. The covering of the whole, which is made of a very strong material, is made of a very strong material, and is made of a very strong material.

USEFUL HINTS.

When milk is spilled on a woolen dress or other article, it will be removed. All traces of it will be removed.

A small piece of paper or linen moistened with spirits of turpentine and put into a glass jar will keep a single day two or three times a year. It is sufficient preservative against moth.

When cooking any preparation in which milk is seasoned with salt, do not boil, or let the milk leave, or let it curdle. It is best to add the salt after the milk is taken off the fire.

Those that have been newly painted should have a large zinc bath of cold water left in them one or two nights. A good supply of water should be put in the room also, and up it, like a monkey, scrubbed down, followed more slowly by Capt. Parker.

Then a great cheer went up, drowning the roar of the storm itself, as the crew gathered about the dripping figure of the captain and his little friend. A few words were said to explain what had happened.

Bob, with his eyes on the captain, had seen him crawl overboard. He knew that one end of the light tough rope on which he sat was secured to the bulkhead, for he had tied the knot every day. Without pausing to think of his own danger, he took the rope in the water almost as soon as the captain himself.

Though he could swim like a duck, he was borne helplessly along on the roof of the vessel, and he was borne helplessly along on the roof of the vessel, and he was borne helplessly along on the roof of the vessel.

THE FLIGHT THROUGH THE DESERT.

His flying lash curled writhing around his forehead.

Heavy the air with spices, heavy with gold the wheel. When I fled from the awful Arabs—fled their avenging steel.

And I bent to my dainties couriers and sloop my scourgings free.

Over the sands of the desert, weary and worn we sped. Till I saw the first snow drift on the first fair mountain's head.

And we won the Bourne of Saft with our priceless caravan. And I slept at the feet of my horses the sleep of a toll-paid man.

—Alden Charles Noble, in Blue Sky.

PERSONAL FACTS AND FANCIES.

It is said that the Empress of Russia has decided to visit Constantinople. By turns all members of the royal family had been victims of her penitence—that is, all except the czar, who has been long ago the caricature—appeared. The czar, crowned and bearing the scepter, was seen in a carriage drawn by a thread of his mother. The point was plain enough, and caused much amusement among the courtiers; but the czar professed himself unable to see it, and seemed on, thing out pleased with the production.

HOUSEHOLD.

Pickled Peaches.—Make a syrup from one quart of vinegar to four pounds of brown sugar. The two teaspoons of whole cloves, one teaspoon of cassia and one of cinnamon and two of nutmegs of ginger in a small muslin bag and put in the syrup to boil. Allow to simmer for an hour, cold, when add ten pounds of pared peaches and heat gradually in the syrup. When it boils, lift the peaches from a syrup and lay in a stone jar. Boil the peaches in the syrup for three successive mornings drain off the syrup and pour over the peaches, then cover tightly, leaving the bag out with seeded raisins. Fold the dough up over the apple turn and bake in a moderate oven until the apple is soft, or steam the dumplings for an hour.

WILL TRY TO ENTER LHASSA.

The Duchess of Manchester, who is an Indianophile, is planning to undertake a dangerous trip over undertaken by a woman. She is coming to this country from London, and will visit with her parents in Cincinnati, and later will go to India, Egypt, India, and other parts of the East. She is a very interesting woman, and her trip is a very interesting one.

THEY GAVE A BABY BALL.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. H. gave a "baby ball" at their apartment in London, Ky. Men and women were dressed in infantine attire. The favors consisted of children's playthings, although many of the articles were adorned with costly jewels.

REPORT ADVISE.

"Mrs. Souly, you've been married for several years, and I am about to take into myself a husband. What advice would you give me?"

"I don't know," said Mrs. Souly. "I do not know what to do. I do not know what to do. I do not know what to do."

WHAT THEY GO.

When a farmer brings his family to town, the children have not had a thoroughly good time unless all fall asleep in the wagon before they get home.

WHERE THE TROUBLE COMES.

Supporting a "Seakins Wife" on a "Muskat Income."

People cultivate the discovery of a new, fast, in nature, they grow eloquent over the invention of a new piece of machinery; they heap riches in the lap of the man who puts on the market a new breakfast food. Why should they not pay some slight tribute to the author of a new epigram? A really great epigram is rarer than the ruby. The jewel may be crushed, but the verbal gem lives forever and defies all the forces of decay. Its sparkle may never be dimmed.

WELLINGTON'S VIEWS ON ART.

Sir George Hayter, the court painter to the late Queen Victoria, was at one time invited to Stratford House, the home of the Duke of Wellington, the duke had promised him a sitting for his portrait. The following extracts from the painter's diary, printed in the London Chronicle, give an amusing glimpse of the duke's ideas on art. He told Sir George that there was one subject for a painting which he would like to see done well, because he considered that it would be a great moral lesson. He said:

"We are informed that all the animals of the creation had been made for our use, but we don't know how to reduce some of them to obedience; the lion, the royal tiger, the hyena, and others; but Van Amburgh has effected this. What I want Londoners to paint for me is Van Amburgh—he is a man, an athlete man—surrounded by the animals he has so well known not only how to render obedient to himself, but also to live in peace with each other. I want a picture of a man, with these animals lying round him, and the lamb at his feet, for he places the lamb between the lion and the tiger, and they dare not touch it."

PERSONAL FACTS AND FANCIES.

Former President Steyn and his wife have received permission to return to South Africa in December.

Captain R. George Nich, the Salvation Army officer in command at Burnley, Lancashire, always preaches from a chair. It is stood upright, and he stands in it.

Solo Cohen, known throughout Australia for his beneficence in relieving the homeless poor through the medium of the People's Kitchen in Vienna, is now visiting this country. Mr. Cohen, one of the most prominent of Australian financiers, retired to a large house in London, and is now engaged in a charitable and sociological enterprise.

HOUSEHOLD.

Apple Pudding.—Stir three cups of flour, measured after sifting, with three level teaspoons of baking powder and a level teaspoon of salt. Rub in one-half cup of chopped suet and mix with a fork. Add one cup of water, using half a cup of cold water, and when the dough is just soft enough to pat into a ball, add one cup of cold water. Pare, core and halve four good-sized apples. Divide the dough into eight equal parts, and roll out each part into a thin sheet. On each piece put half an apple and the space where the core was taken out, with seeded raisins. Fold the dough up over the apple turn and bake in a moderate oven until the apple is soft, or steam the dumplings for an hour.

WILL TRY TO ENTER LHASSA.

The Duchess of Manchester, who is an Indianophile, is planning to undertake a dangerous trip over undertaken by a woman. She is coming to this country from London, and will visit with her parents in Cincinnati, and later will go to India, Egypt, India, and other parts of the East. She is a very interesting woman, and her trip is a very interesting one.

THEY GAVE A BABY BALL.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. H. gave a "baby ball" at their apartment in London, Ky. Men and women were dressed in infantine attire. The favors consisted of children's playthings, although many of the articles were adorned with costly jewels.

REPORT ADVISE.

"Mrs. Souly, you've been married for several years, and I am about to take into myself a husband. What advice would you give me?"

"I don't know," said Mrs. Souly. "I do not know what to do. I do not know what to do. I do not know what to do."

WHAT THEY GO.

When a farmer brings his family to town, the children have not had a thoroughly good time unless all fall asleep in the wagon before they get home.

THE FLIGHT THROUGH THE DESERT.

His flying lash curled writhing around his forehead.

Heavy the air with spices, heavy with gold the wheel. When I fled from the awful Arabs—fled their avenging steel.

And I bent to my dainties couriers and sloop my scourgings free.

Over the sands of the desert, weary and worn we sped. Till I saw the first snow drift on the first fair mountain's head.

And we won the Bourne of Saft with our priceless caravan. And I slept at the feet of my horses the sleep of a toll-paid man.

—Alden Charles Noble, in Blue Sky.

PERSONAL FACTS AND FANCIES.

It is said that the Empress of Russia has decided to visit Constantinople. By turns all members of the royal family had been victims of her penitence—that is, all except the czar, who has been long ago the caricature—appeared. The czar, crowned and bearing the scepter, was seen in a carriage drawn by a thread of his mother. The point was plain enough, and caused much amusement among the courtiers; but the czar professed himself unable to see it, and seemed on, thing out pleased with the production.

HOUSEHOLD.

Pickled Peaches.—Make a syrup from one quart of vinegar to four pounds of brown sugar. The two teaspoons of whole cloves, one teaspoon of cassia and one of cinnamon and two of nutmegs of ginger in a small muslin bag and put in the syrup to boil. Allow to simmer for an hour, cold, when add ten pounds of pared peaches and heat gradually in the syrup. When it boils, lift the peaches from a syrup and lay in a stone jar. Boil the peaches in the syrup for three successive mornings drain off the syrup and pour over the peaches, then cover tightly, leaving the bag out with seeded raisins. Fold the dough up over the apple turn and bake in a moderate oven until the apple is soft, or steam the dumplings for an hour.

WILL TRY TO ENTER LHASSA.

The Duchess of Manchester, who is an Indianophile, is planning to undertake a dangerous trip over undertaken by a woman. She is coming to this country from London, and will visit with her parents in Cincinnati, and later will go to India, Egypt, India, and other parts of the East. She is a very interesting woman, and her trip is a very interesting one.

THEY GAVE A BABY BALL.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. H. gave a "baby ball" at their apartment in London, Ky. Men and women were dressed in infantine attire. The favors consisted of children's playthings, although many of the articles were adorned with costly jewels.

REPORT ADVISE.

"Mrs. Souly, you've been married for several years, and I am about to take into myself a husband. What advice would you give me?"

"I don't know," said Mrs. Souly. "I do not know what to do. I do not know what to do. I do not know what to do."

WHAT THEY GO.

When a farmer brings his family to town, the children have not had a thoroughly good time unless all fall asleep in the wagon before they get home.

WHERE THE TROUBLE COMES.

Supporting a "Seakins Wife" on a "Muskat Income."

People cultivate the discovery of a new, fast, in nature, they grow eloquent over the invention of a new piece of machinery; they heap riches in the lap of the man who puts on the market a new breakfast food. Why should they not pay some slight tribute to the author of a new epigram? A really great epigram is rarer than the ruby. The jewel may be crushed, but the verbal gem lives forever and defies all the forces of decay. Its sparkle may never be dimmed.

WELLINGTON'S VIEWS ON ART.

Sir George Hayter, the court painter to the late Queen Victoria, was at one time invited to Stratford House, the home of the Duke of Wellington, the duke had promised him a sitting for his portrait. The following extracts from the painter's diary, printed in the London Chronicle, give an amusing glimpse of the duke's ideas on art. He told Sir George that there was one subject for a painting which he would like to see done well, because he considered that it would be a great moral lesson. He said:

"We are informed that all the animals of the creation had been made for our use, but we don't know how to reduce some of them to obedience; the lion, the royal tiger, the hyena, and others; but Van Amburgh has effected this. What I want Londoners to paint for me is Van Amburgh—he is a man, an athlete man—surrounded by the animals he has so well known not only how to render obedient to himself, but also to live in peace with each other. I want a picture of a man, with these animals lying round him, and the lamb at his feet, for he places the lamb between the lion and the tiger, and they dare not touch it."

PERSONAL FACTS AND FANCIES.

Former President Steyn and his wife have received permission to return to South Africa in December.

Captain R. George Nich, the Salvation Army officer in command at Burnley, Lancashire, always preaches from a chair. It is stood upright, and he stands in it.

Solo Cohen, known throughout Australia for his beneficence in relieving the homeless poor through the medium of the People's Kitchen in Vienna, is now visiting this country. Mr. Cohen, one of the most prominent of Australian financiers, retired to a large house in London, and is now engaged in a charitable and sociological enterprise.

HOUSEHOLD.

Apple Pudding.—Stir three cups of flour, measured after sifting, with three level teaspoons of baking powder and a level teaspoon of salt. Rub in one-half cup of chopped suet and mix with a fork. Add one cup of water, using half a cup of cold water, and when the dough is just soft enough to pat into a ball, add one cup of cold water. Pare, core and halve four good-sized apples. Divide the dough into eight equal parts, and roll out each part into a thin sheet. On each piece put half an apple and the space where the core was taken out, with seeded raisins. Fold the dough up over the apple turn and bake in a moderate oven until the apple is soft, or steam the dumplings for an hour.

WILL TRY TO ENTER LHASSA.

The Duchess of Manchester, who is an Indianophile, is planning to undertake a dangerous trip over undertaken by a woman. She is coming to this country from London, and will visit with her parents in Cincinnati, and later will go to India, Egypt, India, and other parts of the East. She is a very interesting woman, and her trip is a very interesting one.

THEY GAVE A BABY BALL.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. H. gave a "baby ball" at their apartment in London, Ky. Men and women were dressed in infantine attire. The favors consisted of children's playthings, although many of the articles were adorned with costly jewels.

REPORT ADVISE.

"Mrs. Souly, you've been married for several years, and I am about to take into myself a husband. What advice would you give me?"

"I don't know," said Mrs. Souly. "I do not know what to do. I do not know what to do. I do not know what to do."

WHAT THEY GO.

When a farmer brings his family to town, the children have not had a thoroughly good time unless all fall asleep in the wagon before they get home.

WHERE THE TROUBLE COMES.

Supporting a "Seakins Wife" on a "Muskat Income."

People cultivate the discovery of a new, fast, in nature, they grow eloquent over the invention of a new piece of machinery; they heap riches in the lap of the man who puts on the market a new breakfast food. Why should they not pay some slight tribute to the author of a new epigram? A really great epigram is rarer than the ruby. The jewel may be crushed, but the verbal gem lives forever and defies all the forces of decay. Its sparkle may never be dimmed.

WELLINGTON'S VIEWS ON ART.

Sir George Hayter, the court painter to the late Queen Victoria, was at one time invited to Stratford House, the home of the Duke of Wellington, the duke had promised him a sitting for his portrait. The following extracts from the painter's diary, printed in the London Chronicle, give an amusing glimpse of the duke's ideas on art. He told Sir George that there was one subject for a painting which he would like to see done well, because he considered that it would be a great moral lesson. He said:

"We are informed that all the animals of the creation had been made for our use, but we don't know how to reduce some of them to obedience; the lion, the royal tiger, the hyena, and others; but Van Amburgh has effected this. What I want Londoners to paint for me is Van Amburgh—he is a man, an athlete man—surrounded by the animals he has so well known not only how to render obedient to himself, but also to live in peace with each other. I want a picture of a man, with these animals lying round him, and the lamb at his feet, for he places the lamb between the lion and the tiger, and they dare not touch it."

PERSONAL FACTS AND FANCIES.

Former President Steyn and his wife have received permission to return to South Africa in December.

Captain R. George Nich, the Salvation Army officer in command at Burnley, Lancashire, always preaches from a chair. It is stood upright, and he stands in it.

Solo Cohen, known throughout Australia for his beneficence in relieving the homeless poor through the medium of the People's Kitchen in Vienna, is now visiting this country. Mr. Cohen, one of the most prominent of Australian financiers, retired to a large house in London, and is now engaged in a charitable and sociological enterprise.

HOUSEHOLD.

Apple Pudding.—Stir three cups of flour, measured after sifting, with three level teaspoons of baking powder and a level teaspoon of salt. Rub in one-half cup of chopped suet and mix with a fork. Add one cup of water, using half a cup of cold water, and when the dough is just soft enough to pat into a ball, add one cup of cold water. Pare, core and halve four good-sized apples. Divide the dough into eight equal parts, and roll out each part into a thin sheet. On each piece put half an apple and the space where the core was taken out, with seeded raisins. Fold the dough up over the apple turn and bake in a moderate oven until the apple is soft, or steam the dumplings for an hour.

WILL TRY TO ENTER LHASSA.

The Duchess of Manchester, who is an Indianophile, is planning to undertake a dangerous trip over undertaken by a woman. She is coming to this country from London, and will visit with her parents in Cincinnati, and later will go to India, Egypt, India, and other parts of the East. She is a very interesting woman, and her trip is a very interesting one.

THEY GAVE A BABY BALL.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. H. gave a "baby ball" at their apartment in London, Ky. Men and women were dressed in infantine attire. The favors consisted of children's playthings, although many of the articles were adorned with costly jewels.

REPORT ADVISE.

"Mrs. Souly, you've been married for several years, and I am about to take into myself a husband. What advice would you give me?"

"I don't know," said Mrs. Souly. "I do not know what to do. I do not know what to do. I do not know what to do."

WHAT THEY GO.

When a farmer brings his family to town, the children have not had a thoroughly good time unless all fall asleep in the wagon before they get home.

WHERE THE TROUBLE COMES.

Supporting a "Seakins Wife" on a "Muskat Income."

People cultivate the discovery of a new, fast, in nature, they grow eloquent over the invention of a new piece of machinery; they heap riches in the lap of the man who puts on the market a new breakfast food. Why should they not pay some slight tribute to the author of a new epigram? A really great epigram is rarer than the ruby. The jewel may be crushed, but the verbal gem lives forever and defies all the forces of decay. Its sparkle may never be dimmed.

WELLINGTON'S VIEWS ON ART.

Sir George Hayter, the court painter to the late Queen Victoria, was at one time invited to Stratford House, the home of the Duke of Wellington, the duke had promised him a sitting for his portrait. The following extracts from the painter's diary, printed in the London Chronicle, give an amusing glimpse of the duke's ideas on art. He told Sir George that there was one subject for a painting which he would like to see done well, because he considered that it would be a great moral lesson. He said:

"We are informed that all the animals of the creation had been made for our use, but we don't know how to reduce some of them to obedience; the lion, the royal tiger, the hyena, and others; but Van Amburgh has effected this. What I want Londoners to paint for me is Van Amburgh—he is a man, an athlete man—surrounded by the animals he has so well known not only how to render obedient to himself, but also to live in peace with each other. I want a picture of a man, with these animals lying round him, and the lamb at his feet, for he places the lamb between the lion and the tiger, and they dare not touch it."

PERSONAL FACTS AND FANCIES.

Former President Steyn and his wife have received permission to return to South Africa in December.

Captain R. George Nich, the Salvation Army officer in command at Burnley, Lancashire, always preaches from a chair. It is stood upright, and he stands in it.

Solo Cohen, known throughout Australia for his beneficence in relieving the homeless poor through the medium of the People's Kitchen in Vienna, is now visiting this country. Mr. Cohen, one of the most prominent of Australian financiers, retired to a large house in London, and is now engaged in a charitable and sociological enterprise.

HOUSEHOLD.

Apple Pudding.—Stir three cups of flour, measured after sifting, with three level teaspoons of baking powder and a level teaspoon of salt. Rub in one-half cup of chopped suet and mix with a fork. Add one cup of water, using half a cup of cold water, and when the dough is just soft enough to pat into a ball, add one cup of cold water. Pare, core and halve four good-sized apples. Divide the dough into eight equal parts, and roll out each part into a thin sheet. On each piece put half an apple and the space where the core was taken out, with seeded raisins. Fold the dough up over the apple turn and bake in a moderate oven until the apple is soft, or steam the dumplings for an hour.

WILL TRY TO ENTER LHASSA.

The Duchess of Manchester, who is an Indianophile, is planning to undertake a dangerous trip over undertaken by a woman. She is coming to this country from London, and will visit with her parents in Cincinnati, and later will go to India, Egypt, India, and other parts of the East. She is a very interesting woman, and her trip is a very interesting one.

THEY GAVE A BABY BALL.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. H. gave a "baby ball" at their apartment in London, Ky. Men and women were dressed in infantine attire. The favors consisted of children's playthings, although many of the articles were adorned with costly jewels.

REPORT ADVISE.

"Mrs. Souly, you've been married for several years, and I am about to take into myself a husband. What advice would you give me?"

"I don't know," said Mrs. Souly. "I do not know what to do. I do not know what to do. I do not know what to do."

WHAT THEY GO.

When a farmer brings his family to town, the children have not had a thoroughly good time unless all fall asleep in the wagon before they get home.

WHERE THE TROUBLE COMES.

Supporting a "Seakins Wife" on a "Muskat Income."

People cultivate the discovery of a new, fast, in nature, they grow eloquent over the invention of a new piece of machinery; they heap riches in the lap of the man who puts on the market a new breakfast food. Why should they not pay some slight tribute to the author of a new epigram? A really great epigram is rarer than the ruby. The jewel may be crushed, but the verbal gem lives forever and defies all the forces of decay. Its sparkle may never be dimmed.

WELLINGTON'S VIEWS ON ART.

Sir George Hayter, the court painter to the late Queen Victoria, was at one time invited to Stratford House, the home of the Duke of Wellington, the duke had promised him a sitting for his portrait. The following extracts from the painter's diary, printed in the London Chronicle, give an amusing glimpse of the duke's ideas on art. He told Sir George that there was one subject for a painting which he would like to see done well, because he considered that it would be a great moral lesson. He said:

"We are informed that all the animals of the creation had been made for our use, but we don't know how to reduce some of them to obedience; the lion, the royal tiger, the hyena, and others; but Van Amburgh has effected this. What I want Londoners to paint for me is Van Amburgh—he is a man, an athlete man—surrounded by the animals he has so well known not only how to render obedient to himself, but also to live in peace with each other. I want a picture of a man, with these animals lying round him, and the lamb at his feet, for he places the lamb between the lion and the tiger, and they dare not touch it."

PERSONAL FACTS AND FANCIES.

Former President Steyn and his wife have received permission to return to South Africa in December.

Captain R. George Nich, the Salvation Army officer in command at Burnley, Lancashire, always preaches from a chair. It is stood upright, and he stands in it.

Solo Cohen, known throughout Australia for his beneficence in relieving the homeless poor through the medium of the People's Kitchen in Vienna, is now visiting this country. Mr. Cohen, one of the most prominent of Australian financiers, retired to a large house in London, and is now engaged in a charitable and sociological enterprise.

HOUSEHOLD.

Apple Pudding.—Stir three cups of flour, measured after sifting, with three level teaspoons of baking powder and a level teaspoon of salt. Rub in one-half cup of chopped suet and mix with a fork. Add one cup of water, using half a cup of cold water, and when the dough is just soft enough to pat into a ball, add one cup of cold water. Pare, core and halve four good-sized apples. Divide the dough into eight equal parts, and roll out each part into a thin sheet. On each piece put half an apple and the space where the core was taken out, with seeded raisins. Fold the dough up over the apple turn and bake in a moderate oven until the apple is soft, or steam the dumplings for an hour.

WILL TRY TO ENTER LHASSA.

The Duchess of Manchester, who is an Indianophile, is planning to undertake a dangerous trip over undertaken by a woman. She is coming to this country from London, and will visit with her parents in Cincinnati, and later will go to India, Egypt, India, and other parts of the East. She is a very interesting woman,

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.