BRUTAL MURDER AT NESCO.

The most brutal murder conceivable was that reeked upon Mrs. Mary Strong, aged 56 years, at Nesco, perhaps five miles from Hammonton, last Friday, 14th.

Her husband, Wm. H. Strong, left his wife shortly after dinner, to take a load of produce to Elwood. On the way there he met a neighbor, Samuel Wescoat, and after passing the time of day, sold his stuff, drove up to Hammonton, made some purchases, and started for his home about three o'clock. He found his house all open, but no trace of Mrs. Strong. Seeing their pet dog sitting in the stable door, whining, he mistrusted something wrong. Going into the stable, he saw a most terrible sight. His wife laid between several baskets of onions, on the floor, her face crushed in, her right ear torn off, and her body otherwise mutilated. The murderer had taken great pains, after committing the foul deed, to straighten out his victim's lower limbs, smooth down the clothing, and fold her arms over her breast.

Mr. Strong at once notified the Coroner, who was soon upon the scene of the crime. Dr. Cunningham's examination showed that the woman had first been choked, then killed with a turf-hoe, which lay near by, covered with blood. She had been otherwise maltreated.

Prosecutor Goldenberg and Co. Detective Baitzel took charge of the case.

Saturday morning, the Coroner impanelled a jury, with J. L. O'Donnell as foreman, and after viewing the body, they were excused until further notified.

The detective and several constables have been constantly upon the case, but were baffled at every turn. Clues were worked without result. Not a finger mark, a rag, or anything that might point to the fiend who committed the crime, was to be found.

Mr. Strong is almost insane in his great grief. The neighbors are in terror of their lives, and several of them are bedfast from nervous collapse.

The inquest is called for this morning at ten o'clock, in the Town Hall.

Bank Brothers' Store

THE well-dressed young man of to-day, as we clothe him, is certainly worth looking at. He presents a good appearance; he wears clothes of good quality—we sell no other—they fit him well, they're made in good style.

Hart
Schaffner
& Marx

make clothes for
young men such as
gentlemen of taste,
and discrimination
are glad to wear.

Young men's clothes
like these have all
the characteristics
which the smartly
dressed young man
wants. The coats
are made with good
broad shoulders, because most young
men have, or are
getting, such shoulders; the lapels
have long, graceful
roll, the back shaped
in, and down over
the hips, with a little
flare to the skirts.
The trousers made
from the moderate
to the extreme peg-
top style.

You see, these are
merely the characteristics of the young
vigorous, athletic
figure; the type of
the college man. If a young fellow has
such a figure, he
wants such clothes;
and if he hasn't the
figure, he wants the
clothes that look
like it; and there-
you are.

And here they are;
made for us, of best
all-wool fabrics, with
finest of tailoring,
by Hart Schaffner
& Marx, the greatest
of all clothes
makers. They don't make any but good
clothes, and we're
glad to sell them,
because we know we
are doing you a
service in it.

Pennsylvania Railroad

Bulletin:

OPENING OF THE GREAT PENNSYLVANIA STATION IN NEW YORK.

On Sunday, November 20, full train service will be inaugurated by the Pennsylvania Railroad to and from its new station, at Seventh Avenue and Thirty-second Street, New York City.

The location of the Pennsylvania Station, one block from Broadway, two blocks from Fifth Avenue, is in the heart of the hotel, club, and theatre district of Manhattan. Within a short radius are located the majority of the big retail stores and restaurants. The Seventh Avenue surface cars and the Eighth Avenue surface cars pass its doors; the Thirty-fourth Street surface cars (cross-town) pass its Thirty-fourth Street entrance; and stations of the Sixth Avenue Elevated and Hudson and Manhattan Tubes are a short block from its main entrance.

Time tables showing the service to and from the Pennsylvania Station are now being arranged, and may be obtained at ticket offices before the opening of the station.

Connections will be made at Manhattan Transfer (near Newark) with local trains to and from the downtown stations by the way of Jersey City, so that downtown New York passengers who desire may continue to use the Cortland and Deobrossa Street Stations and the Hudson Terminal Station of the Hudson and Manhattan Tubes.

The Familiar Phrase--

"A good provider" certainly cannot be applied to the insurable man who fails to carry Life Insurance for his family, no matter how well he cares for them otherwise.

Life insurance is too essential to their future comfort to be neglected.

Evangelistic Meetings.

Interest is still manifested, or rather, is increasing, in the union meetings. They were held in the Baptist Church this week, and on Sunday evening there was hardly a vacant seat in the building.

Mr. Casselberry's large choir is doing splendidly, in chorus, solo, duet and quartette singing. Beginning to-morrow evening, services will be held for the week in the Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. Allan Spidell to preach the first evening.

At three o'clock to-morrow afternoon, there will be two meetings, in the Baptist Church for men, and in the Presbyterian Church for women. Last Sunday's topic will be continued, and will doubtless bear fruit for the good of the young people of Hammononton.

At 6:30 p.m., the three young people's societies will unite, in the Presbyterian Church. Make an effort to attend these services. They will certainly do you good.

Harry Deardorf, twelve-year-old son of Mrs. John Farrar, fell from a tree, at the Park, about nineteen feet, last Saturday afternoon, and was seriously injured. He was taken home, unconscious. Dr. Bitler found no broken bones, but his head, arm, etc., were badly bruised, and his back wrenched. He is still laid up, but recovering.

The women's meeting, Sunday afternoon, is reported to have been decidedly interesting. A number of short talks were given by members of the several churches.

ANNOUNCEMENT. Mr. R. Andrew Soltz, Sec. of the Hammononton Branch of the Needlework Guild, is now associated with the official house of the Union, 24 Market St., Philadelphia.

The Junior Class of the H. H. S. wish to publicly thank the Seniors for the aid rendered them by publishing a list of their officers and their colors. But in the latter they made a great mistake, as their colors are navy blue and gold, not lavender and pink as stated.

On take off your hat to 1012. For a mighty class is able; She is the pride of the H. H. S., As busy and bright as a bee.

SIX Young Men were applying for a position, and only one vacancy to be filled. "How many of you young men have sewing accounts in the Hammononton Branch of the Needlework Guild?" The position is yours, said the employer. He well knew the young men who even in fact have other qualities which will make him useful and reliable, having lived and self-control. Hammononton Trust Company is most liberal on "Time Accounting" in every department for every full calendar month that it remains in bank.

We have met all kinds of people this week; and they say it takes all kinds to make up the world. Some do not believe a Christian should smile and joke; but to our mind, a Christianity which does not produce that is not worth having. Others would accuse relatives of the murdered woman as the perpetrator; but to a right-minded person, that thought would not be given a moment's consideration. Then, some people do not like the manner of selling lecture course reserved seat tickets. The committee made the change to suit these very persons. Yes, some people even criticize the Almighty; and would, in all probability, kick if they had to die.

To the Men of Hammononton.

There are times in the lives of us all which may with great propriety be called pivotal times, because so much that is near to our hearts revolve around them; consequently, they are so grand and eloquent in themselves—that they stand in no need of any interpretation by mere human lips.

This, in our judgment, is just such a grand, eloquent pivotal time. For two full weeks we have been holding union revival services. The meetings have been well attended, and much spiritual interest has been manifested; but for some reason the men of Hammononton have not come up to our expectations. Again and again we have been forced to ask, in deep anxiety, "Where are the men?"

Gentlemen, Christ died for you as much as he did for anyone else, and you need his salvation.

I appeal to you to take this great fact to heart. Christianity is no new religion; it has been in the world nearly two thousand years, during which time it has clearly proven, beyond all question, its divine power and saving grace.

If you would show your love for Hammononton, and your deep interest in her growth, peace and prosperity, come out, throw your influence on the side of righteousness and truth. Strangers are coming to Hammononton, and the first thing they ask about is the church and the school. These are things that make a place attractive to just the kind of men and women we need and should secure. Come and help us build up Hammononton, by building up the Kingdom of Christ in Hammononton.

Yours affectionately,
JOHN D. COUNTERLINE.

music rendered, and pictures en-
