RULE OR RUIN.

The shades of night were falling fast—
As through a Northern village passed,

A political who bore, not over nice,

A banner with this strange device—

Rule or Ruin!

His brow was sad, his eyes below
Twinkled with a revengeful glow;

And like a furious狂魔 king—

The burdens of that unknown longe—

Ruins or Ruin!

In the houses of Union men he saw

The light of comfort and of law;

Above the moon in "Mensor's" shone;

And from his lips escaped a groan—

Rule or Ruin!

He bared the pine tree's branching branch!

Beware the Union avalanche!

This was Lincoln's mouthly voice—

But still this was Democracy's choice—

Rule or Ruin!

At the dawn of Peace, as sorrow died,

From Northern hill and Northern plain

Were moving Northward in the calm air,

They heard those accents of despair—

Rule or Ruin!

THE ORPHAN BOY.

The bustle of the fight was over; the prisoners had been secured and the docks washed down, and the schrimer lashed into midnight quiet and repose. "I sought my hammock and soon fell asleep." But my slumbers were disturbed by wild dreams which like the visions of a fever-agitated me and starting up I beheld the scene of my mate.

"Little Dick is dying sir," he said.

At once I sprang from my hammock,

Little Dick was a sort of porty of mine;

He was a pale, delicate child, said to be an orphan, and used to a gentle nature; and from the first hour I joined the schooner my heart yearned to him, for I, too, had been friendless and alone in the world. He had often talked to me in confidence of his mother, whose memory he regarded with household reverence. Poor lad, his heart was in the grave with his dead mother.

During the late fight I had owed my life to him, for he had rushed in just as a cutlass stroke was leveled at me, and by interposing his feeble cutlass, averted the deadly blow. In the hurry afterward I had forgotten whether he was hurt, thinking at the time I had resolved to use no influence to procure him a midshipman's warrant. With a pang of reproachful agony I leaped to my mate.

"My God!" I exclaimed, "do you mean it! I am not dying?"

"I fear so," said the messenger sadly,

"that he cannot live till morning."

"And I have been lying idly here," I explained with remorse. "Lead me to him."

He is delirious, but at lucid intervals he asks for you, sir," and as the man spoke we stood at the bed of the boy.

A battle-scarred and gray-haired seaman stood beside him, holding a dull lantern in his hand and gazing mournfully on the face of the sufferer. The surgeon knelt with his finger on the boy's pulse. As I approached they all looked up. The veteran who held him shook his head and would have spoken

but the tears gathered too chokingly in his eyes.

The surgeon said: "He is going fast;

poor little fellow! Do you see this?" As he spoke he lifted up a gold locket which laid upon the boy's breast. "He has seen better days."

I could not answer, my heart was too full;

here was the being to whom but a few hours before I had owed my life—a poor, slight, unprotected child—lying before me with death already written on his brow. They noticed my agitation, and his old friend, the man who held his head said easily:

"Hold on! it's my deal!"

SOUTH JERSEY REPUBLICAN.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7th, 1863.

THE ELECTIONS.

UNION GAIN IN NEW JERSEY SEY 10,000!!!

The Friends of New Jersey—The Principles for Next Year, Inc., The Union Ticket Sweeps the Board. The Empire State for the Union by 20,000 Majority.—Maine, Solid Right.—Strong Probability that Missouri, Indiana and Illinois will stand out Right Side Up, and Maine, too.

Though the result of Tuesday's election in Atlantic County is not what Union desired, the return throughout the State so far as they have been received, are encouraging. The Union gains over last year about 10,000 on the popular vote. It could not be reasonably expected that the Union ticket could gain enough over the heavy odds against it last fall to secure a majority, and few probably expected that it would gain more than one. But what there is reason to believe now, is, we have been anxious to see the State a free and decided one for the Union; and thus we have the results so continually thrown in the face of all citizens for citizens of other States on account of last winter's fugitives, and the intensely disloyal spirit which has been exhibited by some of their Separatist preachers and leaders. The result of this election is truly encouraging, and evidence that the "good time is coming" when the devotion of the people of New Jersey to the Union, shall be beyond question.

Though the S. N. is still under exceptional care there is abundant cause for gladness and encouragement—in the heart of every Union man, and a new incentive to effort in the cause of right and truth. We believe the day is coming, shortly, surely, when the people of this State will almost unanimously yield a hearty assent to those principles which Government is founded, and which surely promote the prosperity of all nations, by securing to all men their natural rights.

As the return of the State are not yet full, we give only the following complete result:

Camden County—Senate, JAMES M. SEVIER, U. S. Attorney; First District, BRUNN, Second District, TAYLOR, Dunning, small majority; Third District, ALBRECHT, JOHN R. OGREN, Dem., small majority. The county officers are all Union.

Gloucester County—SENATR, BREWER, U. S. Assembly, First District, AMBROTT, U. S. Second District, HARRIGAN, U. S. Salem County—SENATR, ACTION, U. S. Assembly, First District, COOPER, Dem., Second District, HANCOCKS, U. Cumberland County—All Union candidates elected.

Mercer County—Assembly, two Union, one Democrat.

Essex County—Assembly, five Union, four Dem.

Union County—Senate, Dem., Overland, one Dem. Result in Second District not yet known.

Middlesex County—All Democratic candidates elected.

Sussex County—All Democrats, of course.

Warren County—All Democrats as usual.

The probability is that the Unionists will gain one in the Senate over last year, and several in the Assembly. We should wait for more complete returns, if it were possible to give the exact result. As it would not now have made no special effort to obtain anything further. The result in the State is not only better than we expected, but much better than we expected, and is an encouraging omen for the future of New Jersey.

THE VICTORIES.

It is universally conceded by the Union press, that the results of the elections in the loyal States this fall, are not to be regarded as Republican victories. When the news of the surrender of Fort Sumter was received, all Union men laid aside the questions upon which they had before differed, and threw their energies into one common effort to preserve the unity of the Nation, and perpetuate the institutions of first self-governing people. Their party, on this ground, stood to-day as firmly as in April, 1861. In the elections of this fall the question presented before the people was, Shall the rebellion be subdued by law and order, or means? or shall all the interests of the people be risked on the chance of a man professing Godlessness, who stands avowedly as unwilling, on account of his political principles, to pray for these men, and for this cause for which we sue him? So much for the cause.

The people have answered, and in a way that leaves no doubt at all of their determination to "stand by the flag" with an unflinching determination, and an unwavering devotion. It is a proclamation from the American people to the world, that the Republic must and shall be maintained, and to this end, the war shall be fought.

It is presented. It is a verdict for the Union, and for the support of the Administration in this cause, to preserve and protect the Union.

We are not to infer from this that the old Republicans have renounced any of the principles of right for which they contended, or that they would not state them

THE ELECTIONS.

so explicitly and livingly for them as before.

But to-day as at any time during the last two presidential campaigns, the people of this village, as usual, attended the polls in this village, and the election was held Sabbath afternoon.

I am one of the number, and Dr. Jones, formerly of Bridgeton, who resigned his charge on account of some of the members of his church interfering with the members of my church, and the members of the Union maintained.

ELECTION IN ATLANTIC COUNTY.

As we can't afford for the political returns, we give the following majorities which are very nearly correct:

Atlantic City, 17.
Egg Harbor, 16.
Galloway, 15.
Hamilton, 6.
Weymouth, 100.
132.
141.

Hanthorn's majority, according to these figures, 19. We expected a close vote in the county, but were not without hope for the election of Mr. Godfrey, knowing him to be a man of intelligence and unimpeachable moral character, and every way worthy to represent the county. With the exception of one township in which we are told some seventeen Union men did not attend the polls, we believe there was a full vote. The Union men might have carried the election, by the use of means, but it would not have been so decided that it would be safe to publication. To the offices of the other above-mentioned, to file, should have been added editor of the South Jersey Republican? I have a few words to say, and prefer a vapor�it, although he declined having him for their pastor, and a few days ago, he was appointed to the Colonel for 2d Lieutenant. He replied to me that he could not recommend him to the Governor for a lieutenancy because he was not a member of the Sabbath reformers, and advised me several times to be a 2d Lieutenant instead of recommending one of his own company. Rev. Mr. Brown, two Sabbath boys, was not even prepared, and the pastor of the church, unadvised, and would not be able to do his duty. We believe, however, that the man, with a good conscience towards God and man, tolerate or countenance the public ministrations of any man who places himself in that position.

Later reports say our loss was only 5 killed and 15 wounded.

How they originated—How they look and taste—Why they are given to the subscribers of The Tribune—When and to whom they will be distributed.

The cuts in our show bills represent "The True Wild Strawberry," obtained because we purchased them, at a very large price, to be sent exclusively upon the subscription of either edition of The Tribune for $1.50 intended to be sent to every subscriber who expresses a wish to that effect, as the price of advertising will be equal to the price of $1.50 to each subscriber, or that is the price charged by nurserymen for similar plants. "Indeed, neither of these prize strawberries could be obtained at any price whatever, as we have secured every plant that can be produced in the year 1863, exclusively, to our subscribers. We have incurred the large outlay necessary for this purpose, because we have an earnest desire to see the propagation of improved fruit greatly extended, and because we believe that every one who receives these plants and grows them will find The Tribune kindly remunerative for enabling him to enjoy such a good gift of Providence, and will therefore do his best to induce all the friends of improved fruit to do the same."
