Thanksgiving Proclamation

By the President of the United States of America: a proclamation:

A God-fearing nation, like ours, owes it to its inborn and sincere sense of moral duty to testify its devout gratitude to the All-Giver for the countless benefits it has enjoyed. For many years it has been customary at the close of the year for the National Executive to call upon his fellow countrymen to offer praise and thanks to God for the manifold blessings vouchsafed to them in the past, and to unite in earnest supplication for their continuance.

The year now drawing to a close has been notably favorable to our fortunate land. At peace within and without, free from the perturbations and calamities that have afflicted other peoples, rich in harvest so abundant and industries so productive that the overflow of our prosperity has advantaged the whole world, strong in the steadfast conservation of the heritage of self-government bequeathed to us by the wisdom of our fathers, and firm in the resolve to transmit that heritage unimpaired, but rather improved by good use, to our children and our children's children for all time to come, the people of this country have abounding cause for contented gratitude.

Wherefore, I, William Howard Taft, President of the United States of America, in pursuance of long-established usage, and in response to the wish of the American people, invite my countrymen, whosoever they may sojourn, to join, on Thursday, the twenty-eighth day of this month of November, in appropriate ascription of praise and thanks to God for the good gifts that have been our portion, and in humble prayer that his great mercies toward us may endure.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the U. S. to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this seventh day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twelve, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and thirty-seventh.

WILLIAM H. TAFT.

THE VOTERS' VERDICT.

Woodrow Wilson is President-elect of the United States; and with him the people have elected so many Democratic members of Congress and State Legislators that the National House of Representatives will be strongly of that complexion, with a probability that the Senate will have a Democratic majority.

We have met the enemy, and we are theirs, "horse, foot, and dragons," and will not try to disguise our disappointment. There is no use in trying to assign a cause for our defeat,—the result is bad enough, without brooding over it. Still, this is a great country, with resources unrivaled, and millions of men still ready to do their allotted work, day by day. The first spasm of disappointment will soon pass away, and the carpenter's hammer and printer's press will continue to be heard; the merchant will still sell you muslin, the butcher slice your meat, and the baker mould his loaves.

The most surprising part of the matter is the size of the victory,—east, west, north and south uniting in giving Governor Wilson his coveted orthodoxy. The latest returns give him 412 electoral votes, with Roosevelt 77, and Taft only 12; or in other words, Wilson carried 40 out of 48 States, Roosevelt 3, and Taft 3. There are lessons to be drawn, but the wound is too fresh for deep probing, and we'll wait for the natural healing which will follow.

In the meantime, President Wilson will have no balky team to drive. If his theories of government are correct, he will find an unimpeded opportunity to put them into practice and test their efficiency. This fall land of ours is too great to be ruined in four years; and we will then have an opportunity to approve or disapprove, to reward success or condemn failure.

New Jersey gave Wilson 174,691 votes, Roosevelt 135,938, and Taft 76,853.

Four months from the day of Wilson's inauguration, every bank in this country will close its doors. Don't believe it? But it's a fact. Just refer to your calendar.

Much to the regret of his friends, John J. Gardner met defeat for Member of Congress, after serving ten terms.

Heard everywhere, next day,—"I told you so!"

The Hammoncton election returns, also the national result, were on the "Republican" bulletin board at three o'clock Wednesday morning.

Tuesday was bright and delightful, a model election day. As will be seen by our figures, the vote was large, though many had failed to register. Yet there was no excitement anywhere; someone said it was quieter about town than on a pleasant Sunday. About midnight the boys had their bonfire, over near the house-ball grounds; and it was a huge one. They rang the church and school bells, and had a regular jollification, to which no one seemed to object. It was already practically sure that Gov. Wilson had won in the battle with ballots.

THE ANITA SINGING ORCHESTRA.

One of the most popular musical numbers which have ever appeared on this course will be heard here this sesson, the Anita Singing Orchestra. This orchestra comprises six talented, and refined young ladies, who are equally entertaining as singers, players of instrumental music and pantomimists.
They present a great variety of music,
including songs with action, and appear in special costumes. There is a graceful blend of classic with the popular
and the sublime with the ridiculous.
They use no printed or fixed program,
but sustain a large and varied repertoire,
from which it is always convenient to render either a classic, sacred or miscellaneous program, as the occasion

may demand.

Mrs. Ralph Dunbar, formerly with the noted Dunbar Quartet and Bell Ringers, is with this company and not only participates in its music, but gives impersonations which are a delight to every audience. One of her interpretations is Dickens' "A Child's Dream of a Star." "The Little Dutch Girl" is another selection with which she always makes a hit. During the seasons of 1911 and 1912 there was no
company on the entire list of Redpath talent which received more hearty commendation from Lyceum committees everywhere, and they appeared on some of the largest courses.

Where 2=3

Here are some definite statements and facts to show that you either delude yourself or are unknowingly humbugged when you buy inferior paint.

A gallon of low priced paint won't cover more than 200 to 250 square feet, two coats. The label on the can and the printed matter concerning the paint often even tells you that.

A gallon of

Lucas Tinted Gloss PAINT

ONCE USED ALWAYS PREFERRED

covers at least 300 square feet, two coats.

When you use inferior paint you must buy three gallons to do the work that could be done with two gallons of Tinted Gloss and besides you've got to pay for the additional time and labor required to apply the greater amount of an inferior paint.

Remember these things when you buy paint and then you won't fool yourself or be fooled.
