W. C. T. U.

The ladies have taken this space by the year, and are responsible for all that it may contain.

Power of the Church.

All the evangelical Churches have declared against the liquor traffic, and several of them have affirmed that no party has a right to expect the votes of Christian men so long as it stands committed to the license policy.

Is it not common sense to be as consistent in politics as in other things? The saloon is a political evil, and should be met as such in politics. It is every Christian man's duty to cast his vote against all parties that believe in and favor the drink traffic.

Is not this true?

How did you vote?

PRESS SUPT.

A Night's Fun.

Thirty Red Men from Shawmunkin Tribe, Hammonton, visited Tongwa Tribe, No. 210, Philadelphia, recently. They took the 6:09 p.m. train to the P. & R., and at Camden were met by a committee from Tongwa. Across the river more Hammonton brothers joined us. We all took a Fifth Street trolley for Franklinville. At Lehigh Avenue we were met by about seventy-five of the brothers, dressed in their adoption suits, with P. S. Chas. Bender as marshal, led by a band. They carried banners, torches, and emblems of the order. We fell to line and marched north on Fifth Street to Venango, west to Ninth, south to Tioga, east to Sixth, north to the hall, corner of Venango.

The parade was viewed by thousands of people all along the route. Fire works and red lights showed that the visitors were welcome, and that they were all in some way connected with the different Tribes of Red Men. At the hall we found about one hundred more Tongwa brothers, who welcomed us to their wigwam. The Tribe held a short session,—most too short for some of us, whose feet ached from their walk over the cobblestones.

We then started out again, going east on Venango Street to Randolph, north to Erie Ave., east to Fifth, north to Rising Sun Ave, north east to North Philadelphia Drive-Yard Hotel, our headquarters for the night. We found the proprietor, Mr. Fred. Reitter, a jolly good fellow, who spared no pains in making the occasion pleasant.

We soon went up stairs to the hall, a fine large room, with a good piano. Bro. Chas. Scull was there, and, as usual, wanted to handle all he saw, and was soon seated at the piano, playing one of his rag-time pieces, surprising most of the other company to see the young Jerseyman get out such music out of that instrument.

But we were not sorry to hear the call to supper, after a seven mile walk. The tables were set in good style, with everything in abundance, and all that we could wish for.

After supper we returned to the hall, where an entertainment was given by our hosts. Bro. Snyder sang a comic song. Bro. Louis Peterman, sentimental song. The Dixie Quartette showed wonderful musical talent and excellent training. Mr. Dauphin played and whistled at the same time,—his whistling being an imitation of a bird whistling, and was as sweet as any bird could sing. He is only fourteen years old, and his equal is hard to find. Brother Drake sang one of his beautiful sentimental songs, and Bro. Scull played a few selections, doing so well that some of the brothers couldn't keep their feet still. Bros. Gillingham, Schultes, and Weinburger each sang a song. Bro. Spoth gave imitations of various kinds; Bro. Wilkins a comic recitation. It wound up with Tongwa Night-Owl Glen, Bro. Kneppart, pianist, and kept the audience in an uproar. But it was about one o'clock, and we were soon all in our rooms.

Early in the morning Bro. Naylor was suddenly taken with cramps; but a bottle of soothing syrup was produced, and the brother recovered.

We had breakfast about eight o'clock, and went out for a stroll. A storm prevented us from going about as we had planned, and about three o'clock we returned home, wishing that more of our brothers had been with us, as those who did not go missed a good thing.

We bid our Tongwa brothers good-bye, hoping to soon meet them again. That visit will long be remembered by all who were present, and left a warm spot in each heart for our hosts.

ONE OF THEM.

Josh Westhafer, of Logansport, Ind., is a poor man, but he says that he would not be without Chamberlain's Pain Balm if it cost five dollars a bottle, for it saved him from being a cripple. No external application is equal to this liniment for stiff and swollen joints, contracted muscles, stiff neck, sprains, and rheumatic and muscular pains. It has also cured numerous cases of partial paralysis. It is for sale by Crowell.

SATURDAY, NOV. 9, 1901

The Governor-elect

The Election.

Tuesday, Election Day, gave us the proverbial November weather, a trifle of rain before daylight, a raw cold wind and plenty of clouds. Those who had predicted a heavy vote were inclined to change their minds, and for a few hours their fears seemed well founded; but workers were abundant, and allowed none to escape who could be reached by argument or carriage. Then, the weather was not so bad, after dinner, and nearly five hundred (495) free American citizens exercised their prized prerogative before the polls closed.

Varied and various were the guesses made as to the final result in State and County; and, as usual, some were necessarily disappointed; but this is America, the majority rules, and the defeated ones accept the verdict with the customary growl of regret.

Everything was peaceable, here, as it always is, and both polls being near together, and away from the main street, the little excitement existing was unknown to the general public.

As near as can be ascertained, Edward S. Lee was elected by a plurality of 214; Thos. O. Elvins by 3007; Albert C. Stephany, 3310. But New Jersey gave the rousing item, by electing Franklin Murphy Governor by a plurality of 16,942, said to be the second largest ever given in the State.

In New York, Tammany candidates were defeated by an overwhelming majority. Hon. Seth Low was elected Mayor of Greater New York; Mr. Jerome chosen District Attorney. This means much to the great city, and the State. No wonder Republicans and Law and Order men feel jubilant over the results.

Pennsylvania went Republican, as usual. "The machine" triumphed. But they say the old machine is quite as good as the one offered by "reformers."

Our esteemed townsman and Assemblyman-elect, Thomas C. Elvins, has reason to be proud of the vote he received in the Town and County.

A Night of Terror.
"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burgham, of Maclean, Me., when the doctors said she would die from pneumonia before morning," writes Mrs. H. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but she bought for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of consumption. After taking, she slept all night. Further use quickly cured her. This marvellous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat and lung diseases. Only 50c, and 81.00. Trial bottles free at Crowsell's drug store.

A Communication.
Mr. Editor:—Allow me to speak a few words in favor of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I suffered for three years with the bronchitis and could not sleep at night. I tried several doctors and various patent medicines, but could get nothing to give me any relief until my wife got a bottle of this valuable medicine, which has completely cured me.—W. B. Brockman, Hagsell, Mo. This remedy is for sale by Crowsell.

Oliver Franklin B., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Warner, died on Thursday, Oct. 31st, 1901, of pneumonia, aged four years. Funeral on Saturday, Rev. H. F. Loomis officiating.

The S. of H. defeated the H. C. A. for the third time, last Saturday evening, the score being 17 to 12. The S. of H. have ordered new suits for their basket-ball team, and will probably wear them next week Saturday, in a game with the Egg Harbor.

St. Mark's Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Thursday morning of this week, the Rev. Edwin C. Alcorn officiating, when Miss Lulu Campanella, eldest daughter of Mr. D. Campanella, of Main Road, was married to Mr. Carmelo Audito, of New York. As the bridal party reached the Church, the strains of the wedding march from Lobengrin burst forth from the organ, at which Mrs. William H. Parham presided.

The wedding party, preceded by her bridesmaids, went up to the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her away. She was handsomely dressed in white silk, en train, with bridal veil, and carried white roses and lilies. After signing the register, the bridal party returned to Mr. Campanella's, where they partook of the wedding breakfast. They left on an afternoon express for New York, where they will reside. Miss Campanella and her sisters have been faithful communicants of St. Mark's Church for several years, and the good wishes of the Church and the community at large go with them to their future home, for a prosperous and happy life.

ELWOOD NOTES.

Mr. Otis M. Stone has returned from Virginia, bringing with him a pair of squirrels caught and tamed while there. Their antics are very amusing.

A birthday surprise party was given in honor of Mr. Austin Bozarth, last Tuesday evening. Many of his friends were present, and enjoyed themselves.

Rev. M. S. Morgan is expected home on Saturday, and will take his place in the pulpit on Sunday.

Miss Robt Stone is spending a few days with friends in Germantown.

Mr. William Clement, of Atlantic City, is visiting his friend Mr. Robert Smith.

Do you wish to see a very fine specimen of bird dog? Ask Asaiah Bozarth to show you his.

THE THREE GUNNERS.
These verses are to be sung on the tune of "When Johnnie comes marching home":

There were three men went out to gun—
Charlie, and Bob, and Walt.
They said they certainly had some fun;
Charlie, and Bob, and Walt.
They had a dog that fetched the quail,
They whistled that dog 'til he did fall,
And they all came home and—
Charlie, and Bob, and Walt.

They walked that day but shot no game—
Charlie, and Bob, and Walt.
They did the next day just the same—
Charlie, and Bob, and Walt.
No Walt went away; he was the Jannah, they say;
Then Charlie shot a quail the very same day,
And they came home all feeling gay,
Charlie, and Bob, and —the dog!

The Lyceum.

The regular meeting of the Lyceum will be held in Red Men's Hall on Monday evening, Nov. 11th. The subject for debate is:

Resolved, That the act of President Roosevelt in unseating Booker T. Washington was justifiable.

Mr. J. L. O'Donnell and Rev. W. K. McKinney will sustain the affirmative, and Rev. E. C. Alcorn and Mr. M. L. Jackson on the negative side of the question. The program will consist of a solo by Miss Eva Carlaw, a reading by Miss Myrtle Dickey, quartette by the Misses Layer and Misses Keyser, and Bourillon, and a recitation by Miss Katie Garton.

Cases of malicious mischief have been reported from Hollow Glen. All the keyholes in the M. E. Church doors, also those in the Central School house and annex, were filled with plaster of paris, mixed thick enough to run into the locks, causing much inconvenience and delay. There was not the excuse of two in that, and the perpetrators would be punished if detected.

Accounts of all missing cattle had been found. This mischief is carried too far, and special officers should patrol the town next year, on that night.

Don't forget or neglect the special Town Meeting this afternoon, and then complain because of what was done there. Remember, the Council want three hundred dollars more for town purposes; and they need it.

Married.

LOOMIS—EGERTER. In the First Evangelical Lutheran Church, Wheeling, West Virginia, on Wednesday, November 6th, 1901, at 10 o'clock, by the Rev. Samuel Schwarz, D. D., Rev. Herbert F. Loomis, Pastor of the Hammoncton (N. J.) Baptist Church, and Miss Alice Egerton, of Wheeling.

A reception was held at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Adelaide Egerton, 719 Main Street, from 12.30 to 3.30, after which the bride and groom started for a short tour and visit. The Church and the home were profusely decorated. At the wedding dinner, covers were laid for fifty guests. Many valuable presents were received. They are expected home, Hammoncton, on Wednesday, Nov. 20th, when a reception will be tendered them.

Stood Death Off.
E. B. Munday, a lawyer of Henrietta, Tex., once fooled a grave-digger. He says: "My brother was very low with malaria fever and jaundice. I persuaded him to try Electric Bitters, and he was soon much better, but continued his use until he was entirely cured. I am sure Electric Bitters saved his life."

This remedy cures all biliousness, indigestion, nervous diseases, kidney troubles, female complaints; gives perfect health. Only 50 c., at Crowsell's Pharmacy.

Many a Cold,

Many a twinge of Rheumatism, might be avoided if people would be particular in buying their underwear. Few stop to consider the importance of proper under-clothing. Some persons require much lighter clothing than others; but be sure you are warm enough.

We can supply you with thin cotton, fleeced-lined; heavy fleeced-lined; merino, or all wool, at 25 c., 50 c., and $1. Vests and pants all sizes from 30 to 46. We think we can suit the stout folks, who have found it to find anything large enough.

We have same quality goods for children, at low prices, according to size and quality of garment.

The assortment of Gents' Underwear is still greater. We have as many as six different weights at 50c and $1, among them merino, fleeced-lined, summer-weight wool, and red flannel.

We are having good success this Fall with Ladies' Combination Suits at 50 c., $1, $1.25, and $1.50. Many ladies wearing them say they would not go back to the single vests and pants.
