SANTA CLAUS.

The history of Santa Claus—a curious mixture of truth and fable—goes back into the ancient time. Centuries ago a child was born in Asia Minor who was given the name Nicholas. His parents were wealthy and of high rank, and desiring to express their gratitude to God for the son's birth, they resolved to educate him in the Christian priesthood. The child was sober and thoughtful, and while yet young both parents died, and he inherited all their great wealth. He considered the riches a sacred trust; with it he fed the hungry, clothed the destitute, and performed many good deeds, as secretly as was possible.

As a priest he was greatly beloved; as a bishop he continued his benevolence. After his death the church canonized him, and he became one of the greatest of patron saints, being revered as the helper of the poor, the protector of the weak, and the especial patron of little children, who learned to believe that their good things came from him.

Saint Nicholas was the name given him by the monks, and this was familiarly changed to Santa Nicholas, and finally clipped down to Santa Claus, who is still represented as retaining his old habits of secret benevolence, and as coming down the chimney at night, well laden with Christmas presents for children.

A pleasant fiction it is to them, under cover of which that charming secrecy concerning the donors of gifts is kept up, though little eyes and ears and minds are keen, and Santa Claus is usually very well known to them as a much more modern personage than old St. Nicholas. But the children enjoy the harmless pretense, the mysteriously filled stockings, and the heavily laden Christmas tree.

Mr. Vanderbilt's caution is revealed in the way he protected himself when drew three red lines through the name.

The Republican.

[Entered as second class matter.]

SATURDAY, DEC. 16, 1900

Our local Camp, Sons of Vets, is engaged in one of the most practical works of patriotism ever attempted by the order. For several years it has been practically secured that this great order would found a National Military College as a memorial to the soldiers of the Union army in the civil war, and the brave women in war times. This has been delayed by the enactment of a large percentage of the membership during the Spanish-American war, but is now being pushed with renewed vigor by the returned volunteers, with more than ever appreciate the services of the soldier's wives. The members are now circulating subscription blanks and securing pledges of financial support from our citizens. It seems needless to say that many citizens will pledge a small amount to aid the worthy cause. In a general way, the proposed college will be like other first-class colleges, having the usual courses, and admitting students of both sexes; but a special effort will be made to bring about a higher standard of citizenship. Officers of patriotism will be to this institution what credit is to the denominational college. The location for this college will be chosen at the next annual meeting of Commandery-in-Chief, which will be held at Syracuse, N. Y., in 1900. The committee representing the National body who have this matter in charge are: A. L. Soter, Jr., Mason City, Ia.; Geo. E. Cox, Hartford, Conn.; Wm. T. Church, Chicago, Ill.; H. E. Cowdin, Rochester, Mich.; W. A. Morris, Redfield, S. Dak.

Albert H. S. Gardner, youngest son of Hon. John J. Gardner, was killed by an express train on the W. J. & S. R. R., last Saturday, 9th inst., at East Harbor City. Albert had been to the Post Office to mail letters, and was homeward bound, on his bicycle. While crossing the track, he was struck by the fast express which passes that point about ten o'clock A. M. The engineer sounded his alarm, and friends shouted a warning, but it was too late, the train's speed was too great, and the young man was instantly killed. Albert was nearly seventeen years old, and had a fine reputation, both at his home in East Harbor City and Atlantic City. He graduated at the high school, carrying off the highest honors in his class; then entered the Palmer Business College, in Atlantic City, where he would soon have completed the course. Funeral services were held in the First M. E. Church, Atlantic City, on Wednesday; burial at Pleasantville. Universal sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, who have been sadly tried during the past few years.

About one month ago, O. R. Scullin, of Middle Road, shot a dog on his premises that acted very strangely, biting at every object in its way. Dr. Charles Theodorus of Wayne, Pa., a prominent veterinary surgeon, who has training kennels at Mr. Scullin's, made a post mortem examination, giving it as his opinion that the dog had rabies. Last Tuesday, W. A. Elvins, who was also training dogs for hunting, outfitted Dr. Theodorus that he had a sick dog belonging to Col. H. W. Richards, which had been bitten by the dog Mr. S. shot. The Dr. pronounced it rabies, and that it was at once killed. Since then, another dog, belonging to Mr. E. died from the same cause. It is not known how many more dogs were bitten. Our Town Council has been investigating the matter, and in an interview Dr. Theodorus advised all owners of dogs to be on the lookout. It is known that the first dog was at large for three or four days, and may have inoculated quite a number of others. The doctor advises chaining all dogs for a period of six weeks; keep plenty of fresh water before them all the time, and note any unusual change in their disposition, or peculiarity in their bark.

Some of our stores are brilliant with their display of Christmas toys, novelties, decorations and appropriate goods in a heavier line. W. L. Black's windows draw the children. There are many attractions at Miss Arlitz's. At Steele's you will see many things in the jewelry line that would prove very acceptable gifts. It certainly seems as though every one might find his heart's desire, this merry season, right here in the Hammononton stores.

Begrets over the past should cheer the future.

"Mood-going, menlegen!" politely but peculiarly uttered a pale, worried-looking young man who was passing the hotel. "Dico may." "Good gracious!" exclaimed a new guest who was standing on the porch with the landlord. "What's the matter with that gentleman, to cause him to talk in that strange manner?" "That's the new minister," replied the landlord. "Last night he officiated at his first wedding, the marriage of Miss Hitecraft and Mr. Hotchkiss, an' belin' considerably nervous and agitated, he got so badly tangled in trying to repeat the names of the bride and groom that at the conclusion of the ceremony he stammered out an inquiry if cussing was customary, and then tried to cover his confusion by announcing that the usual collection would be taken up. His tongue and nerves 'pear to be still twisted this morning, but I s'pose he'll get over it."

If a man were to give another man an orange, he would simply say, "I give you this orange," but when the transaction is intrusted to a lawyer to put into writing, he adopts this form: "I, —, hereby give, grant, and convey to — all my interest, right, title and advantage of and in said orange, together with its rind, skin, juice, pulp, and pits, and all right and advantage therein, with full power to bite, suck, cut, or otherwise eat the same or give the same away, as fully and effectually as I, the said —, am now entitled to cut, bite, and otherwise eat the same, or give away the same with or without the rind, skin, juice, pulp, or pits: anything heretofore or hereafter or in any other deed or deeds, instrument or instruments of any nature or kind whatsoever, to the contrary in any wise notwithstanding."

The devil has to pry the busy man's door open, but that of the idler is a standing invitation to him.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents, at Crowell's Drug Store. Every bottle guaranteed.
