Thanksgiving Proclamation

BY THE GOVERNOR

Another year of peace and prosperity has passed by. The life of the state and nation has been undisturbed by war or pestilence or disaster of any kind; we have been free to choose our own way, and have gone through the varied action of a great political campaign without violence or passion. The hope of our people has risen with the increase of their life, and God has been very gracious to us in his dealings.

Therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, Governor of the State of New Jersey, do designate Thursday, Nov. 28th, inst., as a day to be observed for general thanksgiving and praise, and upon that day I recommend that all business cease and that the people gather in their respective churches and other places for public worship, or in their homes in private, to make fitting acknowledgment to Almighty God of his unbounded benefactions to us as a nation, state and individual.

Interesting Fruit Items

Few people here realize the importance this section has attained in supplying the world with small fruits.

During the last season, Hammononton red raspberries were on the market from June 1st to November, and carloads of these and blackberries were distributed between Baltimore, Rochester, Pittsburgh, and Boston.

Most of the shipments are now bought at our home station. Chas. Monfort alone paid out over nineteen thousand dollars for berries.

Peaches from the orchards of L. M. and W. H. Parkhurst led both in quantity and quality,—their gross sales amounting to thirty thousand dollars, this past season. Monfort & Houck handled their shipments, and distributed them from Panama on the south up to Montreal, Canada, on the north.

Probably fewer people realize the importance of our cranberry crops; but shipments are distributed from the Atlantic Coast to the Pacific.

The Presbyterian Church gives notice of divine worship at 10.30; theme, "A robber; and still out of jail." Bible study at noon: come and learn of Christ. C. E. at 6.45. Mrs. Geo. B. Wood leading; the topic, "Mistakes often made." Theme for evening worship, at 7.30, "A history of the Kingdom of Heaven."

On Tuesday, as C. F. Crowell was working on Guettinger's place, Second Road, a limb fell from a tree and struck him on the head, rendering him unconscious and causing partial paralysis. He was taken home and Dr. Bitter summoned. We understand that he is recovering from the shock.

The concert given by "The Antias," on Tuesday evening, was certainly enjoyable. Some people said 'twas the best ever given in Bellevue Hall. The six ladies are all gifted, and gave the audience an entertainment that was well appreciated.

The usual services will be held in the Baptist Church to-morrow. Pastor's topics, appropriately missionary, were not given us. Sunday School and C. E. Societies at their usual hours.

At the M. E. Church, to-morrow, 9.30, class meeting; preaching at 10.30 and 7.30 by Pastor W. L. Shaw. Bible School at noon. Jr. League at 3.00; Epworth League at 9.45. All welcome.

J. A. Van Fleet had the surprise of his life, last Sunday, when two well-dressed strangers (as he supposed) called and asked for the loan of a match or two. It turned out that one of them was ex-Mayor Breitung, of Detroit, and the other supposed stranger was Mr. Van Fleet's own son Fred, who was the Mayor's private secretary during his term of office. After some little bantering, the identity of the gentlemen dawned upon the host. The joke was on our townsman, but it was not the first joke that has come to him through his defective eyesight.

Copyright Hart Schaffner & Marx

If you are one of the few who still have a notion that you have to go to a Tailor and spend from twenty to thirty dollars for an Overcoat or Suit, to be well dressed, we ask you to come in and let us show you the Overcoats and Suits Hart Schaffner & Marx made for us. We are in a position to quickly dispel that idea from your mind. They made Overcoats and Suits for us that have character, style and distinction that were never before attained. New ideas in fashion, models which you will particularly like. The best and most clever designer in America is designing the clothes; the workmanship is by the best journeyman tailors, and the materials of which they are made are guaranteed to be all wool. Can you beat that? or can any tailor offer you anything better? Think it over.

Hart Schaffner & Marx Overcoat, $18 to $22.50
Suit, $18 to $22.50

We have an agreeable surprise in store for the men who want to spend $12.50 to $15 for an Overcoat or Suit. Style, make and quality are all there.

Nothing cheap about these garments except the price.

Women's Long Serge Coats

In black and blue, priced at $7.50. Semi-fitted back, plain tailored.

Women's Long Coats, of black and blue serge, at $10, and $12.50.

We have had some difficulty, for several weeks, in the delivery of the Republican to subscribers at Winslow and Elm. We expect to have the trouble overcome, soon; and hope our friends will be patient, as it is through no fault of ours. In case of non-arrival, notify us.
Doubtless many of our readers have seen the William McKinley Memorial Hospital Stamps, to be used in sealing envelopes, etc. The object of the movement is to erect a non-sectarian hospital in New York, as a memorial, and to establish branches, and camps for the treatment of tuberculosis. It is a worthy object, and should be supported. Send a dollar to the McKinley Memorial League, No. 1 Madison Ave., New York City, and get one hundred stamps.

Brick cross-walks will probably be laid by the County, on Central Avenue, at Vine Street and Union Hall. They are needed.
At Council meeting, Wednesday evening, Mr. Godfrey very properly called attention to the cross-walk opposite his pharmacy. It is below street level, and will be a small pond during wet weather.
Hammonston is not the only town along the line where residents are afraid to leave their valuables at home when out in the evening.

Tradition states that in a not far distant past, in a county not so far away, a distinguished political boss, convicted of crime, was sentenced to a term of years in state prison; and since then nothing has been heard on the subject. Lesser lights have passed up and down since then, but this man still flourishes. In fact, Dame Rumor states that he and his "friends" composed the defeat of the "old war-horse" of his own party, recently, when he desired to continue in office two years more. Strange, isn't it, how peculiar some things are.

One object of the concrete walks and curbs is uniformity; and all should be willing to conform to it, whether one's walks are sand, brick or cinders.

1 They interlock and overlap each other in such a way that the hardest driving rain or snow cannot get under them.
Won't rust or rot in wind, storm. They're also fire-proof, will last as long as the building, and never need repairs.

Reasons

Why it pays to build of Concrete
First, it lasts; Second, it satisfies
Third, it is modern;

The other ninety six reasons you will find if you will examine a house of this kind, or if you will call on the Hammoncton Concrete Co.

DO YOU NOT KNOW?

If you do not, you can find out by a very little investigation that

The Hammoncton Paint

How to Make a Sandy Farm Yield Bigger Profits

- Read:
- (1) Subduing a Sandy Farm
 - (2) Demonstrating Sand Values
 - (3) The Sand Farm for Fruit Growing
 - (4) The Sand Farm for Dairying and Live Stock

These are the titles of four articles written by J. Russell Smith, the noted commercial agriculturalist and practical farmer, which are based on actual experiments and demonstrations. They explain in detail the secret of successful sand farming. The first of the four articles appears in this week's issue of

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

NOW READY

Five Other Big Features in This Issue Are:

Honoring the Plowman, by John Anson Ford. An interesting account of a Western plowing contest, the fun that the contestants and spectators enjoy and the practical good that every farmer receives from such a competition—particularly as to the newest, most productive and economical methods of plowing.

The Pound of Cure, by Harry Snowden Stabler. This is one of a series of valuable articles that are being published under the general title of OUR ONE HUNDRED MILLION DOLLAR FIRE WASTE. In this particular article Mr. Stabler explains how the country home can be protected against fire, and how fire, if it does start, can be extinguished or kept from spreading until help comes.

And in addition to the first of the Sand articles and the other big features, there are the valuable regular weekly departments conducted by the foremost authorities in the country. These departments, each one dealing with an important phase of agriculture, are The Farmer's Business Market, an explanation of the beef shortage and the effect of the large crops on the market; The Political Observer, a clear and concise statement about the effort that is being made to have Congress pass a "pure grain law"; The Signboards of Science, significant facts about new and practical methods that are being used in progressive farming communities; The Country Gentlewoman, a special article for the housewife that will assist her in her daily work, and several pages devoted to housefurnishings and house management; Little Stories of Success, short and interesting accounts of farmers who have found good ways to do important little things about the farm, and the Poultry and Dairy Departments, with the newest and most important information concerning these two subjects.

Pump Irrigation, by J. C. Mohler, of the Kansas State Board of Agriculture. Dry weather no longer causes concern among the farmers of Kansas. Artesian wells have been sunk, water pumped to the surface and vast areas of soil irrigated and made fertile. Kansas farmers who are using this new artesian well irrigation system report astonishing results. If your crops have suffered from drought you will find this article well worth reading.

Shop At Work, by Charles Atkins, an experienced trainer of sheep dogs. An interesting and valuable article showing how to train a collie as a farm dog. There is a right way and a wrong way to train a dog. Mr. Atkins' article shows the right way.
