FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

A Farmers' Institute will be held in Union Hall, Hammonton, on Tuesday morning, afternoon and evening, Dec. 11th, 1906. This is the only meeting of its kind in Atlantic County this year, and is under the auspices of the State Board of Agriculture.

A large attendance of farmers and all others interested in agricultural matters is requested. Ladies and young people are especially invited. It is free to all.

The Board earnestly desires that more thought and intelligent discussion be given to the topics named in the program. To secure this, written questions concerning agriculture, fruit production, stock-breeding, feeding, etc., should be handed in early in each session, in order to receive proper consideration; with such other questions of local interest that may not in every case be found on the program. Come prepared to take part, and help make this a profitable meeting. Bring your note-book and pencil, and take down points of interest you wish to remember for future reference.

It is desirable that choice products of the farm and garden,—vegetables, fruits and flowers,—with also diseased specimens, be furnished for exhibition and inspection.

This is the programme,—bring it with you:

10:30, sharp.—"Management of Orchards." Prof. R. L. Watts.

11:15.—"The Fertility of the Land—How to Increase and Maintain It." Jared Van Wageningen, Jr.

2:00 p.m.—"A Few Words for the Cow and for Better Dairying." Mr. Van Wageningen.

2:45.—"The Farm Market Garden and Small Fruit Culture." Prof. Watts.

3:30.—"Sweet Potato Production." Charles Chalmers.

7:15.—Music by Grange Choir.

"Dry Feeding—The New Poultry Culture," Mr. F. Hunter, Abington, Mass.

8:30.—"America's Beauty Spots." A beautifully illustrated stereopticon lecture. Rev. D. E. Clair.

Chas. Cunningham, M.D.

Physician and Surgeon.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Thursday was all that one could wish,—sunny and cool, and just the weather to create hearty appetites. As usual, there was lots of visiting, family reunions, neighbors clubbing together, absent ones slipping in to dinner and away again. Others went gunning, foot-balling, and a goodly number to the union service in the Presbyterian Church, to render thanks.

The songs were bright, appropriate ones, which all enjoyed. Rev. D. C. Stewart read the President's proclamation, which was followed by Scripture reading by Rev. W. W. Williams, and prayer by Rev. J. H. Payran. As is the custom, the offering taken will go to the New Jersey Children's Home Society.

Rev. Mr. Williams' text was from Matt. vi. 30: "Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field," etc.

Then followed a very interesting discourse on the subject of trusting God,—reciting exhortations of Christ and his disciples. We sometimes doubt the overruling Providence, but we can see by everything around us, that he cares for his creations. The question is asked, "Where is the God that you worship?" and the answer comes, "I will tell you, if you will tell me where he is not." He is in us, about us, in the flowers, etc. "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want." May our greatest passion be to hear his voice and do his will. He is present in our nation, to help us in accomplishing our ideals. With the prophet we ask: "What shall we render for all his benefits to us?" The inclination of man is to run after things of this world, and away from things spiritual. We can do nothing without him, saint or sinner though we be. "Without me ye can do nothing." He can save us from pride and boastfulness. Babylon went down because of pride. Pride rules in the heart; but God and it cannot dwell together.

What should be our attitude toward Providence? Have faith; we have need of it. Be obedient; all nature is obedient—showing God's almightiness. We are free to choose for ourselves, but we should first think of our Creator. Among the evils of the day are ballot-box fraude and materialism. We expect an equivalent for our services; we want fine edifices, and to make a show. The modern magazine and the Sunday newspaper seem to be preferred before the Bible. Saying grace at our meals is forgotten, excepting perhaps when the minister dines with us. We must remember those about us,—the that pitieth the poor lendeth to the Lord. "Cast thy bread upon the waters." When we vow to the Lord, let us pay it. Let us each act for himself, not comparing ourselves with others, saying we are as good as they.

In closing, the speaker exhorted us not to make this our thanksgiving day because the President has proclaimed it, but because we love him, and feel our need of more faith in him.

Prayers were offered by Evangelist Baffum and Dr. Payran, the former expressing the hope that each individual heart might go up in thanksgiving, and not bring them to this service and omnibus them up instead.

Mr. Martin Kueh, an old resident, well known, died on Thursday night, 28th, aged seventy-seven years. Mr. Kueh was a comrad of the Grand Army Post, and has been ailing for a long time. Funeral service in St. Joseph's Church on Monday morning, at 10:30.

Of the lecturer, Lou J. Beauchamp, a writer from Allegheny, Pa., says: "He is a wonderful combination of humor, wit, pathos, and conservation. You will laugh and cry, and go home inspired with one supreme purpose,—to live better and do nobler things for your fellowmen."

Everybody reads the Republican, because it's all there.

QUEER STORIES

Reindeer are more numerous in Norway than horses.

The only venomous bird known in the "death bird" of New Guinea. The bite of this bird is said to cause intense pain in all parts of the body, loss of sight, convulsions and usually death.

If one were asked to name the most patient man on earth, the reply would probably be—Paul Cézanne. The famous feat of throwing up a hen's egg and catching it on a plate without breaking it necessitated nine years of constant practice.

There is a curious old law in Japan, still in effect, that when the Emperor or Empress appears in public no private person must occupy a higher place than the members of the royal family. On such occasions, therefore, it is the custom to close the shutters of all the upper stories of the houses past which the royal party goes.

An unusual story comes from Central Africa about lions raiding a village. Twenty of the great cats rushed into Chloremu one night, and killed and ate eleven men. The rest of the inhabitants took to their boats and left the town in the possession of the lions, which roamed about the streets all night and then disappeared.

Paris is to have a school for cabmen. The Anti-Cruelty Society and the Cab Owners' Association have decided on a plan for elevating the Jews' calling. There is to be a period of instruction and probation. The youth who aspires to be a "cabbie" will receive elementary instruction in the anatomy and pathology of the horse, in harnessing, feeding, driving and in police regulations. With so much love, Jesus should see the attitude that has been taken toward him. Miss Georgia A. Burns of Oklahoma is the youngest woman ranch owner in this country. She is owner and manager of eleven thousand acres, comprising the Arrow Ranch cattle ranch, and the recently leased for ninety-nine years one hundred thousand acres of oil and mineral lands in the Cretaceous and Cretaceous nations. Miss Burns not only manages her ranch with ability, but spends much of her time in the saddle, and can shoot and rope cattle with as great dexterity and skill as any of the thirty cowboys regularly in her employ.

When one is sick in Holland, said Good Housekeeping, instead of subjecting the family to calls and telephone inquiries, visitors treat the patient as a guest in the hospital. When it is a "stork" case beside the bulletin announcing mother and baby's health is hung a red pin cushion if the new arrival is a boy; when a little girl is the welcome guest the cushion is a white one. These pin cushions are handed down from generation to generation, and in wealthy households are made from bits of priceless lace and rare embroideries.

Among the many interesting discoveries of Dr. Sven Hedin in Central Asia is a singular oscillation in the position of the Lake of Karakorum, or Lob Nor. This lake seems as restless as some rivers that change their beds, but the cause of its movements is a continuous change in the level of the desert in the midst of which it lies, bordered by vegetation. At present the lake is retreating northward, and creeping toward its ancient bed, where it is known to have lain in the third century of the Christian era; and as it slowly moves the vegetation, animals and the fishermen, with their red boats, follow its shifting northward. Dr. Hedin believes that after reaching the northern part of the desert the lake returns southward, the complete period of oscillation being one thousand years or more.

Good Philosophy.

The picture had gone to the wall for the last time. "And yet," he remarked to himself, "I can claim as much credit as lots of men. I was nearly always full before I was broke."

And he went his way in peace.—Tedes Blade.

One Thing Lacking.

Wooty. Well, well, well, what a curious old lady and a queer powder and starch, but I think goodness, children, but she ain't bit you.

ENORMOUS COST OF FIRES.

Buildings Might Be Made Inexpensive.

The International Society of Building Commissioners and Inspectors call attention to the fact that we have in the United States 11,000,000 buildings valued at $14,000,000,000, or more than all the railroads in the country put together, and it asserts that of all these just one is absolutely fireproof. That one was built in Chicago by the great insurance companies for a testing laboratory. There are only 4,000 buildings—about one in 3,000—that are even nominally fireproof, and these can be damaged in a conflagration to the extent of from 50 to 80 per cent of their value. Yet the unburnable underwriters' laboratory in Chicago, with its walls of vitrified brick, floors, roof and partitions of semiprecious, hollow terra cotta, door and window openings framed in rolled steel, window frames and casings of sheet metal, doors of filled copper and steel and stairs of hollow terra cotta, cost only 12 per cent more than a building which would shiver up at the first actually burning of the building.

In 1905, which was a "normal year," we spent $500,000,000 for new buildings, and burned out one to the value of $200,000,000. We paid $300,000,000 for fighting fires and $150,000,000 in fire insurance premiums, of which we got back $35,000,000 from the companies in payment of losses.

It cost us more to burn part of our old buildings and protect the rest from burning than it did to put up all our new ones. This year San Francisco has raised the fire losses of the United States to $500,000,000, even if we do not let another city burn down between now and next January. If we should to be a "cabbie" will receive elementary instruction in the anatomy and pathology of the horse, in harnessing, feeding, driving and in police regulations.

ANDORRA A QUEER STATE.

Little Pyrenean Republic Plays on the Spanish-English Frontier.

Andorra is a singularly queer state, a semi-independent republic; it is, in truth, a collection of families following patriarchal customs centuries old under the beneficent protection of two powerful neighbors. That it has never been swallowed up, either, is probably due to the double fact that commercially it is of little value and politically the rights of both sovereigns are shadowy and indefinable. Feudal in origin, the Spanish rights are centered in the neighboring bishopric of Urgel, while the French trace their claim through the counts of Foix, whose rights were swallowed up by the royal power and later taken over by the republic. Each sovereign appoints an agent (cogitator). Sultors may, but hardly ever, appeal from local decisions to either a Spanish court at Urgel or a French one at Perpignan. The agents, helped by the local nobles, are called in for all civil judgments; but even if there were a policeman in the country he would be unable to find a prison door that locked. Each parish is governed by two consuls and a council elected by the members of the parish. For petty local work the parish is usually divided into quarters and the administrative body then consists of a meeting of all the heads of households resident in the parish. The consuls are elected mainly from taxen on sheep and cattle, the large number of the latter providing for the greater part of the parish's income. The Andorrans have neither postage stamps, nor French and Spanish money, and stamps are equally current, Spanish predominating.

Their parliament is composed of the two consuls and two other deputies from each of the six parishes. As the consuls are elected by the members of the parish, the French and Spanish money, and stamps are equally current, Spanish predominating.

From twenty-four pegs down come twenty-four black sheep, the consuls and consuls of the parishes. The consuls are elected by the members of the parish, the French and Spanish money, and stamps are equally current, Spanish predominating.

If one were asked to name the most patient man on earth, the reply would probably be—Paul Cézanne. The famous feat of throwing up a hen's egg and catching it on a plate without breaking it necessitated nine years of constant practice.

There is a curious old law in Japan, still in effect, that when the Emperor or Empress appears in public no private person must occupy a higher place than the members of the royal family. On such occasions, therefore, it is the custom to close the shutters of all the upper stories of the houses past which the royal party goes.

An unusual story comes from Central Africa about lions raiding a village. Twenty of the great cats rushed into Chloremu one night, and killed and ate eleven men. The rest of the inhabitants took to their boats and left the town in the possession of the lions, which roamed about the streets all night and then disappeared.

Paris is to have a school for cabmen. The Anti-Cruelty Society and the Cab Owners' Association have decided on a plan for elevating the Jews' calling. There is to be a period of instruction and probation. The youth who aspires to be a "cabbie" will receive elementary instruction in the anatomy and pathology of the horse, in harnessing, feeding, driving and in police regulations.

SATURDAY, DEC. 1, 1906.
HOYT & SON, Publishers.
CIVILIAN E. HOYT
WILLIAM O. HOYT

A pretty wedding took place, on Thanksgiving afternoon, at Elm, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Chapman.
The officiating minister was Rev. W.
Williams, the contracting parties
Mr. John J. Jessup, Jr., of Waterford, grandson of the late Dr. J. W. Snowden, and Miss Mabel L. Gilbert, daughter of Mrs. S. W. Gilbert, and sister of Mrs.
Chapman. Only a few dear relatives and intimate friends were present. Mr.
and Mrs. Jessup will live in Absecon.
We, with many other inebriates, wish them everything to be desired.

Last week we received from Chas. E. Bradbury, postmaster at Le-Gap, Albany, Philippines Islands, U. S. A., a large and handsomely printed book containing illustrations and descriptive articles, of buildings and streets in Manila and other cities and villages, native houses, plantations, the hemp industry, etc. It is very interesting.
This week came a bale of hemp, in minature, showing how the textile is prepared for market.

Contractor Ruby is erecting a large building, 28 x 70 feet, for a steam laundry for T. R. Evans, just above the old M. E. Church site. The structure itself is very strong, and will have plenty of light, two necessary features.
Mr. Evans proposes to start up about January first, with the latest improved machinery, and will do all kinds of laundry work, and agree to take any amount sent him. We wish him success.

The Penna. issued a new timetable on Sunday last, with only this division on it, and contained two changes—a two o'clock express from Philadelphia, arriving here at 2:40 (leaving an afternoon mail), also an express stopping here at 9 p. m.
Christmas preparations have been started in our Sunday Schools. While the evenings have not been chosen, the programs have, as follows: M. E., same music as last year, with recitation and exercise changes; Baptist, "Morning star"; Presbyterian, "What say the Bells?"

Next week Friday evening will be given the third number of the lecture course—Léon J. Bonchamps, the humanist philosopher. The fact that he has filled over eleven hundred engagements, in lecture courses and Chatelaines, during the last five years, is to us recommendation enough.

The Expense of a Gas Range

Is confined to the moments of actual use.
When the cooking is done the expense ceases, if you turn off the flame; if you don't, it isn't the range that's extravagant.

Have You Bought Your Winter Overcoat and Suit?

There is no better time than right now—the OAK HALL stocks were never in better shape at every price point. Thousands of Overcoats and Suits crowded with sterling value, fresh from our workrooms.

Men's Overcoats and Suits, $10 to $15

The Overcoat materials in this range are Friezes and Black and Oxford Cheviots, Covert Cloths and Fancy Overcoatings.

The fabrics in the Suits are Black Cheviots, Pure Wor-worsted and Fancy Cheviots. In this range we use precisely the same models as we do in the finest Suits we make.

Men's Overcoats and Suits, $15 to $47.50

The Overcoats in this range comprise Kerseys, Beavers, Oxford Overcoatings in all the new weaves—Carr's Meltons and the genuine Sedan Montagnac.

The Suits up to $30 are Hard Twisted Worsted in all the prevailing shades and high-grade Cheviots.

Every man can be fitted and every man can find the style he desires. Paddocke and the shaped back Overcoats for the younger man—the solid Chesterfield Overcoat, 48 inches long, broad-shouldered, velvet collar, Venetian body lining and satin sleeve lining for the man who wants an Overcoat that will be a splendidly sensible style for years.

In the Suits, the three-button sack coat, 32 inches long, moderately shaped at back, with fairly broad shoulders and broad shaped lapels, seems to lead all other styles.

It will be a great pleasure to show you over this vast stock.
