SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS.

MONROE'S READERS AND WARREN'S GEOGRAPHIES.

Monroe's Readers are in use in the Public Schools of the cities of
NEW YORK, PHILADELPHIA, BROOKLYN,

and hundreds of smaller cities and towns.
This series is now fully completed by the recent issue of MONROE'S PRIMARY READING CHARTS. The great success of Monroe's Readers is largely due to the fact that they are the only books that give a Practical System of teaching Reading.

A prominent teacher in New Jersey in a recent communication says: "I am very much pleased with Monroe's Readers, I believe they are the best that I ever examined. The smaller ones are especially adapted to small children. They step down to the child's comprehension, and enter heartily into his life and amusements, and in the larger ones as Prof. Monroe says, pieces are not introduced which only the mature mind of a Pacon can enjoy or a literature, fond of the dreamy and mystical, appreciate."

WARREN'S GEOGRAPHIES

show all the recent discoveries and political changes.
Warren's Geographies received the Medal of Merit at the Vienna Exposition of 1873, the highest award at the Centennial Exhibition, Philadelphia, 1876, and a Silver Medal at the Paris Exposition, 1878.
The series contains a special Geography of the State of New Jersey, with a map showing all the Counties, railroads, towns and villages. It also contains Apper's System of Map Drawing, acknowledged to be the best published.

Warren's Geographies are adopted for the Public Schools of the cities of PHILADELPHIA, NEW YORK, BROOKLYN, BOSTON, CHICAGO, ST. LOUIS

and hundreds of smaller cities and towns.
As evidence of the popularity of Monroe's Readers and Warren's Geographies in the Schools of Southern New Jersey they are adopted for use in the Public Schools of CAPE MAY AND GLOUCESTER COUNTIES, and one or both are in use in the Public Schools of MILLVILLE, BRIDGETON, MT. HOLLY, SALEM.

And many other towns.
At the recent meeting of the Teachers Association of Atlantic County, Monroe's Readers received next to the highest and Warren's Geographies the highest vote of the teachers of the County, as their preference in books.
The above publications are already in use in many of the Schools of Atlantic County.

Lamentations of the Whiskey and Lager Men.

BY CALVIN CAMPFIELD.
Yes worthy men give ear awhile,
And quickly you shall hear,
The fate of those who deal in rum,
—Good whiskey and good beer.
Go where you will in church, or state
To fair or market town,
Blue ribbon boys are hard at work
Ourselves to tumble down.
The temperance men, and Murphyites,
Have hit upon a plan,
With the clergy, yamen and doctors,
To urge along the van.
To stop our trade and licenses,
Unless we scrimp and beg,
Step up and sign the temperance pledge,
And then put in the peg.
You were very fond of whiskey,
The lager and the gin,
And when you'd got a little drop,
It made you dance and sing.
But now you're guzzling water,
The lemonade and pop,
The switchel and the buttermilk:
The totaller's sop.
Exalted men of church and state,
Are very apt to sin,
Associate with low and great,
Drink lager, rum and gin.
Mixed in with pork and mutton-chops,
Its poisoning to the blood—
And they should quit the largest drops
Which rolls them in the mud.

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 27, 1879.

The Southern Democrats begin to look upon their Northern allies as they did during the war—as men who encouraged them into a fight, and then left them to their fate. It is a fact that sets out strongly that the Democrats in the Northern States have not dared to maintain their State Rights ground before Northern constitutions, as they did in Congress, and as the Southern Democrats do. On this subject, the Washington correspondent of the New Orleans Pionyeer takes the "sectionalism" of the Ohio Democrats in the recent canvass as a striking example. They evaded, he says, the issues used with the greatest effect by the Republican party, and still further signaled their cowardice by keeping Southern speakers out of the field. He denounces this conduct as rendered the more reprehensible by the fact that the issues which are made the basis of a new agitation, and are charged to the Southern account, were in reality originated by Ohio Democrats. The demand for the repeal of the Election laws came from Ohio. "Go, too," he says, "as to the repeal of the laws prohibiting the employment of troops at the polls," and the correspondent fairly remarks that "the main course for Northern Democrats would be to take the whole brunt of the fight on themselves," instead of allowing the policy to be regarded as the Southern policy, and withholding from Southerners the opportunity of stating their case in their own way. The curt criticism passed upon these tactics of the Ohio Democratic managers is, that whenever the party "gets so that a prominent Democrat from any part of the country cannot go before the people in another part of the country, the nationality of the party has received a serious if not a fatal injury." This is a just criticism. But unfortunately for the Confederate Democratic party, the cause of the criticism cannot be helped. During the war the Northern Democrats could not risk their necks by recklessly espousing the Southern rebellion; so now, they cannot be expected to risk their political hold entirely to gratify their ex-rebel friends. The Democratic party must have two policies in order to hold together in the two sections, and the people are beginning to see this very plainly. That's why the present Republican sweep will be a clean one, and it is useless for the bulldozers to cry for "split milk." The Northern managers know that they would be swept out of political existence if they brought out the rebel chiefs to preach political heresies, heresies that even life long Democrats would not endorse; and only seem to support because they are ignorant of.

To-morrow will be a gala day for Washington. The schools and the Departments will be closed to allow all to take part in the opening of the great fair. The next nine days will be a sort of half-holiday, indeed, and the city is promised a great influx of strangers to witness the show and the races.

Congressman Burrows, of Michigan, has been interviewed on the Presidency. He seems to think that Gen. Grant don't want to be nominated or to enter public life again. He also thinks if he does, his nomination is not a foregone conclusion. He says of the Republicans of his State: "A large majority of them have a strong preference for Mr. Blaine," but if Senator Cuandier desires, he can have the complement of the delegation's vote in the National Convention. He adds that "Mr. Blaine's popularity is growing very rapidly everywhere, and he is much stronger with the people than he was in 1876." Mr. Burrows, like almost every other good Republican, is now stumping New York for the Republican ticket, and he says that the Republican victory there will be even more signal than in Ohio. —Maxwell.

What a Certain Man Would do.

The man who will take a newspaper for a length of time and then send it back "refused" and unpaid for, would swallow a blind dog's supper and then sit on the dog for being blind. —Excited Exchange.

He would do worse than that. He would marry a girl on trial and send her back with the words "doesn't suit" chalked on her back after the honeymoon. —Another Like the Preceding.

Worse than that. He would steal the chalk to write it with, and afterward he would use it on his shirts to save the expense of washing, and then use his wife's father for a month's boarding. —And Another.

Worse yet. He would chase a sick rat ten miles over a corduroy road and institute a post-mortem in order to recover a stolen grain of corn. —And Still Another.

He would sponge a living from the hard earnings of his poor old father until that gentleman became unable to work, and then let him die in the poorhouse, and afterwards sell his remains to the medical students for anatomical purposes. —Bluffton Banner.

Still more horrible than any of the above. He would stake a hog on his mother-in-law's grave and curse her for not being rich enough to sprout grass for the hog to eat and for not dying before she was born. —Texas Phonograph.

He would hire out his hundred-year-old deaf and dumb mother, almost doubled up with the rheumatism, take all the wages and make her pick crumbs with the chickens for something to eat; put her in the poorhouse when she got too feeble to work, after her death bury her in his garden to help the growth of his cabbages, and chuckle at his shrewdness, and, when the time arrives for him to depart to his desert, have the clerk to say that he "longs to shake off this mortal coil and rest in the arms of his dear old mother in heaven." —Lake City (Pa.) Reporter.

Lippincott's Magazine for November is equal to any of its predecessors in richness and variety of interest. "Later Pompeian Days," the concluding paper of "Rambles of Three," by Margaret Bertha Wright, is very amusing and optically illustrated. The fifth chapter of Dr. Oswald's "Summerland Sketches," describes the Sierra Madre, and gives an entertaining glimpse of convent life in the mountainous region of Mexico. An article on Leadville, also well illustrated, will command attention, after all that has been published in regard to the "Carbonate City," by its copious information as to the value and prospects of the mine, its hints to investors, and its graphic account of the manners and habits of the population. "Where the Best Comes From" is the title of a timely and interesting paper on cattle-breeding in Texas and Colorado. Dr. Alfred S. Gibbs has a lively paper on Goethe's mother, with extracts from her correspondence and sketches of her intimate friends, accompanied by an entire portrait of this remarkable woman. Citali Seta describes the organization and workings of the "Secret Societies of Southern Italy," and the problem they offer to Italian statesmanship. "The Bicycle, and Riding It," by J. Wilcox, indicates the inventions that have led to this new process of locomotion, and sums up its advantages; and J. Brander Matthews discusses Sheridan's "Critic," which was first played a hundred years ago and still keeps its place on the stage. Among the stories in the number may be mentioned "A Slight Misunderstanding," which is in the form of a comedietta, and "ing," which is a few alterations to adapt it for private but a few alterations to adapt it for private theatricals, a character sketch by Philip Bourke Marston, and the first part of a very agreeably-written little tale, entitled "Alma," which, like "Daisy Miller," deals with the life of a young American girl abroad. The "Monthly Gossip" treats of "Fall Shopping," "Emile Zola and the Prince Imperial," and other appropriate topics.

The Republican.

E. BOWLER, M. D., Editor & Prop.
C. D. DOLAN, Associate Editor.

HAMMONTON, ATLANTIC CO., N. J.
SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1879.

Republican County Ticket.

For Assembly,
JAMES JEFFRIES.
For Sheriff,
CHAS. L. LEEDS.
CHERRY VALENTINE.

Soldiers.
Are you ready to surrender all you fought for? If not, and we know you are not, then vote the Republican ticket, and secure the election of a good man to the Assembly, who believes in preserving the Union intact, and that loyal men should rule the nation.

Don't let any man deceive you with the sly voice of the deceiver, that it don't make any difference this year about electing a Republican to the Assembly. It does make a difference—a great difference. We want a man to represent Republican principles, one who will act and vote Republican. And the prestige is bad. Then don't dream of voting anything but the straight Republican ticket.

The Atlantic Democrat, in its last issue, endeavored to be very cautious at the expense of our honored candidate for the Assembly, but only succeeded in venting some slanderous insinuations that every one who is at all acquainted with Mr. Jeffries, or his past record, will utterly reject. Mr. Jeffries is a gentleman and a man of principle, and is too well known in this county for any slanderous assertion of the Democrat or any other paper that deals in similar stock in any way injure or disturb.

The present is the closing week of our political campaign. On Tuesday next will be decided which is to be the ruling element of the country, law and order, or the bulldozing shot guns, red-shirted chivalry and their northern allies. We believe law and order will rule, and the opposition will sink out of sight.

Atlantic Times.—A small child of James Gaskill, of Weymouth, has been very sick for the last week of diphtheria, but is now very better. Also the little son of Nicholas Champion, at Weymouth, has been quite ill with the same disease, but is also convalescing.—May's Leading Record. Devoted to the interests of the Republican Party.

Vote the straight Republican ticket, and secure the return of Hon. James Jeffries to the Assembly, and then you will not hereafter have occasion to regret your vote helped to bring calamities upon us, which will certainly come if the Democrats get the ascendancy. Then do what you can to arrest it by voting for Jeffries.

In Mr. Jeffries.
The voters of Atlantic county will find a true Republican; true to his government and just to his country; a business man who knows his duty, and will attend to it, without fear or favor, and will not stoop to any dirty work to obtain his election. He is sound on the Republican platform, and national and State issues, and in the present political aspect, every Republican should vote for him.

Our friend and neighbor, Mr. Daniel Colwell, Democratic nominee for Coroner, is one of the live and good men of Hammonton. It gives us pleasure to speak of a man who deserves it, no matter what his politics, but we do not like to see so good a man connected with a party that has done so much to ruin the country, and which has resorted to wrong and outrage to carry its points. We are surprised that he has not, as thousands of good men have, deserted the party long ago.

We have nothing to say against Mr. Shinn, the Democratic nominee for the Assembly, yet we might have been disposed to stoop to dirty work like the "organ" at Egg Harbor City, but we will not do it. Mr. Shinn is a very pleasant young gentleman and, we believe, very generally liked among his constituents, but we also believe we have a number of boys just over their school days, who are as capable of filling the place as Mr. Shinn. From what facts we have incidentally gathered, we judge him to have been selected as a very good candidate to put forward in a field where defeat was expected, and where older and more experienced men did not care to have themselves placed. We do not claim any particular skill as a prophet, but we are of the decided opinion that Mr. Shinn will not feel as well next Wednesday morning as he does to-day, since we anticipate that by that time he will have learned that Mr. James Jeffries has been returned to the Assembly.

"Coming Events."

Cast their shadow before," and the shadows indicate trouble unless averted. To this end it is necessary that every Republican should do his whole duty, and cast his vote for the man who is on the right side in every important issue, and will give aid in averting trouble. Mr. Jeffries has been tried and is known to be on the right side, the side of justice, freedom to all, without regard to race, color, or previous condition, and that every man should have all the privileges accorded him by the Constitution, without being subjected to the inquisition of the red-shirted, rifle club white murderers of the South.—Therefore vote for the man on the side of right, justice and freedom. This is necessary in State, as well as in national matters.

The Greenback platform, as usual, is howling about the depleted condition of the country and the general melancholy aspect as long as the present management lasts, and until they can have the management of the Treasury. Bah! Such nonsense is even more sickening than it was a year ago, for following on assumption has come the beginning of solid and substantial good times, of which there is unlimited evidence on every side. Talk about depletion in financial affairs, why, aside from every other consideration, we have in a year imported the nice little sum of $50,000,000 of foreign gold. This looks a good deal like depletion in finances. On every hand we hear the enervating hum of reviving industries, and the cheerful cry of better times, better wages, better prospects and better inducements for investment of capital than we have known for many years, and still that everlasting cry for more greenbacks, inflation, buy in the outstanding bonds, &c., is still occasionally heard in faint squeals like the above mentioned platform.—However, it will soon be buried too deep for even a faint squeak to be heard, thank the Lord.

Sick of It.
Democrats are now beginning to realize and acknowledge that the "solid South," which their party has worked so hard for and relied so much upon, will ultimately be of so much benefit to them after all. They see from every recent indication in the North, that the greater class of intelligent voters in the country are arousing to the fact of the true significance of this "solid South" business, and where, as through an indifference that was the result of inattention to affairs of public interest, they have been "looking through a glass darkly," as it were, they now "see face to face." The Democratic party, the Southern portion more particularly, are continually denouncing to the Republicans your vote helped to bring calamities upon us, which will certainly come if the Democrats get the ascendancy. Then do what you can to arrest it by voting for Jeffries.

He is sound on the Republican platform, and national and State issues, and in the present political aspect, every Republican should vote for him.

Mr. Jeffries will give his vote for what ever will be for the interest of his constituents, on any and all questions that may arise concerning them. As the town charter amendment is out of the way, the matter having been postponed until March, next, he will not have an opportunity to vote on it, but assures us he would vote in his favor if it did, so that need not influence any one's vote.

Mr. Stephen A. Douglas, the son of the late Senator Douglas, who has been living in North Carolina, has decided to move to Illinois. Mr. Douglas is a native of North Carolina, but he feels that not even his family prestige, his considerable wealth and his influence as a lawyer are enough to make life endurable in the State of his birth. He is socially and politically ostracized, because he is a Republican.

Political.
Democratic song—
Bayard, Oh, Bayard! come home to us now,
We're waiting for you here pretty bad;
Till you go and turn us out, and then we'll
And there's no other ball to be had.
Catching it everywhere, that is our fix,
And we're in an unfortunate fix,
We're afraid 1880 will bring us to us,
Unless you can run—with a ball.
Come home, come home, come home,
And tell us the state of your ball.

The Solid South.
Know ye the land of the Cotton and Pine,
Where blossom the flowers, the beams ever
shine,
Where the wings of zephyr oppress with perfume,
Flow weak in the garden of roses in bloom?
'Tis the land of the Rebel, clime of the sun,
Where bulldozers murder the old and the young.
The rebels and the "crus-ballet" soldiers, sole rule of the South with bullets and guns,
And exult over the crimes so wickedly done,
And all for lost power that'll never return.
C. C.

The Ohio Republicans will elect General Garfield United States Senator to fill the place now occupied by Mr. Thurman.

The New York Sun has a new Presidential ticket. It nominates Rums and Edwin Forrest. Rums and Edwin are horses—and this is an improvement on the asses the Sun has been nominating for some weeks.—Norristown Herald.

A melancholy conviction of surviving Greenback leaders is proposed at Washington the first week in December. The object is a comparison of views on the future disposition of the late party. By that time decomposition will be so far advanced that either cremation or hasty burial will be the only disposition possible.—N. Y. Tribune.

While the Democratic party has been sectionalizing and solidifying the south as its principal achievement, the Republican party has established and fortified an immense banking system, restored gold and silver to use as money, resumed specie payments, settled all difficulties with England and built up a prodigious fabric of domestic industry. What do the Democrats propose to do about it?—North American.

Chalmers has made a "great speech" in Mississippi, in which there is no end of scolding indignation about troops at the polls, but not a word about the thousands of the streets before the polls are opened. He is sure that "ambitious politicians" who seize election laws would not hesitate to seize and prevent from voting a sufficient number of voters to change the result, if a Presidential election, involving millions of patronage, should turn on the vote of a single city." He would have been more interesting and more truthful had he told his audience how many voters "ambitious politicians" armed with shotguns, had kept away from the polls in the solid south, in order to decide not only Presidential but State elections.—Tribune.

Burdettown Register: One night this week no less than six dogs were drowned in a well in Thompson street. All tumbled in while in the act of a wessel.
A young fellow going to Millville to see his girl, and being impatient to get off the car, sprang from them before the train stopped, into a rain-water cask. The lover, we need not add, was drenched.

The water in the Delaware river is so low that on Tuesday Jacob V. Boord drove across the river as the falls in a wagon, from Trenton to Morrisville, Pa. This is a feat which is beyond the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

The trial of Mr. Jennie R. Smith and Corbett D. Bennett, for murder of Policeman Richard Smith, in August, 1878, at Jersey City, was called Tuesday, the 20th inst., in the Hudson county Oyer and Terminer Court, but was postponed until December term, owing to indisposition of Judge Hoffman, counsel for Bennett.

There is said to be a deficiency of $12,000 in the accounts of the Jersey City post office.

Fourteen hundred wire have petitioned Judge Souder, of the Monmouth county court, against the license of any except summer-hotel-keepers. The Judge's reputation for gallantry is now on trial.

Out of fifteen cases of counterfeiting, keeping illicit distilleries, carrying letters, etc., tried in the United States Circuit Court at Trenton, there have been convictions in fourteen cases.

The Elizabeth Common Council has reduced the salary of the Mayor from $1,200 to $800, and of the Comptroller from $2,500 to $2,000.

The new Catholic church at Mount Holly is of brick, with a seating capacity for six hundred and fifty persons. The cost was $40,000, of which only $15,000 remains unpaid. The corner-stone was laid in 1872, and the church was dedicated on Sunday last.

The sum of $500 has been offered as a reward for the return of the two county ledgers and the vouchers stolen from the Somerset County Bank on the evening of October 14th, and for such information as will lead to the arrest and conviction of the thief or thieves.
