Non-Partisan Folly.

In our country, the party in power is the government. It is purely a question of government by parties, not a government by good men. The whole philosophy of government shows that in this great prohibition question we must have a political party behind it. The man who talks about settling this great reform, about destroying the liquor traffic of this country in a non-partisan way, ought to join a kindergarten class in American politics.

The man who wants to keep this question out of party politics to-day is the man who wants to keep it out for the purpose of keeping the Democratic and Republican parties alive. It is because they love the record of those parties, and their perpetuity, better than they love the cause of prohibition, that they want to keep this question out of party politics.

I repeat, this is a government by political parties. The game to-day is the same as ever. In every state, in a national campaign, it is a bid by the two old political parties for the whisky vote. It is not a question of getting the Sunday School vote. No politician has a moment's anxiety about that. He knows you will kick a little about it, and pray about it, but in November you'll vote the old ticket.
I don't care how many towns or counties or states you carry for prohibition in a non-partisan way, you will never destroy the liquor traffic until the saloon keepers, distillers, and brewers are all in one political party where we can whip them all at one time.

REPUBLICAN RALLY.

Bellevue Hall was filled on Wednesday evening, to hear what Republican candidates and speakers had to say on campaign issues.

Mr. Gardner was billed to appear, but felt that he was needed in a more doubtful section of the district. We were all disappointed.

An eloquent Italian was the first speaker; Jos. Salvo, of Atlantic, followed; then Hon. Martin E. Kessler, Enoch L. Johnson, Samuel Kirby, Emanuel Sonthheimer and Dr. Canning-ham, and a second Italian.

All were listened to with polite attention, and applauded liberally, and vigorously. It was a representative audience, and included quite a number of ladies.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD.

The Directors of the Hammonton Branch of the Needlework Guild of America held their fourth Annual Meeting on Thursday, in Odd-Fellows' Hall.
A luncheon was served to the Directors and visitors, when all enjoyed a good social time.

The President called the meeting to order, the same being opened with prayer by the Rev. N. C. Dickey.

After transacting routine business, Miss Ford, of the national office in Philadelphia, gave a very interesting talk in regard to Guild work among the foreign poor of Philadelphia.

The following ladies were present from the Blackwood Branch of the Needlework Guild: Mrs. Chas. Stevenson, President, Mrs. Wilson, Miss Wilcox, Mrs. McCarty, Mrs. Lafferty.
The number of garments brought in was over 1,600,—also over forty dollars in money.

During the summer, Mrs. E. S.
Meade loaned a Junior Guild, and they brought in their first garments, numbering twenty-seven.

Refreshments were served during the afternoon, to all visitors. Sec.

NOTICE. The Town Clerk will be senate, the Republicans supporting the bill and the Democrats opposing it. It was finally passed by a vote of 110 to 70. The bill was voted for solidly by Republicans and opposed by a minority of the Democrats. After it had passed the House, it was sent to the Senate by President Cleveland. A Democratic bill was made in the house to pass it, was Cleveland's veto, the legislation 138 for it and the Democrats voted 70 against it. The vote showed that twenty-nine Democrats who had originally voted for it, hesitated to avail themselves of the opportunity to support the president's veto to vote against it. Contrary to their real sentiments, twenty other Democrats who had not voted for the bill, voted against it and supported the veto. The last point pension bill was bitterly opposed by the Democrats, the Republicans supporting it. The bill was passed. "This bill, as the old saying was, was promptly signed."

 Explanatory, Not Exclamatory.
 Judge Taft is not an exclamatory man—not an exclamatory man. He is a declaratory man, but analytic. He does not rant, but he thinks. He is not pugnacious, but confident. His attitude is not that of a respondent, but that of an intelligent observer. He understands, and he fairly and justly by all means, to what they think or say alone to adhere the sin, but to deny it with every other man. He is upon subtle emotions—he does know how—but he both knows and has the courage to elucidate subtle issues. He is a serene, intelligent, and a man of the noblest in the noblest spirit of our pulp.

"Another pretty but wholly unhelpful thing," says that the "anti-trust" movement, "is the suggestion by percentages to nullify all such a complicated system bureauas that government should be obviously burdensome to the people. It is an attempt to bring about reform through a simple slogan."

Remember the historical fact that the Democratic candidate, but I believe just as truly that an enforcement of prohibition would end in disaster.

By its terms and the repeated promises of the president, the party pledged to revivify, just as the revivifying is to be done by the meeting of congress just as soon as the president enters office in 1900. ### Just Before the Battle.

Next Tuesday will be Election Day, and every voter should register his convictions at the polls, no matter what his party affiliations.

We believe that a change would be harmful to our country, to business, and to our workingmen, and would certainly "burst the bottom out of the dinner-pail." No one denies that there is much political corruption in national, state and county business; but history does not encourage us to hope for any betterment by placing a Democratic administration in power.

In local matters we have heard many rumors. They say that our young Italians will endeavor to elect men of their own nationality to the various offices. We admire the young men's ambition, but we do not want them to rule us, nor to monopolize the many responsible positions now held by Americans.

Several independent candidates are running for office, and it will be well to consider them, whether they will improve the situation, or not.

Polls will be open from six o'clock in the morning until seven in the evening. Get out and vote. As one of the candidates says: "Vote early and often."

Vote to continue the prosperity we have enjoyed for years, by electing the Republican candidates.

Shall the people rule? Yes, by voting the straight Republican ticket next Tuesday.

Man calls his wife his "better half," but that's a sort of a bluff.
If he can't divorce himself, for she's the whole thing, sure enough.

Tuesday evening, October 27th, was the occasion of the tenth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs.
Alex. Brownlee; and many friends from here and out-of-town met at their home to celebrate it. Of course, they had a jolly time, and when they departed, left some valuable presents. Among the outside visitors were: Mr. and Mrs.
Hirsh, Geo. Hunsicker, and the Misses Alice Martin, Elizabeth Orman, and Bele Edgar, of Philadelphia.

Are You Worrying About the "Bills"?

No, I don't mean "Bill" Taft nor "Bill" Bryan. I mean the bills you must work hard to get and think hard to stretch them out. Give me an order for an International made-to-measure Suit or Overcoat, and you'll be surprised how much you'll get for a few bills.
You'll get quality, style, fit, and workmanship like you'll pay considerably more for at other places.

but may save you bills.

What the Kidneys Do.

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily. When unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, dropsy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Thos. Baker, living on French St., Hammonton, N. J., says: "I suffered considerably from a dull, heavy pain through the lower part of the body. I was unable to find a remedy that would give me relief, and was at a loss to know from what source the trouble arose until my kidneys became irregular in action. Learning of the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at the Red Cross Pharmacy, and received great relief. I take pleasure in recommending this excellent remedy to other sufferers."
