LOUIS J. LANGHAM, P. M.

Howard A. Glenn, who so ably supervised the laying of the concrete on Bellevue Ave., is expecting to go to France shortly, to take up road work back of the lines. Mr. Glenn won many friends here, who feel sure that if good road building will get the Kaiser's goat, his days are numbered.

The American Red Cross.

There are over 5,000,000 members of the American Red Cross.
Every one of them has, every American should have, a deep interest in the report printed in part today of the War Council of seven members established by Mr. Wilson to direct the work of the Red Cross. Of the $100,000,000 raised for the War Fund, about $85,000, 000 has been collected and $40,000, 000 appropriated, about half for France. Something over $7,000, 000 has been granted for use in other foreign countries. Some $3, 300,000 has been appropriated and $7,650,000, returnable, advanced to the Chapters to buy material.
The report covers the work between May 10 and Nov. 1, and at the present rate of expenditure—the $100,000,000 won't last "much beyond spring."

What has been done for the army and navy? When the United States entered the war, the Red Cross had 40,000 members and a fortnight six base hospitals, units, each composed of 22 surgeons and physicians, 2 dentists, 65 Red Cross nurses, 132 enlisted men of the Reserve Corps. It now has 40,000 more than a dozen in France, some of them intended for 500 beds. Forty-five ambulance companies, each of 124 men, have been trained and mustered into the Army Medical Corps, and most of them are in active service. To the navy have been furnished five base hospitals, units, two of which are on the other side; and 8 naval station hospital units. Then there is the general Red Cross hospital at Philadelphia used by the navy; there are four mobile laboratory units for emergency service; there is the Bureau of Sanitary Service, which aids the State and local authorities in looking after sanitary conditions in places near encampments and naval stations; the Bureau of Camp Service keeps the soldiers and sailors comfortable from the moment they join the colors, the Attention Service attends to their mail, telegrams money orders; the Bureau of Camp Service bestows
"comfort kits," and "knitted outfits."

Mark this: "There is and will be an almost unlimited demand for hand-made sweaters, and the product of the Chapters must be steadily increased." Make the sweaters and let the lists make the myths about them.

More than 3000 Red Cross nurses are in active service, 2,000 abroad, 14,000 enrolled. The volunteers at the rate of 1,000 a month. Of the work of the Red Cross women, who shall speak well enough? In seven months "1,300,000 separate articles of surgical dressings, hospital supplies and clothing" have been sent abroad. This in addition to great quantities furnished to American camps and cantonnements.

Commissions have been sent to France, Italy, Rumania, Russia, Serbia. The work in France is extensive and admirable. Courtoisly and all too imperfectly summarized, it includes four, soon to be five, military hospitals, twenty dispensaries in the American Army zone, a dental ambulance, and a nurses' service for American soldiers and sailors, the gift of $1,000,000 for poor, sick, or wounded French soldiers and their families, the supplying of French military hospitals, canteens for the French at the front, canteens at great railway centres, serving 30,000 French soldiers a day; a movable hospital, an artificial limb factory, a rest station and recuperation camps for our soldiers, a great health centre for French refugees, reconstruction work in the devastated region, a children's refuge, a children's hospital, dispensaries, infant welfare work, a great tuberculosis-fighting enterprise and campaign, barracks and experimental agricultural stations for disabled French soldiers.
But what need is there of these humane labors.

We can't follow beyond France, here just glimpse the Red Cross bringing hope and help to Belgium, to Italy, to the Balkans and Russia.
The Red Cross subscribers "are getting more and more of the worth, and the raising of the report will make them eager to give more."

Machinists Wanted.
Two of our men are in the Motor Section of the Ordnance Department, U. S. Army, at Rock Island, Ill. Six more have applied for enlistment. Applications by drafted men should be made at once.
This service gives automobile mechanics and machinists an opportunity to serve their country.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1917

Why not economize on postage? Many of the large firms, in paying their bills, say "no receipt necessary," recognizing that a returned check is the best kind of a receipt. We suggest that it be adopted as far as possible by our readers. As an illustration of how postage and stationery, cut up the profits, suppose we insert for you an ad. in our half-a-cent-a-word column. We send a bill for ten cents, and then return it, receipted. It has cost us six cents postage, and about one cent stationery, making seven cents in all. How many Liberty Bonds can we buy with the balance of the transaction?

National prohibition is almost here. We had hoped and prayed for such to come to pass, but, like the woman who prayed that the mountain be removed (and it wasn't), we hardly expected it in our day.

Hammononton stores can supply all your Christmas needs; and, if notified in time, will procure for you anything that they have not in stock. Act quickly.

These are the times that there are only two classes of people, no intermediates. The two classes are all those who are loyal or disloyal. We have strong evidence that a few of the latter class live in Hammononton. Patriots will report any disloyal words or conduct to Frank Garbano, Federal Building, Philadelphia.

The Red Cross ladies have certainly a huge job on their hands, to make up the ten thousand surgical articles asked for. But they have entered into it heartily, and will doubtless finish the work in time, if all who can will render assistance.

Doesn't it make you stagger, when you read of our country's estimated loan needed for next year's war program—over thirteen billion dollars? Some money that; but if we accomplish our purpose, we won't mind doing our bit at wiping out the debt.

Read the article, in another column, in regard to the work of the Red Cross.

The Gas Company has long been imposed on, for odd jobs, for which they get nothing, and which should have been done by our plumbers and electricians, at so much per hour. Consequently, as per their advertisement, they are compelled to make a charge, as "time is money" these times, and supplies cost something.

We are in receipt of a circular from the department at Washington, urging the raising of all possible in the meat line in the back lot,—referring to chickens and pigs. The present high prices for feed do not inspire people to go into poultry raising on a large scale, yet an average family could feed a small flock without purchasing much more feed. It would save considerably on one's meat bill, however.

Why don't we have a roll of honor posted somewhere, with a list of Hammononton's soldiers who are giving their all for us? Who's fault is it, yours or ours? Let's not quibble about that, but get together and honor our soldier boys at least this much. Who knows how many have entered the service? Some say at least one hundred and fifty.

Checks will be received, next week, from the Christmas Savings Funds of the Bank and Trust Company,—which will be very acceptable this year especially.

Our farmers are hauling large quantities of stable manure—imported by rail, of course. They believe in preparedness, knowing that it is a case of getting it now or getting left.

Our readers have doubtless read of the U. S. Government Thrift Stamps, which can be procured from any Post office. The savings card contains sixteen blank spaces, onto which stamps at twenty-five cents each can be affixed; and when this card is filled, it will be worth, interest compounded, plus a few cents, five dollars on Jan. 1st, 1923. Or, if the depositor desires, can be exchanged for a savings certificate, with a five dollar stamp affixed. This program can be repeated until twenty of the five dollar stamps are affixed, and the amount withdrawn on Jan. 1st, 1923. Not over ten of these certificates will be sold to any one person. Those who have money to spare can purchase the five dollar stamps, or the entire card, or the entire ten, if desired. This is a splendid way to save money, and at the same time loan money to the Government for war expenses. Twenty-five cents from each person means twenty-five million dollars.

Why don't we have a roll of honor posted somewhere, with a list of Hammononton's soldiers who are giving their all for us? Who's fault is it, yours or ours? Let's not quibble about that, but get together and honor our soldier boys at least this much. Who knows how many have entered the service? Some say at least one hundred and fifty.

Our readers have doubtless read of the U. S. Government Thrift Stamps, which can be procured from any Post office. The savings card contains sixteen blank spaces, onto which stamps at twenty-five cents each can be affixed; and when this card is filled, it will be worth, interest compounded, plus a few cents, five dollars on Jan. 1st, 1923. Or, if the depositor desires, can be exchanged for a savings certificate, with a five dollar stamp affixed. This program can be repeated until twenty of the five dollar stamps are affixed, and the amount withdrawn on Jan. 1st, 1923. Not over ten of these certificates will be sold to any one person. Those who have money to spare can purchase the five dollar stamps, or the entire card, or the entire ten, if desired. This is a splendid way to save money, and at the same time loan money to the Government for war expenses. Twenty-five cents from each person means twenty-five million dollars.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1917

Why not economize on postage? Many of the large firms, in paying their bills, say "no receipt necessary," recognizing that a returned check is the best kind of a receipt. We suggest that it be adopted as far as possible by our readers. As an illustration of how postage and stationery, cut up the profits, suppose we insert for you an ad. in our half-a-cent-a-word column. We send a bill for ten cents, and then return it, receipted. It has cost us six cents postage, and about one cent stationery, making seven cents in all. How many Liberty Bonds can we buy with the balance of the transaction?

National prohibition is almost here. We had hoped and prayed for such to come to pass, but, like the woman who prayed that the mountain be removed (and it wasn't), we hardly expected it in our day.

Hammononton stores can supply all your Christmas needs; and, if notified in time, will procure for you anything that they have not in stock. Act quickly.

These are the times that there are only two classes of people, no intermediates. The two classes are all those who are loyal or disloyal. We have strong evidence that a few of the latter class live in Hammononton. Patriots will report any disloyal words or conduct to Frank Garbano, Federal Building, Philadelphia.

The Red Cross ladies have certainly a huge job on their hands, to make up the ten thousand surgical articles asked for. But they have entered into it heartily, and will doubtless finish the work in time, if all who can will render assistance.

Doesn't it make you stagger, when you read of our country's estimated loan needed for next year's war program—over thirteen billion dollars? Some money that; but if we accomplish our purpose, we won't mind doing our bit at wiping out the debt.

The Gas Company has long been imposed on, for odd jobs, for which they get nothing, and which should have been done by our plumbers and electricians, at so much per hour. Consequently, as per their advertisement, they are compelled to make a charge, as "time is money" these times, and supplies cost something.

We are in receipt of a circular from the department at Washington, urging the raising of all possible in the meat line in the back lot,—referring to chickens and pigs. The present high prices for feed do not inspire people to go into poultry raising on a large scale, yet an average family could feed a small flock without purchasing much more feed. It would save considerably on one's meat bill, however.

The American Red Cross.

bers of the American Red Cross.
Every one of them has, every American should have, a deep interest in the report printed in part
today of the War Council of seven
members established by Mr. Wilson to direct the work of the Red Cross. Of the $100,000,000 raised
for the War Fund, about $85,000, 000 has been collected and $40,000, 000 appropriated, about half for France. Something over $7,000, 000 has been granted for use in other foreign countries. Some $3, 300,000 has been appropriated and $7,650,000, returnable, advanced
to the Chapters to buy material.
The report covers the work between
present rate of expenditure—the $100,000,000 won't last "much
beyond spring."

What has been done for the army and navy? When the United
Cross had 40,000 members and
a fortnight six base hospitals,
units, each composed of 22 surgeons and physicians, 2 dentists, 65 Red Cross nurses, 132 enlisted men of the Reserve Corps. It now has 40,000 more than a dozen
in France, some of them intended
companies, each of 124 men, have
been trained and mustered into the Army Medical Corps, and most of them are in active service. To the
hospitals, units, two of which are on
the other side; and 8 naval station
hospital units. Then there is the general Red Cross hospital at Philadelphia used by the navy; there
are four mobile laboratory units for
aids the State and local authorities
in places near encampments and
naval stations; the Bureau of Camp Service keeps the soldiers and
sailors comfortable from the moment they join the colors, the
mail, telegrams money orders; the
"comfort kits," and "knitted outfits."

Mark this: "There is and will be an almost unlimited demand for
hand-made sweaters, and the product of the Chapters must be steadily
and let the lists make the myths
about them.

RED CROSS CLASSES

Surgical Garment Class, under supervision of Mrs. S. C. Loveland, held every Friday, at 2 p.m., at St. Mark's Parish House.
Knitting Class, Mrs. Elsie R. Smithers, Supervisor, every Friday, 2 p.m., same place.
Surgical Dressing Classes, under Supervision of Mrs. Charles Cunningham, held every Wednesday, 4:30 and 7:15 p.m., same place.

To the Women of Hammonton: As chairman of the surgical supplies of the local Red Cross, I received our first war order for emergency work,—that of making certain gauze pieces, 10,000 in number, by December 14th. Such a stupendous number startled the Executive Board. Nevertheless, we took immediate steps to fill our quota, and on the first day, the women so graciously came to our aid that we were able to make 885 pieces.

The Parish House is our work room, and will be open every day from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m., except such days when it will be closed from 12 to 12:45, noon. On the War Relief days, we will try and not interfere with their work.

Remember, you are not working for any one in our town, but for the injured in the warring countries. So, if you have any unkind thoughts against any of the Red Cross workers, leave them (the thoughts) at home, and come out and do your share of this work! A warm room, congenial people, patriotic sentiment, and complete harmony, will greet you.

Mrs. Chas. Cunningham,
A. R. C. I.

The Baptists will hold "watch night" services on New Year's Eve. At six o'clock, the ladies will serve a sour kroust, supper, an hour or two of social games will follow, and conclude at midnight by devotional services.

Growth of Ordnance Department.

Before the war began the United States Government employed approximately 500,000 persons in the civil branch. Now that this country is actually engaged in the conflict, the great army of workers behind the fighting forces is growing by tens of thousands.

A good example of this rapid addition of employees is in the civilian force of the Ordnance Department of the Army. Seven large privately owned office buildings in Washington are required to house the officials and clerks of this force, in addition to the usual quarters in the State War and Navy Building, which were sufficient before Uncle Sam began to prepare for war. The Gun Division alone, which did not exist as a separate division before we entered the war, now has more than two thousand civilian employees besides about three hundred commissioned officers, and it is estimated that this division will be three times its present size within a year.

The great manufacturing plants of the Ordnance Department in various parts of the country employed about 100,000 men last spring.
Now 20,000 are at work in these establishments.

The task of supplying these thousands of workers in the face of the greatest demand for labor the country has ever known is the problem of the United States Civil Service Commission. At this time great numbers of men and women are needed to fill stenographic and other positions in the offices at Washington and mechanical trades and technical positions in Government plants for manufacturing artillery and ammunition. The local boards of civil service examiners at the post offices in all cities are furnishing detailed information concerning positions in which men and women are needed.

The Ford car makes its appeal to you in appearance as well as for service. Large radiator and enclosed fan, streamline hood, crows fenders, entire black finish, nickel trimmings,—up-to-date in all requirements for handsome appearance—and serving the people the world over as a money-saving, time-saving, labor-saving utility.
It is surely your necessity. The Ford car is just as useful on the farm as it is in the city; just as necessary to the business man as it is to the professional man. More necessary to every man than ever before. Low purchase price and very economical to operate and maintain. Why not investigate? Touring Car, $360; Run-about, $345; Coupelet, $505; Town Car, $595; Sedan, $645.
