OUR CANDIDATES.

Mr. CORNELIUS WALSH our candidate for Governor is one of nature noblemen. He sprung from among the laboring people and by his industry, integrity and self-culture has made himself one of the most foremost men in our State. He is in every way competent to perform the duties pertaining to the position, both by reason of experience and education and is thoroughly familiar and understands the industrial and commercial relations of our State. We can safely count upon his election, judging by the way the election in Newark City, his own home, went on last Tuesday, which large majority will be greatly increased in November next.

HON. WILLIAM MOORE, our candidate for Senator, is not only well known in our own county and State, but has a favorable and popular National reputation. His business and commercial relations with merchants of Philadelphia, New York and other cities, and his legislative experience in the halls of Congress has brought him in contact, association and acquaintance with the best business talent, legal minds, politicians and statesmen of the nation. His constant attendance upon the sessions of Congress, honesty of purpose, devotion and promptness in attending to the interests of his constituents, and the country at large, proves that he will be faithful to the trusts about to be confided to him as Senator of the county, and that he will leave nothing undone to guard and promote her interests. His triumphant election and name will hereafter be a tower of strength and support to the success of the Republican party in this county in elections to come.

LIEUT. S. H. CAVILEER, our candidate for Assembly, is one of the veteran boys-in-blue. Entering the service at the opening of the war, he passed through many trying battles, being wounded several times, one of which rendered his right arm comparatively useless. At the close of the war he returned, and soon after was elected Sheriff by a large majority. The people have not forgotten his services, and will roll up a good majority for him on the 7th of November.

FIRE DEPARTMENT SUPPLIES.—Fred. J. Miller, 65 Liberty Street, New York, is largely engaged in the building of Hook and Ladder Trucks, Hose Carriages, and the manufacturing of Fire department Supplies of every description. He was the projector and editor of the "Fireman's Journal" and "Fireman's Guide and Directory," and is thoroughly posted in regard to every article required by firemen. Information in regard to any article will be furnished by him with pleasure, and when requested he will send his illustrated price list to any address.

THE ONLY SURE ROAD.—The road to success is very hard traveling, and full of awkward places. Fortune-hunting is like a handful of pennies tossed into a scrambling crowd; only the strongest or most unprincipled get any. Rushing for fortune is a mistake. Steady perseverance and careful economy are the sure paths that have success at the end. Lay the foundation of a fortune at once by economizing your means, and save a large percentage by purchasing your clothing of BARNETT & CO., Tower Hall, No. 518 Market street, half-way between Fifth and Sixth streets, Philadelphia. 11-12

Every voter in the county should carefully read the address of the State Committee, which we publish to-day, in one of the strongest campaign documents out. Read it and hand the paper to some friend who does not get it.

ADDRESS OF THE REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE.

To the Electors of the State of New Jersey:

The Republican party, which we, for the time represent, again claims your confidence, and demands your support. We ask in its behalf, a fair and candid examination of the grounds upon which this claim is based.

Since its organization the Republican party has been the consistent and unfaltering defender of equal rights, personal liberty, and free government; to establish and maintain these, it was called into being, and it has so far fulfilled its high mission, that to-day, every citizen of the Republic is clothed with, and protected in the enjoyment of all rights with which freedmen are endowed. Through its agency, these rights defined and declared, have been made a part of our Constitution.

It has successfully defended the Government against the assaults of those who sought to subvert it, in order that human slavery might be made perpetual.

Notwithstanding the protracted and bloody conflict which the nation was forced to sustain, and the costly sacrifices it was compelled to make, it has brought back to the people peace and prosperity without financial disaster, or serious injury to any branch of trade or industry.

It has so carefully and faithfully collected and applied the revenues, that while the burden of taxation has been constantly lightened, the national debt has been rapidly diminished. Two hundred and sixty four millions, more than one-tenth of the whole debt, has been paid and cancelled during the administration of General Grant, while taxes, which burdened the manufacturers and mechanics of the country, to the extent of eighty millions annually, have been repealed during the same time, and since the close of the war for the suppression of the rebellion the reduction in taxes and custom duties has reached a total per annum of $251,848,827.33

Under its fostering care, internal improvements have been made on a scale unexampled in the history of nations; communication has been opened with the distant portions of our vast territory; the East and the West have been united by bands of iron, making a highway for the commerce of the world.

It has given its sympathy and moral support to every effort abroad to resist the assault of despotism, to secure freedom, and preserve national unity.

By the wise administration of our affairs it has maintained and strengthened our friendly relations with the other nations, and at the same time secured the full recognition of our rights and a fair and honorable adjustment of our unsettled claims.

It has commenced the work of reforming our civil service so that honesty and ability shall constitute the basis of appointment, rather than mere political claims.

In our own State, it has enacted liberal laws, under which our School System will be developed, and our schools made free, so that the poorest and humblest child may be fitted and prepared to discharge intelligently all the duties devolving upon the citizens of a free commonwealth.

Finally, it has faithfully redeemed every pledge under which it obtained power in the past, and you can therefore confidently rely upon its present professions and promises, among which are—still further reduction of expenses, State and national—still greater relief from taxation—prompt payment of all national obligations—a vigorous enforcement of all laws enacted to secure the enjoyment of civil rights, and speedy punishment of all who offend against these laws—a complete reformation of our civil service, making capacity and integrity the test in all appointments, the effect of which must be to purify politics and strengthen the government.

On the other hand, what has been the recent history of the Democratic party, and what does it now propose? It betrayed the cause of liberty, and became the friend and ally of oppression, it gave sympathy and encouragement to those who conspired against the nation's life, and paralyzed the nation's arm while endeavoring to resist and overcome their assaults; it attempted to destroy the national credit, and opposed all measures designed and calculated to uphold and sustain it, after the triumph of our arms it incited those who had been subdued to further acts of lawlessness and violence, and kept alive the fires of sectional hate and jealousy; it persistently opposed all efforts to protect the loyal people of the South and subjected them to further outrage and persecution, it opposed the amendments to our Constitution by which the costly fruits of the nation's sacrifice were secured, and now makes a virtue of its compulsory submission thereto.

most gigantic and astounding frauds, presenting a spectacle which arrests the attention of foreign governments and causes the friends of liberty and free government everywhere to blush. Lastly, it presents no principles, proposes no measures but seeks to entice support by masking its batteries; hiding its deformities, and assuming virtues which it does not practice.

As a representative of its principles and an exponent of its doctrines, the Republican party presents to you as a candidate for Governor, Mr. CORNELIUS WALSH, a gentleman fully qualified to discharge the duties of the office, of high character and strict integrity and every way worthy of your confidence and support. Among the first to recognize the necessity of the Republican organization, he has been its earnest advocate and supporter through all its long trials, its fearful contests, and its glorious triumphs. His time, his labors, his means were steadily and lavishly given to sustain the brave and gallant sons of freedom in their struggle against slavery and wrong, having been one of the foremost in the noble work of the Sanitary Commission, ministering to their wants, alleviating their sufferings and cheering their hearts. Capable, loyal, generous, ever true to the cause, the principles and the candidates of his party, we have a right to claim for him the willing service and hearty support of every Republican in the State.

We feel confident that every member of the great party to which we appeal will be true to the principles he professes and to the candidate who represents them. With the constant echo of Republican victories coming to us from Maine to California, we cannot, we must not fail in our duty to the Nation. The Republican party, with its noble record of grand achievements, and its glorious arms and purposes in the future, can justly appeal to patriotic and thoughtful men of all parties, and confidently rely on receiving a favorable verdict when the issue is decided.

The mission of latter day Democracy appears to be to bankrupt any kind of government over which it can get control. When the people turned James Buchanan's Democratic Administration out of office the Treasury was empty and the National credit at so low an ebb that a loan of $12,000,000 could not be obtained. In six months after a Democratic Council obtained control in the city of Newark, the city Treasury was sucked dry, and only through the individual efforts of Ald. John C. Little, who endorsed its obligation to the extent of $100,000, could the money be obtained to keep the wheels of government in motion for the balance of the year. In New York city, where the Democracy have had full sway for years, the city debt foots up about $100,000,000 with no resources to pay the daily expenses? And yet the Democratic orators preach about reform!

It seems now to be pretty definitely settled that the holders of Confederate cotton bonds will submit their "claims" to the Joint Commission established under the treaty. As an illustration of the boasted modesty and self-depreciation of Englishmen, it is about the most admirable thing we ever heard of. The holders evidently interpreted Lord Granville's statement that the claims might be referred to the British agent as affirmative opinion respecting their validity, and have accordingly organized an active campaign for the recovery of their ducaats. The legality of the loan will of course, be discussed and determined according to the law of nations; which does not, we believe, hold that a country which seizes on the assets of a rebellious province is liable for its debts to foreigners. Our merchant vessels were destroyed by pirate ships bought with the money realized on these identical bonds, and we are now called upon to pay the parties who inflicted the damage. This is modesty with a vengeance.

IS IT A DEPARTURE?

The Chicago Republican has the following to say of the pretended "new departure" in New Jersey:

The "departure" of the New Jersey Democracy is emphatically expressed, but in language that can hardly be accepted as entirely truthful. "The Democratic party," the Convention says, "in the present, as in the past, recognize the Constitution and the amendments thereto as the organic law of the country, and not as open political question." It is notorious that a very large portion of the Democracy has not heretofore recognized the later amendments of the Constitution. On the contrary, the principal feature of the Democratic speeches and newspaper articles, for a long time, was violent denunciation of these amendments. Mr. Vallandigham's effort to bring the party up to the platform of recognition in his new departure, was assailed with terrible bitterness from all quarters; and, though two or three State Conventions have been forced by considerations of policy to record a recognition of the "Constitution as it is," the evidence that the Democracy masses unreservedly accept the last prohibitions upon that instrument, is yet to be seen. However, the New Jersey branch of the family has put itself on the record with sufficient emphasis for the present, and we can afford to pass the slight error in regard to the past. Having thus accepted the situation, and with it the vital ideas of the Republicans, a single resolution added to that above quoted, would have made a logical finish of the work of the Jersey Democracy. It ought to have read about as follows:

Resolved, That, having thus placed ourselves upon the platform of the Republicans, it only remains for us to declare the Democratic party of New Jersey here by dissolve by mutual consent.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT. A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, the Legislature of the State of New Jersey did at its last session pass a law, entitled "An Act relative to Bribery," a copy of which is made a part of this Proclamation. Now, therefore, I, THEODORE F. RANDOLPH, Governor of the State of New Jersey, do hereby enjoin upon all chief judicial officers of this State, upon all local magistrates, upon sheriffs and their deputies, upon police officers and constables, upon all officers of the State who have especially taken upon themselves the oath to bear true faith and allegiance to the government of this State, to see that, to the best of their ability, the provisions of this law be fully and faithfully executed.

And I do further enjoin upon the State Attorneys for the several counties of this State the prompt and vigorous prosecution, without fear or favor, or all persons or corporations who may in any degree render themselves liable to the penalties of the law against Bribery at Elections.

And I do further enjoin upon all good citizens of this State the execution of this law, as far as in their power lies, by rendering information to magistrates, and to G. and Jurors, that will serve to cause the arrest and conviction of any officer of any corporation, or other person or persons, who may, directly or indirectly, bribe or attempt to bribe, or give means to bribe, any voter of this State, or who may be guilty of receiving a bribe from any person or corporation by which a vote shall be influenced.

I do hereby offer a reward of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for the arrest and conviction of any and every person who may be found guilty of violating the provisions of the said law at the coming election in this State—said rewards to be paid until the total amount expended for this purpose shall reach the sum of FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS.

The affidavits of persons upon which the arrests and convictions shall be had, determining the elements of reward, and the priority of convictions, to determine to whom, within the aggregate amount, the rewards shall be paid. Given under my hand and seal, at [SEAL] Trenton, this seventeenth day of October, eighteen hundred and seventy-one.

THEO. F. RANDOLPH.

Attest: ARTHUR E. BROWN, Acting Private Secretary.
