THANKSGIVING.

The day was exceedingly disagreeable,—cold and wet, rain falling much of the time. The attendance at Church services was not large.

At the union meeting, in the Baptist Church, Pastor T. H. Atthey opened the service, Rev. Mr. VanDyke made the prayer, a united choir sang "Praise ye the Lord," and Rev. Mr. Ogborn preached from Psalm cvii. 1.

The speaker named three classes of subjects for special thanksgiving: National blessings; blessings to us as a community; individual blessings.

Abundant harvest of our national productions,—enough for our own people, and much to spare to the hungry millions in other lands. Commerce and trade have greatly increased. Not all as prosperous as we could wish, but trade with every quarter of the globe improved, which must bring prosperity to all. Public credit maintained. Our President and his advisers have managed wisely, and all nations are willing to supply us with what we need, and more, while Spain and some other nations find it difficult to borrow. Our people are more closely united. We are proud to-day of our Generals Wheeler and Lee, who are marching under the flag against which they once took up arms; our boys from the North and the South touched elbows in full fraternity in the recent conflict. Statesmen of all parties tendered to President McKinley cordial support. Our public men have been preserved,—no assassin hand has been raised against our rulers, as in the case of our lamented Lincoln and Garfield, and more recently in some other lands. Our President travels when and where he will, needing no body-guard, no protectors. God has blessed our arms in the war for humanity. It was necessary for us to interpose in behalf of an oppressed people. We look back over six months past, and realize that we have made history rapidly. Dewey won an almost miraculous victory, and we stood still in amazement; but our navy in front of Santiago so nearly duplicated the work at Manila that we must needs recognize God's hand in it all. Valuable acquisitions are coming, meaning much to us and to others. I believe it to be a part of God's plan for the elevation of fallen humanity. The Church of Jesus Christ followed our armies with relief and the Word, and have a right to rejoice. A door is open for wider fields of usefulness.

As a community, we should give thanks for good health, for exceptionally good educational facilities, for prosperous churches and religious societies. While the measure of business is not so great as one could wish, compared with some other communities Hammonton is blessed. Good order prevails. Though the sale of liquor has been legalized, but little drunkenness is seen in public; brawling is almost unknown.

As individuals, we thank God for temporal blessings,—preservation, food, raiment, friends, and home. Most of all, we thank God for his "unspeakable gift"—free salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Services were also held in the Universalist, in St. Mark's, and St. Joseph's Churches.

The custom is not so common now as it was years ago for the editors of country weeklies to take their pay for subscriptions in produce, poultry, wood, and anything else that they could use in their homes, or sell. A prospective subscriber to a certain paper recently wrote a letter inquiring whether the editor would take his pay in chickens, he promptly replied: "Yes, and wood, and meat, meat and corn, and potatoes and peaches, and billy goats, and pigs and horses, and hay, and land, and mules, and cows, and calves, and rabbits, and wheat, and turnips, and any old thing you've got. We have on rare occasions even taken in money on subscription."

Like Admiral Dewey, Admiral Schley is fond of exercise on land, and is a splendid horseman.

The Electric Light Company had another mishap. Their iron smoke-stack, weakened by corrosion caused by sulphur in the coal burned, and salt air, was blown down and wrecked. Mr. Ball, manager, bought a new, heavier stack, Monday, which was to be shipped on Wednesday, in time for use on Thursday evening, but wasn't.

TABLE OIL, 5 cents bottle at the Bee Hive Grocery.

Another new wrinkle in banking. If you have money on deposit, and wish to use a certain amount, it is not necessary to draw a check: apply in person at the Bank, ask for what you want, and if you are known it will be paid you, only requiring your receipt, blanks being provided for the purpose. The International Revenue authorities say it is all right. The receipt does not require a stamp.

MAPLE SYRUP, 10 cents bottle, at the Bee Hive Grocery.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite,—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying "Electric Bitters," and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim. No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at Dr. G. M. Crowell's Drug Store.

Governor-elect Voorhees, although a sincere Republican, is a firm believer in Jeffersonian simplicity, and has set his face against a lot of fuss and ceremony at his inauguration. This is decidedly characteristic of Mr. Voorhees, but inaugurations of Republican Governors have not been so numerous in New Jersey of late years as to have ceased to be novelties, and in spite of the preferences of the Governor-elect for a simple and unpretentious ceremony, his Republican admirers will in all likelihood consult their own feelings, rather than his, in preparing for his induction into office.

When Jenerby comes home late, he receives a lecture from Mrs. J. of such length and strength that he is pretty certain to stay out later the next night. On the contrary, when Hollister arrives at his domicile at an untimely hour, Mrs. H. smiles sweetly as she says: "How fortunate, Charles! To be sure, you are a little late for dinner, but you are in admirable time for breakfast. You must be hungry, dear, so I'll set about getting it at once." Next evening Hollister reports at an early hour. Mrs. Hollister understands man nature better than Mrs. Jennerby does.
