A Remarkable Experience

Mark Twain relates the following as among his experience, prefacing his parrative with a quotation from a western paper. which may be regarded as his lest.
The editor of the Memphis Avalanch sweeps thus mildly down upon a corresent who posted him as a radical: "While he was writing the first word, the middle word, dotting his i's crossing his t's and punching his period, he know he was toucorting a sentence that was saturated with infamy, and recking with falsehood.

- Exchange.

I was told by the physicians that a south-eru climate would improve my health, and so I went down to Tounessee and got a berth on the Morning Glory and Johnson County War Whoop, as associate editor. When I went on duty I found the chiefeditor sitting tilted back in a three legged chair with his feet on a pine table. There was another pine table in the room, and another afflicted chair, and both were half buried under newspapers and scraps and sheers of manuscript. There was a wooden old soldiers," and a store with a door hanging by its upper hinge. The chief editor had a long-tailed black cloth frock coat oo, and white linen pants. His boots were small and neatly blacked. He wore a ruffled shirt. a large sent ring, a standing collar of obsolete pattern, and a checkered eckorchief with the ends hanging down. Date of custume, about 1848. He was emoking a cigar and trying to think of a word, and in pawing his head for it he had rumpled his locks a good deal. He was secwing fearfully, and I judged he was emecoting a particularly knotty editorial. He told my to take the exchanges and akim through them and write up the "Spirit of the Tennessee Press, condensing into the article all of their contents that seemed of

The editor of the Sami-Week' Earth-quake evidently labors under a misappre-heusion with regard to the Ballyhack Rat-rond. It is not the object of the company to leave Bussardville off to one side. On he contrary, they consider it one of the nest important points along the line, and consequently can have no desire to timbi-t. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, h as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Branchitis, Asthma, and Consumption. nedicine, has anything won so whely and so deeply upon the condidence of mankind, as this excellent wmedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of aso it has risen higher and higher in their estima-Hon, 48 M, has secons count anown. The union of character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to be given for incipient contemption, and the dan-gerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a pro-vision against sudden attacks of Group, it should be kept on hand in over? fimily, and indeed as all the sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled. Consessaption is thought in-currants still great numbers of cases where the discurante, attl great numbers of cases which he dis-case seemed actiled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pecterial. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Threat, that the most obstitute of them yield to it. When noth his cise could reach them, under the Obserry Pec-tered they subside and disappear. Singers and Public Speakers and great pro-tection from it.
