In these days of competition and cheap goods, it is refreshing to find a merchant who refuses to buy inferior articles simply because they are low in price. The measure of success which we have attained has come to us through two principles.—Unexcelled Goods, Square Dealing.

We are prepared to furnish all kinds of seasonable goods at prices which are rock-bottom when quality is considered.

HOW DEAR to my heart are the scenes of the gridiron
When fond recollection presents them to view.—
The kick-off, the scrimmage, the touch-down are finer 'n
Any lov'd game which my infancy knew.
The wide-spreading field, and the crowd that stood by it,
The touch-lines and goal, where the touch-downs were made;
The suit of the player, and the 'santhemum nigh it,
And o'en the old football, that's laid in the shade.
The old leathern football,
The blood-spotted football,
The dust-covered football
That's laid in the shade. T.A.N.

Our Duties to the Sick.

"I was sick and ye visited me."
People, from pure lack of thought, and no lack of kindly and commendable spirit, frequently commit indiscretions in the discharge of this Christian duty, of calls upon the sick. In case of contagious or infectious diseases, no one but the doctor and pastor should properly call. The handing in of a card, a few appropriate flowers, or a kindly written note which the nurse can read in its proper time, are all that should be done. In other cases, never insist upon seeing the patient, though a near friend, and on entering the room, do so quietly, without quick or sudden movements, which are very noticeable to sick persons. Speak cheerful words with a cheery face, but do not fall into gay and careless talk in the attempt to be cheerful. Don't ask questions that will oblige the patient to talk. Talk about something else than the disease and circumstances of the sick one,—that's the doctor's business. Tell news that is pleasant, but not the list of the sick and dying.
If you know the taste of the patient, carry either some flowers, a picture, or something interesting and pleasant to the eye. By previous consultation with the doctor or nurse, prepare some delicacy to tempt the appetite. Regarding flowers, remember that some are poisonous, and should not be taken into the sick room. The tuberose, oleander, heliotrope, hyacinth, orange, lilac, syringia and lillies are among the most objectionable. With roses of different colors, a very nice bouquet can be made. Above all do not remain too long, a few minutes at best, as when persons are weak it takes but little to draw upon their strength, and a sleepless night and possibly a delay of several days in recovery, may be the result of a non-observance of this rule.
A kindly sympathetic spirit, manifested by word, expression, or deed, is always grateful to the sufferer, helpful to the giver, and will be rewarded in due season. G.D.C.

Too Neat.

The number of people in the world who are economical at the expense of others is immense. The ability to do this was somewhat picturesquely illustrated in a case in which two mothers were discussing their little boys.

"Oh, dear," said Mrs. Brown, "my Billy is so dirty and destructive! All his clothes are spotted right away."

"Oh, that's too bad," said Mrs. Green. "My little Johnny, now, is so neat and saving. Why, rather than soil his clean underkerchief, he always borrows one from one of the boys."

the true value of all taxed land reached and not mortgaged. An attempt is also made to determine how nearly the greatest possible real estate mortgage debt is reached by the existing income tax in the various States and Territories. Upon the assumption that the taxed real estate can be incumbered for two-thirds of its true value, and increasing the rate of interest to cover additional risk, it is estimated that 25 per cent. of the real estate mortgage debt limit has been reached in the United States. An estimate, excluding Mayor Granger's estimate, is also mentioned.

"I hear a good deal about double taxation," said the stranger. "May I ask what it is?" "Certainly," replied the promoter. "We call it double taxation when we had to pay both the city and the aldermen for a franchise." "Chicago

You sometimes see people with countenances looking into such a way. When I look into a pawnbroker's seems to me as if I had looked into door of hell. Who told that long? To a drunkard. To whom friends belong? To a drunkard's whom did those alms belong? To a drunkard's child. I take the three houses the doorway of a pawnbroker's slank them together, sounding the to the drunkard's soul. A pawnbroker is only one of the eddies in the sea of municipal drunkenness. Some one, "I don't patronize him." "I have destroyed you by such influence. I only take it will take a great amount of his estate." You but I tell you that

A critic had written a bitter attack on the work of a celebrated novelist. After it had been read to the author, the scorned man, wishing to meet the critic who had assailed him, and to have a common friend to bring him up to nearer some evening. the projectile resistance, both acting in the same direction. In the descent the accelerating force is the difference of these two, whence they act in opposite directions, and in a vacuum it would be projected. In that case, the weight of the projectile being the only force acting, this force would generate in each foot of time exactly the same amount of velocity that it had lost in its passage upwards. Thus, the final would find with a speed equal to its initial velocity.—St. Louis Republic.

We notice that Woodbury and Burlington, of this State, have recently been declared entitled to free mail delivery, their postoffice receipts having reached the "required amount." Wonder what that amount is; and how nearly Hammonton reaches it.

Some of the young folks went skating on Fowler's pond on Saturday last. Wednesday morning a friend stated that the Lake was frozen over, apparently solid, that another twenty-four hours of cold would make excellent skating. Before night they were skating over much of its surface, and have had merry times ever since.

We believe S. E. Brown & Co. have completed the combination hot water and steam heating system in Jackson's new building. It is quite a complicated piece of piping, with numerous radiators, and appears to be working very satisfactorily. The same firm are working at a similar job in Abcon, and we are told they have a large contract in Atlantic City.

List of uncalled for letters in the Hammonton Post-Office, on Saturday, Dec. 14, 1895:

Mrs. H. Taylor, Mrs. Geo. Taylor, Rev. J. McDonnell, 8

Persons calling for any of the above letters will please state that it has been advertised.

Every reader of The Philadelphia Sunday Press will receive during the four weeks beginning Sunday, Dec. 15, a gift which is as handsome as it is timely. It consists of a calendar, divided into four parts, each an example of the highest type of the lithographer's art. The first part, given free to every reader of the Sunday Press of December 15, is a card 11 x 14 inches, illuminated by the faces of three beautiful little girls, and the days of the first three months of the year printed clearly and artistically. On the three succeeding Sundays—Dec. 22, 29, and Jan. 5—cards similar in size and artistically representing the different seasons, will be given to every Sunday Press reader. There will be a silken cord with the first picture, and when the collection is complete it will be a handsome ornament for any parlor. To make sure of getting the Press of Dec. 15, and each succeeding Sunday, it will be well to order from your newsdealer in advance.

The Republican party in New Jersey is pledged to reform, to economy in government, to a completion of the work which was so suspiciously started two years ago. The people have now, for the third time shown, by their votes, their confidence in the ability and purpose of the party to legislate and rule wisely and well. Let us hope that our Legislature will have wisdom enough and patriotism enough to meet these just expectations.

The Republican National Committee, at a meeting held in Washington this week, decided upon St. Louis as the place, and June 19, 1896, as the time for holding the next National Convention. No objection can be urged against the place, it being as central a location as could have been selected; but many Republicans think the date fixed upon is too early.

The presidents of the anthracite coal companies resolved in New York to cut down productions 50 pr. ct. in January. When a thing gets ripe the next thing it does is to rot. This applies to nations as much as it does to pumpkins.

It is always safe to learn, even from our enemies; seldom safe to venture to instruct even our best friends.

Nothing is so good for an ignorant man as silence; and if he was sensible of this he would not be ignorant.

A Household Treasure.
D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house, and his family has always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. O. A. Dykeman, druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for 8 years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at Croft's pharmacy.

The grand inquest completed their labors on Wednesday returning twenty-seven true bills. Say, young folks, don't keep your eyes too widely open, now-a-days. If you know the best hiding-place in the house, avoid it. Santa Claus or his agents may need that very spot.

Hammonton is known as a town of comfortable homes. We have here few people of independent means, and a very few who are so poor as to require financial aid,—and those few are either foreigners or persons of advanced age. Yet there are a number to whom a little occasional aid would be a God-send. In the matter of clothing, it has come to our knowledge that some—children and adults—are not comfortably clad. Many of our readers have garments partly worn which they can spare, and would help to make needy ones comfortable. If any of you desire to aid in this line, your own Church committee doubtless knows where to place the garments, or leave your contributions at this office, and we will place them in the hands of those who will distribute them judiciously.

The "Farmers' Institute" and meeting of the Atlantic County Board of Agriculture was held in Jackson's hall on Thursday. Circumstances prevented our attending during the day but we overheard many remarks indicating that the discussions brought out many points of profit to growers. In the evening, Dr. B. D. Halstead, of the State Agricultural Experiment Station, gave by chart and stereopticon the results of careful experiments in raising potatoes. There were very many good points, much valuable information,—the main thing being the nearly perfect prevention of potato scab by treating the seed with sulphur before planting. He also illustrated club roots on cabbage and other plants, and fungus growths which are so fatal to potatoes. It was a valuable lecture and we were sorry to see so small an attendance,—not over fifty, but the few were satisfied that our State Experiment Station is worth its cost, and gave the Professor a hearty vote of thanks for his lecture.

For some time past, Charles H. Young has been acting strangely, so much so that his wife felt compelled to leave him for fear of personal violence to herself or little daughter. Since then, Mr. Y. has lived alone, and the neighbors have frequently felt apprehensive owing to his openly careless handling of lamps and fire. Two weeks ago, on complaint of some one, the man was examined by physicians who appear to have agreed that he was suffering from softening of the brain, but was not yet a fit subject for legal action. Last week another examination resulted in a certificate of lunacy, and Constable Bernhouse received an order to take him to the Insane Asylum. Last Sunday evening, Young placed a bottle of kerosene oil on the stove, and before long the heat had exploded it, scattering oil and fire about the room. An alarm was given, Squire Atkinson and Constable Bernhouse were among those summoned, and the insane man escorted to the lock-up. Very little damage was done by fire owing to prompt action. Monday morning (as was intended) the Constable and Jerry Connors took him to the State Asylum at Trenton.

The Name of The Next President of the United States

WILL BE ANNOUNCED IN The NEW YORK Weekly TRIBUNE
Of Nov. 4th, 1896.

Public interest will steadily increase, and the question how the men whose votes turned the scale at the last election are satisfied with the results under the administration they elected, will make the campaign the most intensely exciting in the history of the United States.
THE NEW YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE, the leading Republican family newspaper of the United States, will publish all the political news of the day, interesting to every American citizen regardless of party affiliations.
Also, general news in attractive form, foreign correspondence covering the news of the world, an agricultural department second to none in the country, market reports which are recognized authority, fascinating short stories, complete in each number, the cream of the humorous papers, foreign and domestic, with their best comic pictures, fashion plates and elaborate descriptions of woman's attire, with a varied and attractive department of household interest.
The New York Weekly Tribune is an ideal family paper, with circulation larger than that of any other weekly publication in the country issued from the office of a daily. Large changes are being made in its details, tending to give it greater life and variety, and especially more interest to the women and young people of the household.
A special contract enables us to offer this splendid journal and the *South
Jersey Republican*—both
One Year for $1.25,—cash in advance.
The regular price of the two papers is $2. Subscriptions may begin any time.
Sample copies can be had at this office.
