Up to the Town.

The agreement for the paving of Bellevue Ave., from Third Street to Elvins' corner, was signed on Thursday, Nov. 2, by Col. Stevens, of the State Road Department. Last Monday evening, Mayor and Mrs. Thos. C. Elvins entertained the members of the Raster Star, and a number of friends, at a Hallowe'en barn party. Decorations were appropriate, and very tastefully done. Each guest was en-mask, and they indulged in old-time games and partook of refreshments. "Jest like mother n-ter meke."

The missionary meeting held at the Presbyterian Church was one of great interest and help. In the morning, Rev. Dr. Newman, pastor of Wylie Chambers Memorial Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, held attention throughout, and at his close each listener felt better acquainted with the mountaineers. In the afternoon, Rev. C. T. Riggs was equally interesting, presenting the Armenian subject, causing all to realize that here is a great work. The Mohammedan work will open more promising than ever after the war, as they are now asking for Bibles. Cuba's history and needs were well presented by Mrs. Sargent, of Weqonah.

Hallowe'en Celebration.

Bellevue Avenue was crowded, Tuesday night, with citizens and visitors. They viewed a parade seldom equaled in a town the size of Hammonton. It was a whole evening of merriment. The street dance was a novelty, participated by many, the smooth pavement as good as many a dance floor.

The Hallowe'en Association deserves great credit for the success of the celebration. They labored faithfully, though handicapped by the lack of money. If these celebrations are to be continued, all must open their purses and give some small amount to defray the necessary expenses. The committee thanks all who contributed and those who participated; also the judges, who made fair decisions.

The one political float slipped into the line unknown to the marshal and his assistants, and no one seems to know who entered it. It passed in review but once.

The parade was longer, and the participants better than last year. The High School Association made an excellent showing, dressed in gorgeous costumes. The Gas and Electric Light Company had the prettiest commercial float ever seen in a parade, it being unique. The Russo Brothers' and Fry's floats attracted attention—both very well arranged. Bank Brothers' and I. I. Hearing's floats were in the line of advertising, the former featuring the "Buy at Home" motto.

Town Council Meeting.

An adjourned meeting was held on Monday evening, with Messrs. Pizzi, Holland and Nicolai absent. Voted, to have sewage disposal tank coated with a water-proof composition, by the Rickard Co., at a cost of $74.

Three ordinances were introduced and passed first reading,—the titles of which were: Providing for the Bellevue contract; for sewer, water and gas taps on Bellevue; for issue of bonds to pay for fire apparatus, etc.

At a special meeting, Thursday evening, with all present except Mr. Pizzi, the first two ordinances mentioned above were passed final reading. They are published in another column.

The Town Treasurer was instructed to make sworn statement of Town's financial condition, to be filed in County Clerk's office, as required by law of 1910.

The Post Office was moved into its new location during Tuesday night, and opened for business on Wednesday morning, Nov. 1st. The postmaster and his assistants find themselves in commodious quarters, with much better facilities for transacting business.

Rev. Everett vanDright preached the anniversary sermon, Wednesday evening, at Englishtown—the charge from which he came to Hammonton. Rev. C. S. Lawrence, a former Hammonton pastor, is now at Englishtown.

The gunning season for rabbits will open Nov. 10th.
