WITH the close of 1912, the SOUTH JERSEY REPUBLICAN will complete its FIFTIETH YEAR!

For forty-six years it has been published in Hammonton,—having been moved hither from Absecon in 1866.

During more than thirty-two years the paper has been under the present management; and for the patriotic support of our subscribers and patrons we now tender sincere thanks.

We will do our level best to deserve a continuation of your patronage during the time still allotted to us, hoping to prove more and more worthy as the years pass by.

And now, for each of you, we desire a
Happy and Prosperous New Year!

With sincerity,

HOYT & SON, Publishers.

J. Cake Johnson, one of our most highly esteemed citizens, died on Thursday, December 26th, 1912, aged sixty-nine years, after a year or more of gradual decline. He was for several years proprietor of the Tilton store, until it burned down; and since has run his farm; also for a year or more, was the Truant Officer for the Board of Education. A wife and two adopted sons have universal sympathy. Funeral services will be at Absecon on Monday, Dec. 30th. Friends may view the body at his late residence on Horton Street, tomorrow evening.

John S. Bakley, a long-time citizen of Hammonton, died very suddenly on Saturday last, Dec. 21st. He had long suffered with an affection of the heart, which at times compelled him to cease labor for a time; but on Saturday morning he went to work, but was at the home of a neighbor assisting and directing in a hog killing, when the call came, and he ceased breathing. Mr. B. was section boss on the Reading Railway,—had been there a quarter-century, was highly esteemed. Funeral services on Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Naomi Baker, aged 85 yrs., died last Saturday, Dec. 21st, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Sheppard, in Berlin. Mrs. Baker lived in Hammonton many years, until recently. She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Ash, a granddaughter, Mrs. Samuel Foster, a grandson, John Ash, and a number of great-grandchildren.

Lawyer Dean Stanley Renwick has filed a caveat against the probate of the will of Alice Ashbrook Case, late of Hammonton. Mrs. Case died Dec. 10th, leaving a will in which she left her entire estate to a niece. Mr. Renwick represents her husband, the Rev. B. Hiner Case, who will receive the estate if Mrs. Case's will is declared invalid.

Independent Fire Company, No. 2, meet next Wednesday evening.

Improving Main Road.

There is about to be spread on Main Road 223 barrels (nearly 10,500 gallons) of road binder, a by-product called by the makers "Glutrin."

The material is applied for hardening and holding gravel and water-bound macadam roads. It has been used in most states of the Union. New York alone has over seven hundred miles of roads so treated, and with most satisfactory results. It is manufactured by the Robeson Process Company, whose headquarters are at Pennington, N. J., having factories at various points throughout the country.

The manufacturers claim that even in its liquid state, still unabsorbed on the roadway, it will not injure the paint-work on carriages or automobiles, which was a very annoying fault to vehicle owners who drove over the oily spray put on a portion of Bellevue. People are looking forward with interest at this effort on the part of the State for road preservation.

Snow began falling during Monday night, and at daylight six inches of the "beautiful" covered the earth, and continued until noon when it was about a foot deep. As soon as roads and paths could be opened, sleigh bells jingled and the children's (pre-Christmas) sleds made their appearance. Wednesday's sun softened the snow, and rain started during Thursday night, and continuing as we go to press, carried away much of it; but the earth is still hidden except in spots.

"The New Mayor," founded on the play "The Man of the Hour," will be portrayed at Union Hall, Wednesday evening, January 15, 1913. Fourteen characters will be impersonated. Don't miss it. Ex-President Roosevelt and Wm. Jennings Bryan declare it to be the great play of to-day. Benefit of Hammonton Grange, Patrons of Husbandry.

Concert next Friday evening.

Schools will re-open next week Thursday.

Harry and Albert Walther were home over Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Warburton were home over Christmas.

Wednesday next is the date for Board of Education meeting.

Henry S. Swift ate turk with his brother Frank S. Swift, of Middle Road.

Frank Thomas was home from the University of Virginia for the holidays.

Hammonton Loan Association meeting next Thursday evening, Jan. 2nd.

Mrs. Laura Jones has gone to Newark, to spend some time with her sister.

Andrew K. Littlefield and Joseph Bowker were among the many holiday visitors.

Mr. Chas. Houck, with his wife and son, spent Christmas at Henry J. Monfort's.

Miss Caire Nelson, of Philadelphia, is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. W. C. Russell.

A. J. King and wife took dinner with a brother-in-law, in Philadelphia, on Christmas.

Mrs. W. O. Hoyt and daughter are spending a few days with relatives at Collingswood.

Chas. Loveland spent the Holiday week with his parents. He is employed in Columbus, Ohio.

Next Wednesday, Jan. 1st, will be another legal holiday. Banks and post-office will be closed.

The new Town Council will meet next Wednesday, at twelve o'clock, noon, for organization.

Tom Gray is enjoying the fall and winter in Hammonton. He has a pleasant word for everybody.

A. G. Reading and family, from Atlantic, assisted in a family reunion at John Young's, Christmas Day.

THE CHRISTMAS GIFT.

Little presents from afar,
How I wonder what you are!
With your ribbons and your gilt,
Very handsomely you're built.
My fair lady, so she says,
Worked upon you many days.
All a-gitter like a star,
How I wonder what you are!
You are gorgeous, I confess,
But a puzzle more or less.
Mysterious I much adore!
What are you intended for?

Miss Lena Zinn is spending the New Year week among her many friends in Camden and Philadelphia.

A fine Christmas present arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Leonard Adams, on Thursday,—a daughter.

Special meeting of Town Council to-night. "Thank goodness that's the last one this year," some of them say.

Chester M. Crowell and wife and little son, from Northumberland, Pa., spent the holiday with Hammonton relatives.

Services at the Universalist church to-morrow at the usual time,—preaching at 11 a.m., and 7:30 p.m. Sunday school at noon.

The Baptist Church and Sunday School were presented with a handsome fifteen-day clock, by one of the classes, of which Mrs. G. N. Lyman is teacher.

Dr. Burt took his father-in-law, Mr. S. A. Ford, to the German Hospital, Tuesday night. He was soon operated upon, and at last account was doing well.

Mr. George Elvins entertained a merry party of relatives on the great day, among them Mrs. Geo. McDougal, of Atkins Park, and Geo. A. Elvins, from Atlantic.

There is to be a "Farmers' Week" at the State Experiment Station, New Brunswick, to continue from Monday, Dec. 30, to Friday, Jan. 3rd. All interested are invited.

W. S. Turner has been appointed agent for registering of motor vehicles for Hammonton, which means that he will issue licenses to owners and drivers, after the close of this year, at his office. Good.

A Happy New Year To you all!

WEDNESDAY was an ideal Christmas Day. With snow covering the earth, everything looked as pure as the sinless life of the Christ whose birth we celebrated. The temperature was mild, the sun shone brightly and everybody seemed happy. It was the world's festival, and all appeared to realize the joy of it. Friendly greetings were exchanged, gifts given and received to an unusual extent, friendly calls made, and all seemed at peace.

May this happy day bring us all closer to each other and to him of whom the angels sang on that first Christmas morn, long ago,—"On earth peace, good will to men."

If any one thinks that the Inspector of Weights and Measures, R. W. Strickland, has nothing to do, just read this: Since March last he has placed official seals on 7,769 appliances; condemned 616; adjusted 1,007; travelled 17,000 miles; and he is still hustling.

All the Sunday Schools report having had a fine time. The children entered into the spirit of the day, and took part as though they meant it. Gifts were numerous, to pastors, superintendents, officers, teachers, and pupils, making it a day of joy.

Everyone appeared to be taking a rest on Thursday morning—alarm clocks were overslept, breakfasts late, and as some one said,—

"Twas the morn after Christmas,
And all thro' the house
Not a creature was stirring,
Not even a mouse."

We supposed that property owners would take sufficient pride in the new concrete walks to keep them clear of snow; but many evidently expect pedestrians to do it. A little work by Henry Laver, Tuesday, made as clear and dry a pavement as any one could wish. Some others have more time than he, and could have done as well.

Boats came in very handy, yesterday,—rain, slush and mud.

A sign on a near-by telephone pole amused passers-by,—reading, "For sale; inquire within."

We haven't heard any one of our Councilmen complain of having received too large a salary for services rendered. Besides committee work, inspecting improvements, etc., they have averaged three meetings per month, this year.

We would appreciate it if all who have bills against us, and those indebted to us, would attend to same as near Jan. 1st as possible.

The next event which is looked forward to is the New Year's eve parade, Tuesday night. Everyone is asked to participate, and dress in fantastic style, or no style. Musical instruments will be among the features. If you have a tin horn, old dish pan, drum, rattle, or bones, bring them along. Tunes are also wanted. The street lights will probably be on all night.

The Republican office will be open on Jan. 1st. It will be a fine date for settling old scores. Please call.

Next Wednesday will be written—1, 2, 3,—unless you forget. Even though it does contain a "3," we hope "I will not prove unlucky for our readers, but a year of prosperity and happiness for all.

Town Council held an adjourned and a special meeting on Friday evening last, adjourning at eleven o'clock. At the special they passed the ordinance which will be found in this issue.

The local Telephone Company's girls had an agreeable surprise, in the shape of a Christmas box, from a few subscribers. We are told that they divided several dollars among them. Good, they deserve it. The service is excellent.

St. Mark's Church, Sunday after Christmas: 7:00 a. m., Morning Prayer; at 7:30 and 10:30, Holy Communion; 11:45, Sunday School; 7:30 p. m., Evening Prayer. Communion of Christ, Jan. 1st; 7:00 a. m., Morning Prayer; 7:30, Holy Communion; 4:30, p. m., Evening Prayer.

Divine worship in the Methodist Episcopal Church on Sunday as follows: Class meeting at 9:30; Preaching by the pastor at 10:30 and 7:30; Bible school at noon; Junior League at 3; Epworth League service at 6:45. A series of extra meetings will be held, beginning with "Watch Night" service on Tuesday night, at 10:30; sermon by the Rev. J. A. Naylor. Everybody invited to attend.

To-morrow, the Presbyterian Church calls its members and well-wishers together for the following services: Morning, 10:30, theme, "A precious promise for 1913. Bible study at noon, in the lecture room. Christian Endeavor meeting at 6:45 p. m., directed by the Missionary Committee. Evening, 7:30, theme, "To-day, To-morrow or Now?" Our meeting for prayer comes Thursday, at 7:30 p. m.

The county corn growing contest, which culminated on Saturday, Dec. 14th, when the prizes were awarded in the Court House, was a success. The display of corn was artistically arranged on the walls; the Court House was filled with interested people. Addresses were made by Prof. Senoos, of Trenton; Prof. Braman, of Hammonton; Prof. Riley, of Absecon, and Rev. Thos. J. Cross, of Atlantic City. Prizes for essays were also awarded. It was decided to repeat the contest next year.

Here are some definite statements and facts to show that you either delay yourself or are unknowingly hampered when you buy inferior paint.

A gallon of low priced paint won't cover more than 200 to 250 square feet, two coats. The label on the can and the printed matter covering the paint often even tells you that.

A gallon of

Lucas TINTED GLOSS PAINT

ONE USED-ALWAYS PREPARED

When you use inferior paint you must buy three gallons to do the work that could be done with two gallons of Tinted Gloss and besides you've got to pay for the additional time and labor required to apply the greater amount of an inferior paint.

Remember these things when you buy paint and then you won't feel yourself to be fooled.

Daddy's Bedtime Story— Dog Limped Away To Hospital and Cure

"The kind doctor picked up the lame dog."

"I wonder if you know what a hospital is?" asked daddy.

"No," cried Jack. "It's a place where they take sick people to cure them. I went to the hospital when Bobbie Brown was getting mended after he fell out of the apple tree. It's a big place, with rows and rows of white beds with sick people in them. The nurse ladies who take care of the sick people wear white caps and aprons."

"I know what a hospital is, too," said Evelyn. "When I grew up I'm going to be a nurse. If I don't think of something I like better."

"Well, children, I started out to tell you of the queerest patient that ever went into Bellevue hospital, in New York, where they get all sorts of queer sick people. Bellevue hospital belongs to the city, and any one who is ill and is too poor to pay may go there and be taken care of."

"Well, it may have got out in dogdom that the doctors in that hospital were pretty good to little dogs, or maybe this little chap thought if the city took care of human folk it ought to be glad to take care of a nice, respectable, well behaved dog like himself."

"Several young doctors were one day sitting out on the porch taking air after when they noticed a small setter crawl under the iron gate to the hospital."

"The dog looked around him; then he limped straight toward the white coated young men on the porch. When he reached them he sat down and looked up pleadingly. Then he whimpered as much as to say, 'Help me, won't you?' One of the young doctors picked up the dog and looked him over. The poor little fellow's leg is broken," he said.

"Then that kind young doctor carried the dog into the operating room of the hospital, the place where they fix up people's broken bones. The other young doctors got the splints and the bandages. He slipped the bone in place. They put the splints around to hold it in place and fastened them together with a plaster of paris and bandages. Doggie seemed to know they were trying to help him, for he would look up gratefully at his friends and sometimes even tried to lick their hands."

"When they were done setting the leg they took the dog out to the yard, thinking he might hobble home to his master on his three good legs. Instead of that he sat right down, and since then he has stuck to those young doctors as closely as a devoted dog can stick to a busy hospital doctor."

"And as nobody has come to claim him the hospital has adopted the dog, and a prouder and happier dog it would be hard to find."
